☞ The photographs of Superintendent Jere. Prescott and the Conductors of the Eastern Railroad, in an elegant frame, displayed in a window at Preston's Drug Store, attract much attention. Every man of them is fine looking and we doubt if any Railroad in the country can boast of such a good looking and popular set of officers as the Eastern has.

☞ A large and appreciative audience witnessed Frost's Allegory and Tableaux of "Joseph and his brethren," given by sixty Sunday School scholors and teachers at the Temple, Thursday evening. The entertainment is of a scriptural character, with nothing to offend but every thing to please, and was conceded by all who saw it to be one of the finest ever offered here. It is to be repeated to-night.

Had either Hon. Horton D. Walker of Portsmouth, Hon. E. A. Straw of Manchester, Hon. Oliver Wyatt of Dover, Hon. B. J. Cole of Laconia, all experienced and upright men and legislators, and popular with all wings of the Republican party, been nominated, victory would again have perched upon the Republican banner, notwithstanding Sumner, Grant, San Domingo or any other issue.

Communication.

The solution of the arithmetical question submitted in the Chronicle of the 7th inst., was first and only effected by A. M. H., who is of course entitled to the free ride over the Portsmouth & Dover Railroad, &c., which will take place from the best information lately received, on the 1st of January, 1900. First train leaves here at 9 o'clock, A. M. The answer to the question is 25.96876 feet. N. D.

SPECULATOR CAUGHT.—Several days ago a young man of upper-crusty appearance and dressed in broadcloth and tall hat, visited the Farragut House at Rye Beach to engage rooms for his mother and her family during the coming "season." Having made all his arrangements and borrowed $5 of a confiding individual, the young man with the good clothes left for Boston on Wednesday, taking with him from the hotel a gold watch and chain, studs, cuff buttons and a diamond pin. Mrs. Philbrick at once notified City Marshal Kent of her loss, and officers went for the speculator in jewelry.

On Thursday, officer Entwistle learned from the station master at Hampton that a man answering the description he gave left there for Portsmouth in the last train East on Wednesday; he at once returned to this city, footed it to Kittery, learning from the gate-keeper at the bridge that the man he wanted crossed Wednesday evening, and met that enterprising personage in the street, near the Navy Yard bridge, with the diamond pin becomingly displayed on his throat. The officer courteously escorted him back to the city again, and placed him in a private room opening off a corridor in the City Building; he showed his appreciation of such attention by whistling melodiously all the afternoon. He goes by the name of Mr. Bancroft, but says it is not his true one; it doesn't matter, for he can go to State Prison just as well under that name as any other.

Since writing the above we learn that Bancroft has confessed and that all the stolen property has been recovered. The thief's father is said to be a leading man in Emporia, Kansas, and his family an influential one in the West. The police are deserving of credit for his prompt arrest. He will be interviewed by Judge Odell this morning at 10 o'clock.

☞ We are assured by the police that the thief, Bancroft, didn't have such a thing as a meerschaum pipe with glass and amber stem about him when he was arrested.

☞ If we may believe a Donn Piatt-ish story in the Capital, Mr. Fish made some trivial remark to Mr. Sumner about ducks, and Mr. Sumner merely looked at him and made no reply. This was too much for Fish. Hence the rupture.

☞ Hon. Charles H. Bell has become an editor of the Exeter News Letter.

COUNTRY SCHOOL HOUSES.—We have before us the annual Reports of the Superintending School Committees of the towns of Seabrook and Rye,—and spicy reading they are, for Pub. Docs. Each Committee is evidently wholly in earnest in the cause of common school education, and each speaks plain truths in very plain language. The Seabrook man characterizes as "disgraceful facts" the tardiness and irregularity of attendance of the scholars, and "the continual fault-finding of outside parties who never visit schools;" and urges that only the best teachers be employed, that parents manifest a better spirit towards teachers and subject the children to better discipline at home, increase the amount of school money, and provide better school rooms. He says:—

We have some school-houses in town unworthy of the name; they are miserable old hovels, totally unfit for the purposes designed and hardly up to the level of second-class pig-pens. There are but few school-rooms to be found anywhere so mean and dirty. * * It is said that our fathers received their education in these school-houses and therefore they should answer for us. The meeting-houses in which our fathers worshipped have given place to edifices superior to them in point of elegance and convenience. We assemble in these but one day in a week, and that too for only a few hours, while the scholar is confined in the ancient school-room every day in the week for months in succession. It is not enough that we can get along with poor school-houses and schools and still live. * * It is more desirable to educate our children then to support them as criminals and paupers.

The Report of the Supt. Sch. Com. of Rye, were it not full of practical suggestions for the improvement of the educational facilities of the town, evidently coming from a man who believes it a saving to spend money liberally on public schools, would in parts read more like a burlesque than the official report of a "grave and reverend" committeeman. But the rollicking love of fun displayed only serves to set off—not to smother—the author's earnest desire to benefit the cause he advocates. We make a few extracts:—

No community can afford to encourage ignorance, and I am convinced that my fellow citizens will never regret a few dollars extra for the support of the noblest of all the legacies bequeathed by our forefathers—our free common schools.

The dirty old hut in the West District, miscalled a schoolhouse, "still lives" as a monument of disgrace to the good citizens of that district. The only hope seems to be in a reliance upon the intelligence and good sense of the citizens to pull down such miserable shanties, and erect more elegant and commodious structures. * * Its interior decorations (?) and its surroundings are all disgusting and demoralizing; and I wish I could add to this well-known fact, the pleasing intelligence that some enterprising soap-boiler had its ashes.

The winter term [in the East District] was taught by Miss Delle E. Haines of Deerfield. Miss Haines is a well educated and very energetic teacher—one who imparts instruction intelligently and thoroughly. In regard to discipline, I have never heard of the boys putting pepper on the stove or blowing smoke through the key-hole when she was around. Should any of the rising generation attempt such little antics in her presence, I am confident that there will be an "unpleasantness" at once.

We should have recognized the author of the Rye report by his handiwork, even if "G. H. Jenness, Superintending Committee," had not been signed at the end.

Consumption,
ITS CURE AND ITS PREVENTIVE,
By J. H. SCHENCK, M. D.

Many a human being has passed away, for whose death there was no other reason than the neglect of known and indisputably proved means of cure. Those near and dear to family and friends are slumbering the peaceful slumber into which, had they calmly adopted and availed themselves of his wonderfully efficacious medicines, they would have taken.

Dr. JOSEPH H. SCHENCK'S SIMPLE TREATMENT,

Dr. Schenck has in his own case proven that wherever sufficient vitality remains, that vitality, by his medicines and his directions for their use, is quickened into healthful vigor.

In this statement there is nothing presumptuous. To the faith of the invalid is made no representation that is not a thousand times substantiated by living and visible works. The theory of the cure by Dr. Schenck's medicines is as simple as it is unfailing. Its philosophy requires no argument. It is self assuring, self-convincing.

The Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills are the first two weapons with which the citadel of the malady is assailed. Two-thirds of the cases of consumption originate in dyspepsia and a functionally disordered liver. With this condition the bronchial tubes "sympathize" with the stomach. They respond to the morbific action of the liver. Here, then comes the culminating result, and the setting in, with all its distressing symptoms, of

CONSUMPTION.

The Mandrake Pills are composed of one of Nature's noblest gifts—the Pedophilum Peltatum. They possess all the blood-searching, alterative properties of calomel, but unlike calomel, they

"LEAVE NO STING BEHIND."

The work of cure is now commencing. The vitiated and mucous deposits in the bowels and in the alimentary canal are ejected. The liver, like a clock, is wound up. The bronco from its torpidity. The stomach acts responsively, and the patient begins to feel that he is getting, at last,

A SUPPLY OF GOOD BLOOD.

The Seaweed Tonic, in conjunction with the Pills, permeates and purifies alike with the food. Chylification is now progressing, without its previous torture. Digestion becomes painless, and the crave is seen to be at hand. There is no more flatulence, no exacerbation of the stomach. An appetite sets in.

Now comes the practical proof of the faith put given by an intelligent father to suffering man. Schenck's Pulmonic Syrup comes in to perform its functions and to hasten and complete the cure. It enters at once upon its work. Nature cannot be checked. It collects and ejects the impaired and diseased portions of the lungs. In the form of gatherings it prepares them for expectoration, and in a very short time the malady is vanquished, the rotten tissue that it occupied is remvated and made new, and the patient, in all the dignity of regained vigor, steps forth to enjoy the manhood or womanhood that was

GIVEN UP AS LOST.

The second thing is, the patients must stay in a warm room until they get well; it is almost impossible to prevent taking cold when the lungs are diseased, but it must be prevented or a cure cannot be effected. Fresh air and riding out, especially in this section of the country in the fall and winter season, are all-important. Physicians who recommend that course lose their patients, if their lungs are badly diseased; and yet, because they are in the house they take all down quiet; they must walk about the room as much and as fast as the strength will bear, to get up a good circulation of blood. The patient must keep in good spirits—be determined to get well. This has a great deal to do with the success of the cure. They must exercise the faculty of his own cure was in these modest words:

"Many years ago I was in the last stages of consumption; confined to my bed, and at one time my physicians thought I could not live to see a week; then like a drowning man catching at straws, I tried all the patent medicines I could hear of; I now offer to the public, and they made a perfect cure of me. It seemed to me that I could feel them eradicate my whole system. They soon ripened the matter in my lungs, and I would spit up more than a pint of it in a day, and my matter every morning for a long time. As soon as that began to subside, my cough, fever, pains and night sweats all began to abate, and my appetite became so great that it was with difficulty that I could keep from eating too much. I soon gained my strength, and have remained in perfect health since."

"I was weighed shortly after my recovery," added the Doctor, "when I was in perfect health, before my weight was only ninety-seven pounds; my present weight is two hundred and twenty-five (225) pounds, and for years I have enjoyed unbinterrupted health."

Dr. Schenck has discontinued his professional visits to New York and Boston. He or his son, Dr. J. H. Schenck, Jr., still continue to be at their office, corner of Sixth and Race street, Philadelphia, every Saturday from 9 A. M. to 3 P. M. Those who wish to be examined with the Respirometer will be charged $5. The Respirometer declares the exact condition of the lungs, and patients can readily see for themselves if they are cured or not.

The directions for taking the medicines are adapted to the intelligence of every day life. Follow these directions, and Kind Nature will do the rest, excepting that in some cases the Mandrake Pills are to be used in larger quantities. As a laxative medicine need no other accompaniments than the ample instructions that accompany them. When the appetite of returning health hunger is the most welcome symptom. When it comes, as it will come, let the moderate laxative action of the Mandrake Pills be continued. When the cough loosens, the night sweat is abated. In a short time both of these morbid symptoms will disappear.

Dr. Schenck's medicines are constantly kept in tens of thousands of families. As a laxative or purgative, the Mandrake Pills are a standard preparation: while the Pulmonic Syrup, as a cure of coughs and colds, is regarded as a prophylactic against consumption in any of its forms.

Price of the Pulmonic Syrup and Seaweed Tonic $1.50, a bottle, or $7.50 a half dozen. Mandrake Pills, 25 cents a box. For sale by all druggists and dealers.

FIRST MORTGAGE
7 Per Cent. Gold Bonds,
ON A COMPLETED ROAD,
FREE OF U. S. TAX,
At 90 and Accrued Interest in Currency.

Burlington, Cedar Rapids and Minnesota Railway.

The completion of this Road has given to these Bonds an established character equal to any mortgage issue dealt in at the Stock Exchange. We are prepared to buy and sell them at any time, at our Banking House, at market price—thus placing them on the same basis for temporary or permanent investment, with Governments or any other security.

These bonds are a first and only mortgage on a railroad that has cost double the amount of the issue, and which commands, without competition, all the traffic of Northern Iowa and Southern Minnesota—shortening the distance from St. Paul to Chicago 45 miles, and to St. Louis more than 50 miles.

The net earnings are already largely in excess of interest on the bonds, and no doubt exists that they will more than double within the ensuing year.

A contract has been secured with the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy Railroad Company obligating the latter to invest 50 per cent. of gross earnings derived from traffic with the Burlington, Cedar Rapids and Minnesota Road in the bonds of this Company. This arrangement is a strong guarantee of the Bonds, and establishes a large sinking fund for their redemption.

The convertibility privilege in these bonds enables them to be exchanged for stock, at par, at any time. This secures to the holder, at his option, a share in any excess of earnings over the interest obligation.

An exchange of Government securities for these bonds returns 9½ per cent. interest, instead of 5 per cent., which is all that Governments pay at present price, besides bearing an immediate gain of about 20 per cent. in price for re-investment.

All marketable Securities taken in exchange free of Commission and Express charges. (24WeS

A GREAT MEDICAL DISCOVERY!
DR. WALKER'S CALIFORNIA
VINEGAR BITTERS,
Hundreds of Thousands Bear Testimony to their Wonderful Curative Effects.

WHAT ARE THEY!
THEY ARE NOT A VILE FANCY DRINK,

Made of Poor Rum, Whiskey, Proof Spirits and Refuse Liquors doctored, spiced and sweetened to please the taste, called "Tonics," "Appetizers," "Restorers," &c., that lead the tippler on to drunkenness and ruin, but are a true Medicine, made from the Native Root and Herbs of California, free from all Alcoholic Stimulants.

They are the GREAT BLOOD PURIFIER and a LIFE-GIVING PRINCIPLE, a perfect Renovator and Invigorator of the system, carrying off all poisonous matter and restoring the blood to a healthy condition. No person can take these Bitters according to direction and remain long unwell, provided the bones are not destroyed by mineral poison or other means, and the vital organs wasted beyond the point of repair.

For Inflammatory and Chronic Rheumatism and Gout, Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Bilious, Remittent and Intermittent Fevers, Diseases of the Blood, Liver, Kidneys and Bladder, these Bitters have been most successful. Such Diseases are caused by Vitiated Blood, which is generally produced by derangement of the Digestive Organs.

DYSPEPSIA OR INDIGESTION, Headache, Pain in the Shoulders, Coughs, Tightness of the Chest, Dizziness, Sour Eructations of the Stomach, Bad taste in the Mouth, Bilious Attacks, Palpitation of the Heart, Inflammation of the Lungs, Pain in the regions of the Kidneys, and a hundred other painful symptoms, are the offspring of Dyspepsia.

They invigorate the stomach and stimulate the torpid liver and bowels, which render them of unequalled efficacy in cleansing the blood of all impurities and imparting new life and vigor to the whole system.

FOR SKIN DISEASES, Eruptions, Tetter, Salt Rheum, Blotches, Spots, Pimples, Pustules, Boils, Carbuncles, Ring Worms, Scald Head, Sore Eyes, Erysipelas, Itch, Scurfs, Discolorations of the Skin, Humors and Diseases of the Skin, of whatever name or nature, are literally dug up and carried out of the system in a short time by the use of these Bitters. One bottle in such cases will convince the most incredulous of their curative effect.

Cleanse the Vitiated Blood whenever you find its impurities bursting through the skin in Pimples, Eruptions or Sores; cleanse it when you find it obstructed and sluggish in the veins, cleanse it when it is foul, and your feelings will tell you when. Keep the blood pure, and the health of the system will follow.

PIN, TAPE and other WORMS, lurking in the system of so many thousands, are effectually destroyed and removed. For full directions, read carefully the circular around each bottle, printed in four languages—English, German, French and Spanish.

FOR FEMALE COMPLAINTS, whether in young or old, married or single, at the dawn of womanhood or at the turn of life, these Tonic Bitters have no equal. ☞ Send for a circular.

They are a Gentle Purgative as well as a Tonic, possessing also, the peculiar merit of acting as a powerful agent in relieving Congestion or Inflammation of the Liver, and all the Visceral Organs. 1yrdawfeb16

THE CENTRAL RAILROAD Co
OF IOWA,

have now built and equipped, in first-class manner, about

180 MILES OF RAILROAD,

which will complete their entire line, with the exception of laying the track on twenty-five miles, which is already graded. They will thus open

The First Through Line Across the State

from north to south, and, by making a slight detour at one point, they will give

DIRECT COMMUNICATION BETWEEN ST. LOUIS AND ST. PAUL.

This line of Railroad will have very special advantages for both local and through business, besides such superior railroad connections as will secure to it a large portion of the carrying trade of the Great Northwest. The

First Mortgage
7 PER CENT. GOLD BONDS,

which are issued upon this road, are limited in amount to $16,000 per mile (while many roads issue from $30,000 to $40,000,) and are offered at 90 and accrued interest, in currency. About two millions and a half of these bonds have already been disposed of, leaving but a small balance unsold, which are being rapidly taken.

The most experienced financiers agree that First Mortgage Bonds, to a limited amount, upon a finished railroad, which is well located for business, are one of the very safest forms of investment.

Parties desiring to secure a first-class security, based upon a railroad practically done, and in the hands of leading capitalists who have a large pecuniary and business interest in its success, will do well to apply at the office of the Company, or any of its advertised agents, for a pamphlet and map, showing the characteristics of the enterprise.

Holders of Government Bonds may exchange them for Central Iowas at a large present profit, beside a handsome increase of interest for a long term of years. Parties making such exchange will receive for each $1,000 Bond a $1,000 Central Iowa Bond, and the following difference in cash (less the accrued interest in currency upon the latter bond,) and in annual interest, the calculation being based upon market prices of December 27th, 1870:—

An Answer To Longfellow's Beware.

So you think me fair to see,
My heart, take care!
I'm over true; nor false can be!
Then why beware?
Believe me,
I'm not fooling thee!

And if my eyes are "soft and brown,"
Why take care?
'Tis your full gaze makes them look down,
Then why beware?
Believe me,
I'm not fooling thee!

My hair, I know, 'tis of sunny hue,
But why take care?
My smiles are sunny, too, for you—
Then why beware?
Believe me,
I'm not fooling thee!

"She has a bosom white as snow,"
O, flat'ry rare!
And if I do know "how much to show,"
Why cry beware!
Believe me,
I'm not fooling thee!

"The flowers," I know, were very fair,
But why take care?
I've used not their fair sweets to share,
Therefore nothing can me tickle there.
Then why beware?
Believe me,
I'm not fooling thee!

Correspondence.

SEABROOK, THE MARCH.

Messrs. Eds:—The citizens of this town were highly delighted last evening to witness what to them appeared a monster procession of the unyielding-undefying-unterrified-southern-rights - men. The night was very dark, which served to heighten the brilliant effect of the only torch in the procession, that, being the dim rays of a lanthorn suspended beneath the hind axle of a chariot, immediately in the van. We imagine vast crowds of people witnessed the imposing spectacle, which as near as we remember, filed past us in the following order;

First—The Representative elect, drawn by one horse, in open top chariot, with some straw on the floor, and an umbrella! Lanthorn tied to the axle.

Second — The great Apple Sauce Band, composed of several pieces, or more, vainly endeavoring to blow their brains out, by spattering some strains of what they imagined would soothe the savage breast of the Republican party to peace, but which sounded to us like an army of cats on the rampage. We understand that three trombones were split the entire length, and that one E flat bugle was completely melted away, while the route of the procession could be easily traced the next morning by the number of teeth blown out.

Third—The chief Marshal of the night, also in a chariot, no straw in the bottom. His orders were issued in clarion tones and implicitly obeyed. This closed the procession, but not their hilarity. The chariot and umbrella were half an hour passing a given point, owing no doubt to the steed being hitched to a post in front of the hotel.

The Band was engaged at seven cents per head to discourse martial music, or any other music that might be suggested for the occasion; but owing to the great strain on the money changers at the election, they felt themselves constrained to accept cachy, a dishrag and a quarter cents.

During the forming of the procession, four guns were fired at Concord and Gilmanton, and we hear that later in the evening the representative elect drank a cool hundred for trying to get into the back part of his chariot. This was the only accident that happened, but at the time caused great sensation.

The Marshal is an ancient war dog of the copper persuasion, of anywhere from forty to one hundred years' standing. Pacific in his measures, a good temporizer, he never asks for an office, and never gets one! Still, he is the acknowledged leader of those who for money or tangle foot vote his ticket. He is well-known in this vicinity as an indefatigable projector of schemes for railroads, highways, byeways, lanes, foot-paths, dykes, ditches, stone-walls, stump-fences, custom houses, &c., all of which before he has legislated much upon, assume various styles of air castle architecture.

—The Boston Post tells of a man in Troy "who left a boarding house just because a rat bit his ear. When people get to be that particular about trifles, they ought to quit boarding and go to keeping house."

Wood's Household Magazine has for contributors, Harriet Beecher Stowe, M. M. Ponsonby, Virginia F. Townsend, George Burleigh, Mary Clemmer Ames, Sidney L. Stellis, Phebe Carey, Gail Hamilton, Eleanor Kirk, Dio Lewis, Carrie D. Bond, George W. Bungay, Mary A. Dennison, Wm. A. Sigourney, Horace Greeley, Abby Sage Richardson, Ella Wheeler, Joseph Alden, Mary F. Waterbury, George Klingle.

The Crop-Lien.

From the New York World.

A whim for the grotesque or eccentric ruling the literary taste of the hour, and crude dialectical verses forming a prominent part of current newspaper quotations, it may be as well to make the most of such productions in the popular vein as have some little touch of real art in their execution. The following genre picture, from the Telegraph and Messenger, of Macon, Ga., is not only a capital study of local character and form of language, but indicates that its writer has some knowledge of prosody. The whole scene suggested is wonderfully characteristic of the southern market-town, and the carter's blunder over his "crop-lien" is as quaintly true to a type of low-life to be found only in the same section:

ELLICK GARRY.

I was drivin' my two mule waggin',
With a set of truck for sale,
To Macon, to get some baggin',
(Which my cotton was ready to bale.)
And I came to a place on the side o' the pike
Where a giant little winter beauce just had throw'd
The sand in a kind of sand bar, like,
And I seed, a leetle ways up the road,
A man squattin' down like a big bull-toad,
On the ground, a diggin' in the sand,
With his finger and mighty in the sand,
And he hooted like Ellick Garry.
And as I drew up, I hear him bleat
To himself, like a sheep, "Haugh! Nine from eight!
Leaves nuthin'—and none to carry!"

And Ellick's ball cart was standin'
A crosswise of the way,
And the little ball was a expanding'
Himself on a wisp of hay,
But Ellick he sat with his head bent down,
A studyn' and musin' powerfullee,
And his forrud was creased with a turrible frown,
And he was a workin', apparentlee,
A'kinda mulee sum that wouldn't goe;
For he kep' on figgerin' away in the sand
With his finger, and motionin' with his hand.
And I reel it was Ellick Garry,
And again I heard him bleat
To himself like a lamb, Haugh! nine from eight
Leaves nuthin'—and none to carry!"

I won't say mules mighty easy
(Ellick's back was to 'ards the road,
And the wind, hit was setter breezy,)
And I got down off'n my load
And I creep up close to Ellick's back,
And I heered him a talkin' softly thus:
Them figgers is got me outen the track;
I can't see how to git outen the muss,
Except to jest mutially fall and bust!
My crops calls for nine hundred and more;
My 'count of sales is eight hundred and four
Of cotton fur Ellick Garry.
That's eight, ought, four—jest like on a slate, Here's nine and two ought—Haugh! nine from eight
Leaves nuthin'—and none to carry!

Them crap-leens, O, them crap-leens!
I'giv' one to Pardman & Sparks;
He gobbled me up like snap beans
In a patch full o' old fee' larks!
Fur I thought I could fool the crap lean nice,
And I hauled my cotton to Jammel & Cones;
But shuh! 'fore I even had settled my price
They tuk affidavy without no bones,
And levyed upon me fur all their loss
To the 'mount of some nine hundred dollars or more.
As sure as I'm Ellick Garry!
And there it is down all equar and straight,
But I can't make gee, for nine from eight
Leaves nuthin'—and none to carry!

Then I says, "Helo, here Garry!
However your figgers and fr'wn,
There's something for you to carry,
Fur you're worked it upside down."
Then he rix and he walked to his bull cart,
And he made like he neither seen, nor heard,
Nor knowed that I knowed of his raskilly part;
And hatried for to look as if he wan't feered,
And gathered his lines like he never keered;
And he driv down the road 'bout a quarter or so,
And then he looked around, and I hollered, "Hello,
Look here Mister Ellick Garry;
You may git up soon and lie down late,
But you'll always find that nine from eight
Leaves nuthin'—and none to carry!"

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

WALTHAM WATCHES.

The extensive use of these watches for the last fifteen years by Railway Conductors, Engineers and Expressmen, the most exacting of watch-wearers, has thoroughly demonstrated the strength, steadiness, durability and accuracy of the Waltham Watch. To satisfy that class in all these respects, is to decide the question as to the real value of these time-keepers.

More than 500,000 of these watches are now speaking for themselves in the pockets of the people—a proof and a guarantee of their superiority over all others.

The superior organization and great extent of the Company's Works at Waltham, enables them to produce watches at a price which renders competition futile, and those who buy any other watch merely pay from 25 to 50 per cent. more for their watches than is necessary.

These time-pieces combine every improvement that a long experience has proved of real practical use. Having had the refusal of nearly every invention in watch-making originating in this country or in Europe, only those were finally adopted which severe testing by the most skillful artisans in our works, and long use on the part of the public, demonstrated to be essential to correct and enduring time-keeping.

Among the many improvements we would particularize:

The retention and use of a centre-pinion of peculiar construction, to prevent damage to the train by the breakage of main-springs, is original with the American Watch Company, who, having had the refusal of all other contrivances, adopted Grigg's patent pinion as being the best and simplest.

Hardened and tempered hair-springs, now universally admitted by Watchmakers to be the best, are used in all grades of Waltham Watches.

All Waltham Watches have dust-proof caps, protecting the movement from dust and insuring the necessity of the frequent cleaning necessary in other watches.

Our new patent stem-winder, or keyless watch is already a decided success, and a great improvement on any stem-winding watch in the American market, and by far the cheapest watch of its quality now offered to the public. To these living in portions of the United States where watchmakers do not abound, watches with the above mentioned improvements, which tend to ensure accuracy, cleanliness, durability and convenience, must prove invaluable.

The trademarks of the various styles made by the Company are as follows:—

AMERICAN WATCH CO., Waltham, Mass.
AMR. WATCH CO., Waltham, Mass.
AMERICAN WATCH CO., Crescent St., Waltham, Mass.

WALTHAM WATCH CO., Waltham, Mass.
P. S. BARTLETT, Waltham, Mass.
WM. ELLERY, Waltham, Mass.

MILLET AND HUNGARIAN GRASS.—Every one is familiar with agricultural reading knows that Dr. Loring is decidedly down on green corn as a soiling crop, and recommends the use of millet instead,—sugar millet he calls it, I suppose to distinguish it from Hungarian grass.

Last spring, after planting as much sweet corn for fodder as I thought I could use in a green state, and having a half acre of land to spare, as an experiment I sowed it with millet and Hungarian grass, one-half of the lot to each, using a bushel of seed to the acre. On account of the difficulty of curing it, I have never considered corn fodder a very good crop to raise for winter feeding. I thought as millet could be easily dried, a surplus of corn fodder. In spite of the dry weather I had a very good crop of both kinds of the millet.

The Hungarian grew much the finest, and I should think would require less seed per acre than the other kind. I think a bushel of either not too much for an acre, and of the millet I would sow five pecks. It was cut as soon as it had reached its full height, and before it was in full blossom, which I thought should be the time to make from it the best quality of hay. The day it was cut I took a small load to the barn, keeping the Hungarian and millet separate, that I might know if the cows had any preference for either. I could not see that they had any choice, for they could not be made to eat either kind.

It was all dried for winter use and stored on a scaffold, which was afterwards filled with rowen so that the millet could not be reached till midwinter. When it was uncovered I gave every animal in the barn a feeding of it, and not one of them seemed pleased. After smelling and poking it over with their noses awhile, some of them began to eat, while the others looked straight at me, till I left the barn.

Since then I have fed it occasionally, a little at a time, and some of the cows seem tolerable well suited, while others will eat but very little. I do not see how any one can estimate it equal in value to English hay unless the hay is quite inferior. I presume if cattle were fed on poor bog hay, out straw or dry corn husks, they would like a change to millet, and if English hay should stand till over ripe, it might not be relished by the cattle as well as early cut and well cured millet. I intend to give another trial the coming season, not as soiling crop, but for winter feed for dry cows and young stock.

The severe drought of last summer killed the roots of grass on thousands of acres of mowing fields. An extra effort should be made this year to raise forage crops, and a due portion of millet or Hungarian grass will undoubtedly come in well as a change from poor hay and straw.—Cor. N. E. Farmer.

ARE YOU GOING TO PAINT?
—IF SO, USE THE—
AVERILL CHEMICAL PAINT.
It is Cheaper, Handsomer and more durable than the best of other Paints. One Thousand Gallons of it were sold in this City, in the year 1870, and not one complaint has come from those who have used it; but all speak in its favor; it is mixed ready for application, and is much easier put on than any other Paint, making a smooth, glossy surface for years, that can be cleaned with hot suds without injuring it. It is excellent for walls inside, in the place of paper.
I shall keep this season a large stock of Chemical Paints of all shades on hand, to accommodate customers with any amount, without delay in ordering it. Those who want to use the Chemical Paints and have had them misrepresented by those who deal in Lead and Oil, are invited to call and examine my Paints that have been on Buildings two years, and you will find them as fresh as if laid but one month.
I am prepared to do Painting by Contract, or by the day, using the Chemical Paint, or furnishing good experienced workmen by the day at very low wages. B. NORTON, only Agent for selling the

The Daily Chronicle.

Portsmouth, N. H.

SATURDAY, MARCH 25, 1871.

FRANCE.

Menotti Garibaldi is now in command of the Montmartre insurgents.

The government has now 60,000 men at Versailles, and does not doubt its ability to put down the insurrection.

The national guards put down an outbreak in Place Vendome on Wednesday night, and an attempt of the insurgents to surprise the eleventh battalion proved a failure.

Bismark threatens to re-occupy Paris and direct the fire of the forts against the city in case the insurrection is not put down by Sunday.

The insurgents have a million francs from the Bank of France.

The insurgents' rule in Paris is hourly becoming productive of crimes of the most inhuman and appalling description. Deliberate murder is not unfrequent, many respectable citizens having in this manner met their fate at the hands of the lawless mob. George Hanna Tennel, an American, was killed by a stray shot, during the fight at the Place Vendome on Wednesday afternoon.

A train filled with released prisoners, who had been returned by the Germans, has been captured in the neighborhood of Versailles by a powerful body of insurgents.

An accident has occurred to a railway train, filled with artillerymen, returning to France. 22 were killed and 72 injured.

CONGRESS.

On the 23d, the President sent the following message to Congress:

To the Senate and House of Representatives:—A condition of affairs now exist in some of the States of the Union rendering life and property insecure, and the carrying of mails and collection of revenue dangerous. The proof that such a state of affairs exists in some localities is now before the Senate. That the power to correct these evils is beyond the control of the State authorities, I do not doubt. That the power of the executive of the United States, acting within the limits of existing laws, is sufficient for the present emergencies, is not clear; and, therefore, I urgently recommend such legislation as in the judgment of Congress shall effectually secure life, liberty and prosperity in all parts of the United States. It may be expedient to provide that such a law as shall be passed in pursuance of these recommendations shall expire at the next session of Congress.

There is no other subject on which I will recommend legislation during the present session. U. S. GRANT.

The Senate confirmed Col. John W. Forney as Collector of Philadelphia.

Mr. Pomeroy introduced another Ku-Klux bill.

Mr. Sumner desired permission to offer some resolutions on the use of the navy in the waters of Santo Domingo, which he was proceeding to read when he was interrupted by a point of order that, under the Anthony resolution, they were out of order. The point was overruled and Mr. Sumner read until the expiration of the morning hour. Mr. Sumner will move his resolutions as an amendment to the deficiency bill and make a speech on them. The introduction of the resolutions angered Senators Conkling and Morton, who didn't want Mr. Sumner to be heard. The debate was an exciting one.

In the House, Mr. Shellabarger moved that the special message of the President be referred to a committee of nine. This aroused a tremendous uproar on the democratic side and Mr. Eldredge took the lead as usual in the racket and filibustering motions, the Speaker having to resort to the sternest means to keep him quiet. As a device for reuniting the republican party in the House the message seemed eminently successful, as the only voice of dissent from that side came from Mr. Farnsworth.

After an excited debate, the motion of Mr. Shellabarger was then agreed to, when the Speaker announced as the special committee the following;—Messrs. Shellabarger, Butler of Massachusetts, Schofield, Dawes, Blair, Thomas, Morgan, Kerr and Witthorne of Tennessee.

—An eccentric Indian has just died at South Bend, Ind. His named was Prue, and he called himself the Emperor of Lowell. His occupation was catching fish and drinking whisky. Notwithstanding this—the whisky, not the fish—he was very truthful and trustworthy, the height of his ambition being to be considered an honest man and a good drinker! How is this for Lo?

A GOOD SUGGESTION.—The London Cosmopolitan proposes the following marriage vow for its lady readers, when occasion requires: "I will continue to love my husband so long as he is lovable, honor him so long as he remains honorable, and obey him so long as his commands are just and reasonable."

New Hampshire Items.

Kensington, at the recent election, voted to reconsider the vote of last year, granting aid to the Exeter & Salisbury Railroad Co.

The dwelling house of Jonathan Hill and brothers, at Northwood, was burned on the 7th.

The committee in charge of the Epping camp-ground have purchased sixty acres of land, at a cost of $2,000. It lies back of the preacher's stand and the boarding-tent. New avenues will be opened back of the boarding-tent the coming season and therefore a great improvement will be made on the grounds.

At the Windham town-meeting, Mr. George S. Weal was voted exemption from taxation for seven years on all improvements he may make on his factory.

New Publications Received.

Our Young Folks contains among other good things "Gracie Lapin," by a favorite author, Mrs. Diaz; "More Ways than One," by Elizabeth Stuart Phelps, and "Two Days in the Mammoth Cave," by Helen C. Weeks. The poetry is even better than usual.

SUPREME JUDICIAL COURT.—At the adjourned Law Term, at Concord, on the 16th inst., the following actions were disposed of on the Rockingham Docket:

Samuel of Hampton Fall vs. Wiley of Seabrook.—Suit for false imprisonment, an arrest having been made by virtue of an attachment issued by a judge on an affidavit of concealment of property and intention to leave the State, annexed to a bill in equity. Held, that the attachment was properly issued, both under the statutes and by virtue of the general equity powers, there being evidence of an intention to leave the State to avoid payment of his debts. Nonsuit.

State vs. Stephen Scammon.—Defendant's exception overruled.

McMurphy vs. Garland & al.—Case discharged.

Baker vs. Baker.—Transferred to Trial Docket.—Exeter News Letter.

A FACT IN NATURAL HISTORY.—I was ignominiously rented the other day by a child of four, sex unknown. I was paying a visit up town, and from a doorway on the second floor the elf suddenly emerged. "How do you do?" it said briskly; "how do you do?" I like you very much!" "How are you? I replied, slightly discomposed but still with sufficient steadiness; "shake hands," I said. "No!" was the prompt response. "I want to kiss you!" I submitted, bringing myself down to its goblin level by setting on the stairs. "Do you live here?" I asked it. "I don't know!" it chirruped cheerfully. I concluded from appearances that the apparition was chez lui, and felt fortified in asking my next question: "How long have you been in this house?" "Where is this house?" was the abrupt and unexpected rejoinder. I began to feel uneasy, and, giving utterance to a secret convention, said, with an affectation of off-handedness I was far from feeling, "I think I had better go." "I think you'd better go," was the sprite's instant acquiescence. In signal disorder I softly retreated, utterly vanquished by this fortuitous infant of four. Such is children! for this thing really happened to me, and the supernatural child is not a foundling—that is to say, it is no invention of mine.—Quip, in the Musical Bulletin.

—That the Northern Pacific Railroad, of which we have read so much, is not a myth or a far distant possibility, but that the locomotive will soon be thundering across the continent on this northern route is very evident to the people of Minnesota, who hear every day the clang of the iron going down to form the great highway. Yesterday the first train crossed the head waters of the Mississippi on the new bridge thrown across at Brainard, 113 miles west from the starting point at Duluth, on Lake Superior. For 150 miles beyond this—as far as the great Red River of the North, the grading is nearly finished, and by September next it is thought the engine will run to the border of the "Land of the Dacotahs." At the same rapid rate the crest of the Rocky Mountains will soon be gained, and scarcely more than three years will be needed to complete the whole great line.—Chicago Mail.

—On a recent Thursday night, at 9:08 P. M., a London establishment received a message which had been sent, by way of Teherran, from Kurrachee, India, on Friday morning at 12:43 A. M. The message was therefore received in London the day before it was sent from India. The time actually occupied by the message in transmission was fifty minutes; the earth would require four hours and twenty-six minutes to do the same distance, and as the message was sent so soon after midnight, the extraordinary effect is produced of its arriving the previous evening.

—Gail Hamilton, who knows all about it, has solved the labor question as between the sexes. "It is because men refuse a woman's salary that they get men's salary. It is because women accept a low salary that they do not get a high one." Gail thinks action would cure all this. A universal strike of female operators would be in order. Let the men whistle for suppers and shirt buttons a week, and see. If Osgood & Co. will not come to terms, take your MS. to Harper & Brothers. Gail is a philosopher. She knows how it is herself.—*N. For Coughs, Bronchitis and Consumption in its early stages, nothing equals Dr. Pierce's Alt Ext. or Golden Medical Discovery. It is also a great blood purifier and strength restorer, or tonic, and for "Liver Complaint," Costive Conditions of the Bowels it has no equal. All Scrofulous and skin diseases as Pimples, Blotches, Salt Rheum, Erysipelas and Eruptions, yield to its wonderful properties. Sold by druggists.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

The Purest and Safest.

The efficacy of HOSTETTER'S CELEBRATED STOMACH BITTERS as a specific for recruiting the enfeebled body and cheering the desponding mind, has passed into a proverb. In the United States, where this marvelous tonic has borne down all opposition, and eclipsed all rivalry, the demand for it has annually increased in a heavier and heavier ratio for years, until, at last, the regular sales of this preparation exceed those of all other stomachics combined. Eminent members of the medical profession and hospital surgeons without number, have candidly admitted that the pharmacopœia of the faculty contains no prescription that produces such beneficial effects in dyspepsia, general debility and nervous diseases, as Hostetter's Bitters. To use the language of a venerable physician of New York, "The Bitters are the purest stimulant and the safest tonic we have." But the uses of the great vegetable antidote are much more comprehensive than such praise would imply. As a preparatory antidote to epidemic disease, a genial stimulant, a promoter of natural vigor, an appetizer, a stomachic, and a remedy for nervous debility, no medicinal preparation has ever attained the reputation of Hostetter's Bitters. It is the household tonic of the American people, and in all human probability will be so for centuries to come. The magnates of science recognize its merits; and that it is emphatically the medicine of the masses, is proven by its vast and ever increasing sales.

"Against what?" asks the reader. Why, against the POISONS, vile, maddening and deadly, advertised as "superior to all Hair Dyes." But, on second thoughts, the call "to arms!" is unnecessary. The wretched trash is already being driven out of the market. It has received the coup de grace from Cristadoro's Excelsior Hair Dye.

He was next to Pike in the Convention, and would doubtless have been elected if nominated.

Communication.

NEWCASTLE, March 24.

Here me now, O! ye children of Portsmouth, and depart not from the words of my mouth. Remove thy way far from Newcastle, and come not near the den of her mackerel catches, (who would catch ye without bait,) lest thou give thine honor unto others, and degenerate unto a fishing village; lest thy fountains be dispersed, and thy ladies without water to make tea, and the Aqueduct Co. filled with thy wealth. Doth not wisdom cry? and understanding put forth her voice, for more steam power and less taxes!

P. S. It is a sport to a fool to do mischief, and he that is evil of wisdom despiseth his neighbor. O. K.

Why is not Cabral the lawful ruler of Santo Domingo?

WOMAN'S RIGHTS.—We learn from our exchanges, that at Nashua, at the recent election, Miss Langley, Republican, was a candidate for School Director, but was defeated by her father, who was on the Democratic ticket, and that Miss Eliza M. Clark, for the past year superintendent of the common schools of Burlington, Vt., has been so able in the performance of her duties that her unanimous re-election has been effected; and that Franklin has elected three ladies, Mrs. A. F. Pike, Mrs. I. N. Blodgett and Miss Anna Nesmith, on the superintending school committee.

In view of these facts we would suggest to the Selectmen of our own town the feasibility of like action on their part: i. e., the appointment of one or more ladies on the Superintending School Committee; since we learn that the Committee elected at the annual town meeting decline to serve.—Exeter News Letter.

Consumption,

ITS CURE AND ITS PREVENTIVE,

By J. H. SCHENCK, M. D.

Many a human being has passed away, for whose death there was no other reason than that it was unknown and indisputably proved means of cure. Those near and dear to family and friends are sleeping the dreamless slumber into which, had they calmly adopted and availed themselves of his wonderfully efficacious medicines, they would not have fallen.

DR. JOSEPH H. SCHENCK'S SIMPLE TREATMENT,

Dr Schenck has in his own case proven that wherever sufficient vitality remains, that vitality, by his medicines and his directions for their use, is quickened into healthful vigor.

In this statement there is nothing presumptuous. To the faith of the invalid is made no representation that is not a thousand times substantiated by living and visible works. The theory of the cure by Dr. Schenck's medicines is as simple as it is unfailing. Its philosophy requires no argument. It is self assuring, self-convincing.

The Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills are the first two weapons with which the citadel of the malady is assailed. Two-thirds of the cases of consumption originate in dyspepsia and a functionally disordered liver. With this condition the bronchial tubes "sympathize" with the stomach. They respond to the morbific action of the liver. Here, then comes the culminating result, and the setting in, with all its dreadful symptoms, of

CONSUMPTION.

The Mandrake Pills are composed of one of Nature's noblest gifts—the Pedophillum Peltatum. They possess all the blood-searching, alterative properties of calomel, but unlike calomel, they

"LEAVE NO STING BEHIND."

The work of cure is now beginning. The vitiated and mucous deposits in the bowels and in the alimentary canal are quickened, dissolved, like a charm, it would up. It arouses from its torpidity. The stomach acts responsively, and the patient begins to feel that he is really alive.

A SUPPLY OF GOOD BLOOD.

The Seaweed Tonic, in conjunction with the Pills, permeates and assimilates with the food. Chylification is now progressing, without its previous torpiters. Digestion becomes painless, and the cure is seen to be at hand. There is no more flatulence, no exacerbation of the stomach. An appetite sets in.

Now comes the greatest Blood Purifier ever yet given by an indulgent father to suffering man. Schenck's Pulmonic Syrup comes in to perform its functions and to hasten and complete the cure. It enters at once upon its work of healing the diseased. It loosens and ripens the impaired and diseased portions of the lungs. In the form of gathering it prepares them for expectoration, and lo! in a very short time the malady is vanquished, the rotten throne that it occupied is removed, and made new, and the patient, in all the dignity of regained vigor, steps forth to enjoy the manhood or womanhood that was

GIVEN UP AS LOST.

The second thing is, the patients must stay in a warm room, until they get well; it is almost impossible to prevent taking cold when the lungs are diseased, but it must be prevented or a cure cannot be effected. Fresh air and riding out, especially in this section of the country in the fall and early seasons, are all wrong. Physicians who recommend that course lose their patients, if their lungs are badly diseased, and yet, frequently they are in the house they must not sit down quiet; they must walk about the room as much and as fast as the strength will allow, to get up a good circulation of blood. The patients must keep in good spirits—be determined to get well, this has a great deal to do with the appetite, and is the great point to gain.

To despair of cure after such evidence of its possibility in the worst cases, and moral certainty in all others, is sinful. Dr. Schenck's personal statement to the Faculty of his own cure was in these modest words:

"Many years ago I was in the last stages of consumption; confined to my bed, and at times by my physicians thought that I could not live a week; then I was a skeleton; my friends gathered around, I heard of, and obtained the preparations which I now offer to the public, and they made a perfect cure of me. I accomplished this result; I could feel them penetrate my whole system. They soon ripened the matter in my lungs, and I would spit up more than a pint of offensive yellow matter every morning for a long time. As soon as that began to subside, my cough, fever, pains and night sweats all began to leave me, and my appetite became so great that it was with difficulty that I could keep from eating too hearty. I soon gained my strength, and came down in flesh ever since.

"I was weighed shortly after my recovery," added the Doctor, "then looking like a mere skeleton; my weight was only nineteen pounds; now my present weight is two hundred and twenty-five (225) pounds, and for years I have enjoyed uninterrupted health."

Dr. Schenck has discontinued his professional visits to New York and Boston. He or his son, Dr. J. H. Schenck, may be consulted at the former place at their office, No. 15 North Sixth street, Philadelphia, every Saturday from 9 A. M. to 3 P. M. Those who wish a thorough examination with the Respirometer will be charged $5. The Respirometer delineates the exact condition of the lungs, and patients can readily learn whether they are curable or not.

The directions for taking the medicines are adapted to the intelligence even of a child. Follow these directions, and kind Nature will do the rest. Occasionally it becomes necessary that patients are to be taken in increased doses; the three medicines are harmless in the strongest dose, and ample instructions that accompany them: First, create appetite. Of returning health hunger is the most welcome of all signs. Secure a good digestion, let the despairing at once be of good cheer. Good blood and a healthy liver, will ripen and mature night sweats abated. In a short time both of these morbid symptoms are gone forever.

Dr. Schenck's medicines are constantly kept in tens of thousands of families. As a laxative or purgative, the Mandrake Pills are a standard preparation: while the Pulmonic Syrup, as a cure of coughs and colds, may be regarded as a prophylactic against all consumptive tendencies.

Price of the Pulmonic Syrup and Seaweed Tonic $1.50, a bottle, or $7.50 a half dozen. Mandrake Pills, 25 cents a box. For sale by all druggists and dealers.

FIRST MORTGAGE

7 Per Cent. Gold Bonds,

ON A COMPLETED ROAD,

FREE OF U. S. TAX,

At 90 and Accrued Interest in Currency.

Burlington, Cedar Rapids and Minnesota Railway.

The completion of this Road has given to these Bonds an established character equal to any mortgage issue dealt in at the Stock Exchange. We are prepared to buy and sell them at any time, at our Banking House, at market price—thus placing them on the same basis; for temporary or permanent investment, with Governments or any other security.

These bonds are a first and only mortgage on a railroad that has cost double the amount of the issue, and which commands, without competition, all the traffic of Northern Iowa and Southern Minnesota—shortening the distance from St. Paul to Chicago 45 miles, and to St. Louis more than 20 miles.

The net earnings are already largely in excess of interest on the bonds, and no doubt exists that they will more than double within the ensuing year.

A contract has been secured with the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy Railroad Company obligating the latter to invest 50 per cent. of gross earnings derived from traffic with the Burlington, Cedar Rapids and Minnesota Road in the bonds of this Company. This arrangement is a strong guarantee of the Bonds, and establishes a large sinking fund for their redemption.

The convertibility privilege in these bonds enables them to be exchanged for stock, at par, at any time. This secures to the holder of his option, a share in any excess of earnings over the interest obligation.

An exchange of Government securities for these bonds returns 9½ per cent. interest, instead of 5 per cent., which is all that Governments pay at present price, besides leaving an immediate gain of about 20 per cent. in price for re-investment.

All marketable Securities taken in exchange free of Commission and Express charges. f23d WaS

A GREAT MEDICAL DISCOVERY!

DR. WALKER'S CALIFORNIA

VINEGAR BITTERS,

Hundreds of Thousands Bear Testimony to their Wonderful Curative Effects.

WHAT ARE THEY!

THEY ARE NOT A VILE FANCY DRINK,

Made of Poor Rum, Whiskey, Proof Spirits and Refuse Liquors doctored, spiced and sweetened to please the taste, called "Tonics," "Appetizers," "Restorers," &c., that lead the tippler on to drunkenness and ruin, but are a true Medicine, made from the Native Root and Herbs of California, free from all Alcoholic Stimulants. They are the GREAT BLOOD PURIFIER and a LIFE-GIVING PRINCIPLE, a perfect Renovator and Invigorator of the system, carrying off all poisonous matter and restoring the blood to a healthy condition. No person can take these Bitters according to direction and remain long unwell, provided the bones are not destroyed by mineral poison or other means, and the vital organs wasted beyond the point of repair.

For Inflammatory and Chronic Rheumatism and Gout, Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Bilious, Remittent and Intermittent Fevers, Diseases of the Blood, Liver, Kidneys and Bladder, these Bitters have been most successful. Such Diseases are caused by Vitiated Blood, which is generally produced by derangement of the Digestive Organs.

DYSPEPSIA OR INDIGESTION, Headache, Pain in the Shoulders, Coughs, Tightness of the Chest, Dizziness, Sour Eructations of the Stomach, Bad taste in the Mouth, Bilious Attacks, Palpitation of the Heart, Inflammation of the Lungs, Pain in the regions of the Kidneys, and a hundred other painful symptoms, are the offspring of Dyspepsia.

They invigorate the stomach and stimulate the torpid liver and bowels, which render them of unequalled efficacy in cleansing the blood of all impurities and imparting new life and vigor to the whole system.

FOR SKIN DISEASES, Eruptions, Tetter, Salt Rheum, Blotches, Spots, Pimples, Pustules, Boils, Carbuncles, Ring-Worms, Scald Head, Sore Eyes, Erysipelas, Itch, Scurfs, Discolorations of the Skin, Humors and Diseases of the Skin, of whatever name or nature, are literally dug up and carried out of the system in a short time by the use of these Bitters. One bottle in such cases will convince the most incredulous of their curative effect.

Cleanse the Vitiated Blood whenever you find its impurities bursting through the skin in Pimples, Eruptions or Sores; cleanse it when you find it obstructed and sluggish in the veins, cleanse it when it is foul, and your feelings will tell you when. Keep the blood pure, and the health of the system will follow.

PIN, TAPE and other WORMS, lurking in the system of so many thousands, are effectually destroyed and removed. For full directions, read carefully the circular around each bottle, printed in four languages—English, German, French and Spanish.

FOR FEMALE COMPLAINTS, whether in young or old, married or single, at the dawn of womanhood or at the turn of life, these Tonic Bitters have no equal. ☞ Send for a circular.

They are a Gentle Purgative as well as a Tonic, possessing also, the peculiar merit of acting as a powerful agent in relieving Congestion or Inflammation of the Liver, and all the Visceral Organs. 1yrdawblotw

This line of Railroad will have very special advantages for both local and through business, besides such superior railroad connections as will secure to it a large portion of the carrying trade of the Great Northwest. The

which are issued upon this road, are limited in amount to $16,000 per mile (while many roads issue from $30,000 to $40 000,) and are offered at 90 and accrued interest, in currency. About two millions and a half of these bonds have already been disposed of, leaving but a small balance unsold, which are being rapidly taken.

The most experienced financiers agree that First Mortgage Bonds, to a limited amount, upon a finished railroad, which is well located for business, are one of the very safest forms of investment.

Parties desiring to secure a first-class security, based upon a railroad practically done, and in the hands of leading capitalists who have a large pecuniary and business interest in its success, will do well to apply at the office of the Company, or any of its advertised agents, for a pamphlet and map, showing the characteristics of the enterprise.

Holders of Government Bonds may exchange them for Central Iowas at a large present profit, beside a handsome increase of interest for a long term of years. Parties making such exchange will receive for each $1,000 Bond a $1,000 Central Iowa Bond, and the following difference in cash (less the accrued interest in currency upon the latter bond,) and in annual interest, this calculation being based upon market prices of December 27th, 1870:—

—OF THE—

Northern Pacific Railroad Co.

These bonds are secured, first, by a First Mortgage on the Railroad itself, its rolling stock, and all equipments; second, by a First Mortgage on its entire Land Grant, being more than Twenty-Two Thousand Acres of Land to each mile of Road.

The Bonds are free from United States Tax; the Principal and Interest are payable in Gold the Principal at the end of Thirty years, and the Interest Semi-annually, at the rate of SEVEN AND THREE-TENTHS PER CENT. per annum.

They are issued in denominations of $100, $500, $1,000, $5,000 and $10,000.

The Trustees under the Mortgage are Messrs. Jay Cooke, of Philadelphia, and J. Edgar Thomson, President of the Pennsylvania Central Railroad Company.

These Northern Pacific 7-30 Bonds will at all times be perfectly secure, and will be the best of Government securities, and the market price will advance, as the Interest becomes more generally known.

In addition to their absolute safety, these Bonds yield an income larger, we believe, than any other first-class security. Persons holding United States 5-20's can, by converting them into Northern Pacific, increase their year's income one-third, and still have a perfectly reliable investment.

HOW TO GET THEM.—Your nearest Bank or Banker will supply these Bonds in any desired amount, and of any needed denomination. Persons wishing to exchange stocks or other bonds for these, can do so with any of our Agents, who will allow the highest current price for ALL MARKETABLE SECURITIES.

Those living in localities remote from Banks, may send money, or other bonds, directly to us by express, and we will send back Northern Pacific Bonds at our own risk, and without cost to the investor. For further information, pamphlets, maps, etc., call on or address the undersigned, or any of the Banks or Bankers employed to sell this Loan. eod3mda3mwfebs

Morning Chronicle.

I KNOW IT.

At seventeen I was more of a man than I have ever been since. I wore a long tail coat and boots—spurs generally added—a moustache was quite visible on my upper lip, and a consciousness of ripe maturity never left my mind. I was studying for the legal profession, but at the time was spending vacation at my father's house in the country.

Though so manly, almost soldier-like, as I fancied, my inner was by no means behind my outer man. I love my mother with a childhood tenderness, and sooner than pain her pious heart, I unmurmuringly accompanied her every Sabbath to the village church to listen to a long sermon of which I could not hear a single word, for the tremulous accents of the aged minister were so faint as to be inaudible where we sat. Though incited by love and duty to subject myself to this weekly penance (well deserved by my weekly sins), yet my conscience did not prevent me from whiling away the time by such amusements as lay at hand—that of observing and speculating on the countenances of my neighbors.

The physiognomy which interested me more than all others, was that of a young girl, who was accompanied by an aged lady, probably her grandmother—the object of her watchful care. The young girl's face, from first eliciting my careless observation gradually absorbed my whole attention. It was beautiful, but apart from that, it possessed the greatest possible interest for me. Never had I seen a countenance which denoted so much sensibility; each motion of her mind was plainly written upon it, by its quick, delicate changes; nothing was wanting but the key of a corresponding degree in the beholder, to read her innocent soul, like an open book; for hours I gazed and speculated on that fair young face—I thought how glad would be the lot of so sensitive a being, should fate unite her to one who would not know how to read aright what was so delicately written—to whom the varying expression of that countenance would be but a blank—who would be able to see in it only its coarser part—beauty of feature. There was no end to the reveries into which these swift coming blushes led me.

Sometimes, by chance the fair object of my busy fancies would catch my eye, or without looking at me, seem to know or feel that I was gazing at her, and I wickedly delighted in noting the blush which deepened on her cheek.

One Sunday, I happened, in coming out of the church, to be close to my lovely neighbor — immediately behind her—my hand actually touched her unconscious garments. I felt an irresistible desire to force her to notice me—to occasion one of these charming blushes—anything—I knew not what. In short, like an impertinent coxcomb as I was I stooped forward, and, with an insufferable insolence, which I blush now to remember, I whispered in her ear: "You are very pretty."

Never was I more surprised, than when she calmly replied: "I know it."

I was absolutely startled. I had expected a silent, conscious blush—an indignant glance, anything rather than this cold, "I know it."

I was puzzled, but I had plenty of time to turn the matter in my mind, for in a few days I returned to college. I can truly say it was the main problem, which throughout the term gave me the most trouble to solve, and cost me much thought.

A year elapsed ere I returned home, and again sat in the village church. My personal appearance was somewhat altered—I still wore my moustache, it is true, but my coat-tails were not quite so long, and I had left off my spurs.

My mother and I were early seated in our pew, and I waited the arrival of my lovely enigma. I tried to prepare myself for disappointment. "I have been thinking and dreaming about an ideal," I said to myself; "doubtless when the young lady appears all my fine imaginations will vanish; no doubt my fancy has been playing tricks with me, investing a mere country maiden with transcendant charms." While I was reasoning thus, the young lady appeared leading her old relative with tender care.

Worshiping an "ideal," indeed! My most charming remembrance did not begin to do justice to the reality. A soul full of tenderness and sensibility seemed to have found a fitting home in a face of perfect loveliness and grace.

She blushed, when looking around she chanced to see me, and again the play of expression upon her features, which had so interested me formerly, charmed me.

The more I studied her face the more I seemed to see into the pure depths of her soul. I could have staked my life on her noble purity of thought and deed.

As we returned, I described my fair neighbor, and asked mother who she was.

"Her name," my mother said, "is Grace Denny; and she is the loveliest, the most superior young woman I have ever in my life met with. It is too soon to think of such things yet," she continued, smiling, "but some years hence it would make me happy to see my dear son married to just such a woman."

"Not quite so fast, mother," said I laughing, to hide a little boyish embarrassment which I was most anxious to conceal.

I found that Grace had become a constant visitor at my mother's and did not fail to improve the opportunity of becoming better acquainted with her.

She was indeed a gifted creature, endowed with "nature's best." She sang, she danced; she conversed with an indescribable grace. Thoughful and earnest in her demeanor, she had a vein of quiet humor, and her strokes of playful drollery charmed all the more from being unexpected. But more alluring to me than all her gifts and accomplishments, was the shrinking sensibility depicted on every feature of her sweet face. I soon found myself deeply, painfully interested in her. I say painfully, for Grace received my assiduous attentions with a perfect unconcern which gave me great uneasiness. Sometimes I thought she remembered my early impertinence, and was disposed to punish it. But there was a rival, a cousin of Grace's, who always stood in the way, and from whom Grace received, as a matter of course, numberless little attentions which I dared not even offer. I hated this man; I was insufferably jealous, but Grace seemed either unconscious, or perfectly indifferent to the spy-way of animosity which was carried on between us.

Grace, sweet noble Grace, with all her childlike simplicity and sensitive woman's heart—who could resist her? I could not—my whole soul was hers. In vain had I struggled, in vain had I called upon my vanity (of which I had plenty to invoke) to save me from the mortification of loving without return. I could not stem nor control the passion which, strong as a mighty whirlwind, had seized me.

One evening I sat by the piano while Grace sang.

The cousin was not there, and Grace's color and eyes suggested sweet hopes to my vanity. I fancied I saw love in those dewy eyes and on those soft, music-breathing lips.

It was the last week of my vacation and surely I read a gentle farewell in Grace's face. I was beside myself with joy—I was in a blissful dream—a sweet delirium—a rapture of love. As Grace rose to leave the piano I caught her hand, and unable longer to repress the thought that filled my heart, I exclaimed fervently.

"Grace, with all my soul I love you!"

She lifted her large soft eyes and said slowly, while a mischievous smile stole over her lovely face, "I know it."

She was gone before I had time to recover from my surprise.

The next day I returned to college, expecting to complete my studies in a year. A year!—how long a time to be absent from the beloved being who was to me, I felt, henceforth and forever, whether she returned my love or not, the nucleus around which my thoughts would revolve. I need not say how often her strange, unsatisfactory answer tormented me. I perceived in her repetition of the same words, her remembrance of the time she had used them before, and this was the just punishment for my insolence. I tortured myself by bringing the whole scene again and again to memory—my passionate declaration of love, and her provoking reply, "I know it!" "The deuce you do," thought I, sometimes, "I would I had possessed the wit to have left you a little more uncertain."

I often wondered that I was able to study at all this term, for Grace, beautiful Grace, was never absent from my thoughts—she had become the dream of my life—the object of my love sonnets, which had until now been scattered among various rival beauties. I did study, however, and hard, and at the end of the term passed examination with high honor—much to my dear mother's pride.

I determined to be wiser when I again saw Grace—to discover beyond a doubt if I were indeed beloved, before I committed myself as I had done, with foolish speeches.

In order to satisfy myself on this point, and perhaps also to gratify a little pique, when I returned home, I did not go immediately to see Grace as my feeling dictated, but waited till at my mother's summons, she spent an evening with us. Even then, though my heart was filled with tenderness for her, I had made up my mind to play a part, and suffer as I might I would act it out. There was a young lady staying with my mother at the same time who dearly loved to flirt, and I was quite ready to contribute to her amusement. I devoted myself to her the whole evening, and felt the sweetest pain I ever experience when I saw by Grace's charming, sensitive face, that she was deeply pained and wounded.

When this foolery had been carried to its height I perceived Grace arise, and step through an open window out on the piazza. In a few minutes I followed her; she had retired a little distance from the window, weeping. Stealing softly behind her, I passed my arm around her and whispered:

"Ah, dearest Grace—do not deny it!—You love me."

There was a little pause—then laughing, yet still half crying, Grace, turning aside her head said:

"Alas! I know it!"

It was enough. My fear of her not reciprocating my love was dispelled. The reader can easily imagine what followed.

WALTHAM

WATCHES.

The extensive use of these watches for the last fifteen years by Railway Conductors, Engineers and Expressmen, the most exacting of watch-wearers, has thoroughly demonstrated the strength, steadiness, durability and accuracy of the Waltham Watch. To satisfy that class in all these respects, is to decide the question as to the real value of these time-keepers.

More than 300,000 of these watches are now speaking for themselves in the pockets of the people—a proof and a guarantee of their superiority over all others.

The superior organization and great extent of the Company's Works at Waltham, enables them to produce watches at a price which renders competition futile, and those who buy any other watch merely pay from 25 to 50 per cent. more for their watches than is necessary.

These time-pieces combine every improvement that a long experience has proved of real practical use. Having had the refusal of nearly every invention in watch-making originating in this country or in Europe, only those were finally adopted which severe testing by the most skillful artisans in our works, and long use on the part of the public, demonstrated to be essential to correct and enduring time-keeping.

Among the many improvements we would particularize:—

The invention and use of a centre-pinion of peculiar construction, to prevent damage to the train by the breaking of main-springs, is original with the American Watch Company, who, having had the refusal of all other contrivances, adopted Pegg's patent pinion as being the best and tenacious.

Hardened and tempered hair-springs, now universally admitted by Watchmakers to be the best, are used in all grades of Waltham Watches.

All Waltham Watches have dust-proof case, protecting the movements from dust and lessening the necessity of the frequent cleaning necessary in other watches.

Our new patent stem-winder, or keyless watch is already a decided success, and a great improvement on any stem-winding watch in the American market, and by far the cheapest watch of its quality now offered to the public. To those living in portions of the United States where watchmakers do not abound, watches with the above mentioned improvements, which tend to ensure accuracy, cleanliness, durability and convenience, must prove invaluable.

The trademarks of the various styles made by the Company are as follows:—

AMERICAN WATCH CO., Waltham, Mass.
ANN. WATCH CO., Waltham, Mass.

The Chronicle.

ON BREEDING HORSES.—The severe work to which young horses are now subjected is the chief cause of the present great liability to disease. If they were well fed, and allowed to mature their constitutions before being trained, they would, in all probability, remain sound for a considerable time. This, we fear, is not likely to be attended to. The farmer has so many demands on his purse that he can scarcely afford to allow his horses to roam at large till they reach their fourth year; and the turfite finds it more profitable to race his colts at two years' old, than to keep them over, at heavy expenses, until such time as humanity, and a due regard to the soundness of the animals, would point out as the proper period for their first appearance on the turf. The necessities of the one, and the avaricious disposition of the other, thus renders it next to impossible to get good sound stock, either to use or to breed from.

The system of crossing which has been adopted since the introduction of thoroughbred stallions around in the country, appears to be a further cause of the degeneration of our general stock. Let his shape and qualities be good, bad, or indifferent, the one which possesses a sprinkling of blood is sure to be the animal which will be selected as a sire. His light action, showy appearance and high-sounding pedigree will be a sufficient recommendation to those who are igornant of the various points and qualities which are connected with the strength, substance, durability and disposition of the animal. Breeding from blood-stallions is highly commendable, provided it is done with judgement and discretion; but the practice of violent crossing is directly objectionable, and cannot be too strongly condemned. Extremes in crossing are very rarely successful; and it is really astonishing to see farmers so constantly putting their complete cart-mares to thorough bred horses, expecting to have foals of a class fit for fast work, whereas nine times out of ten they are fit neither for slow nor fast work.

By the practice here referred to, breeders expect to produce a horse combining both strength and action; but they are very frequently treated to an animal of such a nondescript form, that he is fit "neither for the land nor the sea." In place of being a fair medium between the sire and dam, he will take chiefly after the one in some parts, whilst in other places he will lean entirely to the opposite side; and he is consequently so badly balanced and proportioned that he is comparatively useless. His temper, moreover, is frequently characterized by a want of conformity to the purpose for which his owner might think him in other respects best adapted.—Dr. N. H. Paarcn, in Prairie Farmer.

AYER'S
HAIR VIGOR,
For Restoring Gray Hair to its Natural Vitality and Color.
A Dressing which is at once agreeable, healthy, and effectual for Preserving the Hair. Fades or gray Hair is soon restored to its original color, with the glow and freshness of youth. Thin hair is thickened, falling hair checked, and baldness often, though not always, cured by its use.
Nothing can restore the hair where the follicles are destroyed, or the glands atrophied and decayed. But such as remains can be saved for usefulness by this application. Instead of fouling the hair with a pasty sediment, it will keep it clean and vigorous. Its occasional use will prevent the hair from turning gray or falling off, and consequently prevent baldness. Free from those deleterious substances which make some preparations dangerous and injurious to the hair, the Vigor, can only benefit but not harm it.
If wanted merely for a HAIR DRESSING, nothing else can be found so desirable. Containing neither oil nor dye, it does not soil white cambric, and yet lasts long on the hair, giving it a rich glossy lustre and a grateful perfume.

These Pills are the most delightfully pleasant purgative, superseding castor oil, salts, magnesia, etc. There is nothing more acceptable to the stomach. They give tone, and cause neither nausea nor griping pains. They are composed of the finest ingredients. Helmbold's Compound Fluid Extract Catawba Grape Pills, are not sugar-coated, from the fact that sugar-coated Pills do not dissolve, but pass through the stomach without dissolving, consequently do not produce the desired effect. Thousands who have been the victims of incompetent persons, and who have paid heavy fees, to be cured in a short time, have found they have been deceived, and that the "Poison" has, by the use of "powerful astringents," been dried up in the system, to break out in a more aggravated form, and perhaps after Marriage.

MONDAY, MARCH 27, 1871.

"A LIFE ON THE OCEAN WAVE."—Judge Curtis, of the marine court in New York, has rendered a decision in the case of the colored sailors of the Neptune, who sued Captain Peabody for damages for assault and battery upon the high seas, awarding $100 and costs to Abboy and $50 and costs to Rose, with $25 allowance to each. The court at the same time instructed the counsel for the plaintiffs to see that the plaintiffs got the full benefit of the judgment. In summing up the case the judge was very severe on Captain Peabody. He (the judge) had never seen a man show such ferocity of disposition as Peabody, and he believed him to be a man who would carry out whatever design his avarice prompted, or his iron will conceived, and the court stated that it was his intention to make this case, as well as every other case of the same kind which should come before him, a warning to ship-owners who send their vessels carrying passengers and seamen forth for long voyages, with no provisions made for the health of such seamen and passengers. He did give Peabody a terrible warning, surely! He will make double the amount of his fine by "running out" his next crew without their wages. He should have been sent to jail—or hung. Captain H. L. Crockett, of the ship Canaka, was before the United States Commissioner in Boston last week, charged in three counts with beating and wounding Charles Lafron, a seaman. The evidence showed that the captain and first mate had both assaulted the man, that the mate was allowed to leave the vessel at Holmes' Hole on her way to Boston, and that several important witnesses of the occurrence were not to be found since the vessel arrived. The Commissioner held the captain for trial in $500.

The crew of the clipper ship Helvetia, which recently arrived from Callao, Peru, complain of brutal treatment received from Capt. Robert Eldridge and mates, T. Shanks and Gus Johnson. Upon reaching New York the crew were detained on the Helvetia until the mates landed and escaped arrest.

The public are constantly being shocked with tales of the outrages committed by the salt water Ku-Klux on their slaves; and Congress should put a stop to it in the one only manner in which it can be done—by setting the slaves free, by law. Strike all special legislation from the statute books, and let the sailor have the same protection as (and no more than) other men have under our flag, and such outrages would soon become as rare at sea as assaults of employers upon their employes are on shore.

OUR LATEST RETURNS.—The Legislature is probably Republican. The Senate has no Democratic majority, but the House is Republican by two majority, without counting one of the Labor Reformers, who we are assured will vote for us. There are four Labor Reformers and four Republicans elected by assistance from the Democracy. They are Underhill of Chester, Legro of Lancaster, Wilson of Pembroke, and Morse of Winchester. Each of these gentlemen have requested to be returned as Republicans, and we know that Mr. Legro voted for Mr. Pike; that he claims still to be a Republican; that his nomination was made without his knowledge, and that he has given the Democracy no assurances of support. He will not give the lie to all his past professions, and desert the party he has so nobly supported for eighteen years past. It is not in his nature to turn on a friend in a little temporary adversity. Our count makes the Legislature 167 Republicans to 163 Democrats.—Lancaster Republican.

SOUTH AMERICA.—News from Peru of the 14th announces that there were terrible floods in the neighborhood of Lima, and the rising of the Runoe River threatened serious injury to the city. Much property was destroyed. The railroad was damaged and a number of persons drowned, and plantations in the town of Supe destroyed. There was much suffering among the poor for want of provisions. Fears were entertained that the inundation would increase. Several earthquakes were experienced in Arequipa and Jaena. The shocks were preceded by an electric storm.

☞ The President has nominated Horatio C. Newcomb of Indiana to be assistant secretary of the interior.

CONGRESS.

In the Senate, on the 24th, Mr. Sumner again offered his resolutions. Mr. Conkling raised the point of order that they could not be introduced under the Anthony rule. After some debate the motion was tabled. Mr. Sumner said that he intended to make a speech on the resolutions, which he asked to have printed. Several Senators expressed their willingness to allow of the consideration of the resolutions and to hear his speech, and Mr. Conkling said if the Senator had asked unanimous consent he would have been one of the first to grant it. Mr. Sumner thereupon asked the unanimous consent of the Senate, which was granted.

PARIS.

The insurrection in Paris is fast assuming the proportions and horrible character of the revolution of 1848. Certain quarters are being drenched in blood, while prominent and respectable citizens are hourly assassinated by the mob. The most appaling scenes are enacting, and among the prominent citizens who were announced to have been butchered by the insurgents on the 24th are M. Bouge, sometime since spoken of as France's representative at the London conference, M. Hottinguer, banker and member of the Bourse, and M. Henri de Reu, the celebrated civil engineer. Immediately after these gentlemen were murdered, their corpses were paraded upon the boulevards, amid the yells and curses of the infuriated mob.

A PROCLAMATION.—Whereas, it is provided in the Constitution of the United States that the United States shall protect every State in the Union on the application of the legislature, or of the executive when the legislature cannot be convened, against domestic violence, and

Whereas, it is provided in the laws of the United States that in all cases of insurrection in any State, or obstruction to the laws thereof, it shall be lawful for the President of the United States, on the application of the legislature of such State or executive, when the legislature cannot be convened, to call forth the militia of any State or States, or employ such part of the land or naval forces as shall be judged necessary for the purpose of suppressing such an insurrection, or causing the laws to be duly executed. And,

Whereas, I have received information that combinations of armed men, unauthorized by law, are now disturbing the peace and safety of the State of South Carolina and committing acts of violence in the said State, of a character and to an extent which render the power of the State and its officers unequal to the task of protecting life and property and securing public order therein; and

Whereas, the legislature of said State is not in session, and cannot be convened in time to meet the present emergency, and the executive of said State has therefore made application to me for such part of the military forces of the United States as may be necessary and adequate to protect said State and the citizens thereof against the domestic violence hereinbefore mentioned, and enforce the due execution of the laws; and

Whereas, the laws of the United States require that whenever it may be necessary, in the judgment of the President, to use military force for the purpose aforesaid, he shall forthwith issue a proclamation to command such insurgents to disperse and retire peaceably to their respectable abodes within a limited time; now, therefore,

I, Ulysses S. Grant, President of the United States, do hereby command the persons composing the unlawful combinations aforesaid to disperse and retire peaceably to their respective abodes with twenty days from this date.

In witness whereof I have hereunto set my hand and caused the seal of the United States to be affixed. Done at the city of Washington this the 24th day of March in the year of our Lord eighteen hundred seventy-one and of the independence of the United States the ninety-fifth.

(Signed) U. S. GRANT.

By the President:
HAMILTON FISH, Secretary of State.

☞ The Chicago and Detroit papers don't "hitch" at all, and no opportunity is lost on either side to give the other a rub. A Detroit journal a day or two since happened to speak of a game of draughts played in that city, and a Chicago sheet thus picks it up:

"Detroit is feeble in commerce, but she is powerful in checkers. Next week, we understand, she will have a Jackstraw Tournament, and sometime in April a tournament to repeat the remarks which Simon makes concerning the attitude of the human thumbs."

☞ The following marriage notice appears in the Bangor Whig:—

"In South Molunkus, by Rev. Hugh Reed, Col. J. F. Twitchell of Oldtown, and Clara L. Clemons, of South Molunkus. No cards, no cake, nobody's business. Clam chowder this evening, March 22d. Friends and relatives are invited."

The residence of Mr. N. H. Wood in Hudson was burned on Thursday night. Loss about $2000; insured for $1500. Mr. Wood had his barn struck by lightning last summer and burned.

FODDER CORN.—The Rural New Yorker, in a recent issue, presents some analyses of fodder corn, which are designed to show that Dr. Loring's views regarding its value as feed for milch cows are erroneous. What Dr. Loring's exact notions are, we do not care to inquire. Facts and principles in agriculture do not rest upon the mere opinions of any man. Opinions should only receive consideration when they are supported or based upon accurate observation and careful experiment.

We have in the Journal and elsewhere given the results of experiments which lead us to place a low estimate upon the value of fodder corn as grown under the usual or ordinary conditions among farmers. Upon this subject, which is regarded as of importance by many, we do not wish to be misunderstood. We have distinctly stated, that it is the corn fodder produced from broadcast sowing, or in drills when in close contact, which is comparatively worthless; not that grown in hills, or drills wide apart, properly cultivated, and cut just before the ears commence forming, or when they are in the milk.

No one can place a higher estimate upon the maize plant as fodder for milch cows, than we do, if it is properly cultivated with full access of light and air. Can farmers afford to cultivate a hoed crop, to feed to cows in a green state? We think not, as a general thing. There are crops which we have pointed out, which serve a good purpose as green feed, which can be raised from broadcast sowing and left to grow under the conditions of ordinary grasses. The matter of cost and convenience in raising crops of any kind must be left to farmers themselves; they ought to be the best judges. It is, however, important that they should clearly understand the modifying influence of culture, air and sunlight upon different kinds of vegetable productions.—Jour. of Chemistry.

The efficacy of HOSTETTER'S CELEBRATED STOMACH BITTERS as a specific for recruiting the enfeebled body and cheering the desponding mind, has passed into a proverb. In the United States, where this marvelous tonic has borne down all opposition, and eclipsed all rivalrey, the demand for it has annually increased in a heavier and heavier ratio for years, until, at last, the regular sales of this preparation exceed those of all other stomachics combined. Eminent members of the medical profession and hospital surgeons without number, have candidly admitted that the pharmacopœia of the faculty contains no prescription that produces such beneficial effects in dyspepsia, general debility and nervous diseases, as Hostetter's Bitters. To use the language of a venerable physician of New York. "The Bitters are the purest, stimulant and the safest tonic we have." But the uses of the great vegetable antidote are much more comprehensive than such praise would imply. As a preparatory antidote to epidemic disease, a genial stimulant, a promoter of constitutional vigor, an appetizer, a stomachic, and a remedy for nervous debility, no medicinal preparation has ever attained the reputation of Hostetter's Bitters. It is the household tonic of the American people, and in all human probability will be so for centuries to come. The magnates of science recognize its merits; and that it is emphatically the medicine of the masses, is proven by its vast and ever increasing sales.

Yes, my application 's Devoutly to be wished; apply, insure, And pay the premium: ay—there's the rub For in that time what premiums may come Before I shuffle off this mortal coil Does make me pause, tightens my purse, And makes me rather pay the bills I have Than fly to others I know not of. "SAVE US FROM OUR FRIENDS."—Messrs. Editors:—If any person or party ever had cause to breathe that aspiration, it is the party favoring the annexation of Newcastle. Its advocates in your columns have only to go on, and there will not be long a corporal's guard left to agree with them. They have however one merit,—they pull the same string; viz: insult many of those they call the wealthy men of Portsmouth, which voluntary "explanatory letters" to the supposed writer of an article in opposition, from one of the principal movers and the prominent writer in favor of it, does not remove, and to the writers who have heretofore opposed it.

ANTI ANNEXATION.

Communication.

Messrs. Editors: I have read attentively the numerous and somewhat lengthy articles in your paper on this subject, and have been impressed with a desire to learn something about it, for the quantity of information to be gleaned from these articles is very small. First, I wish somebody would furnish the public with the considerations passed before the meeting at the First National Bank, which induced that meetiug to resolve that those considerations "are of such a character as to strongly commend the consummation of the union of the two municipal organizations."

I wish somebody who knows would furnish the exact debt of Newcastle, including funded and floating. The municipal year of that town closed on or about the 7th inst. and I suppose the condition of the finances can be stated very nearly, if not exactly. And I should like to know how much the debt has been reduced or increased for several years past, and the rate of taxation in those years.

Will "Ann X," who tells how long the Bridge is not, tell us how long the three Bridges are exactly. Will the same correspondent, who says the bridges are now kept in repair at an annual cost of about $400, tell us whether the bridges are really kept in repair, or whether they can be kept in repair for years to come at the same rate.

And finally, will some one tell us exactly what the advantages of annexation are expected to be to the inhabitants of Newcastle, whether reduced taxation, abolition of tolls, or whatever other immediate financial benefits.

MR. GREELEY'S TIP TOP TURNIPS.—On receiving a few days ago at the office of the Golden Age the popular romance entitled "What I Know "About Farming," we were perplexed to make out to which of two astonished and delighted men the author really meant to dedicate it. At first glance we caught the following inscription:

To
The Man of our Age
Who shall make the first Plow propelled by Steam,
Or other mechanical power, whereby not less than Ten Acres per Day
Shall be thoroughly pulverized to a Depth of Two Feet,
At a cost of not more than two dollars per acre,
This work is admiringly dedicated by THE AUTHOR.

The above inscription concerning ploughing was in plain type, but there was a dedication which was in Mr. Greeley's handwriting, and which went so far beyond ploughing as to be almost harrowing. We passed the book round our office, but there was nobody who could make out the hieroglyphics. At first we thought the characters composed a miniature drawing of Mr. Greeley's worm-fences at Chappequa. Then we fancied the writing might be a confused report of the recent New Hampshire election. But at last, on sending the volume up stairs into our composing room, with the offer of a trifling compensation to any one of our compositors who would put that piece of "copy" in correct shape in nonpareil type, there came back to us, after thirteen hours of anxious expectation, the following neat inscription, which we may call a flower, or rather a garden vegetable, of rhetoric:

To
Theodore Tilton,
Editor of the Golden Age,
From his friend
Horace Greeley,
Who raises turnips at Chappequa
For less than $1 each.

This inscription brought to our mind Plutarch's story of that elder (not better) farmer, who, on taking the biggest turnip of his patch as a gift to the king—a ceremony which excited the smiles of the courtiers—received from his majesty's lips, addressed to these rebuked critics, the following fine compliment: "This man, who has developed a small turnip into a large one, would, if he had an equal opportunity, developed a small city into a great one." We then munched in meditation on this turnip of suggestion, and hoped that, according to this law of development, the time would come when the Farmer of Chappequa would be the Governor of New York.—Golden Age.

Consumption.
ITS CURE AND ITS PREVENTIVE.
By J. H. SCHENCK, M. D.

Many a human being has passed away, for whose death there was no other reason than the neglect of known and indisputable remedies in time of cure. Those near and dear to family and friends are sleeping the dreamless slumber into which, had they plainly adopted
Dr. JOSEPH H. SCHENCK'S SIMPLE TREATMENT,
and availed themselves of his wonderfully efficacious medicines, they would not have fallen.

Dr Schenck has in his own case proven that wherever sufficient vitality remains, that vitality, by his medicines and his directions for their use, is quickened into healthful vigor.

In this statement there is nothing presumptuous. To the faith of the invalid is made no representation that is not a thousand times substantiated by living and visible works. The theory of the cure by Dr. Schenck's medicines is as simple as it is unfailing. Its philosophy requires no argument. It is self assuring, self-convincing.

The Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills are the first two weapons with which the citadel of the malady is assailed. Two-thirds of the cases of consumption originate in dyspepsia and a functionally disordered liver. With this condition the bronchial tubes "sympathize" with the stomach. They respond to the morbific action of the liver. Here, then comes the culminating result, and the setting in, with all its distressing symptoms, of

CONSUMPTION.

The Mandrake Pills are composed of one of Nature's noblest gifts—the Podophillum Peltatum. They possess all the blood-searching, alterative properties of calomel, but unlike calomel, they

"LEAVE NO STING BEHIND."

The work of cure is now beginning. The vitiated and mucous deposits in the bowels and in the alimentary canal are ejected. The liver, like a clock, is wound up. It arouses from its torpidity. The stomach acts responsively, and the patient begins to feel that he is getting, at last,

A SUPPLY OF GOOD BLOOD.

The Seaweed Tonic, in conjunction with the Pills, permeates and assimilates with the food. Chylification is now properly effected. The chyle is healthy. Digestion becomes painless, and the cure is seen to be at hand. There is no more flatulence or eructation of the stomach. An appetite sets in.

Now comes the greatest Blood Purifier ever yet given by an indulgent father to suffering man. Schenck's Pulmonic Syrup comes in to performing its functions and to hasten and complete the cure. It enters at once upon its work. Nature cannot be cheated. It collects and ripens the impaired and diseased portions of the lungs. In the shape of gatherings it prepares them for expectoration, and lo! in a very short time the malady is vanquished, the rotten tissue that it occupied is renovated and made new, and the patient, in all the dignity of regained vigor, steps forth to enjoy the manhood or womanhood that was

GIVEN UP AS LOST.

The second thing is, the patients must stay in a warm room, until they get well; it is almost impossible to prevent taking cold when the lungs are diseased, but it must be prevented or a cure cannot be effected. Fresh air and riding out, especially in this section of the country in the fall and winter months, are all wrong. Physicians who recommend that coffee lose their patients, if their lungs are badly diseased; and yet, because they are in the house they must not sit down quiet: they must walk about the room as much and as fast as the strength will admit, to keep up a good circulation of blood. The patients must keep in good spirits—be determined to get well. This has a great deal to do with the appetite, and is the great point to gain.

To despair of cure after such evidence of its possibility in the worst cases, and moral certainty in all others, is sinful. Dr Schenck's personal statement to the Faculty of his own cure was in these modest words:

"Many years ago I was in the last stages of consumption; confined to my bed, and as the result of physicians thought that I could live but a week; then like a drowning man catching at the straws around him, I commenced using preparations which I now offer to the public, and they made a perfect cure of me. I recommend the same treatment to the world as my whole system. They soon ripened the matter in my lungs, and I would spit up more than a pint of offensive yellow matter every morning for a long time. As soon as that began to subside, my cough, fever, pains and night sweats all began to leave me, and my appetite became so great that it was with difficulty that I could keep from eating too much. I regained my strength, and have grown in flesh ever since."

"I was weighed shortly after my recovery," added the Doctor, "when I weighed but a mere skeleton; my weight was only ninety-seven pounds; my present weight is two hundred and twenty-five (225) pounds, and for years I have enjoyed uninterrupted health."

Dr. Schenck has discontinued his professional visits to New York and Boston. He or his son, Dr. J. H. Schenck, Jr., will be at home to see patients at their office, No. 15 North Sixth street, Philadelphia, every Saturday from 9 A. M. to 3 P. M. Those who wish a thorough examination with the Respirometer will be charged $5. The Respirometer declares the exact condition of the lungs, and patients can readily know whether they are curable or not.

The directions for taking the medicines are adapted to the health and age even of a child. Follow these directions, and kind Nature will do the rest, excepting that in some cases the Mandrake Pills are to be taken in larger doses; the other medicines need no other accompaniments than the simple instructions that accompany them. First, create appetite. Overcoming health hunger is the most welcome symptom. When it comes, as it will come, let the patient eat once her fill of good other. Good blood at once follows, the cough loosens, the night sweat is abated. In a short time both of these morbid symptoms have disappeared.

Dr. Schenck's medicines are constantly kept in tens of thousands of families. As a laxative or purgative, the Mandrake Pills are a standard preparation; while the Pulmonic Syrup, as a cure of coughs and colds, may be regarded as a prophylactic against consumption in any of its forms.

Price of the Pulmonic Syrup and Seaweed Tonic $1.50, a bottle, or $7.50 a half dozen. Mandrake Pills, 25 cents a box. For sale by all druggists and dealers.

ARE YOU GOING TO PAINT?
—IF SO, USE THE—
AVERILL CHEMICAL PAINT.

It is Cheaper, Handsomer and more durable than the best of other Paints. One Thousand Gallons of it were sold in this City, in the year 1869, and all who purchased it have come from those who have used it; but all speak in its favor; it is mixed ready for application, and is much easier put on than any other Paint, making a smooth, glossy surface for years, that can be cleaned with hot suds without injuring it. It is excellent for walls inside, in the place of paper.

I shall keep this season a large stock of Chemical Paints of all shades on hand, to accommodate customers with any amount, without delay, as I did during it. Those who want to use the Chemical Paints and have had them misrepresented by those who deal in Lead and Oil, are invited to call and examine my Paints that have been on Buildings two years, and you will find them as fresh as if laid but one month.

I am prepared to do Painting by Contract, or by the day, using the Chemical Paint, or furnishing good experienced workmen by the day at very low wages. B. NORTON, only Agent for selling the

FIRST MORTGAGE
7 Per Cent. Gold Bonds,
ON A COMPLETED ROAD,
FREE OF U. S. TAX,
At 90 and Accrued Interest in Currency.

Burlington, Cedar Rapids and Minnesota Railway.

The completion of this Road has given to these Bonds an established character equal to any mortgage issue dealt in at the Stock Exchange. We are prepared to buy and sell them at any time, at our Banking House, at market price—thus placing them on the same basis; for temporary or permanent investment, with Governments or any other security.

These bonds are a first and only mortgage on a railroad that has cost double the amount of the issue, and which commands, without competition, all the traffic of Northern Iowa and Southern Minnesota—shortening the distance from St. Paul to Chicago 45 miles, and to St. Louis more than 90 miles.

The net earnings are already largely in excess of interest on the bonds, and no doubt exists that they will more than double within the ensuing year.

A contract has been secured with the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy Railroad Company obligating the latter to invest 50 per cent. of gross earnings derived from traffic with the Burlington, Cedar Rapids and Minnesota Road in the bonds of this Company. This arrangement is a strong guarantee of the Bonds, and establishes a large sinking fund for their redemption.

The convertibility privilege in these bonds enables them to be exchanged for stock, at par, at any time. This secures to the holder, at his option, a share in any excess of earnings over the interest obligation.

An exchange of Government securities for these bonds returns 6½ per cent. interest, instead of 5 per cent., which is all that Governments pay at present price, besides leaving an immediate gain of about 20 per cent. in price for investment.

All marketable Securities taken in exchange free of Commission and Express charges. f24dWeS

A GREAT MEDICAL DISCOVERY!
DR. WALKER'S CALIFORNIA
VINEGAR BITTERS,
Hundreds of Thousands Bear Testimony to their Wonderful Curative Effects.
WHAT ARE THEY!
THEY ARE NOT A VILE FANCY DRINK,

Made of Poor Rum, Whiskey, Proof Spirits and Refuse Liquors doctored, spiced and sweetened to please the taste, called "Tonics," "Appetizers," "Restorers," &c., that lead the tippler on to drunkenness and ruin, but are a true Medicine, made from the Native Roots and Herbs of California, free from all Alcoholic Stimulants.

They are the GREAT BLOOD PURIFIER and a LIFE-GIVING PRINCIPLE, a perfect Renovator and Invigorator of the system, carrying off all poisonous matter and restoring the blood to a healthy condition. No person can take these Bitters according to direction and remain long unwell, provided the bones are not destroyed by mineral poison or other means, and the vital organs wasted beyond the point of repair.

For Inflammatory and Chronic Rheumatism and Gout, Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Bilious, Remittent and Intermittent Fevers, Diseases of the Blood, Liver, Kidneys and Bladder, these Bitters have been most successful. Such Diseases are caused by Vitiated Blood, which is generally produced by derangement of the Digestive Organs.

DYSPEPSIA OR INDIGESTION, Headache, Pain in the Shoulders, Coughs, Tightness of the Chest, Dizziness, Sour Eructations of the Stomach, Bad taste in the Mouth, Bilious Attacks, Palpitation of the Heart, Inflammation of the Lungs, Pain in the regions of the Kidneys, and a hundred other painful symptoms, are the offspring of Dyspepsia.

They invigorate the stomach and stimulate the torpid liver and bowels, which render them of unequalled efficacy in cleansing the blood of all impurities and imparting new life and vigor to the whole system.

FOR SKIN DISEASES, Eruptions, Tetter, Salt Rheum, Blotches, Spots, Pimples, Pustules, Boils, Carbuncles, Ring-Worms, Scald Head, Sore Eyes, Erysipelas, Itch, Scurfs, Discolorations of the Skin, Humors and Diseases of the Skin, of whatever name or nature, are literally dug up and carried out of the system in a short time by the use of these Bitters. One bottle in such cases will convince the most incredulous of their curative effect.

Cleanse the Vitiated Blood whenever you find its impurities bursting through the skin in Pimples, Eruptions or Sores; cleanse it when you find it obstructed and sluggish in the veins, cleanse it when it is foul, and your feelings will tell you when. Keep the blood pure, and the health of the system will follow.

PIN, TAPE and other WORMS, lurking in the system of so many thousands, are effectually destroyed and removed. For full directions, read carefully the circular around each bottle, printed in four languages—English, German, French and Spanish.

FOR FEMALE COMPLAINTS, whether in young or old, married or single, at the dawn of womanhood or at the turn of life, these Tonic Bitters have no equal. ☞ Send for a circular.

They are a Gentle Purgative as well as a Tonic, passessing also, the peculiar merit of acting as a powerful agent in relieving Congestion or Inflammation of the Liver, and all the Visceral Organs. 1yrdawfeb16

SAFE AND PROFITABLE.
THE CENTRAL RAILROAD CO.
OF IOWA,
have now built and equipped, in first-class manner, about
180 MILES OF RAILROAD,
which will complete their entire line, with the exception of laying the track on twenty-five miles, which is already graded. They will thus open

The First Through Line Across the State

from north to south, and, by making a slight detour at one point, they will give
DIRECT COMMUNICATION BETWEEN ST. LOUIS AND ST. PAUL.

This line of Railroad will have very special advantages for both local and through business, besides such superior railroad connections as will secure to it a large portion of the carrying trade of the Great Northwest. The

First Mortgage,
7 PER CENT. GOLD BONDS,

which are issued upon this road, are limited in amount to $16,000 per mile (while many roads issue from $20,000 to $40,000,) and are offered at 90 and accrued interest, in currency. About two millions and a half of these bonds have already been disposed of, leaving but a small balance unsold, which are being rapidly taken.

The most experienced financiers agree that First Mortgage Bonds, to a limited amount, upon a finished railroad, which is well located for business, are one of the very safest forms of investment.

Parties desiring to secure a first-class security, based upon a railroad practically done, and in the hands of leading capitalists who have a large pecuniary and business interest in its success, will do well to apply at the office of the Company, or any of its advertised agents, for a pamphlet and map, showing the characteristics of the enterprise.

Holders of Government Bonds may exchange them for Central Iowas at a large present profit, beside a handsome increase of interest for a long term of years. Parties making such exchange will receive for each $1,000 Bond a $1,000 Central Iowa Bond, and the following difference in cash (less the accrued interest in currency upon the latter bond,) and in annual interest, this calculation being based upon market prices of December 27th, 1870:—

Inauguration of the new town of Ayer.

The Massachusetts Legislature having enacted into a law the unanimous vote of Groton Junction to be chartered as a town named after Dr. J. C. Ayer the citizens assembled en masse on the 13th to celebrate the consummation of their wishes. The "great medicine man" was introduced and spoke as follows:

Ladies and Gentlemen:—On the western coast of Scotland where it slopes into the Irish Sea, a river, rising on the mountains of the inner lake, winds down among the hills and empties into the Firth of Clyde. From remote time it has been called Ayr from an old Scotch word "Ayry," meaning an eagle's nest—the river of the eagle's nest. Near its mouth and a contiguous harbor, long stood a hamlet which became a royal burg or town named from the river, and now about one-third as large as Lowell—the city of Ayr. For more than a thousand years it has been noted in the history of Scotland. During the wars of Robert Bruce it was one of his resorts, and was especially favored by him because he was there cured of leprosy. Oliver Cromwell made it one of the depots and headquarters of his army in his attack upon Scotland, and one of his old forts is now the Citadel of Ayr.

But above all its distinctions, Ayr was the birth place of the poet Burns. And what a poet! What a voice has he given to all the endearments of home! How has he hallowed the cottage and all it covers—weans and wife, patches and poverty, beans, barley, ale, hardship and the poor man's toil. How he wraps with tenderness whatever he names, even his bleak leagues of pasture, the stubble field, ice, snow, sleet and rain, brooks, birds, mice, thistles and heather. His Bonny Doon, John Anderson, my Jo John, Auld Lang Syne, and Highland Mary roll around the world in ever ringing symphony with what is purest and best in human nature. His songs woo and melt the hearts of youth and maidens, brings solace to the sorrowing and courage to the overburdened by their lot. His inspiration has set the affections to music in strains that are immortal.

No other one man ever made a language classic, but he has rendered that lowland Scotch a Doric dialect of fame. The name of his home and his beloved river Ayr was lifted on the wings of his pathos, and now the approaching traveller yearns to reach the spot his genius has sanctified.

Along the borders of the sea in a parallelogram and surrounding the town is a county of the same name—Ayrshire.

It would weary your patience to hear the history of my ancestors from one ancient John of Ayr, then John Ayr, down through the centuries to this Ayr now before you; through their vicissitudes of poverty and plenty—of fortune and misfortune; how they have intermarried with England, Ireland and Scotland, and later with the Americans, who are an excellent mixture of them all.

My friends, — you have chosen the name I inherited for your town with an extraordinary unanimity, and have thereby conferred an honor upon me, the proper acknowledgment of which I do not feel fully able to express. But I beg you to be assured that it is appreciated and that it will be gratefully remembered with a living interest in your prosperity while life remains to me, and, I trust, beyond that by my children after me.

If this name has become noted among the many that are worthier around you, that is greatly due to its publicity. May I be permitted to state whence that came? Until within a few centuries all the civilized nations of the globe were pent up on the Eastern continent. Two or three hundred years ago they leaked over into this; few and fearfully at first, then more and more, but always in their settlements timidly hugging the Atlantic coast. Within the last two or three generations, they have burst out, as it were, and over-run these vast continents of the West. Now they are scattered here and possess these measureless stretches of mountains, and valleys, hills, plains, forests and prairies with the boundless pampas and mountain ranges of South America. Former generations lived in villages and towns, thickly settled together where physicians were plenty and near at hand. Now, the people are widely scattered, in many sections of these many countries. For great numbers the timely treatment of physicians cannot be had; over large tracts of country good or competent physicians cannot be had at all. They can not visit patients enough many miles apart to live by their profession, nor can they carry medicines enough with them on horseback for their requirements. Hence has arisen in these modern times, a necessity for remedies ready at hand, with directions for their use—a present recourse for relief in the exigencies of sickness, when no other aid is near. It is a new necessity consequent upon the changed conditions of human life—a want I have spent my years in supplying, and I will tell you something of its extent. Our laboratory makes every day some 630,000 potions or doses of our preparations. These are all taken by somebody. Here is a number equal to the populations of fifteen cities as large as Lowell, taking them every day (for sickness keeps no Sabbaths) nor for once only, but again and again, year after year, through nearly one-third of a century. We all join in the jokes about medicine as we do about the Doctor's mission to kill, the clergyman's insincerity and the lawyer's cheating.

Yet each of these labors among the most serious realities of life. Sickness and its attendant suffering are no joke, neither is the treatment of them. This system of transportable relief, to be made available to the people, must keep its remedies fresh in their memories. This is done by advertising. Mark its extent. An advertisement, taking the run of the newspapers with which we contract (some 1900 annually) is struck off in such numbers, that when piled upon each other flatwise, like the leaves of a book, the thickness through them is sixteen miles. In addition, it takes some seven millions of pamphlets and twelve millions of circulars to meet the public demand for this kind of information. Our annual issue of pamphlets alone, laid solid upon each other, make a pile eight and one quarter miles high. The circulars measured endwise reach 1894 miles, and these assertions are matters of mathematical certainty. Whatever the estimation in which these publications may be held here, they reach the firesides of millions upon millions of men who do treasure and regard them, and who in their trials do heed the counsel they bring.

Not only over these great Western continents but throughout that other land so little known to you, under our feet, the Australian continent, there are few villages as large as this which are not familiar with the name you have chosen, and employing the remedies that bear it.

Thus, gentlemen, have I striven in my humble sphere to render some service to my fellow men, and to deserve among the afflicted and unfortunate some regard for the name which your kind partiality hangs on these walls around me. We may look forward with confident hope to the renown you will gather under it, and the prosperity, which there is reason to trust the future has in store for you. Situated as you are here on one of the main arteries between the great industries of the plough and the spindle you must aid in their exchanges and thrive with them. Soon these channels will be opened wide and pouring through your precincts streams of men and merchandise that will need your furtherance and must contribute to your growth.

Located here in the centre of New England, to what dearer spot can you turn that men inhabit? Beginning life rich with the honors of your mother town, whose influence through her schools and her scholars is of itself an inheritance, with such examples as Lawrence, Boutwell, Hoar, what may you not hope for of usefulness in the councils of the state and nation?

Contrast our condition with that of the European nations, alternately torn and improvished with wars, credit it as you may to the better education of the people, and you will realize the value of the examples old mother Groton has set you, so worthy of your ambition to follow. Build schools for your children and find talent to teach them, then intelligence and integrity in prosperous and happy homes will be your sure reward.

Associated as you have made me with your weal and wo, I wish I might be allowed to contribute from my means such as they are, something towards this first foundation of the public good.

Gentlemen, I have detained you too long. Oppressed with the fear, that I do not deserve the distinction you bestow, I pray God to make me worthier, and to smile upon you with perpetual blessings.

WALTHAM WATCHES.

The extensive use of these watches for the last fifteen years by Railway Conductors, Engineers and Expressmen, the most exacting of watch-wearers, has thoroughly demonstrated the strength, steadiness, durability and accuracy of the Waltham Watch. To satisfy that class in all these respects, is to decide the question as to the real value of these time-keepers.

More than 500,000 of these watches are now speaking for themselves in the pockets of the people—a proof and a guarantee of their superiority over all others.

The superior organization and great extent of the Company's Works at Waltham, enables them to produce watches at a price which renders competition futile, and those who buy any other watch merely pay from 25 to 50 per cent. more for their watches than is necessary.

These time-pieces combine every improvement that a long experience has proved of real practical use. Having had the refusal of nearly every invention in watch-making originating in this country or in Europe, only those were finally adopted which severe testing by the most skillful artisans in our works, and long use on the part of the public, demonstrated to be essential to correct and enduring time-keeping.

Among the many improvements we would particularize:—

The invention and use of a centre-pinion of peculiar construction, to prevent damage to the train by the breakage of main-springs, is original with the American Watch Company, who, having had the refusal of all other contrivances, adopted Fogg's patent pinion as being the best and faultless.

Hardened and tempered hair-springs, now universally admitted by Watchmakers to be the best, are used in all grades of Waltham Watches.

All Waltham Watches have dust-proof caps, protecting the mechanism from dust and lessening the necessity of the frequent cleaning necessary in other watches.

Our new patent stem-winder, or keyless watch is already a decided success, and a great improvement on any stem-winding watch in the American market, and by far the cheapest watch of its quality now offered to the public. To those living in portions of the United States where watchmakers do not abound, watches with the above mentioned improvements, which tend to ensure accuracy, cleanliness, durability and convenience, must prove invaluable.

The trademarks of the various styles made by the Company are as follows:—

AMERICAN WATCH CO., Waltham, Mass.
ADAMS WATCH CO., Waltham, Mass.

GREEN GRASS PLOTS AND BORDERS. A little plot of green grass, a grassy nook, or narrow strips of luxuriant grass along walks and drives, are so full of beauty, that most persons in cramped-up quarters in cities and villages, seem to think more of a small patch of green grass, than of a flower-bed. Grass appears in such varied forms, and with such shades of rich color and luxuriance, that it is truly beautiful, in many respects besides in its striking similitude to human life. A little patch of grass in a pent-up court-yard of a costly city mansion, often seems like an oasis in the dreary desert. Almost everybody is pleased to see a few square rods of grass of a rich green color, round about their doors and gates. And many persons spend dollars for producing an inferior grass-plot, when for the same number of dimes, the same extent of surface might have been covered with a rich green carpet of exquisite beauty, if the management had been quite different. When a bare and weedy corner of a yard is to be appropriated to grass, and it is desirable to produce a beautiful, green turf, free from noxious weeds, the usual way is, to smooth off the surface, remove any tussocks of grass that may remain, and cover the entire plot with sods. In some instances, where the soil is barren and thin, such a practice is not objectionable, provided turf can be obtained which is not made up of old grass roots almost destitute of vitality. There is quite as much difference in the quality of turf for covering a grass-plot, as there is in the fertility of a cultivable field. Some green turf is so very poor, that the grass on it will appear like a goose-pasture for years after the pieces have been laid in the desired place; while turf taken from the surface of rich soil will yield a heavy burden of grass.

The most convenient and economical way to produce a green turf on a lawn, or in small patches in the yard, is to commence early in the growing season, or even in the winter, when the ground is not frozen, by first spading and preparing the surface as for a carrot-bed. The ground around about many doors often produces nothing but noxious weeds, such as plantin, dock, rag-weed, and what is commonly known as "malice root;" all of which will soon root out the last spear of green grass. As the ground is spaded, let all such roots be picked out by hand, and deposited in a heap where they will decay and make plant-food. If the soil is thin and poor, apply a liberal dressing of rich street dirt, or mellow soil carted from the field; and rake it in thoroughly. Scrapings of the manure-yard are excellent; vegetable mould from the forest spread over the surface, and raked in, will give the young grass an excellent start. This work may be performed at any time during winter, when the soil is not to wet too be worked. Then, sow lawn grass seed over the surface, even in the winter, as such seed will not be injured by exposure to wet and cold weather.

The young grass will start at the first opening of the growing season, even before noxious weeds have appeared. If the soil is as rich as it should be, the product will be a heavy burden of grass the first season. In case the ground is full of foul seed, from which noxious weeds spring up and vie with the grass, the better way is to pull all such plants up by the roots. If they are annuals, it will answer quite as well to clip off the blossoms, or green panicles, to prevent seeding. But, annuals and perennials must be pulled up, or they will run out the grass. The grass on such plots should be permitted to grow without being cut, until it is one foot or more high, in order to allow the roots a longer opportunity to strike deep into the soil. If young grass be cut off close to the ground, its growth will be seriously retarded.—New York Observer.

FOR LIVER COMPLAINTS, JAUNDICE, BILIOUS AFFECTIONS, SICK OR NERVOUS HEADACHE, COSTIVENESS, ETC. PURELY VEGETABLE, CONTAINING NO MERCURY, MINERALS OR DELETERIOUS DRUGS.
H
These Pills are the most delightfully pleasant purgative, superseding castor oil, salts, magnesia, etc. There is nothing more acceptable to the stomach. They give tone, and cause neither nausea nor griping pains. They are composed of the finest ingredients. After a few days' use of them, such an invigoration of the entire system takes place as to appear miraculous to the weak and enervated, whether arising from imprudence or disease. H. T. Helmbold's Compound Fluid Extract Catawba Grape Pills are not sugar-coated, from the fact that sugar-coated Pills do not dissolve, but pass through the stomach without dissolving, consequently do not produce the desired effect. THE CATAWBA GRAPE PILLS, being pleasant in taste and odor, do not necessitate their being sugar-coated. PRICE FIFTY CENTS PER BOX.

But however valuable as a remedy for existing defects of the skin, H. T Helmbold's Rose Wash has long sustained its principle claim to unbounded patronage, by possessing qualities which render it a TOILET APPENDAGE of the most Superlative and Congenial character, combining in an elegant formula those prominent requisites, SAFETY and EFFICACY—the invariable accompaniments of its use—as a Preservative and Refresher of the Complexion. It is an excellent Lotion for diseases of a Syphilitic Nature, and as an injection for diseases of the Urinary Organs, arising from habits of dissipation; used in connection with the EXTRACTS BUCHU, SARSAPARILLA, AND CATAWBA GRAPE PILLS, in such diseases as recommended, cannot be surpassed. The Daily Chronicle.

Portsmouth, N. H.

TUESDAY, MARCH 28, 1871.

SENATOR SUMNER delivered his great speech on Santo Domingo, in the U. S. Senate on Monday. Contrary to general expectation he indulged in no personal allusions. He shows that Baez is a usurper, and says the presence of American men-of-war in the waters of Hayti and Dominica is a menace to those powers, being a violation of the acknowledged principles of internation al law. He charges the President with thus practically usurping war powers, contrary to the Constitution. He says "the Republican party cannot afford to become responsible for such conduct," and fortifies his position by evidence drawn from official sources. The speech is one of Senator Sumner's ablest productions and appears almost unanswerable.

FRANCE.

Paris is still Lively. At a meeting of the committee of centrals, a member dissented from General Lullier, Commander of the National Guard. Lullier threw a chair at the head of his colleague, for which conduct he was dragged out of the meeting and immediately deposed from commandership.

Order is restored at Lyons.

The Paris elections passed off quietly.

The central republican committee resigns its functions, and yields to the newly-elected municipal government.

General Chanzy, on being set free, left for Versailles.

Gen. Vinoy insists on attacking Paris and placards have appeared in Paris announcing that the offices of the Deputies from that city at the Convention have failed, owing to opposition in the Assembly.

Thiers says that when the Government has one hundred thousand troops in which it can trust, an attack will be made upon Paris. It is believed that the capital will be removed to Tours.

Marshal Bazaine is about to leave for France and Marshal Leboeuf will go to Hagua.

The revolt in Algeria is spreading.

The Government has ordered the prompt arrest of Gen. Garibaldi upon his appearance on French soil.

CONGRESS.

On the 25th, in the Senate, Powell Clayton appeared and took the oath of office as Senator from Arkansas.

Mr. Sumner offered a resolution directing the Secretary of the Navy to communicate to the Senate the amount of expenditure incurred in the support and navigation of the several ships already reported to the Senate as employed on the coast of San Domingo since the beginning of the negotiations for the acquisition of a part of that island, setting forth the expenditure on account of each ship and the sum total taken from the annual navy appropriation on account of all these ships.

Mr. Conkling moved to amend so as to show the additional expense, if any, over that which would have accrued had the vessels floated in the service elsewhere. No final action was taken.

☞ Secretary Robeson has confirmed the sentence of the naval court-martial dismissing from the service Paymasters James S. Gerard, William G. Marcy and Charles H. Lockwood for frauds and embezzlement of the public money, but not that of fine and imprisonment, on the ground that the administration of these penalties belongs to the civil tribunals. The sentence of Paymaster Robert Washington to a dismissal for a similar offence has been mitigated to six months' suspension from his rank and pay, it having been proved that he did not appropriate to his own use any public money.

THE SANTO DOMINGO COMMISSIONERS arrived at Charleston, S. C., Sunday morning, in U. S. S. Tennessee, and started for Washington, where they arrived on Monday. The Tennessee left at once for New York direct, and will be due there about Saturday night. All well.

☞ The bill of complaint of the Erie preferred stock holders charges that Fisk and Gould have since getting possession of the road swindled it out of $94,000,000. A verdict of $35,000 against the company has just been given in a suit growing out of the Carr's Rock disasters.

—A Lockport dog got a needle fast in his tongue, and the animal was chloroformed in order that the needle might be extracted. The surgical operation was a success, but the choloform killed the dog.

—An exchange says: "Theodore Thomas' concert in that city realized over $1,400." He wishes some of the Thomas' concerts given nightly around his house would pay half as well.

—Dead locks—Chignons.

New Hampshire Items.

On the 15th, in North Barrington, Mr. B. Frank Felker was engaged in digging a grave, and had occasion to blast a rock. In extracting a charge, an explosion took place, while he was sitting on the rock. He was "raised" some and lost two fingers from his right hand, besides getting painfully shaken up. Mr. J. H. Grey, assisting Mr. F., is likely to lose his eyes from the explosion.

Captain Stephen B. Dow of New Hampton died a few days since, aged 52 years. Captain Dow was one of the most successful shipmasters that ever sailed from New England, the owners of vessels intrusted to his care never having had occasion to draw a dollar's worth of insurance upon his account. He was born on the 27th of January, 1819, at Plymouth, N. H., from which place his parents moved to Salem, Mass., while he was an infant. At the age of 13 he went to sea for the first time in the old Francis, owned by Captain Joseph Peabody, of Salem, his first voyage being to the coast of Sumatra. When he was 19 years of age he was appointed mate, and at the age of 25 was appointed master of a Salem vessel. During the most of the last twenty-seven years Captain Dow was engaged in the east coast of Africa trade.

Hon. James U. Parker of Manchester died on the 25th at the age of 73.

Miss Dame of Rochester, reported missing, has turned up in Portland.

The Democrats captured the only colored voter at Wakefield, election day.

Northumberland had a dandelion on the 20th.

Every voter in Hancock was at the polls on the 14th.

Every voter but 140 voted in Lebanon.

Mrs. Dorcas Rice of Jaffrey is 101 derfully preserved.

The proceeds of the fair at Nashua in aid of the city library, including the dramatic performance, amount to nearly $100.

The mills at Salmon Falls are running three evenings a week extra.

APRIL MAGAZINES.

Good Health has articles on Causes of Insanity, Condiments, Poisons, Injuries and Diseases of the Eye, The Honey Trade, Exercise, Human Hair, Earthquakes in New England and other topics. Alex. Moore, Publisher, Boston; $2 a year.

Park Street Pulpit — issued weekly by J. R. Osgood & Co., Boston. Price 10 cents.

Life Dreams Waltzes, by Albert H. Fernald; published by O. Ditson & Co.

The Aldine, for April, appears with its usual promptitude, which is remarkable in a publication bestowing such unusual care on its typographic appearance. The number before us is probably the best of any yet issued. The illustrations are Frederick von Schiller (portrait,) after Hartmann—Samuel L. Clemens (Mark Twain,) a portrait, as successful as any we have ever seen—A Russian Peasant Girl (full page,) after Sokoloff—Harvest Time—A Scene on the Coast of Helgoland, after Morgenstern, a magnificent full page cut which ought to add even to the reputation of The Aldine—A Gaun and Satyr, after Moller—Jean Ingelow (a portrait,) by Billings, not quite up to the standard of The Aldine portraits, and How this for High? another of those timely and telling hits of Beard's, for which he is gaining a great reputation.

The Little Corporal for April is as bright and attractive as ever. Among the articles worthy of special mention is "How Statues are Made," "Girls of the Far North," "Birds and their Ways," and stories by Lucia Chase Bell, Mrs. E. E. Prentiss, and other well-known writers. $1.50 a year. John E. Miller, Chicago.

The March number of The Hub (which introduces its Thirteenth Volume) marks a new era in the history of trade journalism. It is devoted to Carriage Building, a trade which may justly be ranked among the arts, and the publishers aim to make this magazine not only thoroughly practical, but so artistic in every respect, that it shall truly represent the great and artistic trade to whose interests it is devoted. It contains many articles of value to car builders, stable keepers and carriage owners.

☞ The subscriptions to the new loan on Saturday were nine millions of dollars, making the total amount thus far subscribed thirty-three millions.

☞ New Yorkers saw a brilliant meteor, one-third the diameter of the moon, on the 26th, at 12.17 A. M.

—Dr. Lewis, of St. John's, Washington, declined to marry Mr. Hoyt and Miss Chase because it was Lent! We suppose he would refuse to bury a couple during Lent. Dr. Lewis should diet on bran bread and mush for a few weeks.—N. Y. Globe.

☞ Considerable excitement has arisen in Central New York over a libel suit about Nilsson. A Rochester paper denounced the charge of $4 per ticket as a swindle. It said, "a young man of a small salary will pay $4 for his own ticket, $4 for his lady, $4 for two pair of white kid gloves and $4 for a carriage, making $16 in all. As no such man can afford it, he will rob his employer's money drawer; consequently, one Nilsson concert will make a score of thieves, among those who have not before yielded to temptation." Strakosch, the manager who hired Nilsson to come to this country, has prosecuted the editor for a libel on Nilsson. The trial will have to decide whether it is or is not worth four dollars to hear Nilsson sing.

☞ Congressman Parker of the 3d District made a speech at Claremont, previous to his departure for Washington, and the Eagle expects "he will either pump Long Island Sound up into the Connecticut Lake or turn the St. Lawrence down our romantic valley. At any rate, Claremont is to be a seaport town, which also we are glad of, for then we can start from here and go anywhere.

Mr. Parker's promises were joyfully received by the crowd, and made them as happy as the people were when Jack Cade marched his army of tatterdemalions up to London, and promised that by his efforts every peasant in England should have a fowl in his family pot.

Altogether it was a handsome speech and handsomely done. Mr. Parker went to Washington and took his seat on Wednesday. We have heard of no earthquake."

BUSINESS NOTICES.

LONGER AND BETTER—the wearing of boots and shoes made with the CABLE SCREW WIRE, than any other class of goods. Many heavy firms deal exclusively in them, and all first-class retailers have them. Comfortable, economical and durable, they need only a trial.

Dr. SAGE'S CATARRH REMEDY is no Patent Medicine humbug gotten up to dupe the ignorant and credulous, nor is it represented as being "composed of rare and precious substances, brought from the four corners of the earth, carried seven times across the Great Desert of Sahara on backs of fourteen camels, and brought across the Atlantic Ocean on two ships." It is a simple, mild, pleasant, soothing Remedy, a perfect specific for Chronic Nasal Catarrh, "Cold in the head," and kindred diseases. The proprietor, R. V Pierce, M. D., of Buffalo, N.Y., offers a reward of $500 for a case of Catarrh he cannot cure. For Sale by most druggists every where. Sent by mail, postpaid, for sixty cents. Address the sole proprietors as above.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

The Purest and Safest.

The efficacy of HOSTETTER'S CELEBRATED STOMACH BITTERS as a specific for recruiting the enfeebled body and cheering the desponding mind, has passed into a proverb. In the United States, where this marvelous tonic has borne down all opposition, and eclipsed all rivalrey, the demand for it has annually increased in a heavier and heavier ratio for years, until, at last, the regular sales of this preparation exceed those of all other stomachics combined. Eminent members of the medical profession and hospital surgeons without number, have candidly admitted that the pharmacopœia of the faculty contains no prescription that produces such beneficial effects in dyspepsia, general debility and nervous diseases, as Hostetter's Bitters. To use the language of a venerable physician of New York. "The Bitters are the purest stimulant and the safest tonic we have." But the uses of the great vegetable antidote are much more comprehensive than such praise would imply. As a preparatory antidote to epidemic disease, a genial stimulant, a promoter of constitutional vigor, an appetizer, a stomachic, and a remedy for nervous debility, no medicinal preparation has ever attained the reputation of Hostetter's Bitters. It is the household tonic of the American people, and in all human probability will be so for centuries to come. The magnates of science recognize its merits; and that it is emphatically the medicine of the masses, is proven by its vast and ever increasing sales.

PRACTICAL APPLICATION OF HAMLET'S SOLILOQUY.

To insure or not to insure? That is the question.
Whether t'will be nobler for my family to suffer
The stings and arrows of outrageous fortune
Or take a policy against those dangers,
And, by insuring, end them? To fret, to fear,
No more; and by a policy to end
The heartache and the thousand natural shocks
That flesh is heir to. Yes, my application 's
Devoutly to be wished; apply, insure,
And pay the premium: ay—there's the rub
For in that time what premiums may come
Before I shuffle off this mortal coil
Does make me pause, tightens my purse,
And makes me rather pay the bills I have
Than fly to others I know not of.
Thus does meanness make brutes of us all.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHARLES MASON, Commissioner of Patents."

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they can confer on a man more competent and trustworthy and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office. EDMUND BURKE, Late Commissioner of Patents.

"MR. R. H. EDDY has made for me over THIRTY applications for Patents, having been successful in almost every case. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend ALL inventors to apply to him to procure their Patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges. ☞ Rev. Dr. Parker of Exeter will lecture at the Episcopal Church on Wednesday evening.

☞ Lieutenant C. M. Anthony reported on Saturday for duty on board the receiving ship Vandalia, in place of Lieutenant Durand, ordered to the Speedwell.

☞ An easterly storm of snow commenced on Monday and continued nearly all day. Three or four inches of snow fell, but it melted rapidly, making the walking disagreeable. The trees were handsomely dressed.

☞ Mr. Benj. Atwell, late clerk with C. E. Laighton & Son, has started in business at the store, corner of Washington and Howard Streets. We wish him abundant success in his new enterprise, and are confident that the people at the south-end will find him prompt and attentive.

☞ The Police Department were summoned hastily, Sunday afternoon, to apprehend what were supposed to be two burglars, who had successfully entered a store on Market Street, and taken therefrom buffalo robes, etc. Two parties were seen to come from the store, and place in a buggy the articles stated, and drive off. They were unknown to the person who saw them, and he very honestly informed the officers at the Marshal's office. The owner of the goods was called from his devotions in church, and an investigation proved that everything was all right, a necessity having compelled one of the attaches of the establishment to visit it and take away the articles referred to. The result was satisfactory to all parties, but at first created no little alarm.

☞ Dr. J. H. Thacher has removed his goods from the store now being remodelled, corner of Market Street, to the store on the corner of Vaughan and Congress Streets. Mr. John H. Hutchinson has temporarily removed his stock of jewelry to No. 28 Market Street, where he will be found until his old place of business is reconstructed. Mr. David Rodrick is to remove his Hair Dressing Saloon from the Franklin House to the store in the Thacher building on Congress Street formerly occupied by C. H. Sides & Co. The new building on the site of the former Waldron property is to be completed by the 1st of May. Arshowe & Co. are to occupy the store adjoining the Thacher building, where they will open a new and choice assortment of Coffee, Teas and Spices. The other stores in the building will be occupied by J. B. Burleigh, fancy goods, J. S. Pfeiffer, fancy goods, and Dr. E. B. Goodall, dentist. Messrs. Pfeiffer and Burleigh are to occupy their respective tenements and Dr. Dearborn the tenement over Dr. Goodall's new office.

THE TRUE SPIRIT.—The Republicans of this city are neither disheartened or dismayed at the result of the late election. They point to the record of contested elections and show that they kept far above the average majority of those elections, on the 14th. Furthermore, they have a strong reserve force which will be brought to the polls at the next election. In Ward Two, alone, 126 Republicans did not vote, on the 14th, and there are many others unchecked in the 1st and 3d Wards.

The partial defeat at the polls seems to have had a good effect, teaching all to sink personal prejudice and heal dissension for the good of the whole. Its results are seen in the awakened energy and disposition shown for a thorough reorganization for the future.

At a preliminary meeting of Republicans, held at the Chronicle Counting Room, Saturday evening, the unanimous sentiment prevailed that now is the time to commence the campaign of 1872; and one of the most promising features was the attendance of many who have not actively participated in political campaigns of late. William H. Rollins, Esq., was chosen chairman, with Hon. Marcellus Bufford for Secretary, and it was unanimously voted to form a Republican City Club and enter upon the campaign at once. A committee of nine, consisting of Messrs. John H. Hutchinson, Chas. A. Shannon, Daniel J. Vaughan, Ward One; William H. Hackett, Lewis G. Davis, Nathan F. Mathes, Ward Two; Samuel Adams, Joseph H. Gardiner, Alfred M. Hoyt, Ward Three, was appointed to perfect details for the organization of the Club. The meeting adjourned after stirring speeches by Hon. Horton D. Walker, Alderman T. E. O. Marvin, William H. Rollins, Esq., and others, to meet at the Republican headquarters next Monday evening, at 7 1-2 o'clock. All Republicans are invited.

SAGAMORE BRIDGE.—A correspondent says there was a dangerous hole in this bridge on Sunday: When the good time comes, and we have a superintendent of bridges with the necessary carriage for him to make his rounds in, travellers will, perhaps, not so frequently have cause to complain of and report this bridge as dangerous. Meantime, won't our capacity for enlarged, be best shown by proper attention to our present DUTY.

NARROW ESCAPE FROM A HORRIBLE DEATH.—One day last week, as two little girls, daughters of prominent citizens, were endeavoring to pass across the marsh in rear of B. F. Webster's joiner shop, the elder found herself sinking in filth. The younger girl ran for help and fortunately found a gentleman who immediately rushed to the rescue, and none too early, for the unlucky child was gradually going out of sight, being imbedded so deep that she was with difficulty rescued.

RYE, March 27.

The lecture at the Baptist Church, Saturday evening, was by Rev. Mr. Lyford of Hampton, upon Home and Home Influences, was a very able and interesting discourse and held the undivided attention of the audience, which completely filled the house, to its close. The next lecture will be given by Dr. Merrill of Hampton, on next Saturday evening. After this lecture it is proposed to have readings one evening, and a concert to close the course. Dr. Parsons' lecture on Sleep, which was listened to by a very large audience and I am informed gave general satisfaction. The singing by a select choir at these lectures is a feature that affords great enjoyment to the audience, and shows that there is vocal talent in Rye, and it only needs proper effort to bring it out.

Rev. Mr. Nelson, who has supplied the Baptist pulpit for a year past, has terminated his connection with the society. The Congregational church is still without a pastor and it looks now as though the Advents might have the only preaching in town for a few weeks to come. R.

Consumption,

ITS CURE AND ITS PREVENTIVE,

By J. H. SCHENCK, M. D.

Many a human being has passed away, for whose death there was no other reason than the neglect of known and indisputably proved means of cure. These near and dear to family and friends are sleeping the dreamless slumber into which, had they calmly adopted and availed themselves of his wonderfully efficacious medicines, they would not have fallen.

Dr. JOSEPH H. SCHENCK'S SIMPLE TREATMENT,

Dr Schenck has in his own person proven that wherever sufficient vitality remains, that vitality, by his medicines and his directions for their use, is quickened into healthful vigor.

In this statement there is nothing presumptuous. To the faith of the invalid is made no representation that is not a thousand times substantiated by living and visible works. The theory of the cure by Dr. Schenck's medicines is as simple as it is unfailing. Its philosophy requires no argument. It is self assuring, self-convincing.

The Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills are the first two weapons with which the citadel of the malady is assailed. Two-thirds of the cases of consumption originate in dyspepsia and a functionally disordered liver. With this condition the bronchial tubes "sympathize" with the stomach. They respond to the morbific action of the liver. Here, then comes the culminating result, and the setting in, with all its distressing symptoms, of

CONSUMPTION.

The Mandrake Pills are composed of one of Nature's noblest gifts—the Podophillum Peltatum. They possess all the blood-searching, alterative properties of calomel, but unlike calomel, they

"LEAVE NO STING BEHIND."

The work of cure is now beginning. The vitiated and mucous deposits in the bowels and in the alimentary canal are now ready for expulsion, which is wound up. It arouses from its torpidity. The stomach acts responsively, and the patient begins to feel that he is getting, at last,

A SUPPLY OF GOOD BLOOD.

The Seaweed Tonic, in conjunction with the Pills, permeates and assimilates with the food. Chylification is now progressing, without its previous torpiors. Digestion becomes painless, and the cure is seen to be at hand. There is no more flatulence, no exacerbation of the stomach. An appetite sets in.

Now comes the great Blood Purifier ever yet given by an indulgent father to suffering man. Schenck's Pulmonic Syrup comes in to perform its functions and to hasten and complete the cure. It enters at once upon its work. Nature cannot be cheated. It collects and ripens the impaired and diseased portions of the lungs. In the form of gathering it expectorates. Pain is diminished, and lo! in a very short time the malady is vanquished, the rotten throne that it occupied is renovated and made new, and the patient, in all the dignity of regained vigor, steps forth to enjoy the manhood or womanhood that was

GIVEN UP AS LOST.

The second thing is, the patients must stay in a warm room until they get well; it is almost impossible to prevent taking cold when the lungs are diseased, but it must be prevented or a cure cannot be effected. Fresh air and riding out, especially in this section of the country in the fall and winter season, are all wrong. Physicians who recommend that course lose their patients, if their lungs are badly diseased; and yet, because they are in the horse! they must sit down quiet; they must walk about the room as much and as fast as the strength will bear, to get a good circulation of blood. The patients must keep in good spirits—be determined to get well. This has a great deal to do with the appetite, and is the greatest to one.

To despair of cure after such evidence of its possibility in the worst cases, and moral certainty in all others, is sinful. Dr. Schenck's personal statement to the Faculty of his own cure was in these modest words:

"Many years ago I was in the last stages of consumption; confined to my bed, and at one time my physicians thought I could not live a week; then like a drowning man catching at straws, I heard of, and obtained the preparations which I now offer to the public, and they made a perfect cure of me. It seemed to me that I could feel them penetrate my whole system. They soon ripened the matter in my lungs, and I would spit up more than a pint of offensive yellow matter every morning for a long time. As soon as that began to subside, my cough, fever, pains and night sweats all began to lessen, and my appetite became so great that it was with difficulty that I could keep from eating too much. I soon gained my strength, and have gone in flesh ever since."

"I was weighed shortly after my recovery," added the Doctor, "then looking like a mere skeleton; my weight was only ninety-seven pounds; my present weight is two hundred and twenty-five (225) pounds, and for years I have enjoyed unburthened health."

Dr. Schenck has discontinued his professional visits to New York and Boston. He or his son, Dr. J. H. Schenck, Jr., still continue to see patients at their office, No. 15 North Sixth street, Philadelphia, every Saturday from 9 A. M. to 3 P. M. Those who wish a thorough examination with the Respirometer will be charged $5. The Respirometer declares the exact condition of the lungs, and patients are readily informed what they are curable or not.

The directions for taking the medicines are adapted to the intelligence even of a child. Follow these directions, and Nature will do the rest, excepting that in some cases the Mandrake Pills are to be taken in increased doses; the other medicines need no other accompaniments than the simple instructions that accompany them: First, create appetite. Of course, the Mandrake Pills are the most welcome symptom. When it comes, as it will come, let the depurating at once be of good cheer. The blood at each relaxe, the cough loosens, the night sweat is abated. In a short time both of these morbid symptoms are abandoned.

Dr. Schenck's medicines are constantly kept in tens of thousands of families. As a laxative or purgative, the Mandrake Pills are a standard preparation: while the Pulmonic Syrup, as a cure of coughs and colds, may be regarded as a prophylactic against consumption in any of its forms.

Price of the Pulmonic Syrup and Seaweed Tonic $1.50, a bottle, or $15 per dozen. Mandrake Pills, 25 cents a box. For sale by all druggists and dealers.

ARE YOU GOING TO PAINT?

—IF SO, USE THE—

AVERILL CHEMICAL PAINT.

It is Cheaper, Handsomer and more durable than the best of other Paints. One Thousand Gallons of it were sold in this City, in the year 1870, and not one complaint has yet come to hand, who have used it; but all speak in its favor; it is mixed ready for application, and is much easier put on than any other Paint, making a smooth, glossy surface for years, that can be cleaned with hot suds without injuring it. It is excellent for walls inside, in place of paper.

I shall keep this season a large stock of Chemical Paints of all shades on hand, to accommodate customers with any amount, without delay in ordering it. Those who want to use the Chemical Paints and have had them misrepresented by those who deal in Lead and Oil, are invited to call and examine my Paints that have been on Buildings two years, and you will find them as fresh as if laid but one month.

I am prepared to do Painting by Contract, or by the day, using the Chemical Paint, or furnishing good experienced workmen by the day at very low wages. B. NORTON, only Agent for selling the

FIRST MORTGAGE

7 Per Cent. Gold Bonds,

ON A COMPLETED ROAD,

FREE OF U. S. TAX,

At 90 and Accrued Interest in Currency.

Burlington, Cedar Rapids and Minnesota Railway.

The completion of this Road has given to these Bonds an established character equal to any mortgage issue dealt in at the Stock Exchange. We are prepared to buy and sell them at any time, at our Banking House, at market price—thus placing them on the same basis; for temporary or permanent investment, with Governments or any other security.

These bonds are a first and only mortgage on a railroad that has cost double the amount of the issue, and which commands, without competition, all the traffic of Northern Iowa and Southern Minnesota—shortening the distance from St. Paul to Chicago 45 miles, and to St. Louis more than 90 miles.

The net earnings are already largely in excess of interest on the bonds, and no doubt exists that they will more than double within the ensuing year.

A contract has been secured with the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy Railroad Company obligating the latter to invest 50 per cent. of gross earnings derived from traffic with the Burlington, Cedar Rapids and Minnesota Road in the bonds of this Company. This arrangement is a strong guarantee of the Bonds, and establishes a large sinking fund for their redemption.

The convertibility privilege in these bonds enables them to be exchanged for stock, at par, at any time. This secures to the holder, at his option, a share in any excess of earnings over the interest obligation.

An exchange of Government securities for these bonds returns 9½ per cent. interest, instead of 5 per cent., which is all that Governments pay at present price, besides leaving an immediate gain of about 20 per cent. in price for re-investment.

All marketable Securities taken in exchange free of Commission and Exchange charges.

A GREAT MEDICAL DISCOVERY!

DR. WALKER'S CALIFORNIA

VINEGAR BITTERS,

Hundreds of Thousands Bear Testimony to their Wonderful Curative Effects.

WHAT ARE THEY!

THEY ARE NOT A VILE FANCY DRINK,

Made of Poor Rum, Whiskey, Proof Spirits and Refuse Liquors doctored, spiced and sweetened to please the taste, called "Tonics," "Appetizers," "Restorers," &c., that lead the tippler on to drunkenness and ruin, but are a true Medicine, made from the Native Root and Herbs of California, free from all Alcoholic Stimulants. They are the GREAT BLOOD PURIFIER and a LIFE-GIVING PRINCIPLE, a perfect Renovator and Invigorator of the system, carrying off all poisonous matter and restoring the blood to a healthy condition. No person can take these Bitters according to direction and remain long unwell, provided the bones are not destroyed by mineral poison or other means, and the vital organs wasted beyond the point of repair.

For Inflammatory and Chronic Rheumatism and Gout, Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Bilious, Remittent and Intermittent Fevers, Diseases of the Blood, Liver, Kidneys and Bladder, these Bitters have been most successful. Such Diseases are caused by Vitiated Blood, which is generally produced by derangement of the Digestive Organs.

DYSPEPSIA OR INDIGESTION, Headache, Pain in the Shoulders, Coughs, Tightness of the Chest, Dizziness, Sour Eructations of the Stomach, Bad taste in the Mouth, Bilious Attacks, Palpitation of the Heart, Inflammation of the Lungs, Pain in the regions of the Kidneys, and a hundred other painful symptoms, are the offspring of Dyspepsia.

They invigorate the stomach and stimulate the torpid liver and bowels, which render them of unequalled efficacy in cleansing the blood of all impurities and imparting new life and vigor to the whole system.

FOR SKIN DISEASES, Eruptions, Tetter, Salt Rheum, Blotches, Spots, Pimples, Pustules, Boils, Carbuncles, Ring-Worms, Scald Head, Sore Eyes, Erysipelas, Itch, Scurfs, Discolorations of the Skin, Humors and Diseases of the Skin, of whatever name or nature, are literally dug up and carried out of the system in a short time by the use of these Bitters. One bottle in such cases will convince the most incredulous of their curative effect.

Cleanse the Vitiated Blood whenever you find its impurities bursting through the skin in Pimples, Eruptions or Sores; cleanse it when you find it obstructed and sluggish in the veins, cleanse it when it is foul, and your feelings will tell you when. Keep the blood pure, and the health of the system will follow.

PIN, TAPE and other WORMS, lurking in the system of so many thousands, are effectually destroyed and removed. For full directions, read carefully the circular around each bottle, printed in four languages—English, German, French and Spanish.

FOR FEMALE COMPLAINTS, whether in young or old, married or single, at the dawn of womanhood or at the turn of life, these Tonic Bitters have no equal. ☞ Send for a circular.

They are a Gentle Purgative as well as a Tonic, possessing also, the peculiar merit of acting as a powerful agent in relieving Congestion or Inflammation of the Liver, and all the Visceral Organs. 1yrdawfebl6

THE CENTRAL RAILROAD CO. OF IOWA,

have now built and equipped, in first-class manner, about

which will complete their entire line, with the exception of laying the track on twenty-five miles, which is already graded. They will thus open

from north to south, and, by making a slight detour at one point, they will give

First Mortgage

7 PER CENT. GOLD BONDS,

which are issued upon this road, are limited in amount to $16,000 per mile (while many roads issue from $20,000 to $40,000,) and are offered at 90 and accrued interest, in currency. About two millions and a half of these bonds have already been disposed of, leaving but a small balance unsold, which are being rapidly taken.

The most experienced financiers agree that First Mortgage Bonds, to the limited amount, upon a finished railroad, which is well located for business, are one of the very safest forms of investment.

Parties desiring to secure a first-class security, based upon a railroad practically done, and in the hands of leading capitalists who have a large pecuniary and business interest in its success, will do well to apply at the office of the Company, or any of its advertised agents, for a pamphlet and map, showing the characteristics of the enterprise.

Holders of Government Bonds may exchange them for Central Iowas at a large present profit, beside a handsome increase of interest for a long term of years. Parties making such exchange will receive for each $1,000 Bond a $1,000 Central Iowa Bond, and the following difference in cash (less the accrued interest in currency upon the latter bond,) and in annual interest, this calculation being based upon market prices of December 27th, 1870:—

The Northern Pacific Railroad.

BY SCHUYLER COLFAX.

Midway across the continent—at the head of twelve hundred miles of Lake navigation—a thousand miles from Buffalo, the western terminus of the Erie Canal, and as near to it by water as Chicago—a hundred miles west of the longitude of St. Louis or Galena—is the young city of Duluth, the initial point of the Northern Pacific Railroad. That great work, so magnificently endowed by the Government, is already being pushed rapidly westward, under its energetic controllers; and before the snow flies next Fall, it will be completed to the western line of Minnesota where it crosses the Red River of the North—which runs northward to Lake Winnipeg—and one-eighth of its distance to the Pacific Ocean will have been accomplished. Commencing, too, this season on its western line, the work will be prosecuted from both directions and long before the nation celebrates its Centennial Anniversary of Independence, the Lakes will be united by iron bands with that Mediterranean of our Northwest, Puget Sound.

Of the auspicious influence of this enterprise, which but a few years ago would have been considered so daring, the most sanguine of its friends have scarcely yet a full realization. Even taking Chicago as the starting point, it will be (via St. Paul, where an arm of the Northern Pacific Railroad is reached) two hundred miles less distance to Puget Sound than to San Francisco. Besides this, vessels from the Golden Gate to China sail on what is called the grand circle, instead of in a straight line; and any one testing this by a string on a globe will be surprised at the result, if they have not previously studied the effect of the rotundity of the earth, and its diminished protuberance as you go northward towards the Pole. Hence, when they have sailed eight hundred miles from San Francisco, they are only one hundred miles from the entrance to Puget Sound; and this striking fact shows the advantages this route will have in commanding the through traffic of Asia with our Atlantic States, or that portion of it which will pass over the soil of this nation on its road to Europe.

Nor is this all. Development is the great duty of the Republic, after all its recent trials. Resources are the gift of the Creator. Developing them depends on the work of man. Along the line of the Northern Pacific Railroad, as it follows up the water-courses, the Missouri and the Yellowstone on this side, and descends by the valley of the Columbia on the other, a vast body of agricultural land is waiting for the plough, with a climate almost exactly the same as that of New York, except that, with less snow, cattle, in the larger portion of it, can subsist on the range in winter. Here, if climate and fertility of soil produce their natural result, when railroad facilities open this now isolated region to settlement, will soon be seen waving grain-fields, and happy homes, and growing towns; while ultimately a cordon of prosperous States, teeming with population, and rich in industry and consequent wealth, will occupy that now undeveloped and almost inaccessible portion of our continental area.

But this Road is fortunate also in its pathway across the two ranges of mountains which tested so severely the Pacific Railroads built on the central line, and the overcoming of which reflected such well deserved honor on their energetic builders. At the Deer Lodge Pass, in Montana, where it crosses the Rocky Mountains, its altitude above the sea is 3500 feet less than the Union Pacific Railroad at Sherman, which is said to be the highest point at which a locomotive can be found in the world. And on the Pacific side of the Continent it is even more fortunate. From Arizona up to the Arctic Circle the Columbia is the only river which has torn its way through that mighty range, the Andes of North America, which in California is known as the Sierras, but which in Oregon changes its name to the Cascades. Nature has thus provided a pathway for the Northern Pacific Road through these mountains, the scaling of which, on the other line, at an elevation of over seven thousand feet (a most wonderful triumph of engineering), cost the Central Pacific company millions of dollars, and compelled them, for seventy miles, to maintain a grade of over one hundred feet to the mile—twice the maximum of the Northern Pacific at the most difficult point on its entire route.

It is fortunate, also, in its terminus on the Pacific coast. No one who has not been there can realize the beauty of Puget Sound and its surroundings. One hundred miles long, but so full of inlets and straits that its navigable shore-line measures seventeen hundred and sixty miles, dotted with lovely islets, with gigantic trees almost to the water's edge, with safe anchorage everywhere, and stretching southward, without shoals or bars, from the Straits of Fuca to the capital and centre of Washington Territory, it will be a magnificent entrepot for the commerce of that grandest ocean of the world, the Pacific. * * * The Land Grant of the United States, exceeding fifty million of acres in the winter-wheat region of our nation (ten times as large as the area of Massachusetts), is doubtless sufficient for the completion of the Road; but, besides this, millions of private means are already invested in it. The bonds based on the Land Grant, and a mortgage on the Road itself in addition, are being sold as rapidly as the money is needed; and, as an investment, yielding about eight per cent. per year in currency, rank already with the best class of railroad securities. And thus the good work will go on with unchecked step to its final consummation, carrying the blessings of settlement, development, civilization and Christianity with it in its progress, and literally causing the wilderness to blossom as the rose.

To Start a Balky Horse.—The Ohio Farmer says: Fill his mouth with dirt or gravel from the road and he'll go. Now, the philosophy of the thing is, it gives him something to think about. We have seen dirt tried a hundred times and it has never failed.

—Two travelers having been assigned to the same bedroom in a crowded hotel, one of them, before retiring, knelt down to pray and confessed a long catalogue of sins. On rising from his knees he saw his fellow-traveler, valise in hand, going out of the door, and exclaimed: "What is the matter—what's up?" "Oh, nothing," was the reply, "only I am not going to risk myself with such a scamp as you confess yourself to be."

—The other day, while a teacher was hearing a boy recite his lesson, the following passage occurred; "The wages of sin is death." The teacher, wishing to get the word "wages" by deduction, asked, "What does your father get every Saturday night?" The boy answered promptly, "He gets drunk."

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

WALTHAM

WATCHES.

The extensive use of these watches for the last fifteen years by Railway Conductors, Engineers and Expressmen, the most exacting of watch-wearers, has thoroughly demonstrated the strength, steadiness, durability and accuracy of the Waltham Watch. To satisfy that class in all these respects, is to decide the question as to the real value of these time-keepers.

More than 500,000 of these watches are now speaking for themselves in the pockets of the people—a proof and a guarantee of their superiority over all others.

The superior organization and great extent of the Company's Works at Waltham, enables them to produce watches at a price which renders competition futile, and those who buy any other watch merely pay from 25 to 50 per cent. more for their watches than is necessary.

These time-pieces combine every improvement that a long experience has proved of real practical use. Having had the refusal of nearly every invention in watch-making originating in this country or in Europe, only those were finally adopted which severe testing by the most skilful artisans in our works, and long use on the part of the public, demonstrated to be essential to correct and enduring time-keeping.

Among the many improvements we would particularize:—

The invention and use of a centre-pinion of peculiar construction, to prevent damage to the train by the breaking of main-springs, is original with the American Watch Company, who, having had the refusal of all other contrivances, adopted Withington's pattern pinion as being the best and faultless.

Hardened and tempered hair-springs, now universally admitted by Watchmakers to be the best, are used in all grades of Waltham Watches.

All Waltham Watches have dust-proof caps, protecting the movements from dust and lessening the necessity of the frequent cleaning necessary in other watches.

Our new patent stem-winder, or keyless watch is already a decided success, and a great improvement on any stem-winding watch in the American market, and by far the cheapest watch of its quality now offered to the public. To those living in portions of the United States where watchmakers do not abound, watches with the above mentioned improvements, which tend to ensure accuracy, cleanliness, durability and convenience, must prove invaluable.

The trademarks of the various styles made by the Company are as follows:—

AMERICAN WATCH CO., Waltham, Mass.
AM. WATCH CO., Waltham, Mass.
AMERICAN WATCH CO., Crescent St., Waltham, Mass.
APPLETON, TRACY & CO., Waltham, Mass.
AMERICAN WATCH CO., Adams St., Waltham, Mass.
WALTHAM WATCH CO., Waltham, Mass.
P. S. BARTLETT, Waltham, Mass.
WM. ELLERY, Waltham, Mass.
HOME WATCH CO., Boston, Mass.

Examine the spelling of these names carefully before buying. Any variation even of a single letter, indicates a counterfeit.

For sale by all leading jewelers. No watches retailed by the Company.

"THE HEATHEN CHINEE!"

BY A. COPPERHEAD.

I'll sing you a song, if you'll listen to me,
Concerning those fellows, the Heathen Chinee,
Who come to this country to cut up their tricks,
And take all the jobs from the "Mokes" and the "Micks;"
We'll send them all back to the regions of tea,
For a dusty old lot are the Heathen Chinee.

They worship a "Joss," an old heffer of wood,
Who roosts on his haunches and gobbles their food,
They eat tender puppies, with cats, rats and mice,
And slobber their chopsticks while "scoffing" their rice;
They come very dirty from over the sea—
And a husky old crowd are the Heathen Chinee.

They'll work very hard for a quarter a day,
And take a small litter of pups for their pay;
They imitate closely the "Melican Man,"
And raise all the odor they possibly can.
Oft times with your property "John" will make free—
For a thievish old brood are the Heathen Chinee.

They bash up the gristle and bones when you've dined,
And wear a long cue that's suspended behind,
Like the tail of a monkey; and him they will eat,
Pronouncing the morsel exceedingly sweet;
The Hottentot people are bad, we'll agree,
But they never can equal the Heathen Chinee.

They scrape all the money they can on the sly,
Then back to the "Flowery Nation" to die;
A dollar's a fortune to last a whole life—
Tobacco will buy a John Chinaman's wife.
Oh, filthy is "John," and not better is she—
For "bummers" and "beats" are the Heathen Chinee.

It may be all right for these corn-colored knaves,
To take in our country the place of the slaves;
But, though they may labor, our senses rebel
Against the whole tribe, with their horrible smell.
Oh, banish them all—cease them quickly to flee—
Remove that affliction, the Heathen Chinee!

WHAT GIRLS SHOULD DRINK.—Dr. Dio Lewis, in his book "Our Girls," says: "I am astonished that a young woman who is ambitious of a clear, fine skin, should drink tea. It is a great enemy to fair complexion. Wine, coffee and cocoa may be used without tinging the skin; but, as soon as tea drinking becomes a regular habit, the eye of the discriminating observer detects it in the skin. Tea changes the complexion, probably, by deranging the liver. Weak tea or coffee may be used occasionally, in moderate quantity, without harm; and those who live much in the open air, and are occupied with hard work, may drink either in considerable quantities, without noticeable harm; but I advise all young women who would preserve a soft clear skin and quiet nerves, to avoid all drinks but cold water. It is an excellent practice to drink one or two glasses of cold water on lying down at night and on rising in the morning. If you have good teeth, and can help the food into your stomach without using any fluid, except the saliva, it will in the long run contribute much to your health."

Does the Post mean that the other members will take the itch because these fellows were elected by scratched tickets?—Hartford Post.

COMPOUND FLUID
Extract Catawba
GRAPE PILLS.
Component Parts—Fluid Extract Rhubarb and Fluid Extract Catawba Grape Juice.

FOR LIVER COMPLAINTS, JAUNDICE, BILIOUS AFFECTIONS, SICK OR NERVOUS HEADACHE, COSTIVENESS, ETC. PURELY VEGETABLE, CONTAINING NO MERCURY, MINERALS OR DELETERIOUS DRUGS.

H

These Pills are the most delightfully pleasant purgative, superseding castor oil, salts, magnesia, etc. There is nothing more acceptable to the stomach. They give tone, and cause neither nausea nor griping pains. They are composed of the finest ingredients. After a few days' use of them, such an invigoration of the entire system takes place as to appear miraculous to the weak and enervated, whether arising from imprudence or disease. H. T. Helmbold's Compound Fluid Extract Catawba Grape Pills, are not sugar-coated, from the fact that sugar-coated Pills do not dissolve, but pass through the stomach without dissolving, consequently do not produce the desired effect. THE CATAWBA GRAPE PILLS, being pleasant in taste and odor, do not necessitate their being sugar-coated. PRICE FIFTY CENTS PER BOX.

H. T. HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU CURES DISEASES ARISING FROM IMPRUDENCES, HABITS OF DISSIPATION, &c., In all their stages, at little expense, little or no change in diet, no inconvenience, and no exposure. Thousands who have been the victims of incompetent persons, and who have paid heavy fees to be cured in a short time, have found they have been deceived, and that the "Poison" has, by the use of "powerful astringents," been dried up in the system, to break out in a more aggravated form, and perhaps after Marriage.

But however valuable as a remedy for existing defects of the skin, H. T Helmbold's Rose Wash has long sustained its principle claim to unbounded patronage, by possessing qualities which render it a TOILET APPENDAGE of the most Superlative and Congenial character, combining in an elegant formula those prominent requisites, SAFETY and EFFICACY—the invariable accompaniments of its use—as a Preservative and Refresher of the Complexion. It is an excellent Lotion for diseases of a Syphilitic Nature, and as an injection for diseases of the Urinary Organs, arising from habits of dissipation; used in connection with the EXTRACTS BUCHU, SARSAPARILLA, AND CATAWBA GRAPE PILLS, in such diseases as recommended, cannot be surpassed. PRICE, ONE DOLLAR PER BOTTLE.

WEDNESDAY, MARCH 29, 1871.

DOMINICA.

The report of the Commissioners is nearly completed. It says the Dominican government was found in full operation and exercising every legitimate function. The government and Baez are in full and peaceable possession of all parts of the republic excepting the Haytien border, which is disturbed by revolutionary leaders, assisted by Haytiens. Baez enjoys the respect of the great majority of the population and four times accepted the position of chief magistrate. The president, cabinet, legislature and judiciary are in favor of laying down their power in favor of the United States. The constant commotion of several years has completely paralyzed industrial pursuits, and the resources of the republic have so diminished that it cannot pay its expenses. Cabral occupies three or four mountain villages, and with a small force has been able to disturb a considerable district for a long time, though he has a few Dominican followers. Luperon has lately created disturbances in the north of the island, but it could not be discovered that either of these leaders had a flag or organized government, even in form.

Incessant trouble from such leaders led the population to agree to the Spanish occupation, but the harshness of the rule of Spain, the folly of many measures adopted, and a fear of re-enslavement led to driving of the Spaniards from the island. The population is fixed at 16,000. Many of the richest portions are uninhabited. The people had generally heard of the question of annexation in all parts of the island and it had been widely discussed, and everywhere there was nearly a unanimous feeling that peace and tranquility could come only from annexation. The greater friendship for the United States than for other powers is due largely to colonies which went out to the island years ago. The people seem more unanimous for annexation than the commission has known any people to be upon any great political question.

An exceedingly small portion is opposed to annexation, and these are chiefly traders or agents of foreign houses whose business would suffer by the change. The commission and all connected with it travelled in all parts of the island without guard or weapon, and in perfect safety. The population is almost wholly of mixed blood in every conceivable degree. There is an entire absence of all prejudices of race or color. High crimes, according to the statements of their judges, are nearly unknown. All are Roman Catholics, except the American emigrants sent out by the colonization society in 1824. The people are poor and live in cheap dwellings, but in the country all have as much land as they desire to cultivate. There are few schools, and the great mass of the people are uneducated. The resources of the country are vast and various, and capable of great increase. Iron ore is abundant, and possibly available for manufacture of pig iron; copper ores are of a fair degree, but mines have not been extensively opened. The reported coal of Samana is only lignite, and of little value as fuel. Little is known of the gold regions. The salt deposits are extensive and valuable. The island is represented as generally healthy, but acclimating is necessary. Earthquakes are not frequent. In autumn hurricanes are.

As now made up the debt is in round numbers $1,400,000. Additional pending claims, $204,000, inclusive of $70,000 by President Baez for personal property destroyed in the Spanish war, and under the first head is $600,000 for back salaries. The total is given at $1,556,000. The official statement of the receipts of the government for 1870 shows a total of $772,000 and one of items is for impost dues alone over $600,000.

The only settled boundary between Hayti and San Domingo is the only Spanish and French line of 1777. When the Haytiens were driven out of the east part of the island there remained of disputed territory a considerable extent east of the old boundary. This is still in dispute. The extent of territory within the old boundary of 1777 is found to be 22,212 square miles. Hayti occupies 10,000 square miles.

The report is very strong in condemnation of the stories that government officials of the United States have been privately interested in them. The Dominican government was found willing to agree to the terms of the treaty once concluded but not ratified, and for the only change think it fair that on account of the great and unexpected expense of the government attending the delay, that the rent paid for Samana and now due be not deducted in the final settlement. It was also agreed by Dominica that one-fifth of the public lands should be set aside for school purposes, provided the United States would grant three hundred acres for an agricultural college.

☞ The Golden Age, in an able article headed "The golden hour for the democratic party," commenting on the present political situation and the coming presidential contest, says:—

If the Democratic party should be as wise now as it was foolish then [in 1868]; if it should accept the Amendments, and forbid their reversal; if it should acknowledge the negro as a citizen, and treat him as such; if it should throttle the brigands who, in its name, set fire to good men's houses and murder their inmates; if it should prove itself worthy of its ancestral name by remembering the equal rights of all men before the law; and then if it should nominate a patriot instead of a partisan;—the Republican candidate, whoever he might be, would simply sit in his saddle long enough to shiver his lance, to be unhorsed, and to be borne conquered from the field.

Republican as we are—yes, radical among radicals—we believe that the greatest blessing that could befall the nation in 1872 would be to see the Democratic party ratify the arbitrament of the war, accept the plan of reconstruction, carry out the fourteenth and fifteenth amendments, forget that the negro is black to remember that he is a citizen, declare itself against the rebel debt, and then, on the basis of universal amnesty, including the abrogation of all political disabilities, take victorious possession of a government which President Grant has failed to administer to the satisfaction of the country.

If the above "ifs" should become realities, the democratic party would possibly achieve a great national success; but they won't. That party, so far from learning anything by their experience of the past ten years, and endeavoring to keep up with or outstrip others in the race of enlightened progress, desire only to outdo Joshua of the olden time—where he merely commanded the sun and moon to stand still for a few days, they want to turn the world backward for ten years or more.

New Hampshire Items.

Oliver Smith, Esq., a prominent citizen of Exeter, died on Sunday, aged 65. years. For many years he was publisher and proprietor of the Exeter News Letter.

Last evening, the 28th, Mr. Dennison, Depot Master at Sunapee, went into the woods about fifty rods above the station at S. and came upon a man's hat. Keeping on, he found a body, apparently that of a Frenchman, aged over sixty years, with a gashed throat and a large cut on the leg. The remains were dressed in decent garments, and two empty bottles, a key, a railroad ticket from Nashua to Concord, a bloody razor and a pamphlet relating to a Drunkards' Home in Boston were found in the pocket, but nothing to indicate his name. The gashes on the throat would not have caused his death, but it would seem that he had bled to death from that on his leg, mainly. The key fits a traveling bag left at the depot on the 23d, on which day a man was seen to go into the woods where this body was found. The dead man is supposed to have been suffering from delirium tremens, and to have inflicted the injuries on himself. The town authorities took charge of the body.—Patriot.

Nashua increased its debt $22,550 in 1780. The debt now amounts to $195,950.

On the 23d, in Newport, Mr. Sylvester Warren was instantly killed by the bursting of a grindstone, at the scythe factory of Mr. E. T. Sibley.

☞ An election will be held in Michigan on Tuesday, April 4, for one Judge of the Supreme Court in place of James V. Campbell, whose term closes on the first of next January, and two regents for the State University. On the same day a special election will be held for a member of Congress to succeed Mr. Ferry, who has been elected to the United States Senate. The Republican majority in that district is usually between five and six thousand.

☞ Dr. Foster, of the Duluth Minnesotian, says that on the north shore of Lake Superior is one of those characteristic rivers running through the trap rock "on its edge," four feet wide and forty feet deep, with tremendous pitches and falls near its entrance into the lake, which river has the somewhat peculiar name on the maps of Temperance River; and this for the reason solely, that of all the streams emptying into the lake along the shore it is the only one that has no bar at its mouth.

GIVE IT UP?—If a milkmaid, four feet ten inches in height, while sitting on a three-legged stool, took four pails of milk from every fifteen cows, what was the size of the field in which the animals grazed, and what was the girl's age?

—Boring alone develops drinking-water in Lower California.

—A Connecticut lawyer, who wished to cross the river on the ice, was told that it would be entirely safe to make the attempt if he crawled over on his hands and knees. Anxious to go, he humbled himself accordingly, and had laboriously got half way across, when he was overtaken by a man driving along leisurely in a buggy. The rapidity with which he assumed an upright position was startling to the driver.

BUSINESS NOTICES.

LONGER AND BETTER—the wearing of boots and shoes made with the CABLE SCREW WIRE, than any other class of goods. Many heavy firms deal exclusively in them, and all first-class retailers have them. Comfortable, economical and durable, they need only a trial.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

The Purest and Safest.

The efficacy of HOSTETTER'S CELEBRATED STOMACH BITTERS as a specific for recruiting the enfeebled body and cheering the desponding mind, has passed into a proverb. In the United States, where this marvelous tonic has borne down all opposition, and eclipsed all rivalry, the demand for it has annually increased in a heavier and heavier ratio for years, until, at last, the regular sales of this preparation exceed those of all other stomachics combined. Eminent members of the medical profession and hospital surgeons without number, have candidly admitted that the pharmacopœia of the faculty contains no prescription that produces such beneficial effects in dyspepsia, general debility and nervous diseases, as Hostetter's Bitters. To use the language of a venerable physician of New York, "The Bitters are the purest stimulant and the safest tonic we have." But the uses of the great vegetable antidote are legion; more comprehensive than such praise would imply. As a preparatory antidote to epidemic disease, a genial stimulant, a promoter of constitutional vigor, an appetizer, a stomachic, and a remedy for nervous debility, no medicinal preparation has ever attained the reputation of Hostetter's Bitters. It is the household faith of the American people, and in all human probability will be so for centuries to come. The magnitude of science recognizes its merits, and that it is emphatically the medicine of the masses, is proven by its continued ever increasing sales.

A COMPLIMENT. — The period for which Rev. C. M. Dinsmore was appointed to have pastoral charge of the M. E. Society in this city expires in April; but on Monday evening, March 27, at a meeting of the Church Board, with the Presiding Elder of the District in the chair, it was unanimously resolved to request the general authorities of the Church to reappoint Mr. Dinsmore for another year pastorate here. Mr. D. has worked hard to benefit his Society, and their action in this matter shows that he is popular with them, as he deserves.

Communication.

Messrs. Editors: I have noticed of late in your paper, a good deal of discussion relative to the annexation of Newcastle to Portsmouth. I like these discussions, they bring to light facts long forgotten, or never known. It is always well in forming a partnership to look well to the starting, socially and financially of both partners, so in this case, we should look well to the advantages and disadvantages which may ensue. Newcastle is a town about one mile square, contains some eight hundred inhabitants, possessing many natural facilities for business, especially fishing. This branch of trade was successfully carried on for many years, and money made (as many of our citizens can testify.)

A few years ago, there were between seventy and eighty fishing vessels employed in Newcastle, by Capts. Oliver and Tarlton. They proved very successful to the owners, it made business brisk, the people were employed, and to-day Portsmouth is reaping the benefits, for many of its enterprising men received their first start from Newcastle. The same facilities for business remain, and the only thing lacking for a revival of olden times is life, energy and capital; this is fully proved by the success of the firm now doing business there. Newcastle is thankful for small favors, but she wants more of the same. She is anxious to have the capitalists of Portsmouth interest themselves in the subject and lend their aid, which would in a few years develop a business that I have no doubt would not only be profitable, but a credit to the city and state, for certainly no place holds out so many inducements for that business as Newcastle. The benefits arising from such an active and profitable enterprise on our river, to the people of Portsmouth, is obvious to all who give the subject a moment of thought.

Aside from the above considerations; Newcastle possesses many attractions to pleasure seekers; there is one of the finest sites for a summer hotel to be found on the whole coast; it is so situated that one feels, when there, out to sea and in the country at the same time. A person can drive from Portsmouth to Newcastle over a pleasant and varied road with the river and sea in full view the whole route. The question will naturally arise—why have not the above suggestions been carried out before. SHELLS.

☞ The joint high commission will conclude its labors in a few weeks, and well-informed parties confidently assert that there will be an equitable settlement of the matters in dispute. If this shall result, the President will send the treaty to the Senate, should that body be in session. The subject of the fisheries was considered first and other important questions also discussed, each side presenting voluminous documents and affording every facility to the other for procuring additional information. The British commissioners are in constant telegraphic communication with the home government.

—Just as an auctioneer was saying "Gone!" a few evening since, his audience went through the floor into the cellar, but happily without hurting any of them. The auctioneer, as soon as he found his legs, remarked that the accident would enable him to sell lower than before, and called for a "bid," and they bid him "Good night."

Price $2 a year; single copies 5 cents,—is wrappers for mailing, if desired. Six copies for $10 per year, to Clubs—per mail or city carrier.

☞ ADVERTISEMENTS, whether transient notices or by yearly contracts, are inserted in both the Daily Chronicle and Weekly Gazette, or in either one of these papers only, as desired. And while there is no better advertising medium in this County, our rates are reasonable, especially to regular yearly patrons.

Consumption,

ITS CURE AND ITS PREVENTIVE,

By J. H. SCHENCK, M. D.

Many a human being has passed away, for whose death there was no other reason than the neglect of known and simple preventives and cures for disease. Those near and dear to family and friends are sleeping the dreamless slumber into which, had they calmly adopted and availed themselves of his wonderfully efficacious medicines, they would not have fallen.

Dr. JOSEPH H. SCHENCK'S SIMPLE TREATMENT,

Dr Schenck has in his own case proven that wherever sufficient vitality remains, that vitality, by his medicines and his directions for their use, is quickened into healthful vigor.

In this statement there is nothing presumptuous. To the faith of the invalid is made no representation that is not a thousand times substantiated by living and visible works. The theory of the cure by Dr. Schenck's medicines is as simple as it is unfailing. Its philosophy requires no argument. It is self assuring, self-convincing.

The Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills are the first two weapons with which the citadel of the malady is assailed. Two-thirds of the cases of consumption originate in dyspepsia and a functionally disordered liver. With this condition the bronchial tubes "sympathize" with the stomach. They respond to the morbific action of the liver. Here, then comes the culminating result, and the setting in, with all its distressing symptoms, of

CONSUMPTION.

The Mandrake Pills are composed of one of Nature's noblest gifts—the Podophillum Peltatum. They possess all the blood-searching, alterative properties of calomel, but unlike calomel, they

"LEAVE NO STING BEHIND."

The work of cure is now beginning. The vitiated and mucous deposits in the bowels and in the alimentary canal are ejected. The liver, like a clock, is wound up. It arouses from its torpidity. The stomach acts responsively, and the patient begins to feel that he is getting, at last,

A SUPPLY OF GOOD BLOOD.

The Seaweed Tonic, in conjunction with the Pills, permeates and assimilates with the food. Chylification is now progressing, without its previous torture. Digestion proceeds, and the cure is seen to be at hand. There is no more flatulence, no exacerbation of the stomach. An appetite sets in.

Now comes the greatest blood Purifier ever yet given by an indulgent father to suffering man. Schenck's Pulmonic Syrup comes in to perform its functions and to hasten and complete the cure. It enters at once upon its work. Nature cannot be cheated. It collects and ripens the impaired and diseased portions of the lungs. In the form of gathering it expectorates by expectoration, and lo! in a very short time the malady is vanquished, the rotten throne that it occupied is renovated and made new, and the patient, in all the plenity of regained vigor, steps forth to enjoy the manhood or womanhood that was

GIVEN UP AS LOST.

The second thing is, the patients must stay in a warm room until they get well; it is almost impossible to prevent taking cold when the lungs are diseased, but it must be prevented or a cure cannot be effected. Fresh air and ridingout, especially in this section of the country in the fall and winter season, are all wrong. Physicians who recommend that course lose their patients, if their lungs are badly diseased; and yet, because they are in the house they must not sit down quiet; they must walk about the room as much and as fast as the strength will bear of it, in order to keep a good circulation of blood. The patients must keep in good spirits—be determined to get well. This has a great deal to do with the recovery, and is the great point to gain.

To despair of cure after such evidence of its possibility in the worst cases, and moral cowardice in all others, is sinful. Dr. Schenck's personal statement to the Faculty of his own cure was in these modest words:

"I was weighed shortly after my recovery," added the Doctor, "and I was surprised to find that my weight was only ninety-seven pounds; my present weight is two hundred and twenty-five (225) pounds, and for years I have enjoyed uninterrupted health."

Dr. Schenck has discontinued his professional visits to New York and Boston. He or his son, Dr. J. H. Schenck, Jr., still continue to see patients at their office, No. 15 North Sixth street, Philadelphia, every Saturday from 9 A. M. to 3 P. M. Those who wish a thorough examination with the Respirometer will be charged $5. The Respirometer declares the exact condition of the lungs, and patients can readily learn whether they are curable or not.

The directions for taking the medicines are adapted to the intelligence even of a child. Follow these directions, and Nature will do the rest, excepting that in some cases the Mandrake Pills are to be taken in increased quantity. These medicines need no other accompaniments than the ample instructions that accompany them: First, create appetite. Of remedies for this purpose is the most welcome symptom. When it comes, as it will come, let the digestive powers show of the good order. Good blood at once follows, the cough loosens, the night sweats abated. In a short time both of these morbid symptoms are no longer to be seen.

Dr. Schenck's medicines are constantly kept in tens of thousands of families. As a laxative or purgative, the Mandrake Pills are a standard preparation: while the Pulmonic Syrup, as a cure of coughs and colds, may be regarded as a prophylactic against consumption in any of its forms.

Price of the Pulmonic Syrup and Seaweed Tonic $1.50, or $15 for a half dozen. Mandrake Pills, 25 cents a box. For sale by all druggists and dealers.

ARE YOU GOING TO PAINT?

—IF SO, USE THE—

AVERILL CHEMICAL PAINT.

It is Cheaper, Handsomer and more durable than the best of other Paints. One Thousand Gallons of it were sold in this City, in the year 1870, and not one complaint has come from those who have used it; but all speak in its favor; it is mixed ready for application, and is much easier put on than any other Paint, making a smooth, glossy surface for years, that can be cleaned with hot suds without injuring it. It is excellent for walls inside, in place of paper.

I shall keep this season a large stock of Chemical Paints of all shades on hand, to accommodate customers with just enough, without mixing in ordering it. Those who want to use the Chemical Paints and have had them misrepresented by those who deal in Lead and Oil, are invited to call and examine my Paints that have been on Buildings two years, and you will find them as fresh as if laid but one month.

I am prepared to do Painting by Contract, or by the day, using the Chemical Paint, or furnishing good experienced workmen by the day at very low wages. I AM NO AGENT for selling the

A GOOD KID GLOVE FOR 45 CENTS—At the BOSTON CHEAP STORE

FIRST MORTGAGE

7 Per Cent. Gold Bonds,

ON A COMPLETED ROAD,

FREE OF U. S. TAX,

At 90 and Accrued Interest in Currency.

Burlington, Cedar Rapids and Minnesota Railway.

The completion of this Road has given to these Bonds an established character equal to any mortgage issue dealt in at the Stock Exchange. We are prepared to buy and sell them at any time, at our Banking House, at market price—thus placing them on the same basis; for temporary or permanent investment, with Governments or any other security.

These bonds are a first and only mortgage on a railroad that has cost double the amount of the issue, and which commands, without competition, all the traffic of Northern Iowa and Southern Minnesota—shortening the distance from St. Paul to Chicago 45 miles, and to St. Louis more than 90 miles.

The net earnings are already largely in excess of interest on the bonds, and no doubt exists that they will more than double within the ensuing year.

A contract has been secured with the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy Railroad Company obligating the latter to invest 50 per cent of gross earnings derived from traffic with the Burlington, Cedar Rapids and Minnesota Road in the bonds of this Company. This arrangement is a strong guarantee of the Bonds, and establishes a large sinking fund for their redemption.

The convertibility clause in these bonds enables them to be exchanged for stock, at par, at any time. This secures to the holder, at his option, a share in any excess of earnings over the interest obligation.

An exchange of Government securities for these bonds returns 9½ per cent. interest, instead of 5 per cent., which is all that Government pays at present price, besides leaving an immediate gain of about 20 per cent. in price for re-investment.

All marketable Securities taken in exchange free of Commission and Express charges. f24dWeS

A GREAT MEDICAL DISCOVERY!

DR. WALKER'S CALIFORNIA

VINEGAR BITTERS,

Hundreds of Thousands Bear Testimony to their Wonderful Curative Effects.

WHAT ARE THEY?

THEY ARE NOT A VILE FANCY DRINK,

Made of Poor Rum, Whiskey, Proof Spirits and Refuse Liquors doctored, spiced and sweetened to please the taste, called "Tonics," "Appetizers," "Restorers," &c., that lead the tippler on to drunkenness and ruin, but are a true Medicine, made from the Native Roots and Herbs of California, free from all Alcoholic Stimulants. They are the GREAT BLOOD PURIFIER and LIFE-GIVING PRINCIPLE, a perfect Renovator and Invigorator of the system, carrying off all poisonous matter and restoring the blood to a healthy condition. No person can take these Bitters according to direction and remain long unwell, provided the bones are not destroyed by mineral poison or other means, and the vital organs wasted beyond the point of repair.

For Inflammatory and Chronic Rheumatism and Gout, Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Bilious, Remittent and Intermittent Fevers, Diseases of the Blood, Liver, Kidneys and Bladder, these Bitters have been most successful. Such Diseases are caused by Vitiated Blood, which is generally produced by derangement of the Digestive Organs.

DYSPEPSIA OR INDIGESTION, Headache, Pain in the Shoulders, Coughs, Tightness of the Chest, Dizziness, Sour Eructations of the Stomach, Bad taste in the Mouth, Bilious Attacks, Palpitation of the Heart, Inflammation of the Lungs, Pain in the regions of the Kidneys, and a hundred other painful symptoms, are the offspring of Dyspepsia.

They invigorate the stomach and stimulate the torpid liver and bowels, which render them of unequalled efficacy in cleansing the blood of all impurities and imparting new life and vigor to the whole system.

FOR SKIN DISEASES, Eruptions, Tetter, Salt Rheum, Blotches, Spots, Pimples, Pustules, Boils, Carbuncles, Ring-Worms, Scald Head, Sore Eyes, Erysipelas, Itch, Scurfs, Discolorations of the Skin, Humors and Diseases of the Skin, of whatever name or nature, are literally dug up and carried out of the system in a short time by the use of these Bitters. One bottle in such cases will convince the most incredulous of their curative effect.

Cleanse the Vitiated Blood whenever you find its impurities bursting through the skin in Pimples, Eruptions or Sores; cleanse it when you find it obstructed and sluggish in the veins, cleanse it when it is foul, and your feelings will tell you when. Keep the blood pure, and the health of the system will follow.

PIN, TAPE and other WORMS, lurking in the system of so many thousands, are effectually destroyed and removed. For full directions, read carefully the circular around each bottle, printed in four languages—English, German, French and Spanish.

FOR FEMALE COMPLAINTS, whether in young or old, married or single, at the dawn of womanhood or at the turn of life, these Tonic Bitters have no equal. ☞ Send for a circular.

They are a Gentle Purgative as well as a Tonic, possessing also, the peculiar merit of acting as a powerful agent in relieving Congestion or Inflammation of the Liver, and all the Visceral Organs. 1yrdawfeb16

THE CENTRAL RAILROAD CO. OF IOWA,

have now built and equipped, in first-class manner, about

180 MILES OF RAILROAD,

which will complete their entire line, with the exception of laying the track on twenty-five miles, which is already graded. They will thus open

The First Through Line Across the State

from north to south, and, by making a slight detour at one point, they will give

DIRECT COMMUNICATION BETWEEN ST. LOUIS AND ST. PAUL.

This line of Railroad will have very special advantages for both local and through business, besides such superior railroad connections as will secure to it a large portion of the carrying trade of the Great Northwest. The

First Mortgage

7 PER CENT. GOLD BONDS,

which are issued upon this road, are limited in amount to $16,000 per mile (while many roads issue from $30,000 to $40,000,) and are offered at 90 and accrued interest, in currency. About two millions and a half of these bonds have already been disposed of, leaving but a small balance unsold, which are being rapidly taken.

The most experienced financiers agree that First Mortgage Bonds, to a limited amount, upon a finished railroad, which is well located for business, are one of the very safest forms of investment.

Parties desiring to secure a first-class security, based upon a railroad practically done, and in the hands of leading capitalists who have a large pecuniary and business interest in its success, will do well to apply at the office of the Company, or any of its advertised agents, for a pamphlet and map, showing the characteristics of the enterprise.

Holders of Government Bonds may exchange them for Central Iowas at a large present profit, beside a handsome increase of interest for a long term of years. Parties making such exchange will receive for each $1,000 Bonds a $1,000 Central Iowa Bond, and the following difference in cash (less the accrued interest in currency upon the latter bond,) and in annual interest, this calculation being based upon market prices of December 27th, 1870:—

JAY COOKE & CO.,

Offer For Sale at Par and Accrued Interest the FIRST MORT. LAND GRANT GOLD BONDS

—OF THE—

Northern Pacific Railroad Co.

These bonds are secured, first, by a First Mortgage on the Railroad itself, its rolling stock, and all equipments; second, by a First Mortgage on its entire land Grant, being more than twenty-Two Thousand Acres of Land to each mile of Road.

The Bonds are free from United States Tax; the Principal and Interest are payable in Gold by Principal at Maturity, Thirty years, and the Interest Semi-annually, at the rate of SEVEN AND THREE-TENTHS PER CENT. per annum.

They are issued in denominations of $100, $500, $1,000, $5,000 and $10,000.

The Trustees under the Mortgage are Messrs. Jay Cooke, of Philadelphia, and, we believe, Thomas Son, President of the Pennsylvania Central Railroad Company.

These Northern Pacific 7-30 Bonds will at all times before maturity, be receivable at TEN PER CENT. PREMIUM (or 110,) in exchange for the Company's lands at their lowest cash price.

HOW TO GET THEM.—Your nearest Bank or Banker will supply these Bonds in any desired amount, and of any needed denomination. Persons wishing to exchange stocks or other bonds for these, can do so with any of our Agents, who will allow the highest current price for ALL MARKETABLE SECURITIES.

"The Temperance Question and the Press."

In Scribner's Monthly for April is an article by Dr. Holland, the editor, on "The Temperance Question and the Press," from which we quote:

The time for a new departure is come. It is punctuated by the shifting and uncertain movements of those who have had their own way for years, and who find themselves as far from the goal at which they aimed as they were when they started. The press, independently, must take this question in hand, and educate the people to temperance. The truth is that there is not a country on the face of earth where stimulants are needed so little, and where they are capable of producing so much mischief, as in our own. Our sparkling, sunny atmosphere, and the myriad incentives to hope and enterprise in our circumstances, are stimulants of God's own appointment for the American people. This pouring down of intoxicating liquors is ten thousand times worst than waste—it is essential sacrilege. This straining of the nerves, this heating of the blood, this stimulation or stupefaction of the mind, this imposition of cruel burdens upon the digestive organs, is a foul wrong upon Nature. Tens of thousands of valuable lives are sacrificed every year to this Moloch of strong drink. The crime, the beggary, the disgrace, the sorrow, the disappointment, the disaster, the sickness, the death, that have flowed in one uninterrupted stream from the bottle and the barrel throughout the length of the land, are enough to make all thinking and manly men curse their source, and swear eternal enmity to it.

The American people need to have it proved to them that under no circumstances are the various forms of intoxicating drink good for them. They are not yet convinced of this, although they know, of course, that the abuse of drink brings all the evils that can be imagined. Every juvenile periodical, every newspaper, every magazine, every review, owes it to the country to teach this fact persistently. There has been something in the way in which the temperance reform has been perused which has brought upon it the stigma of fanaticism. That stigma ought to be obliterated — so thoroughly obliterated that the man who weakly yields to a degrading appetite, or wantonly courts such an appetite, and the danger or disgrace it brings, shall feel that he bears a stigma which marks his degradation among a generation of clean and healthy men.

In short, temperance must be made not only respectable, but fashionable. The wine-bibber and the beer-drinker, as well as those of stronger stomachs and coarser tastes, must be made to feel that they are socially disgraced by their habits. In the family, in the school, everywhere, by all the ordinary means of approach to young and plastic minds, the virtue of temperance should be inculcated. It is fashionable for the young to drink wine to-day. It must not be to-morrow; and in order that it may not be, the accepted leaders of public opinion must tell the people the truth, and enforce upon the people the obligations of duty. That world of high life which sends down its powerful influence upon all the life beneath it, never was influenced by professional temperance reformers, or by temperance organizations, and it is not likely to be. The clergymen it listens to, the papers, and magazines, and books it reads, and the social authorities it respects, must inculcate temperance until it shall be a shame to place a wine-bottle before a friend.

O, Heaven! for one generation of clean and unpolluted men! — men whose veins are not fed with fire; men fit to be the companions of pure women; men worthy to be the father of children; men who do not stumble upon the rock of apoplexy at midage, or go bloodly groping and staggering down into a drunkard's grave, but who can sit and look upon the faces of their grand-children with eyes undimmed, and hearts uncankered. Such a generation as this is possible in America; and to produce such a generation as this, the persistent, conscientious work of the public press is entirely competent as an instrumentality. The press can do what it will; and if it will faithfully do its duty, Maine laws will come to be things unthought of, and temperance reformers and temperance organizations will become extinct.

☞ Some of the English people have been very severe upon their Government for not interfering in the late Franco-Prussian war. The great sensation of the period, in the literary world, and political also, has been "The Fight in Dame Europa's School;" and now one of the humorous London papers has the following stinging sarcasm, in the form of an advertisement:

"J. Bull begs to inform his friends, the public, heads of families, and teachers in infant schools, that he is prepared to exhibit on very reasonable terms, his celebrated British Lion (quite tame). The awe inspiring and terrific roars of this noble animal, combined with its perfect harmlessness, are now well known. Any person may, with the greatest impunity, kick or spit upon it, or pull it by the tail, so that much fun may be derived from its ferocious demonstrations, at which nobody need feel the least afraid. It has been exhibited before all the crowned heads of Europe, and has caused screams of laughter. Address J. Bull, at the 'Wind Bag Inn,' Lamb's Conduit street."

—A roasted onion bound upon the pulse on the wrist will stop the most inveterate toothache in a few minutes.

THE SENSATIONS OF AMPUTATION. An officer who lost a leg in the late war, gives some curious facts on this point. He says that as long as a patient lies in a purely receptive, inactive state, he cannot be sure that any amputation at all has taken place, nor, if assured that one has been performed, can he say how much or how little has been included. A great ache in one limb may give him a general idea of the seat of the operation; but he is not, and, I believe, after comparing notes with many fellowsufferers, never will be able to designate the point of separation until he has seen and touched it. This delusion, or rather contradiction of testimony given by different senses, is not temporary; it continues indefinitely.

A case is on record of a tender mother who for a long time objected to the amputation of her invalid son's leg, fearing that the knowledge of this loss would grieve him to death. When the reason of her unwillingness became known, the attending surgeon assured her that the boy need not learn the event until fully strong enough to bear the shock. And the innocent deception was carried on for months, a screen having been put before the young man's face, until one day he was astonished at finding himself the possessor of a well-healed, vigorous stump, instead of a weak and diseased leg.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

WALTHAM WATCHES.

The extensive use of these watches for the last fifteen years by Railway Conductors, Engineers and Expressmen, the most exacting of watch-wearers, has thoroughly demonstrated the strength, steadiness, durability and accuracy of the Waltham Watch. To satisfy that class in all these respects, is to decide the question as to the real value of these time-keepers.

More than 500,000 of these watches are now speaking for themselves in the pockets of the people—a proof and a guarantee of their superiority over all others.

The superior organization and great extent of the Company's Works at Waltham, enables them to produce watches at a price which renders competition futile, and those who buy any other watch merely pay from 25 to 50 per cent. more for their watches than is necessary.

These time-pieces combine every improvement that a long experience has proved of real practical use. Having had the refusal of nearly every invention in watch-making originating in this country or in Europe, only those were finally adopted which severe testing by the most skillful artisans in our works, and long use on the part of the public, demonstrated to be essential to correct and enduring time-keeping.

Among the many improvements we would particularize:—

The invention and use of a centre-pinion of peculiar construction, to prevent damage to the train by the breakage of main-springs, is original with the American Watch Company, who, having had the refusal of all other contrivances, adopted Hogg's patent pinion as being the best and hollowest.

Hardened and tempered hair-springs, now universally admitted by Watchmakers to be the best, are used in all grades of Waltham Watches.

All Waltham Watches have dust-proof caps, protecting the movements from dust and loosening the necessity of the frequent cleaning necessary in other watches.

Our new patent stem-winder, or keyless watch is already a decided success, and a great improvement on any stem-winding watch in the American market, and by far the cheapest watch of its quality now offered to the public. To those living in portions of the United States where watchmakers do not abound, watches with the above mentioned improvements, which tend to ensure accuracy, cleanliness, durability and convenience, must prove invaluable.

The trademarks of the various styles made by the Company are as follows:—

AMERICAN WATCH CO., Waltham, Mass.
AMN. WATCH CO., Waltham, Mass.
AMERICAN WATCH CO., Crescent St., Waltham, Mass.
APPLETON, TRACY & Co., Waltham, Mass.
AMERICAN WATCH CO., Adams St., Waltham, Mass.
WALTHAM WATCH CO., Waltham, Mass.
P. S. BARTLETT, Waltham, Mass.
WM. ELLERY, Waltham, Mass.
HOME WATCH CO., Boston, Mass.

Examine the spelling of these names carefully before buying. Any variation even of a single letter, indicates a spurious imitation.

For sale by all leading jewelers. No watches retailed by the Company.

REST AT LAST.

BY SUE.

My weary soul is dark to-night,
My heart oppressed with grief and care;
I would one gleam of heavenly light,
In answer to my earnest prayer,
Would lift my drooping spirit up,
While drinking thus life's bitter cup.

This earthly woe like funeral pall,
Inwraps me in its chilly gloom;
Is God and Heaven over all—
Is there a rest beyond the tomb,
For spirits worn with toil and strife,
And scored by all the ills of life?

A dream of rest comes o'er my soul,
Of a sunny home, one Heavenly Hill;
Where troubled billows never roll,
And angels whisper "Peace be still."
My darkened spirit feels the spell,—
And answers softly "All is well."

MONMOUTH JUNCTION, N. J.

AN AUTOBIOGRAPHY.—I was born November 30th, 1835. I continue to live, just the same.

* * * * * * *

Thus narrow, confined and trivial, is the history of a common human life!—that part of it, at least, which it is proper to thrust in the face of the public. And thus little and insignificant, in print, becomes this life of mine, which to me has always seemed so filled with vast personal events and tremendous consequences.

I could easily have made it longer, but not without compromising myself.

Perhaps no apology for the brevity of this account of myself is necessary.

And besides, why should I damage the rising prosperity of The Aldine.

Surely, The Aldine has never done me any harm.—MARK TWAIN in The Aldine for April.

A GOOD OFFER TO THE Ladies of Portsmouth and Vicinity.

E. A. JOY

Has Fitted up a Spacious and Elegant SEWING MACHINE ROOM directly over his Music Store and employs a competent young lady to take charge of the same. A cordial invitation is hereby extended to all the ladies (not having good Sewing Machines of their own) to bring in lots of work and learn to make it up on the Machines. This will cost nothing whether a Machine is purchased or not. If you do not buy now, you will at some future time; for the day is not far distant when a SEWING MACHINE will be considered as indispensable as a Cook-Stove. Come as often and stay as long as you please.

MR. JOY'S business in the Sewing Machine line is very rapidly increasing, which enables him to make the above generous offer.

His long experience in this branch qualifies him to be an excellent judge of the goods he sells; and as he has had the Agency of all kinds offered him at different times it is reasonable to suppose that the Best SEWING MACHINES may always be had at the SEWING MACHINE EMPORIUM, No. 9 PLEASANT St., nearly opposite the Post Office, Portsmouth, N. H. Twelve Different Kinds to Select from. mh7

The Daily Chronicle.

Portsmouth, N. H.

THURSDAY, MARCH 30, 1871.

THE CONNECTICUT CAMPAIGN is being briskly conducted. Hon. Marshall Jewell, Republican, was chosen Governor in 1869 by 411 majority over Gov. James E. English, Democrat. Last year, on a short vote, English was elected over Jewell by 843 majority. Messrs. Jewell and English are again candidates for the office, and the contest differs from any previous one by the introduction of the colored vote, amounting to 1000 or 1200. Both sides have catered to the colored men, the Democratic leaders having swallowed their hatred of the negro, for the sake of his vote. At the last Congressional election, in 1869, the Democrats lost a Congressman in the 2d District by dissension in their ranks, and will probably regain the district next Monday. The Republican majority for Congressmen in 1869 was 2399.

The Republican defeat in New Hampshire has awakened both parties. The Connecticut Democrats are receiving money from New York city, and the Republicans are rallying for the redemption of the State. Senator Buckingham declares that the result of the New Hampshire election will tend to bring out a heavier Republican vote than would have otherwise been thrown.

The admission of new voters, excepting those whose qualifications mature hereafter, was concluded by the boards of selectmen on Saturday. The Waterbury American, an excellent authority, says:—"As far as heard from the republicans are far ahead of the democrats in the number made. Over eight hundred were admitted in Hartford, over five hundred of them being republicans. In New Haven the republicans make a handsome majority of the 1088 who were made.. In this city the same is true. New Britain made still larger gains, and the same reports are made from all sections of the State. The Republicans claim that they will elect Jewell, Governor. The result cannot be safely predicted; but a few days remain ere we shall chronicle a Republican victory or defeat.

CONGRESS.

In the Senate, on the 28th, Mr. Sumner attempted to introduce a resolution ordering an inquiry into the indignity offered to Fred Douglass on the Acquia Creek steamer the night before.

Mr. Howe concluded his reply to Mr. Sumner's speech, and Mr. Frelinghuysen brought out little that was new bearing on the international aspects of the question involved, but made a forcible appeal for courtesy and kindness of treatment to the President, citing his inestimable public services in the darkest hours of the nation's history, which ought to be a shield against carping criticism based on technicalities. Mr. Schurz began a speech displaying a brilliancy and intellectual quickness the praises of which are on all lips. Frequently interrupted by Messrs. Morton, Stewart and Howe, he seemed to revel in their attempts to disturb his argument, and met one after another with prompt and apt rejoinders. He showed that Mr. Sumner had by no means exhausted the capacity of the subject, and brought forward many new points which must have been overlooked by those members of the party freshly arrived from San Domingo.

In the House, Mr. Shellabarger reported from the select committee a bill in accordance with the President's message, which was read twice, and Mr. Shellabarger moved its recommittal. He desired a general debate and explained the bill at length. Mr. Kerr followed in reply. A general debate followed until the adjournment.

—"Perley," who was the clerk of the committee of foreign affairs while Mr. Sumner was its chairman, says that when the committee met for the first time after Mr. Sumner's appointment, the old members found a great change from the practices that had prevailed in the times when Mason of Virginia was in the chair. A small buffet in a corner, which had always contained a supply of whiskey, had already been banished to the lumber room, and there was no longer a box on the mantle piece. Instead of a rambling conversation, enlivened by drinks and cigars, Sumner had the business of the committee brought forward seriatim, the opinions of all were successively asked for, and then the yeas and nays were called. It was a parliamentary business, and not chaotic as inaugurated by the Massachusetts Senator, of whom it had been truly declared that he had only one idea, and that was the nigger.

☞ The Newburyport city railroad is under contract, and will be completed before July. It will be over two miles long, and, running from the junction of the Boston & Maine and Eastern roads, will stretch across the wharves nearly to the water-front of the city.

PARIS.

The Paris revolutionists are perfecting a military organization and have offered the supreme command of the National Guards to Garibaldi.

The Prussians are concentrating at L'Isle Adam, near Paris.

The Versailles government is steadily organizing a trustworthy force for the march on Paris, which will probably be made in about ten days.

The Minister of War has declared Marseilles in a state of seige.

The Republican Committee of Marseilles has issued a proclamation recognizing the Paris government.

New Hampshire Items.

A house owned by Dr. F. B. Ayer and occupied by F. M. Crane, druggist, at Nashua, was burned on Monday night. Loss about $800.

Ashland has voted to erect a fine town hall.

Cyrus Moore of Tamworth has a cow which was taken lame some three years ago in the fore-leg, and upon examination was found to have a sore on the side just under the brisket. About one year ago a piece of wire was discovered protruding from the sore and was with considerable difficulty pulled out and proved to be a common pail bail, five inches in length. On the 13th instant he extracted another piece of wire, six inches in length, from the same place. The last piece was bent and protruded in two places, and had to be broken before it could be drawn out. It is supposed that the cow must have swallowed the wire at some time.

☞ The civilized world stands aghast at the murders perpetrated by the rabble of Paris since the war closed. But the aggregate of these murders may be counted on one's fingers; while carefully prepared statistics show that, since our war closed, more than thirty thousand loyal men have been slaughtered in cold blood by unreconciled traitors. And yet men whose eyes overflowed with tears at the massacre of a few Parisians are indignant that any steps should be taken to stop this whole sale murder of their own countrymen.

EARLY PLOUGHING.—In many localities there is much danger of starting the plough too early. When one farmer sees a neighbor ploughing, he often feels that he must start his plough also. But do not be in a hurry; wait until the soil is ready. The land where Indian corn is to grow, is often ploughed so early in the season, that weeds and grass have got a good start when the seed for the crop of grain is planted. The consequence is, more than double the labor is required to cultivate the growing crop, that is necessary when the ground is not ploughed so early. If one has a piece of ground where Canada thistles, ox-eye daisies, and other noxious weeds, have hitherto borne sway, pile on the manure and defer ploughing until late seed time; then employ an extra team or two of neighbors, break up the ground neatly and put in the seed as soon as practicable. Before a weed can appear, the young corn rows will be inviting the horse hoe. The labor of cultivating a crop on such ground, if managed in this way, will be amazingly light. Do not plough heavy land until the soil is in a condition to crumble nicely. When the furrow slices roll over like huge slabs of putty, or come up in great clods, let the plough remain at rest. If the furrow slices, as they are turned up, crumble to fine atoms, that soil will continue mellow for a long time; and the fine rootlets of growing plants will spread rapidly as deep as the plough was driven.

GRAFTING WAX.—As the grafting season is upon us—April being by far the best time for this operation—we may as well repeat our recipe for making grafting-wax, which is simply to take two pounds of rosin, two ounces of beeswax and one gill of linseed oil, stew it well till the mass is completely dissolved; apply it to the grafts while warm with a stiff brush or pine-paddle, so that air and water are completely excluded. The consistency of the wax should be such that it will not be so hard as to crack in the cool winds of spring, or so soft as to run in the warmest weather of summer.

Any smaller or larger quantity can be made by using the above proportions.

START THE SEEDS!—It sometimes seems surprising to us, that farmers generally do not oftener employ glass in the starting of most of their garden vegetables. In our latitude the soil of gardens is not generally in a fit state to receive the seeds of most vegetables, until the very first of June, often not until a week or ten days of the month have passed. Although they germinate quickly, they do not come forward so as to be of use in the family during the late summer, and early autumn, when fresh vegetables are so grateful and healthy; and they can only be of service for winter use. But at very little trouble and scarcely any expense, the farmer can have vegetables as early as the amateur gardener in the village, and why should he not? He has a sheltered position, plenty of fertilizing material, and good seed; and these, with a moderate sized hot-bed, or a box or two of earth placed to command the sun from the kitchen windows, will give early lettuce, radish, onions, beets, cauliflowers, &c., that he can have every day, for the gathering. Our season can be lengthened many weeks by employing glass panes or hot-beds, in which to give the seed an early start—the plants of which can be put out as soon as the weather is suitable, and although this plan is made use of to a much greater degree than a few years since, yet we should be glad to know that the hot-bed is in every farmer's garden, and that even now in boxes and pots in warm windows are innumerable seeds and young plants already getting an early start for the coming season. This forcing must be resorted to if we would have fresh vegetables early in their season. There is nothing exacting about it; it is in fact a pleasant recreation, and is an employment the younger members of the family will be delighted with. Let them try it.—Me. Farmer.

BUSINESS NOTICES.

LONGER AND BETTER—the wearing of boots and shoes made with the CABLE SCREW WIRE, than any other class of goods. Many heavy firms deal exclusively in them, and all first-class retailers have them. Comfortable, economical and durable, they need only a trial.

DR. SAGE'S CATARRH REMEDY is no Patent Medicine humbug gotten up to dupe the ignorant and credulous, nor is it represented as being "composed of rare and precious substances, brought from the four corners of the earth, carried seven times across the Great Desert of Sahara on backs of fourteen camels, and brought across the Atlantic Ocean on two ships." It is a simple, mild, pleasant, soothing Remedy, a perfect specific for Chronic Nasal Catarrh, "Cold in the head," and kindred diseases. The proprietor, R. V. Pierce, M. D., of Buffalo, N.Y., offers a reward of $500 for a case of Catarrh he cannot cure. For Sale by most druggists every where. Sent by mail, postpaid, for sixty cents. Address the sole proprietors as above.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

The Purest and Safest.

The efficacy of HOSTETTER'S CELEBRATED STOMACH BITTERS as a specific for recruiting the enfeebled body and cheering the desponding mind, has passed into a proverb. In the United States, where this marvelous tonic has borne down all opposition, and eclipsed all rivalrey, the demand for it has annually increased in a heavier and heavier ratio for years, until, at last, the regular sales of this preparation exceed those of all other stomachics combined. Eminent members of the medical profession and hospital surgeons without number, have candidly admitted that the pharmacopœia of the faculty contains no prescription that produces such beneficial effects in dyspepsia, general debility and nervous diseases, as Hostetter's Bitters. To use the language of a venerable physician of New York. "The Bitters are the purest stimulant and the safest tonic we have." But the mere fact of the great vegetable antidote are much more comprehensive than such praise would imply. As a preparatory antidote to epidemic disease, a genial stimulant, a promoter of consitutional vigor, an appetizer, a stomachic, and a remedy for nervous debility, no medicinal preparation has ever attained the reputation of Hostetter's Bitters. It is the household tonic of the American people, and in all human probability will be so for centuries to come. The magnates of science recognize its merits; and that it is emphatically the medicine of the masses, is proven by its vast and ever increasing sales.

Communication.

NEWINGTON, March 29.

Having had numerous applications as to the kind and quality of my corn which took the first prize ($35) for 8-rowed corn, offered by Hon. John D. Lyman of Exeter last Spring to the farmers of this State, I would say that I have left a sample trace of it at the grocery store of Messrs. Butler & Laighton, where it can be seen and examined. Also having a number of applications for seed of the same I would say that not anticipating anything of the kind, I have fed it (with the exception of a few traces) out to my stock. If any one upon examination would like to obtain some for seed they can leave an order for it with Messrs. Butler & Laighton. CHARLES T. EMERY.

☞ The Democratic leaders are getting a taste of application for office from their deluded followers, who are quite sure the Republicans will not control the next legislature and State government. There is one thing, however, that the applicants may as well give up, i. e., the office of Police Justice of the City of Portsmouth. Calvin Page, Esq., is said to be booked for this position, and will be acceptable to both parties—if a Republican cannot be appointed. We throw up our hat for Judge Page; the office is not too remunerative nor are its duties sufficiently arduous to cause the new appointee (whoever he may be) much trouble.

☞ By special request we publish a more extended notice of a very pleasant affair (already referred to in our columns) which took place in the Rigging Loft at the Navy Yard on Monday, when Mr. John K. Bartlett, the retiring boatswain, was presented with a valuable ring by the workmen in the Equipment Department. On behalf of his fellow workmen, Mr. A.K.P. Deering made the presentation speech, as follows:—

Sir.—I have the honor as well as pleasure of presenting you with this "Ring or Circle of remembrance," and with it our kindest regards. It is not for its intrinsic value alone that we present you this, but as a token of the respect and esteem we shall always cherish for your many virtues as an officer and gentleman; the motto or inscription within you will find to be purely masonic. Please accept this, and with it our united wishes for your future health, happiness and prosperity.

TOO MUCH GLORY.—We met the Secretary of the copperhead State Central Committee, near the Post Office, Wednesday morning, and thought he looked kind of used up. In answer to inquiries and suggestions, he informed us that he wasn't well, and laid the blame on a cold and too much hard work editorially. That is much too thin. We know what's the matter with him, and it's not a cold or hard work—though if anybody thinks it is nice easy fun editing a country daily we have no objection to his trying it—it is bearing up under his share of the weight of glory won by the democratic party in this State at the late election. He is pretty tough, but he isn't Hercules, and the burden is too much for him. By way of comforting a distressed member of the guilt fraternity, we will inform him that he and his party will be relieved from the unaccustomed weight next March, and the party which carried the load for sixteen years will shoulder it once more. "Courage! brave heart"—we would finish the quotation, but unfortunately we don't know the rest of it.

☞ G. W. S. Putnam, Esq., of York, Me., has been re-appointed a Trial Justice, within and for the county of York.

HUMAN MATCH.—Lighting gas with the finger is a feat any body may perform. Let a person, in his shoes or slippers, walk briskly over a woollen carpet, scuffling his feet thereon, or stand upon a chair with its legs upon four tumblers to insulate it, and be there rubbed up and down the body a few times with a muff, by a second individual, and he can light the gas by simply placing his finger to the tube. It is only necessary to take the precaution not to touch anything, or be touched by anybody, during the trial of the experiment. The stock of electricity acquired by the process we have described is discharged by contact with another object. One person must turn on the gas while the other fires it.

☞ Oliver Ditson & Co., No. 277 Washington Street, Boston, have issued the following new pieces of music; "The Lord is in his Holy Temple," a sacred quartette; "Stay home with me to-night, Dear Tom;" a ballad; "I really don't think I shall marry," a comic song; a paraphrase on "The Girl I left behind me," and "Dat's der kind of man wat I am," a comic song.

—The senior editor of The New York Observer, writing of his recent visit to Washington, says: "I saw nothing new, except Vinnie Ream's statue of President Lincoln. The buttons on the coat are well done." And is this all that the venerable editor designs to say of a statue for which Uncle Sam paid $15,000?

RHEUMATISM.—Having been cured by the following prescription, Mr. William Bassett, of Birmingham, Michigan, communicates it to the New York Farmer's Club. Sarsaparilla root, sassafras chips, and gentian root, of each one ounce; gum guacum, half ounce; iodide of potassium, one-fourth ounce. Simmer the first four articles in a gallon of water to half a gallon; when nearly cold add the potassium; stir together, strain, bottle. Dose, wine-glass full twice a day.

OFFENSIVE BREATH.—From six to ten drops of the concentrated solution of chloride of soda, in a wine glassful of pure spring water, taken immediately after the ablutions of the morning are completed, will sweeten the breath, by disinfecting the stomach, which, far from being injured will be benefitted by the medicine. If necessary, this may be repeated in the middle of the day. In some cases the odor arising from carious teeth is combined with that of the stomach. If the mouth is well rinsed with a teaspoonful of the solution of the chloride in a tumbler of water, the bad odor of the teeth will be removed.

FEROCIOUS DOGS.—The Supreme Court of California has recently had under consideration a curious case, arising from injuries received from a ferocious dog. The animal, though chained, bit a man, who received $500 damages from its owner. The latter appealed to the Supreme Court, but without avail. The Court held that a person has no more right to keep a ferocious dog than he has to keep a tiger, and that the owner of such an animal must bear the responsibility for any injury inflicted upon a third person, who is himself free from fault. This is approved by the Alta California, which says that it will be received with universal favor, as there are too many ferocious dogs in California, and too many persons who think it pleasant to keep them.

—The New Orleans Picayune tells a good story of a belle of that city, who, in company with several friends, was examining a fine picture gallery and admiring the beautiful paintings as only the intelligent and refined admire works of art. Finally she approached a group of paintings, in the centre of which was a large looking-glass, which reflected the young lady's full-length picture. One of the gentlemen, pointing to it, said: "See, Miss Laura, what a splendid picture." "Yes," she said, glancing at it hurriedly, and not perceiving that it was her own reflection, "it is a passable painting, but the subject is homely." "Indeed, are you in earnest?" "Certainly, quite a fright." "Look at it again." She did; but it is curious to observe that since then a noticeable coolness has sprung up between the young lady and her admirer.

SPROUTING POTATOES.—Sprouting the white potatoes will advance the crop two weeks. They should be cut so that about two eyes are allowed to each piece, and these should be planted in hot-beds with very thin covering of soil; or it is better to plant in boxes and set these in a hot-bed, so that after they are properly sprouted they can be at once carried to the place of planting. If the nights should be anyway cold, protect with a thin covering of straw when the plants make their appearance above ground. Some persons who want a large quantity sprouted, cut the potatoes as desired, and spread them on boards, boxes or crates, in a dark place, and when sprouted, say from an inch to an inch and a half, expose them to the light, moistening two or three times a week with tepid water. They should be planted out so that there is not more than two inches of soil over the sprouts.—Germantown Telegraph.

Consumption.

ITS CURE AND ITS PREVENTIVE,

By J. H. SCHENCK, M. D.

Many a human being has passed away, for whose death there was no other reason than the ignorance of known and indisputably proved means of cure. These near and dear to family and friends are sleeping the peaceless slumber into which, had they calmly adopted and availed themselves of his wonderfully efficacious medicines, they might have lived long.

Dr. JOSEPH H. SCHENCK'S SIMPLE TREATMENT,

Dr Schenck has in his own case proven that wherever sufficient vitality remains, that vitality, by his medicines and his directions for their use, is quickened into healthful vigor.

In this statement there is nothing presumptuous. To the faith of the invalid is made no representation that is not a thousand times substantiated by living and visible works. The theory of the cure by Dr. Schenck's medicines is as simple as it is unfailing. Its philosophy requires no argument. It is self assuring, self-convincing.

The Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills are the first two weapons which the disciple of this malady is assailed. Two-thirds of the cases of consumption originate in dyspepsia and a functionally disordered liver. With this condition the mesenteric tubes "sympathize" with the stomach. They respond to the morbific action of the liver. Here, then comes the culminating result, and the setting in, with all its distressing symptoms, of

CONSUMPTION.

The Mandrake Pills are composed of one of Nature's noblest gifts—the Podophillum Peltatum. They possess all the blood-searching, alterative properties of calomel, but unlike calomel, they

"LEAVE NO STING BEHIND."

The work of cure is now beginning. The vitiated and mucous deposits in the bowels and in the alimentary canal are ejected. The liver, like a clock, is wound up. It arouses from its torpidity. The stomach acts responsively, and the patient begins to feel that he is getting, at last,

A SUPPLY OF GOOD BLOOD.

The Seaweed Tonic, in conjunction with the Pills, permeates and assimilates with the food. Chyle, and mucous deposits in the bowels and in the alimentary canal are ejected. The liver, like a clock, is wound up. It arouses from its torpidity. The stomach acts responsively, and the patient begins to feel that he is getting, at last,

A SUPPLY OF GOOD BLOOD.

The liver, like a clock, is wound up. It arouses from its torpidity. The stomach acts responsively, and the patient begins to feel that he is getting, at last,

A SUPPLY OF GOOD BLOOD.

Now comes the greatest blood purifier ever yet given by an indulgent father to suffering man. Schenck's Pulmonic Syrup comes in to perform its functions and to hasten and complete the cure. It enters at once upon its work. Nature cannot be cheated. It collects and ripens the impaired and diseased portions of the lungs. In the form of gatherings it prepares them for expectoration, and so I in a very short time the malady is vanquished, the rotten tissue that it occupied is renovated and made new, and the patient, in all the dignity of regained vigor, goes forth to enjoy the manhood or womanhood that was

GIVEN UP AS LOST.

The second thing is, the patients must stay in a warm, room, until they get well; it is almost impossible to protect taking cold when the lungs are diseased, but it must be prevented or a cure cannot be effected. Fresh air and riding out, especially in this section of the country in the fall and winter season, are all wrong. Physicians who recommend that course lose their patients, if their lungs are badly diseased; and yet, because they are in the house they must not sit down quiet: they must walk about the room as much and as fast as their strength will bear, to get up a good circulation of blood. The patients must keep in good spirits—be determined to get well. This has a great deal to do with the appetite, and is the great point to gain.

To despair of cure after such evidence of possibility in the worst cases, and moral certainty in all others, is sinful. Dr. Schenck's personal statement to the Faculty of his own cure was in these modest words:

"Many years ago I was in the last stages of consumption: confined to my bed, and at one time my physicians thought that I could not live a week; then like a drowning man catching at straws, I heard of, and obtained the preparations which I now offer to the public, and they made a perfect cure of me. It seemed to me that I could feel them penetrate my whole system. They soon ripened the matter in the lungs so that I could spit up more than a pint of offensive yellow matter every morning for a long time. As soon as that began to subside, my cough, fever, pains and night sweats all began to leave me, and my appetite became so great that it was with difficulty that I could keep from eating too much. I soon gained my strength, and have grown in flesh ever since."

"I was wasted to the last by my recovery," added the Doctor, "then looking like a mere skeleton; my weight was only ninety-one pounds; my present weight is two hundred and twenty-five (225) pounds, and for years I have enjoyed uninterrupted health."

Dr. Schenck has discontinued his professional visits to New York and Boston. He or his son, Dr. J. H. Schenck, Jr., will continue to see patients at their office, No. 15 North Sixth street, Philadelphia, every Saturday, from 9 to 12 M. Those who wish a thorough examination with the Respirometer will be charged $5. The Respirometer declares the exact condition of the lungs, and patients can readily learn whether they are curable or not.

The best time for taking the medicines are during the hours of sleep, in the case of a child. Follow directions, and Kind Nature will do the rest. Regulating the system—use the Mandrake Pills or pills to keep the bowels loose; the three medicines need no other accompaniments than the simple instructions that accompany them: First, create appetite. Or returning health hunger is the most wholesome symptom. When food relishes, and digests readily learn whether they are curable or not.

Good blood at once follows, the cough loosens, the night sweats abated, the appetite improves, and wonderful symptoms are gone forever.

Dr. Schenck's medicines are constantly kept in tens of thousands of families. As a laxative or purgative, the Mandrake Pills are a standard preparation; Pectoral Syrup, as a cure for Mandrake Pills, coughs and colds, may be regarded as a prophylactic against consumption in any of its forms. The Pulmonic Syrup and Seaweed Tonic $1.50, a bottle, or $7.50 a half dozen. Mandrake Pills, 25 cents a box. For sale by all druggists and dealers.

ARE YOU GOING TO PAINT?

—IF SO, USE THE—

AVERILL CHEMICAL PAINT.

It is Cheaper, Handsomer and more durable than the best of other Paints. One Thousand Gallons of it worked in this City, in the year 1870, and not one complaint has come from those who have used it; but all speak in its favor; it is mixed ready for application, and is much easier put on than any other Paint, making a smooth, glossy surface for years, that can be cleaned with hot suds without injuring it. It is excellent for walls inside, in the place of paper.

I shall keep this season a large stock of Chemical Paints of all shades on hand, to accommodate customers who may prefer it, without delay in ordering it. Those who want to use the Chemical Paints and have had them misrepresented by those who deal in Lead and Oil, are invited to call and examine my Paints that have been on Buildings two years, and you will find them as fresh as if laid but one week.

I am prepared to do Painting by Contract, or by the job, using the Chemical Paint, or furnishing materials for painters who prefer to do it at very low wages. R. NORTON, Agent for selling the

FOR 45 CENTS—At the BOSTON CHEAP STORE

FIRST MORTGAGE

7 Per Cent. Gold Bonds,

ON A COMPLETED ROAD,

FREE OF U. S. TAX,

At 90 and Accrued Interest in Currency.

Burlington, Cedar Rapids and Minnesota Railway.

The completion of this Road has given to these Bonds an established character equal to any mortgage issue dealt in at the Stock Exchange. We are prepared to buy and sell them at any time, at our Banking House, at market price—thus placing them on the same basis for temporary or permanent investment, with Governments or any other security.

These bonds are a first and only mortgage on a railroad that has cost double the amount of the issue, and which commands, without competition, all the traffic of Northern Iowa and Southern Minnesota—shortening the distance from St. Paul to Chicago 45 miles, and to St. Louis nearly than 90 miles.

The net earnings are already largely in excess of interest on the bonds, and no doubt exists that they will more than double within the ensuing year.

A contract has been secured with the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy Railroad Company obligating the latter to invest 50 per cent. of gross earnings derived from traffic with the Burlington, Cedar Rapids and Minnesota Road in the bonds of this Company. This arrangement is a strong guarantee of the Bonds, and establishes a large sinking fund for their redemption.

The convertibility privilege in these bonds enables them to be exchanged for stock, at par, at any time. This secures to the holder, at his option, a share in any excess of earnings over the interest obligation.

An exchange of Government securities for these bonds returns 9½ per cent. interest, instead of 5 per cent., which is all that Governments pay at present price, besides leaving an immediate gain of about 21 per cent. in price for re-investment.

All marketable Securities taken in exchange free of Commission and Express charges. 12td WaS

A GREAT MEDICAL DISCOVERY!

DR. WALKER'S CALIFORNIA

VINEGAR BITTERS,

Hundreds of Thousands Bear Testimony to their Wonderful Curative Effects.

WHAT ARE THEY?

THEY ARE NOT A VILE FANCY DRINK,

Made of Poor Rum, Whiskey, Proof Spirits and Refuse Liquors doctored, spiced and sweetened to please the taste, called "Tonics," "Appetizers," "Restorers," &c., that lead the tippler on to drunkenness and ruin, but are a true Medicine, made from the Native Root and Herbs of California, free from all Alcoholic Stimulants. They are the GREAT BLOOD PURIFIER and a LIFE-GIVING PRINCIPLE, a perfect Renovator and Invigorator of the system, carrying off all poisonous matter and restoring the blood to a healthy condition. No person can take these Bitters according to direction and remain long unwell, provided the bones are not destroyed by mineral poison or other means, and the vital organs wasted beyond the point of repair.

For Inflammatory and Chronic Rheumatism and Gout, Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Bilious, Remittent and Intermittent Fevers, Diseases of the Blood, Liver, Kidneys and Bladder, these Bitters have been most successful. Such Diseases are caused by Vitiated Blood, which is generally produced by derangement of the Digestive Organs.

DYSPEPSIA OR INDIGESTION, Headache, Pain in the Shoulders, Coughs, Tightness of the Chest, Dizziness, Sour Eructations of the Stomach, Bad taste in the Mouth, Bilious Attacks, Palpitation of the Heart, Inflammation of the Lungs, Pain in the regions of the Kidneys, and a hundred other painful symptoms, are the offspring of Dyspepsia.

They invigorate the stomach and stimulate the torpid liver and bowels, which render them of unequalled efficacy in cleansing the blood of all impurities and imparting new life and vigor to the whole system.

FOR SKIN DISEASES, Eruptions, Tetter, Salt Rheum, Blotches, Spots, Pimples, Pustules, Boils, Carbuncles, Ring-Worms, Scald Head, Sore Eyes, Erysipelas, Itch, Scurfs, Discolorations of the Skin, Humors and Diseases of the Skin, of whatever name or nature, are literally dug up and carried out of the system in a short time by the use of these Bitters. One bottle in such cases will convince the most incredulous of their curative effect.

Cleanse the Vitiated Blood whenever you find its impurities bursting through the skin in Pimples, Eruptions or Sores; cleanse it when you find it obstructed and sluggish in the veins, cleanse it when it is foul, and your feelings will tell you when. Keep the blood pure, and the health of the system will follow.

PIN, TAPE and other WORMS, lurking in the system of so many thousands, are off-cually destroyed and removed. For full directions, read carefully the circular around each bottle, printed in four languages—English, German, French and Spanish.

FOR FEMALE COMPLAINTS, whether in young or old, married or single, at the dawn of womanhood or at the turn of life, these Tonic Bitters have no equal. ☞ Send for a circular.

They are a Gentle Purgative as well as a Tonic, possessing also, the peculiar merit of acting as a powerful agent in relieving Congestion or Inflammation of the Liver, and all the Visceral Organs. 1yrdawf6b16

which are issued upon this road, are limited in amount to $16,000 per mile (while many roads issue from $20,000 to $40 000,) and are offered at 90 and accrued interest, in currency. About two millions and a half of these bonds have already been disposed of, leaving but a small balance unsold, which are being rapidly taken.

The most experienced financiers agree that First Mortgage Bonds, to a limited amount, upon a finished railroad, which is well located for business, are one of the very safest forms of investment.

Parties desiring to secure a first-class security, based upon a railroad practically done, and in the hands of leading capitalists who have a large pecuniary and business interest in its success, will do well to apply at the office of the Company, or any of its advertised agents, for a pamphlet and map, showing the characteristics of the enterprise.

Holders of Government Bonds may exchange them for Central Iowas at a large present profit, beside a handsome increase of interest for a long term of years. Parties making such exchange will receive for each $1,000 Bond a $1,600 Central Iowa Bond, and the following difference in cash (less the accrued interest in currency upon the latter bond,) and in annual interest, this calculation being based upon market prices of December 27th, 1870:—

Our Correspondence.

BOSTON, March 28.

Years ago the boys of the High School, in your city, had not so pleasant a room in which to acquire the knowledge which should furnish them a start in the great school of life, yet many a bright mind has graduated from the damp, dark rooms of the old brick school-house on State Street.

Long before the "Sons of Portsmouth," as a body, made their first [and only] return to their place of nationality, a rather graceless fellow was a pupil of that school, laying up a small stock of wisdom and a long score of demerits, under the preceptorship of Israel Kimball, Esq. In the course of school routine this boy took his seat as monitor for the day, on the platform which extended along the State Street side of the schoolroom. The day was hot and sultry; the monitor was not particularly fond of reporting the misdeeds of others (as he had so often experienced the embrassing position in which such a course placed them;—in fact, he "knew how it was himself,") but he hated to be thought remiss in duty. So he made a list of all the boys attending the school, made as many marks derogatory to them as he thought they would submit to without murmurs, and—went to sleep.

Now it chanced there were two boys, more advanced than any class in the school, who never in all their attendance had received a "black mark." One, poor fellow, is dead; of the other, more hereafter. The monitor, in a spirit of mischief, marked them as well as the rest.

The day grew hotter, the monitor from lassitude tipped back his chair; he nodded, he slept, he awakened suddenly as his chair gave an extra lurch,—he saved himself, but the chair fell out of the window, which came down flush with the platform, or "rostrum," as it was grandiloquently styled. A stentorian inquiry from the principal elicited the fact from the monitor that he was "leaning back in his chair, and the legs slipped," so he was allowed to escape further punishment than sixteen demerits.

The grand explosion took place just before the dismissal of the school, when it was customary for the monitor to read his report for the day. He rose in his place, not without some slight trepidation, but with a voice in which there was no sign of flinching, read in loud tones:—"Rand, one." The accused (who was guiltless) arose, and calmly made a statement to that effect. The wicked monitor neither assented nor dissented. Next on the list came the other advanced scholar:—"L——, one," the monitor read from his record. Poor L—— made his defence as Rand had done before him.

This was too much for the principal. Calling the monitor by name he said; "I think you are in error; these young gentlemen have been in the school four years, and in that time have never received a bad mark from any cause whatever." "I know it," replied incorrigible, "and though it was time they had." The fourth power of the two marks he had given the good boys sufficed for the bad boy on this occasion; but when he got further down in his list, and read off the names of boys who had not been at school at all that day, with sundry marks for divers misdemeanors, the patience of the principal gave way, and he saddled enough demerits on the misguided monitor to satisfy the school of a township. He was never monitor again in that school.

I've a confession to make. Your correspondent is that bad boy, somewhat older. A week ago he met the principal at the polls in the ward room which now occupies the old school house, and a day or two since he read the enclosed article on "The Church by the Sea," from the pen of one of the good boys, both of which circumstances brought to mind his boyish escapade of so long ago. I hope you will publish the article for it has a moral that all should heed:—"without a seed time there can be no harvest; without a good beginning there can be no glorious finality." M.

THE CHURCH BY THE SEA.

BY REV. E. A. RAND.

Standing at late twilight near the eastern extremity of the long shelving sands of Salisbury Beach, a scene of much grandeur opens before you. The waters, a light sea-green at your feet, deepen in shade till they finally roll off in one vast surface of blue. Far to the right, Plum Island Light begins to flash. Miles away to the left, the light at Smith's Isles comes and goes like some torch, now quenched in the waters, then kindled again. Above the heavens, one golden lamp after another glimmers, as if for the mariner's sake there were lighthouses, also, far up those blue lights.

Behind you are the low green marshes stretching away toward the neighborhood of South Seabrook, where, through many a dophole in the trees, gleam friendly lights, as if in response to those upon the ocean and in the sky.

It is to that district, gifted by God with beautiful green nooks, to become one day the resort of many that toles out of the city, that a young church has erected its house of worship. The bell of this church by the sea is to send out tones that will mingle with the musical wash of the waters on the beach, and call many a wanderer home to God.

We were permitted to be at the laying of the corner-stone of the edifice. Coming down the road, we could tell the spot selected, by the yellow sand that had been disturbed and thrown out in large masses. It reminded us of the earthworks we used to see during the war, a line of which our boys in blue stretched across Virginia and Tennessee. Is not a church a fortress indeed? The people had rapidly gathered. There stood the men whose stout arms had dug the cellar, dragged the rock for the walls, and quarried out of the solid ledge that neat rim of granite.

In front were the little children gathered into the Sabbath school, and taught to sing of Jesus, bringing their offering of sweet songs to lay at his feet that day.

At their side were the mothers who had consecrated themselves to the rearing of Christian homes.

To this scene autumn had given its setting. All around were the trees with their brilliant colors, as if some heavenly host, with banners of purple and gold, had encircled the spot, and were looking on.

That was the day of the laying of the corner-stone. We have watched the progress of the work ever since,—the rearing of the church-edifice, and the establishing of regular Sabbath services within.

The history of this enterprise inwraps a lesson for us all, especially its beginning. It was one uncomfortable day in March that there came from Amesbury Village a sleigh, with difficulty making its way through the deep snows. The sleigh contained two young men, who carried with them an earnest desire to glorify Christ. They had resolved to secure the school-house in South Seabrook,—start prayer-meetings and Sabbath school there.

That was the beginning of the work. The schoolhouse was secured, meetings established; the work culminating in the forming of a church and the building of a house of worship.

It is to that beginning—the cherishing of that purpose to do something for Christ—we must go back to find our lesson.

Determine, fellow-Christian, that you'll do something. Form a purpose; form it in prayer. Do it to-day. There's a beginning that has value.

Then go to work and follow up your purpose in one steady, prolonged effort for Jesus from day to day.

Why, brother, sister, you don't know how much you can do; how much power there is about you that has never been brought out; what a quantity of waste resources you have.

When the scramble for California gold began, all up and down the streams in the gold country there were men anxiously sifting and washing the gathered sands. Rattle, rattle, went the rockers, from morn till night, all along the mountain-valleys. By and by the rattling died away: the gold had been gathered in. Men said, "Perhaps the supply is exhausted;" rocks beneath held their secret, and said nothing.

One day, there came a heavy machine-power. The rock was bared, blasted, crushed; and down from the mountain-valleys poured again the yellow stream into the markets of the world.

If you are willing that God should use you, fellow-disciple, you will find out that there are new powers, new energies, about you, to be developed.

Possibilities are very far from being exhausted. God's treasuries bid in your character have just begun to yield up their gold.

Only go to work, and let God use you, and bring out of you every thing valuable.

Believe in the value of a beginning, and form the purpose this very day to do something for Jesus.

WALTHAM
WATCHES.

The extensive use of these watches for the last fifteen years by Railway Conductors, Engineers and Expressmen, the most exacting of watch-wearers, has thoroughly demonstrated the strength, steadiness, durability and accuracy of the Waltham Watch. To satisfy that class in all these respects, is to decide the question as to the real value of these time-keepers.

More than 500,000 of these watches are now speaking for themselves in the pockets of the people—a proof and a guarantee of their superiority over all others.

The superior organization and great extent of the Company's Works at Waltham, enables them to produce watches at a price which renders competition futile, and those who buy any other watch merely pay from 25 to 50 per cent. more for their watches than is necessary.

These time-pieces combine every improvement that a long experience has proved of real practical use. Having had the refusal of nearly every invention in watch-making originating in this country or in Europe, only those were finally adopted which severe testing by the most skillful artisans in our works, and long use on the part of the public, demonstrated to be essential to correct and enduring time-keeping.

Among the many improvements we would particularize:—

The invention and use of a centre-pinion of peculiar construction, to prevent damage to the train by the breaking of main-springs, is original with the American Watch Company, who, having had the refusal of all other contrivances, secured Fogg's patent pinion as being the best and faultless.

Hardened and tempered hair-springs, now universally admitted by Watchmakers to be the best, are used in all grades of Waltham Watches.

All Waltham Watches have dust-proof caps, protecting the movements from dust and lessening the necessity of the frequent cleaning necessary in other watches.

Our new patent stem-winder, or keyless watch is already a decided success, and a great improvement on any stem-winding watch in the American market, and by far the cheapest watch of its quality now offered to the public. To those living in portions of the United States where watchmakers do not abound, watches with the above mentioned improvements, which tend to ensure accuracy, cleanliness, durability and convenience, must prove invaluable.

The trademarks of the various styles made by the Company are as follows:—

PAS ENCORE.

BY ROSA VERTNER JEFFREY.

Over the Rhine-land border, ere it gleamed with sword and lance,
Came a brave young German, wooing a dark-eyed maid of France,
And he pressed her slender fingers, lost in his stalwart hand,
Low whispering, "Come, love, go with me, to my own Fatherland."

Then redder flushed her olive cheeks than grapes upon the vine,
Which (clear and pale) kissed by the sun, like clustered garnets shine,
As, pointing to an old chateau, beside the rushing Loire,
She bowed her head upon his breast, and whispered, "Pas encore."

He raised his downcast face and said, "I have a home more fair,
Where thou shalt reign a very queen"—she faltered forth—"Mon pere?"
"Thou shalt return to him again—come, love, Je vous adore,"
"Toujours le votre," then she cried "toujours le meme—mais, pas encore"

He kissed her lips, he kissed her brow, and from her lustrous eyes,
He kissed the tears—warm tropic rain of Love's dark midnight skies!
Then turned and left her—both were brave—their sorrow who can know?
The soldier goes to his Fatherland—the girl to that old chateau.

* * * * * * * *

Over the Rhine-land border, amid shot and shell, and flame,
Through blood-red fields, where vultures swooped, once more the soldier came,
A sabre cut across his brow, yet heedless of his smart,
He sought, through reeking ruins, for the darling of his heart.

The old chateau was desolate, the old French noble dead,
And to a convent's sheltering walls that lonely girl had fled.
He knelt and prayed her go with him beyond the blood-stained Loire,
Smiling, she said, "We should be foes," then, weeping, "Pas encore."

* * * * * * * *

Over the Rhine land border, on a crimson battle-plain,
At last that dark-eyed maiden sought her lover 'mid the slain,
And 'mid the slain she found him, but her white hands staunched the gore
Upon his breast, while thus she prayed, "Bon Dieu, Oh, pas encore!"

Baptized in hight, red-battle-fields are starred with flowers again;
Baptized in joy, the heart may bloom, to rapture, spring from pain,
And as the light glimmered in that soldier's eye once more,
When she whispered "Do not leave me," he answered, "Pas encore."

THE WINDOW GARDEN.—It is yet very early in the season. Don't think, kind readers of this column, because the snow is all off and the birds singing, that you are "backward with your garden work," for it is only April. And do we not need the warm weather of late May or the opening days of June, before it is suitable to put out many flowers in this cold climate of ours? So, although you are in ample season, we beg of you to lose no time in preparing your seed-bed for the delicate seeds of tender or half hardy annuals, which you will remove to the flower border as soon as the soil and temperature will admit.

Having a shoal box, the sides of which are not more than three inches high, place this so as to command the entire light from a south or east window. The box may be as long as the window is wide, and run back a foot or eighteen inches—the larger it is the more room you will have for the different kinds of seed. If you thought about it last fall, you stored in the cellar a quantity of garden loam or sand for the very purpose of starting the flower seeds this spring. If you did not, obtain some from a sheltered position, and after thoroughly drying it, and first placing in the bottom of the box a suitable quantity of fine old rotten manure, sprinkle this earth over it to the depth of two inches.

Let this remain in the window for a few days before sowing the seeds. Sow first those of the tender annals, such as asters, balsams, amaranthus, marigolds, celosa, &c. Cover very lightly, pressing the seeds into the earth with a light garden trowel is sufficient for very small ones, giving larger ones a heavier covering. A week or two later put in seeds of the hardy annuals, that can be sooner removed to the border than those just mentioned.

Among those that bloom profusely and make a constant display, are zinnias, petunias, pansies, stocks, mignonette, phlox, portulacca, &c. Indeed, the latter are often planted directly in the border, but we prefer to start them in the window or hot bed, as they come immaturity sooner, bloom earlier, and for anything we know, as late. They will want a gentle watering from the sprinkler, occasionally, and before the seeds have sprouted it is a good plan to lay a newspaper over the window box during the middle of the day. This assists germination by keeping away the light and the extreme heat of the sun, and prevents evaporation. After seeds come up this process can be discontinued.—Maine Farmer.

Portsmouth, N. H.

FRIDAY, MARCH 31, 1871.

THE REPUBLICAN STATE COMMITTEE met at Concord, Wednesday evening, and a large number of the prominent men of the party were in attendance. The reverse of the 14th inst. has had a good effect on many who had forgotten their interest in the great cause and will overweening confidence failed to show their faith by work necessary to success. Speeches were made by Hons. E. H. Rollins, Geo. G. Fogg, Wm. B. Small, A. F. Stevens, S. G. Griffin, Horton D. Walker, George W. Nesmith and many others.

The causes of defeat were discussed and the testimony showed that in every section of the State, there had been discord or want of unanimity in the Republican ranks. The feeling was general that the failure to carry the State by the usual majority was owing to disorganization caused by quarrels which made some lukewarm and others indifferent.

An encouraging indication of future harmony was shown by the fact that the speakers asserted that long standing difficulties had been adjusted since election, dissensions healed, old quarrels settled, and an unmistakable disposition prevailed that the party would rally at the next election, reunited, harmonious and with a determination to win a victory that shall place New Hampshire once more in the front rank of Republican States. There will be no more drawn battles in the old Granite State. The campaign of 1872 will be just the liveliest affair the Democracy of this State ever experienced; it is to be an earnest contest between Right and Wrong. The Republicans propose to "go for" their opponents as they never went before—and in that resolution lies the coming victory.

CONGRESS.

On the 29th, in the Senate, Mr. Schurz concluded his brilliant speech on Santo Domingo. In conclusion he said he was willing to call the whole sad affair not a crime, not a misdemeanor, but simply a mistake, and dwelt on the tendencies of President Grant's military education, but said the republican party was not justly responsible for his acts in this matter and cannot venture to assume the responsibility. Let us, he said, give our great commander all our gratitude, but do not throw the laws of the republic at his feet.

Messrs. Morton and Harlan replied, the latter moving the previous question on tabling Mr. Sumner's resolutions. Mr. Sumner tried in vain to get a chance to reply, and the resolutions were tabled—39 to 16.

The House discussed the Ku-Kluk bill.

NARRAGANSETT STEAMSHIP CO.—Via Newport and Fall River. The splendid steamers Bristol and Providence will resume their trips in the line for the summer season on Monday, April 3d, leaving Pier 50, North River, New York, foot of Chambers Street, on alternate days, (Sundays excepted), at 5 P. M. Grand Promenade Concert on each steamer, every evening, by Hall's celebrated Boston Brass, String and Reed Bands.

—The editor of The Court Circular says that there is a striking fallacy about women; and that is, that they do not weigh much. One would suppose, from the particularity of his statistics, he had been lifting a great number of representative specimens. The result of his trials is a conviction that it is no easy thing to carry one's cousin up three pairs of stairs. We print this conclusion exactly as we find it, and can only regret that we have not had the requisite experience to pass judgment upon its correctness.—Golden Age.

—Wedding invitations now contain more cards than ever, viz; first, the bride's card; second, the groom's; thirdly, the bride's mother; then the ceremony card; then the invitation to the reception; then the cards containing the married name of the young couple in full, and the days of their post-honeymoon receptions; then a card containing the names of the bridesmaids, ushers and groomsmen; and lastly, a card engraved with "Please present this at the door."

—The first railroad projected in Iowa was the "Ram's Horn" road, in 1845. It was to run from Dubuque to Keokuk, and was to touch all the towns within a distance of one hundred miles from the Mississippi. Its line was the crookedest one ever thought of. There was intense excitement over it during the two years it was before the people, and at last the ways of its friends became as crooked as its route, and it collapsed, never more to be inflated with life.

—Joy to an afflicted people. George Francis Train will soon leave for France. The above may be construed ambiguously.

—Littleberry Strange is a Judge in Alabama.

A FINE STORE.—When No. 12 Summer Street, Boston, was occupied by the dry goods firm of Chandler & Co., it was considered an elegant store, and with good reason. Located in the best portion of the city, of great depth and ample width, well lighted, high studded, and in a fine granite building, this store will ever be among the finest in the city.

A few months since we noticed that this elegant store had been occupied by the large firm of Clark, Plympton & Co., Importers, Jobbers and Retailers of Crockery, Glass and China Ware, but we had no idea until recently of the immense and varied stock comprehended in the large rooms occupied by this firm. Mr. Plympton has long been known by the trade throughout New England as the head of the firm of Nath'l Plympton & Co., 143 Milk Street. Establishing a wholesale house on that street when Abram French was the only other house in the locality, he carried on the business until signs of Crockery, Glass and China Ware almost monopolized his immediate vicinity. The increase of business, and the desire to be in a more suitable location to accommodate purchasers of the finer varieties of goods (for the production and importation of which the firm has especial advantages,) induced the removal of this house to their present spacious quarters.

Setting aside the packing and wholesale departments, for domestic and foreign goods of the plainer manufactures needed by every housekeeper, the main attraction is the great salesroom, where articles of ornament and general utility are displayed in bewildering variety. The immense show window is filled with all that is most useful in china, porcelain, glass and parian, either for parlor ornamentation or for daily use. Passing this temptation to lavish expenditure, we found the store a series of new temptations (outnumbering the "Twelve Temptations" many times).

Here was a Jardiniere in mosaic that would fit a bay window so exquisitely; there were a pair of vases that would excite the envy of all the neighbors if placed on the mantel; statuettes in endless variety, and of many different materials, with beautiful, grotesque and unique novelties for ornament and use upon office desk, parlor mantel or whatnot. Passing the array of cuspidores, and other necessaries to housekeeping, the beautiful groups in parian, and other attractive objects, our eyes were riveted upon a most tempting array of elaborately decorated glass in all the finer grades of Crystal and Bohemian, delicate with fine engraving and resplendent with gold and rich colors. An immense show case glittered with the choicest articles in silver plate, while another department bristled with a large array of table cutlery.

We have not the space to further detail the fine goods in every department of Messrs. C., P. & Co.'s great store, but can only say that it will be difficult to find a store wherein so complete an assortment of useful or ornamental goods in their line is for sale at prices below competition. Orders by mail will be promptly filled, and our readers may be assured of most courteous treatment if they call to make their purchases in person.

—Those in this city who are entitled to know, say there is no foundation for the report circulated in Boston, relative to an amicable agreement of the Eastern and Boston & Maine Railroad Companies to jointly use the Portland, Saco & Portsmouth Railroad. The Boston & Maine mean to be independent.—Portland Argus.

—At the beginning of the Franco-German war two barbers in Temesvar, Hungary, agreed to commit suicide if the French should be conquered by the Prussians. They were as good as their word. At the news of the surrender of Paris both blew their brains out, leaving a letter which ended with "Vive la France!"

—The New York papers speak of "Boston props" as "the game that is to replace keno," and proceed to give a detailed description of the shells and the method of playing.

—All the ladies of Cincinnati are saying, "O my!" over a female infant, born in that city on Wednesday, and weighing precisely one and a half pounds at his birth.

—Colonel Sam James has recently introduced a new regulation into the penitentiary. Hereafter all prisoners are to be washed before they are ironed.—N. O. Times.

—A religious joke from the Independent:—When a ritualist pastor "intones" his service does his performance resemble that of Toby Pastor?

—The leading editorial in a Chicago paper last week was entitled "Three Blind Mice," and referred to Senators Blair, Bayard and Stevenson.

—"O Lord, we thank Thee for the goodly number here to-night, and Thou also art here, nothwithstanding the inclemency of the weather."

—The Augusta Journal speaks of raising pigs as "hogriculture."

CLEANING SEED GRAIN.—Many tillers of the soil are in such haste to get their seed in early that they often sow the seeds of foul weeds, mixed grain, and all the half-matured and worthless kernels; and they often wish, ten days after their seed time has passed, that the grain was all back in the granary. Oats are very apt to contain a vast amount of foul seed. Seed barley is frequently rendered unfit for seed by the small quantity of wheat, oats and buckwheat mingled with it.

Before any grain is sowed, or drilled in, let it be run slowly through a good farming-mill, giving a heavy blast, so as to remove all light and small kernels. Adjust the screen-board so that the grain may drop near the outer edge of the screen and thus be sure to catch every foul seed in the screen-box. There is no profit in sowing inferior seed; and with the aid of such farming-mills as are now made, a farmer has no excuse for sowing the seeds of noxious weeds.

—Bonner is said to be worth $3,000,000.

Dr. SAGE'S CATARRH REMEDY is no Patent Medicine humbug gotten up to delude the ignorant and credulous, nor is it represented as being "composed of rare and precious substances, brought from the four corners of the earth, carried seven times across the Great Desert of Sahara on backs of foaming camels, and brought across the Atlantic Ocean on two ships." It is a simple, mild, pleasant, soothing Remedy, a perfect specific for Chronic Nasal Catarrh, "Cold in the head," and kindred diseases. The proprietor, R. V. Pierce, M. D., of Buffalo, N.Y., offers a reward of $500 for a case of Catarrh he cannot cure. For Sale by most druggists every where. Sent by mail, postpaid, for sixty cents. SPECIAL NOTICES.

The Purest and Safest.

The efficacy of HOSTETTER'S CELEBRATED STOMACH BITTERS as a specific for recruiting the enfeebled body and cheering the depending mind, has passed into a proverb. In the United States, where this marvelous tonic has borne down all opposition, and eclipsed all rivalry, the demand for it has annually increased in a heavier and heavier ratio for years, until, at last, the regular sales of this preparation exceed those of all other stomachics combined. Eminent members of the medical profession and hospital surgeons without number, have candidly admitted that the pharmacopœia of the faculty contains no prescription that produces such beneficial effects in dyspepsia, general debility and nervous diseases, as Hostetter's Bitters. To use the language of a venerable physician of New York. "The Bitters are the purest stimulant and the safest tonic we have." But the uses of the great vegetable antidote are much more comprehensive than such praise would imply. As a preparatory antidote to epidemic disease, a genial stimulant, a promoter of constitutional vigor, an appetizer, a stomachic, and a remedy for nervous debility, no medicinal preparation has ever attained the reputation of Hostetter's Bitters. It is the household tonic of the American people, and in all human probability will be so for centuries to come. The magnates of Europe recognize its merits; and that it is emphatically the medicine of the masses, is proven by its vast and ever increasing sales.

Each proposal must be accompanied by a guarantee signed by two responsible persons, that if the proposal is accepted, the bidder will at once enter into a contract in accordance therewith, and that the guarantors will become his sureties in a sum equal to one-fourth the amount of the contract, for its faithful performance.

Proposals must be made on separate sheets for the amounts of wood, coal, corn, oats, hay or straw respectively, to be delivered at each station above named, stating the price, per cord, (128 feet) of wood; per ton (2000 pounds) of coal, hay or straw; or per bushel (32 pounds) of oats (56 pounds of corn) at which the supplies will be delivered at each station.

Proposals may be made for delivery of the supplies required at any one or more of the stations.

No proposal will be entertained that is not made in accordance with this advertisement, and the right is reserved to reject any or all bids, not considered advantageous to the public service, or to accept such portion of any bid as may be deemed of advantage to the public interest, or to receive the whole or any portion of the supplies that may be contracted for.

Proposals must be marked "Proposal for ——" (wood, coal, hay, oats, corn or straw, as the case may be) and addressed to the undersigned, from whom further information may be obtained.

A REMARKABLE RAT.—We often hear stories related of the wonderful cunning and knowledge of the rat, but one is told, says the Ogdensburg (New York) Journal, of a recent occurrence, in which a real old gray rat was the hero, and the incident whereof took place in that city, which is equal to the best. A lady who has a number of fine hens, to which she has devoted a good deal of care and attention during the winter, in hopes to obtain an early and fair crop of fresh eggs, was surprised at the meagre result actually reached. The hens made noise, in singing and cackling, enough for every-day layers, and yet only occasionally did she get an egg.

The lady at length determined to watch operations and ascertain, if possible, the cause of failure. She saw the hens go upon the nest, but if she was not present when they came off no egg was found. At length constant watching and waiting solved the mystery. A day or two since, while on the watch, a hen came off the nest and commenced cackling. Almost instantly an old rat came out of a hole, and running into a barrel, which was thrown down upon its side, and in which the hen's nest was, at once nosed the egg out upon the ground, then laid down upon its back, and getting the egg between its fore-paws and nose, commenced squealing, when two other rats came out and taking the rat with the egg by the hind legs dragged it—egg and all—into the hole. The lady affirms that she can substantiate the foregoing fact by at least three living witnesses. If any one can tell a more remarkable rat story than this we would like to hear it.

—Rev. Thomas K. Beecher is arguing in favor of capital punishment. He says, "To send a man out of this world to give an account of himself before the Judge of all the earth, has never seemed to us a very great hardship or cruelty." Yes, but Tom, how does it seem to the man himself? That portion of a hanging which is performed by the officiating clergyman is perhaps no great hardship. But the neck that is checked, the body that writhes, the eyeballs that start from their sockets, the heart that swells and breaks in pent-up-rage:—all this may possibly seem to the victim something very like "hardship and cruelty."—Golden Age.

Consumption,

ITS CURE AND ITS PREVENTIVE,

By J. H. SCHENCK, M. D.

Many a human being has passed away, for whose death there was no other reason than this neglect of known and indisputably proved means of cure. These near and dear to family and friends are sleeping the dreamless slumber into which, had they calmly adopted and availed themselves of his wonderfully efficacious medicines, they would not have fallen.

Dr. JOSEPH H. SCHENCK'S SIMPLE TREATMENT,

Dr. Schenck has in his own case proven that wherever sufficient vitality remains, that vitality, by his medicines and his directions for their use, is quickened into fruitful vigor.

In this statement there is nothing presumptuous. To the faith of the invalid is made no representation that is not a thousand times substantiated by living and visible works. The theory of the cure by Dr. Schenck's medicines is as simple as it is unerring. Its philosophy requires no argument. It is self assuring, self-convincing.

The Mandrake Pills and Mandrake Pills are the first two weapons with which the citadel of the mandy is assailed. Two-thirds of the cases of consumption originate in dyspepsia and a functionally disordered liver. With this condition the bronchial tubes "sympathize" with the stomach. They respond to the morbific action of the liver. Here, then comes the culminating result, and the setting in, with all its distressing symptoms, of

CONSUMPTION.

The Mandrake Pills are composed of one of Nature's noblest gifts—the Pedophillum Peltatum. They possess all the blood-searching, alterative properties of calomel, but unlike calomel, they

"LEAVE NO STING BEHIND."

The work of cure is now beginning. The vitiated and mucous deposits in the bowels and in the alimentary canal are ejected. The liver, like a clock, is wound up. It arouses from its torpidity. The stomach acts responsively, and the patient begins to feel that he is getting, at last,

A SUPPLY OF GOOD BLOOD.

The Seaweed Tonic, in conjunction with the Pills, permeates and assimilates with the food. Chylification is now progressing, without its previous torture. Digestion becomes painless, and the cure is seen to be at hand. There is no more flatulence, no exacerbation of the stomach. An appetite sets in.

Now comes the greatest Blood Purifier ever yet given by an indulgent father to suffering man. Schenck's Pulmonic Syrup comes in to perform its functions and to hasten and complete the cure. It enters at once upon its work. Nature cannot be cheated. It collects and ripens the impaired and diseased portions of the lungs. In the form of expectoration it prepares them for expectoration, and lo! in a very short time the malady is vanquished, the rotten thorax that it occupied is renovated and made new, and the patient, in all the dignity of regained vigor, steps forth to enjoy the manhood or womanhood that was

GIVEN UP AS LOST.

The second thing is, the patients must stay in a warm room, until they get well; it is almost impossible to prevent taking cold when the lungs are diseased, but it must be prevented or a cure cannot be effected. Fresh air and riding out, especially in this section of the country in the fall and winter seasons, are all wrong. Physicians who recommend that course lose their patients, if their lungs are badly diseased; and yet, because they are lost, those they lost sit down quietly and quiet; they must walk about the room as much and as fast as the strength will bear, to get up a good circulation of blood. The patients must keep in good spirits—be determined to get well. This has a great deal to do with the appetite, and is the great point to gain.

To despair of cure after such evidence of its possibility in the worst cases, and moral cowardice in all others, is sinful. Dr. Schenck's personal statement to the Faculty of his own cure was in these modest words:

"Many years ago I was in the last stages of consumption: confined to my bed, and at one time my physicians thought that I could not live a week; then like a drowning man catching at straws, I heard of, and obtained Mandrake Pills, which I now offer to the public, and they made a perfect cure of me. It seemed to me that I could feel them penetrate my whole system; they soon ripened the matter in my lungs, and I would spit up more than a pint of offensive yellow matter every morning for a long time. As soon as that began to subside, my cough, fever, pains and night sweats all began to leave me, and my appetite became so great that it was with difficulty that I could keep from eating too much. Soon gained my strength, and have proven to be here since."

"I was weighed shortly after my recovery," added the Doctor, "weighing like a mere skeleton; my weight was only ninety-seven pounds; my present weight is two hundred and twenty-five (225) pounds, and for years I have enjoyed uninterrupted health."

Dr. Schenck has discontinued his professional visits to New York and Boston. He or his son, Dr. J. H. Schenck, Jr., still continue to see patients at their office, No. 15 South Sixth street, Philadelphia, every Saturday from 9 A. M. to 3 P. M. Those who wish a thorough examination with the Respirometer will be charged $5. The Respirometer declares the exact condition of the lungs, and patients can readily learn whether they are curable or not.

The directions for taking the medicines are adapted to the intelligence even of a child. Follow these directions, and kind Nature will do the rest, excepting that in some cases the Mandrake Pills are to be taken in increased doses; the three medicines need no other accompaniments than the ample instructions that accompany them: First, create vigorous, healthy digestion; then comes the most welcome symptom. When it comes, as it will come, let the despairing of cure be of good cheer. Good blood is once follows, the cough loosens, the night sweat is abated. In a short time both of these morbid symptoms are no more.

Dr. Schenck's medicines are constantly kept in tens of thousands of families. As a laxative or purgative pill, the Mandrake Pills are a standard preparation: while the Pulmonic Syrup, as a cure of coughs and colds, and the Seaweed Tonic, as a bracer against consumption in any of its forms.

Price of the Pulmonic Syrup and Seaweed Tonic $1.50, a bottle, or $15 per dozen. Mandrake Pills, 25 cents a box. For sale by all druggists and dealers.

ARE YOU GOING TO PAINT?

—IF SO, USE THE—

AVERILL CHEMICAL PAINT.

It is Cheaper, Handsomer and more durable than the best of other Paints. One Thousand Gallons of it were sold in this City, in the year 1870, and not one complaint has come from those who have used it; but all speak in its favor; it is mixed ready for application, and is much easier put on than any other Paint, making a smooth, glossy surface to cover, that can be cleaned with hot suds without injuring it. It is excellent for walls inside, in the place of paper.

I shall keep this season a large stock of Chemical Paints of all shades on hand, to accommodate customers with any amount, without delay in ordering it. Those who want to use the Chemical Paints and have had them misrepresented by those who deal in Lead and Oil, are invited to call and examine my Paints that have been on Buildings two years, and you will find them as fresh as if laid but one month.

I am prepared to do Painting by Contract, or by the day, using the Chemical Paint, or furnishing good expert-uced workmen by the day at very low wages. B. NORTON, only Agent for selling the

FOR 45 CENTS—At the BOSTON CHEAP STORE

FIRST MORTGAGE

7 Per Cent. Gold Bonds,

ON A COMPLETED ROAD,

FREE OF U. S. TAX,

At 90 and Accrued Interest in Currency.

Burlington, Cedar Rapids and Minnesota Railway.

The completion of this Road has given to these Bonds an established character equal to any mortgage issue dealt in at the Stock Exchange. We are prepared to buy and sell them at any time, at our Banking House, at market price—thus placing them on the same basis; for temporary or permanent investment, with Governments or any other security.

These bonds are a first and only mortgage on a railroad that has cost double the amount of the issue, and which commands, without competition, all the traffic of Northern Iowa and Southern Minnesota—shortening the distance from St. Paul to Chicago 45 miles, and to St. Louis more than 90 miles.

The net earnings are already largely in excess of interest on the bonds, and no doubt exists that they will more than double within the ensuing year.

A contract has been secured with the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy Railroad Company obligating the latter to invest 50 per cent. of gross earnings derived from traffic with the Burlington, Cedar Rapids and Minnesota Road in the bonds of this Company. This arrangement is a strong guarantee of the Bonds, and establishes a large sinking fund for their redemption.

The convertibility privilege in these bonds enables them to be exchanged for stock, at par, at any time. This secures to the holder, at his option, a share in any excess of earnings over the interest obligation.

An exchange of Government securities for these bonds returns 9½ per cent. interest, instead of 6 per cent., which is all that Governments pay at present price, besides leaving an immediate gain of about 20 per cent. in price for re-investment.

All marketable Securities taken in exchange free of Commission and Express charges. f24dWaS

A GREAT MEDICAL DISCOVERY!

DR. WALKER'S CALIFORNIA

VINEGAR BITTERS,

Hundreds of Thousands Bear Testimony to their Wonderful Curative Effects.

WHAT ARE THEY?

THEY ARE NOT A VILE FANCY DRINK,

Made of Poor Rum, Whiskey, Proof Spirits and Refuse Liquors doctored, spiced and sweetened to please the taste, called "Tonics," "Appetizers," "Restorers," &c., that lead the tippler on to drunkenness and ruin, but are a true Medicine, made from the Native Root and Herbs of California, free from all Alcoholic Stimulants. They are the GREAT BLOOD PURIFIER and a LIFE-GIVING PRINCIPLE, a perfect Renovator and Invigorator of the system, carrying off all poisonous matter and restoring the blood to a healthy condition. No person can take these Bitters according to direction and remain long unwell, provided the bones are not destroyed by mineral poison or other means, and the vital organs wasted beyond the point of repair.

For Inflammatory and Chronic Rheumatism and Gout, Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Bilious, Remittent and Intermittent Fevers, Diseases of the Blood, Liver, Kidneys and Bladder, these Bitters have been most successful. Such Diseases are caused by Vitiated Blood, which is generally produced by derangement of the Digestive Organs.

DYSPEPSIA OR INDIGESTION, Headache, Pain in the Shoulders, Coughs, Tightness of the Chest, Dizziness, Sour Eructations of the Stomach, Bad taste in the Mouth, Bilious Attacks, Palpitation of the Heart, Inflammation of the Lungs, Pain in the regions of the Kidneys, and a hundred other painful symptoms, are the offspring of Dyspepsia.

They invigorate the stomach and stimulate the torpid liver and bowels, which render them of unequalled efficacy in cleansing the blood of all impurities and imparting new life and vigor to the whole system.

FOR SKIN DISEASES, Eruptions, Tetter, Salt Rheum, Blotches, Spots, Pimples, Pustules, Boils, Carbuncles, Ring-Worms, Scald Head, Sore Eyes, Erysipelas, Itch, Scurfs, Discolorations of the Skin, Humors and Diseases of the Skin, of whatever name or nature, are literally dug up and carried out of the system in a short time by the use of these Bitters. One bottle in such cases will convince the most incredulous of their curative effect.

Cleanse the Vitiated Blood whenever you find its impurities bursting through the skin in Pimples, Eruptions or Sores; cleanse it when you find it obstructed and sluggish in the veins, cleanse it when it is foul, and your feelings will tell you when. Keep the blood pure, and the health of the system will follow.

PIN, TAPE and other WORMS, lurking in the system of so many thousands, are effectually destroyed and removed. For full directions, read carefully the circular around each bottle, printed in four languages—English, German, French and Spanish.

FOR FEMALE COMPLAINTS, whether in young or old, married or single, at the dawn of womanhood or at the turn of life, these Tonic Bitters have no equal. ☞ Send for a circular.

They are a Gentle Purgative as well as a Tonic, possessing also the peculiar merit of acting as a powerful agent in relieving Congestion or Inflammation of the Liver, and all the Visceral Organs. lyrdawf6b16

First Mortgage

7 PER CENT. GOLD BONDS,

which are issued upon this road, are limited in amount to $16,000 per mile (while many roads issue from $20,000 to $40,000,) and are offered at 90 and accrued interest, in currency. About two millions and a half of these bonds have already been disposed of, leaving but a small balance unsold, which are being rapidly taken.

The most experienced financiers agree that First Mortgage Bonds, to a limited amount, upon a finished railroad, which is well located for business, are one of the very safest forms of investment.

Parties desiring to secure a first-class security, based upon a railroad practically done, and in the hands of leading capitalists who have a large pecuniary and business interest in its success, will do well to apply at the office of the Company, or any of its advertised agents, for a pamphlet and map, showing the characteristics of the enterprise.

			Difference in Cash	Incr'd annual Interest in Currency.	Incr'd annual int. Exchange. upon investment.

Northern Pacific Railroad Co.

These bonds are secured, first, by a First Mortgage on the Railroad itself, the rolling-stock, and all equipments; second, by a First Mortgage on its entire Land Grant, being more than Twenty-Two Thousand Acres of Land to each mile of Road.

The Bonds are free from United States Tax; the Principal and Interest are payable in Gold the Principal at the end of Thirty years, and the Interest Semi-annually, at the rate of SEVEN AND THREE-TENTHS PER CENT. per annum.

They are issued in denominations of $100, $500, $1,000, $5,000 and $10,000.

The Trustees under the Mortgage are Messrs. Jay Cooke, of Philadelphia, and J. Edgar Thomson, President of the Pennsylvania Central Railroad Company.

These Northern Pacific 7-30 Bonds will at all times before maturity, be receivable at TEN PER CENT. PREMIUM (or 1.10) in exchange for the Company's lands at their lowest cash price.

HOW TO GET THEM.—Your nearest Bank or Banker will supply these Bonds in any desired amount, and of any needed denomination. Persons wishing to exchange stocks or other bonds for Bonds, can do so with any of our Agents, who will allow the highest current price for ALL MARKETABLE SECURITIES.

Those living in localities remote from Banks, may send money, or other bonds, directly to us by express, and we will send back Northern Pacific Bonds at our own risk, and without cost to the investor. THE GULF STREAM—ITS ORIGIN.—The Gulf Stream is nothing more nor less than a great thermal spring in the ocean, and is in every respect similar to one on land. To produce this great oceanic phenomenon we have only to substitute the arctic basin for an elevated mountain; and, instead of underground temperature derived from a few square rods of the interior, take that afforded by 145,000,000 of square miles 20,000 feet nearer the interior, and the thermal spring formed! The difference is only quantitative.

These currents, which rest on the bottom of the sea, are colder and denser than ice, and could not be lifted to the surface were it not for the forces from the interior. Abstracting that heat from the crust which underlies the sea, it will naturally be suggested that this process must chill this crust to a greater depth than the atmosphere does terra firma, and thus render the effective force of the interior as feeble on the bottom of the sea as on the surface of the land hemispheres. Fourrier, from observations made on terra firma, finds that the loss of heat which the globe daily sustains is too feeble to play any important part. If he be correct, the temperature of the oceanic waters could never have been obtained from the amount of heat which passes through the land hemispheres. Yet there is this actual presence of heat—which we have shown cannot have accumulated from the solar ray—and the only way open is to associate it with some law to which it either now is or has been related.

It will be admitted that when these waters were of such a high temperature as to produce a tropical climate around the shores of Greenland, they did not receive that heat from the sun, but from the interior. Seeing that at one time there was a law which produced so high a temperature through this crust, why should we discredit its present existence, when the temperature has only sunk 30° since? Heat always preserves the coefficient of expansion, and when matter is in a fluid state this coefficient must exist. Whatever inequalities may take place in the relation of these condensed atoms on the crust, the form of the fluid interior remains unchanged, inasmuch as the expansion continues. As the heat became lost from the interior of the earth, and its fluid diameter diminished, these water hemispheres, still retaining their reciprocal relation to the centre, went down to a corresponding depth. The crust which underlies the sea was therefore always a distance equaling the ocean's depth nearer the fluid part.

How, we would ask, could 145,000,000 of square miles of water, 15,000 feet deep, be kept at a temperature of 70° unless an igneous fluid world as large as the planet Mars, existed directly under them? This is by no means speculation, when we have considered the amount of heat contained in a single cubic foot of water at this temperature. The cause which produced the sinking of the water hemispheres in the first instance has always continued. As the solid crust of the globe condenses and contracts its folds, the crust which underlies the sea, being the lower fold, is forced into a much closer relation with the fluid part. The calculations made by Fourrier are, therefore, of no value, for they were formed, according to Dr. Mayer, from observations made on terra firma—under a clear apprehension of the mode by which the interior heat was transmitted.

Tyndall makes an excellent illustration of the principle for which we have contended, but for a far different purpose. He fills two kettles with warm water, and around one of them wraps a moist blanket. He finds that the water in the kettle thus surrounded cools much more rapidly than the other—demonstrating that it has the better radiation of the two. Applying this demonstration to the earth, let us consider our globe a kettle of larger proportions—not filled with warm water, but with incandescent fluid matter—found three-fourths of which is placed (not a blanket merely) an aqueous envelope of ice coldness at the bottom, with wonderful powers of radiation at the surface, and we will then have no difficulty in determining how the waters of the ocean have always received their temperature, and how the interior loses its heat.

WILLIAM L. WALKER in Harper's Magazine for April.

EARLY GARDENING.—The aspects of a garden will make seven to fifteen days' difference in the proper time for preparing the soil and putting in the seed. If some soils are spaded too early in the season, the particles will settle compactly together before the roots of plants have spread to half the desired extent; and plants will not grow as thriftily, as if the soil had not been worked so early in the season. As soon as noxious weeds begin to appear, it will be time to plant some sorts of garden vegetables. The seeds of others should not be put in until the ground has become thoroughly warmed. In some parts of the garden, two or three crops of weeds may be destroyed by raking the surface before seed time. Seeds will germinate sooner in soil just spaded, than when planted where the seed-bed has long been waiting for the seed.

—Somebody has given a droll paraphrase of the George-Washington-and-his-hatchet story. He says General Butler and Wendell Phillips were in the garden of the White House, waiting to see the President. They were kept there for some time, when Butler, picking up a hatchet, began cutting the trees to beguile the time. Grant soon after appeared, and asked, "Who has been hacking these trees?" Butler answered, "I cannot tell a lie, Mr. President: it was Wendell Phillips."

All the NEW DISCOVERIES of the author, whose experience is such as probably never before fell to the lot of any man, are given in full. No person should be without these valuable books.

"VALUABLE BOOKS.—We have received the valuable publications of the Peabody Medical Institute. These books are of actual merit, and should find a place in every intelligent family. They are evidently the fruits of laudable zeal, published by irresponsible parties, and purchased to gratify coarse tastes, but are written by a responsible professional gentleman of eminence, as a source of instruction on vital matters, concerning which lamentable ignorance exists. The important subjects presented are treated with delicacy, ability and candor, and, as an appendix, many useful prescriptions for prevailing complaints are added."—Coos Republican, Lancaster, N. H.

"The author of these books is one of the most learned and popular physicians of the day, and is entitled to the gratitude of our race for these invaluable productions. It seems to be his aim to induce man and women to avoid the cause of those diseases to which they are subject, and he tells them just how and when to do it."—Chronicle, Farmington, Maine, Sept. 7, 1869.

Either book sent by mail on receipt of price.

N. B. The Author of the above-named medical works is the Chief Consulting Physician of the Peabody Medical Institute, and is so constantly employed in consultation with invalids from all parts of the country, that he has no time to attend to mere business details. Therefore all letters should be addressed to the PEABODY MEDICAL INSTITUTE, or to Dr. W. H. PARKER, the Medical Assistant of the Author, and his Business Agent, who, as well as the Author himself, may be consulted on all diseases requiring skill, secrecy and experience. oct2 1 tyr

WALTHAM
WATCHES.

The extensive use of these watches for the last fifteen years by Railway Conductors, Engineers and Expressmen, the most exacting of watch-wearers, has thoroughly demonstrated the strength, steadiness, durability and accuracy of the Waltham Watch. To satisfy that class in all there respects, is to decide the question as to the real value of these time-keepers.

More than 500,000 of these watches are now speaking for themselves in the pockets of the people—a proof and a guarantee of their superiority over all others.

The superior organisation and great extent of the Company's Works at Waltham, enables them to produce watches at a price which renders competition futile, and those who buy any other watch merely pay from 25 to 50 per cent.* more for their watches than is necessary.

These time-pieces combine every improvement that a long experience has proved of real practical use. Having had the refusal of nearly every invention in watch-making originating in this country or in Europe, only those who have finally adopted which severe testing by the most skillful artisans in our works, and long use on the part of the public, demonstrated to be essential to correct and enduring time-keeping.

Among the many improvements we would particularize:—

The invention and use of a centre-pinion of peculiar construction, to prevent damage to the train by the breakage of main-springs, is original with the American Watch Company, who, having had the refusal of all other contrivances, adopted Pogg's patent pinion as being the best and faultless.

Hardened and tempered hair-springs, now universally admitted by Watchmakers to be the best, are used in all grades of Waltham Watches.

All Waltham Watches have dust-proof caps, protecting the movements from dust and lessening the necessity of the frequent cleaning necessary in other watches.

Our new patent stem-winder, or keyless watch is already a decided success, and a great improvement on any stem-winding watch in the America can market, and by far the cheapest watch of its quality now offered to the public. To these living in portions of the United States where watchmakers do not abound, watches with the above mentioned improvements, which tend to ensure accuracy, cleanliness, durability and convenience, must prove invaluable.

The trademarks of the various styles made by the Company are as follows:—

AMERICAN WATCH CO., Waltham, Mass.

HOW TO USE MUCK.—A correspondent wrote to the New York Farmer's Club to inquire if it would pay to dig and haul muck half a mile to the barn-yard, there compost it with stable manures, and transfer it thence "to a poor sandy, ten acre field, within twenty rods of the place from which the muck was taken; or would it be more advantageous to cart it to the field directly from the swamp?"

Mr. Ely replied: "My experience and penny worth of observation commend the practice of leaving much exposed to the cold of winter. Is it. I think, much better and more available as a composting material after having passed the freezing and thawing which such exposure insures."

Mr. Williams said: "During a late visit to the farm of our excellent friend, Dr. Hexamer, I learned that his custom is to mix muck and manure fresh in equal proportions, and let the compost remain for several months. The tillers of the soil at Milford, Conn., draw muck in summer and fall and compost with fresh manure at once. Of course it is best not to have the muck to wet." Mr. Lyman, agricultural editor of the Hearth and Home, said: "In talking with farmers about the benefit they get from muck, I have only in one case seen positively fine results from the use of it when spread fresh from the swamps. One field I was shown where the crops were conspicuously better for years for a dressing of one hundred loads per acre from a swamp close by, but this was not muck exactly, but leat mould.

Another farmer, as good as any in Connecticut—many would say the best—hauls his muck three miles, and mixes it with the droppings of his farm animals every day, summer and winter. Thus his pile is trebled; for a bushel of yard droppings mixed with two bushels of dry swamp muck and allowed to stand some months, will be found as valuable a fertilizer as three bushels of yard droppings. They mutually aid each other. The most useful and the most subtile parts of yard manure fly away and vanish in the air unless fixed by some chemical art.

The sourness of swamp muck has the power of fixing this volatile part of excrements; at the same time the sourness is removed. Hence, I would advise Mr. Brown to haul his manure a mile; two—yes, three miles for composting it, rather than apply it raw. He will find his account in so doing, for the free use of muck in his yard, about his drains, his roost and his sty, will kill all noisome smells, and remove what is frequently a nest for slow and lingering diseases."

A GOOD OFFER TO THE Ladies of Portsmouth and Vicinity.
E. A. JOY
Has Fitted up a Spacious and Elegant SEWING MACHINE ROOM directly over his Music Store and employs a competent young lady to take charge of the same. A cordial invitation is hereby extended to all the ladies (not having good Sewing Machines of their own) to bring in lots of work and learn to make it up on the Machines. This will cost nothing whether a Machine is purchased or not. If you do not buy now, you will at some future time; for the day is not far distant when a SEWING MACHINE will be considered as indispensable as a Cook-Stove. Come as often and stay as long as you please.
MR. JOY'S business in the Sewing Machine line is very rapidly increasing, which enables him to make the above generous offer.
His long experience in this branch qualifies him to be an excellent judge of the goods he sells; and as he has had the Agency of all kinds offered him at different times it is reasonable to suppose that the BEST OF SEWING MACHINES may always be had at the SEWING MACHINE EMPORIUM, No. 9 PLEASANT ST., nearly opposite the Post Office, Portsmouth, N. The Daily Chronicle.

Portsmouth, N. H.

SATURDAY, APRIL 1, 1871.

☞ The New York copper Sun offers the democratic party two candidates for the presidency, with either of whom it thinks they can defeat the republicans at the next election—Salmon P. Chase and Charles Sumner! When the copperheads become sufficiently enlightened to build a party platform on which Charles Sumner can stand, their chances of a sweeping success will indeed be good; but they have got to make their works correspond with the name they have wrongfully assumed, before they can do that. No men would hail the adoption of democratic principles by the democratic party with greater pleasure than their political opponents, who have fought for those principles for so many years; for such a course of action would prove that the democratic party are capable of advancement, which the past history of that party tends entirely to disprove.

THE CONNECTICUT ELECTION takes place on Monday. A dispatch to the Boston Advertiser from Hartford, 30th, says:—

There is no doubt now of the great conspiracy between Tammany Hall and the democracy of this State to defraud the people of Connecticut on Monday next. The game is exposed. The Courant publishes a despatch sent Wednesday night by Governor English to William M. Tweed. It reads as follows: "Do not disappoint us; nothing could be more disastrous." We know here what that means; it means that money must be had to buy up the State. The plot has failed. Connecticut will elect Marshall Jewell.

CONGRESS.

In the Senate, March 30, Mr. Anthony's Ku-Klux resolutions were discussed. Garnett Davis' tongue got started on one of its long journeys, but the wind was all knocked out of the gas-bag by a look of Gen. Butler; Davis got mad because Butler took a seat near him, and ceased his harangue.

The House passed the Senate bill granting Phoebe Sofield a pension of $30 per month, from June 5, 1867, she being at that time 100 years old, and the widow of a revolutionary soldier.

Ku-Klux matters were also discussed, but the House adjourned without action thereon, as did the Senate.

☞ The New York assembly has refused—57 to 60—to repeal the Erie directors' classification act. Every man who voted to uphold this gigantic corporation swindle is a democrat, and every one voting against it a republican,—a fair sample of what democratic action is, as opposed to democratic profession.

☞ The Brooklyn authorities have discovered that Officer O'Keefe has been selling at auction among the poor, large quantities of clothing, bedding and other articles infected with the small-pox, and which he had been ordered to destroy. The discovery has produced a great sensation in the parts of the city in which the disease still prevails. Mr. O'Keefe is one of the democratic Health Officers.

☞ The President has transmitted to the Senate a treaty of commerce and navigation between the United States and Italy.

☞ Gen. J. N. Patterson has been re-appointed U. S. Marshal for New Hampshire.

—A writer in the Wolfeborough News, in some rhymes on election day, thus describes the doings of the Wolfeborough Democracy:

By grog and madness fast arrayed,
Each roysterer down his manhood laid,
And furious was the charge he made,
On Medford hot and toddy.

* * * * * * *

They mainly part who madly meet.
The maul will be their winding-sheet,
And many a ditch beneath their feet
Smells foul of rum and toddy.

Our Correspondence.

SEABROOK, March 31.

A town meeting was called to-day, as adjourned from March 16. The republicans looked on the meeting as illegal and withheld their votes. The democrats, wishing to save their Representatives, went on with the meeting. Joseph Chase had 112, David Gove 113, and Chas. S. Dow 114; 4 scattering. Other officers were chosen as usual, and $800 appropriated for schools.

There was a spirited discussion of the school matters. The superintendent of schools was called upon to defend the statements made in his printed report, that "many of the School Houses were no better than second class pig pens;" which he did by saying "that facts would defend his statements and words were not needed." The republicans will contest the election. The meeting was very orderly. QUILL.

☞ The President gave a private dinner to the San Domingo Commissioners on Friday.

☞ Horace Greeley will deliver the opening address at the State fair at Houston, Texas, May 22.

☞ One hundred and twenty buildings were destroyed by the fire at Truckee, Nevada, on Wednesday.

☞ The steamer Florida, said to be a filibuster, sailed from Halifax on Wednesday for St. Thomas.

☞ The Massachusetts State police made seizures of liquors from two of the largest dealers in Boston on Friday. The value of the liquors taken from both places is from $15,000 to $20,000.

☞ Calais, Me., had a great fire on the morning of March 30. A number of stores were burned, and the loss in between $40,000 and $50,000. Previous to the fire a jewelry store was broken into and plated ware valued at fifty dollars was carried off. An unsuccessful attempt was made to break open the safe.

THE RAILROAD EXTENSION.—It is reported that the B. & M. R. R. Co. on Saturday last effected arrangements with the Eastern road to jointly run the P. S. & P. road. It is possible that the B. & M. do not intend to build, but do intend to use their charter to force the other roads to their terms; but it is more probable that they did on Saturday do just what report says they did—to run jointly the P. S. & P. until their proposed extension is completed. This they must do. We profess to know nothing at all, however, about the facts.

It may not be generally known that the P. S. & P. cannot lease itself to the Eastern road or any other road without the consent of the legislature; and before their vote recently passed to lease to the Eastern becomes a fact, the State of Maine must give its consent, or if the corporation chooses to evade the plain mandate of the law, it will be liable to have served against it a writ of quo warranto, and the court may make such order thereon as justice and equity may require, and any person may by demand cause the Att'y General to file the said writ.

Perhaps it is improbable that the legislature would withhold its full consent to ratify the lease to the Eastern; but the risk the other road would run having so recently obtained a charter, would be so great as to make a joint lease very dangerous and the repeal of their old existing charter possible. The publicalong the proposed extension are naturally interested in these rumors; in the absence of any proof to the contrary it is well enough to believe that the B. & M. corporation mean to do exactly as they say they will.—Biddeford Journal.

—Hon. James Gallagher and Hon. Thomas Brinley, a couple of prominent Connecticut Democratic politicians, engaged in a very vigorous personal encounter in New Haven on Monday, March 27. Both of the amateur pugilists were badly bruised.

About a fortnight ago Mr. Henry Wilber of Windham bought a pair of oxen at Brighton and turned them in with his herd. In a few days all the herd had had the cattle disease, and two calves were lost by it. The damage to the seventeen in the herd is set at $400.—Exeter News Letter.

THE LEADING SECURITY.—The Chicago papers report over seven thousand miles of railway built during the last year. Of these the completion of the Burlington, Cedar Rapids and Minnesota, under the auspices of the Banking House of Henry Clews & Co., is the most conspicuous for rapid completion, and for the standing which it has obtained in every money centre.

It promises at no distant day to become as good stock in the market as the famous Chicago, Burlington and Quincy Road, of which it is but a northwest deflection. Running into this road at Burlington, Mr. James F. Joy has given a traffic guarantee as President of the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy, whereby this road invests fifty per cent. of the gross earnings proceeding from the Burlington, Cedar Rapids and Minnesota Railway, over the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy.

These earnings are getting to be so important, that unless than two other great lines eastward contemplate a like guarantee. It is one of the best evidences of the prosperity of this road, that James F. Joy and other railway men of like position buy these bonds by the earnings of their respective roads. Railway men are not apt to invest in any other than first-class roads. Such is the confidence of Mr. Clews in this security, that he offers to rebuy the bonds at the figures given for them.

It is expected that when the spring trade opens, the bonds of this road will advance to 92 1-2 to 95. The present figure is 90 and interest, May 1 and November 1, yielding 9 1-2 per cent. interest, secured by a traffic guarantee of each railways as the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy, repurchased by Henry Clews & Co., and being a completed road, the only direct route from St. Louis and St. Paul, and the best route from Chicago to the same. Those who desire a security equally as good as Governments, will do well to convert them into Burlingtons.

Henry Clews & Co. express their confidence in this road by treating it even better than governments, for while they could not obligate themselves to buy governments three months hence at any established figure, they will do so with Burlingtons.

FRANCE.

The manufacturers in Paris are resuming work, but no courts are held, and the judges have fled from the city. The assembly has passed a bill providing for the convocation of general councils.

M. Thiers announces by virtue of a convention just signed, that more German troops are to enter Paris, and that the French forces in the city are to be increased proportionately. The German administrator in France has consented to an increase of the Paris garrison of 80,000 men. The number of troops under the control of the government at Versailles is increasing and a plan for an attack on Paris has been agreed upon. The new communal council of Paris has ordered a general disarmament and the removal of barricades. In the meeting a proposal was made for an immediate attack on Versailles.

All is quiet at Versailles. The return of the French prisoners from Germany has been resumed and numbers are coming back daily, their expenses being paid by Germany. A large number of Dutch bankers have left Versailles, and their subscriptions to the indemnity loan have failed.

French papers announce that General Lallemand has completely suppressed the rising in Algeria.

Paris grows sadder in appearance daily, and 60,000 people have left the city within the past ten days.

The Government stops all horses and cattle from entering Paris. The mails to and from Paris are greatly delayed, and are expected to be stopped entirely.

Parisians have commenced talking "guillotine."

BUSINESS NOTICES.

LONGER AND BETTER—the wearing of boots and shoes made with the CABLE SCREW WIRE, than any other class of goods. Many heavy firms deal exclusively in them, and all first-class retailers have them. Comfortable, economical and durable, they need only a trial.

The public are hereby assured, through the columns of the Portsmouth Chronicle, that Parson's Purgative Pills contain no injurious principle, but that they may be administered to children and the most weak and shattered constitutions in small doses, with great certainty of success.

Dr. A. Johnson, one of the most successful practitioners of his time, invented what is now called Johnson's Anodyne Liniment. The great success of this article in the cure of Bronchitis and all diseases of throat and lungs, will make the name of Johnson not less favorably, if less widely known than that of Louis Napoleon. 1wapl

SPECIAL NOTICES.

Danger Ahead.

A single spark may kindle a flame that will consume a city, and small ailments neglected, may end in fatal disorders. Bearing this fact in mind, let the first symptoms of debility or nervous prostration be met promptly with invigorating treatment. Foremost among the vegetable tonics of the age stands HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS, and whenever the vital powers seem to languish, or there is any reason to suspect that the animal functions essential to the sustenation and purification of the body are imperfectly performed this invaluable invigorant and antiseptic should at once be resorted to. Indigestion always produces weakness of the bodily powers. Sometimes it happens that the appetite demands more food than the stomach can digest; though not more, perhaps, than is required to keep up the full strength of the frame. The object under such circumstances, is to increase the digestive capacity of the assimilating organ, so as to make it equal to the duty imposed upon it by the appetite, and capable of supplying the building material of the system as fast as it is required. This object is fully accomplished by the use of the Bitters. They tone and gently stimulate the cellular membrane which secretes the gastric juice, and the result is that the solvent is mingled with the food in sufficient quantity to convert all its nourishing particles into pure and wholesome element. If, on the other hand, there is a deficiency of appetite, without any corresponding deficiency of digestive power, the effect of the tonic is to stimulate a desire for food. In nineteen cases out of twenty, headache, nausea, nervousness, fainting-fits, spasms and, indeed, most of the usual aches and pains to which humanity is subject, proceed primarily from indigestion complicated with biliousness; and for both these complaints HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS are recommended as a speedy and certain remedy.

☞ Dr. Gilbert of the Daniel St. Fruit Store, is selling chocolate, butter and cocoanut taffy at 25 cts per lb. for either kind. He also has for sale Spanish bananas, of which we have tried a sample and found them delicious.

THE "DEVIL'S FIDDLE" has arrived in this city. It is a very unmusical instrument, manufactured from a mustard box. A hole is bored in the box, a string run through it (well rosined) and the operator may produce a series of sounds undescribable. By manipulating the machine in various ways, the crowing of roosters, the cackling of hens, the barking of dogs, &c., are accurately imitated. Nervous people believe it to be his Satanic Majesty's own invention; but the boys about town seem to be content with becoming "imps" of high and low degree.

FOR VALUE RECEIVED.—Last year an old resident of this city, and a near relative of an influential republican family, was promised a barrel of flour by the democratic wire-pullers if he would vote with that virtuous, anti-corruption party. He "went it blind" on the copperhead ticket on election day, but on going for his barrel of flour was quietly informed that he couldn't have it, as "the party" had sustained a defeat and flour had "gone up." This year the same gent refused any barrel-of-flour promises, to be redeemed after election, but demanded $12 in greenbacks of the realm, to be paid before he went to the polls, as the price of his vote. Votes were just then badly wanted, so the $12 were paid and the independent voter threw the anti-corruption Democratic ticket. He says "cash before delivery" is to be his motto when bargaining with the democratic traders in the future—no more prospective barrels of flour for him.

A WANDERER ON HIS TRAVELS.—People at the South End have been interested considerably of late by a peripatetic adventurer, who has disturbed their sleep and the peace of the neighborhood. He says he is a printer, from Springfield, Mass., and imagines he is still in that city. One night, recently, he called up a citizen of Ward Three and told him that the block in which the citizen had an office was on fire, and the Springfield Republican office was burning. The alarmist had the mortification of seeing the front door slammed in his face for his disinterestedness, but immediately climbed over a fence and began knocking at the back door, intent on getting the inmate of the house to go and save his property. This flank movement failed of success however, and the flanker again scaled the fence in hot haste to arouse other citizens to fight the imaginary fire fiend.

On Thursday night, he got under a full head of steam again, and (to use the words of the late A. Ward or some other artist) "went perusing about" for "a local habitation and a name."

Jack Me — bad retired to rest and his wife was engaged in ministering to a neighbor on her death bed. The front door of Jack's house being unlocked, was opened quietly, while Jack slept the sleep of the just, untormented by affairs of this world. When he awoke, the Springfield man was in bed with him, having made arrangements to follow the illustrious example furnished him by his chosen bed-fellow. His departure from that mansion was not a question of time, and he soon found himself in the street with "no one to love, none to caress." He called for Sam Bowles of the Springfield Republican to aid him in his extremity, but in vain.

Again he essayed entrance to somebody's residence; whose, he didn't care. The door being fastened, a window was found available and a sound like unto a San Francisco earthquake shock gave evidence to those within that something heavier than a pin had dropped. When Springfield came out of that house the door was unfastened!

Rejected and despised of men, he next undertook a passage into a house within gunshot of the first, by means of a cellar-case, and met with such a rebuke at the point of a "No. 9, right," that he was for a time discouraged.

Exemption from a repetition of the accident rendered him bold once more, and at dawn of day he was discovered asleep in the hall of another residence.

As a midnight prowler, as a nuisance, Springfield is a success—such a success in fact, that should his enterprise in opening and entering dwelling houses continue, his endeavors at last may be confined to attempts at escape from a building where doors are securely fastened, windows barred and no cellar-cases allowed on the premises.

City Council—Thursday Evening.

In Board of Mayor and Aldermen;—Voted, that Committee on Fire Department be instructed to consider whether Volunteer Companies can be substituted for engines. No. 5 and 6.

Voted, that licenses be granted for Billiard Tables on payment of $25 per year for the Room and one table, and $10 per year for every additional table in the same establishment.

Voted, that the City Marshal be instructed to notify all keepers of billiard tables to apply for licenses within one week or be prosecuted according to law.

The petition of Alva B. Currier for license to keep a billiard table was granted.

A resolution was presented for the payment of $2 per night to the Watchmen; laid on the table.

The Committee on Claims, to whom was referred an application for payment of interest on certain City Bonds, from the time they became due, reported that the petitioners have leave to withdraw.

The Common Council accepted the declination of Henry M. Clark and Samuel S. Whidden to act as Assessors.

Passed in concurrence an Ordinance relating to the election of Assessors.

An Ordinance relating to the keeping of the City Accounts, was read and referred to Com. on 2d Reading of Bills.

Adjourned for two weeks.

☞ A Concord dispatch says "prominent Democratic members of the new Legislature state that they shall advocate the repeal of the present Prohibitory act and go for the enactment of a stringent license law, giving as their reason that a judicious license law approved by the public and well enforced is better than a prohibitory statute disapproved by the larger portion of the community, and which is put in force in only trifling and unimportant cases." They will find quite a number of Republicans voting for the same thing, probably.

—The New York World, in stating that "the best men on the Democratic platform are coming to the front," must mean a delicate allusion to that one, who, after coming to the front the other day in Pennsylvania, said: "Young men! profit by my example;" whereupon the trap fell, and he died almost without a struggle.

Consumption,

ITS CURE AND ITS PREVENTIVE,

By J. H. SCHENCK, M. D.

Many a human being has passed away, for whose death there was no other reason than the neglect of known and indisputably proved means of cure. Those near and dear to family and friends are sleeping the dreamless slumber into which, had they calmly adopted and availed themselves of his wonderfully efficacious medicines, they would not have fallen.

Dr. JOSEPH H. SCHENCK'S SIMPLE TREATMENT,

Dr. Schenck has in his own person proven that wherever sufficient vitality remains, that vitality, by his medicines and his directions for their use, is quickened into healthful vigor.

In this statement there is nothing presumptuous. To the faith of the revealed Word is represented that is not a thousand times substantiated by living and visible works. The theory of the cure by Dr. Schenck's medicines is as simple as it is unfailing. Its philosophy requires no argument. It is self assuring, self-convincing.

The Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills are the first two weapons with which the citadel of the malady is assailed. Two-thirds of the cases of consumption originate in dyspepsia and a functionally disordered liver. With this condition the bronchial tubes "sympathize" with the stomach. They respond to the morbific action of the liver. Here, then comes the combinating cure, and the setting in, with all its distressing symptoms, of

CONSUMPTION.

The Mandrake Pills are composed of one of Nature's noblest gifts—the Podophillum Peltatum. They possess all the blood-searching, alterative properties of calomel, but unlike calomel, they

"LEAVE NO STING BEHIND."

The work of cure is now beginning. The vitiated and mucous deposits in the bowels and in the alimentary canal are ejected. The liver, like a clock, is wound up. It arouses from its torpidity. The stomach acts responsively, and the patient begins to feel that he is getting, at last,

A SUPPLY OF GOOD BLOOD.

The Seaweed Tonic, in conjunction with the Pills, permeates and assimilates with the food. Chylification is now progressing, without its previous tortures. Digestion becomes painless, and the cure is seen to be at hand. There is no more flatulence, no exacerbation of the stomach. An appetite sets in.

Now comes the greatest Blood Purifier ever yet given by an indulgent father to suffering man. Schenck's Pulmonic Syrup comes in to perform its functions and to hasten and complete the cure. It enters at once upon its work. Nature cannot be cheated. It collects and ripens the Matter and diseased portions of the lungs. In the form of gatherings it prepares them for expectoration, and lo! in a very short time the malady is vanquished, the rotten tissue that it occupied is removed and made new, and the patient, in all the dignity of regained vigor, stops forth to enjoy the manhood or womanhood that was

GIVEN UP AS LOST.

The second thing is, the patients must stay in a warm room, until they get well; it is almost impossible to prevent taking cold when the lungs are diseased, but it must be prevented or a cure cannot be effected. Fresh air and riding out, especially in this section of the country in the fall and winter season, are all wrong. Physicians who recommend that course lose their patients, if their lungs are badly diseased; and yet, because they are in the house they must not sit down quiet; they must walk about the room as much and as fast as the strength will bear, to get up a good circulation of blood. The patients must keep in good spirits—be determined to get well. This has a great deal to do with the appetite, and is the great point to gain.

To despair of cure after such evidence of its possibility, is cruel, and almost certainty in all others, is sinful." Dr. Schenck's personal statement to the Faculty of his own cure was in these modest words:

"Many years ago I was in the last stages of consumption: confined to my bed, and at one time my physicians thought that I could not live a week; then like a drowning man catching at straws, I heard of, and obtained the preparations which I now offer to the public, and they made a perfect cure of me. It seemed to me that I could feel them penetrate my whole system. They soon ripened the matter in my lungs, and I would spit up more than a pint of offensive yellow matter every morning for a long time. As soon as that began to subside, my cough, fever, pains and night sweats all began to leave me, and my appetite became so great that it was with difficulty that I could keep from eating too much. I soon gained my strength, and have grown in flesh ever since."

"I was weighed shortly after my recovery," added the Doctor, "then looking like a mere skeleton; my weight was only ninety-seven pounds; my present weight is one hundred and twenty-eight (128) pounds, and for years I have enjoyed uninterrupted health."

Dr. Schenck has discontinued his professional visits to New York and Boston. He or his son, Dr. J. H. Schenck, Jr., still continue to see patients at their office, No. 15 North Sixth street, Philadelphia, every Saturday from 9 A. M. to 3 P. M. Those who wish a thorough examination with the Respirometer will be charged $5. The Respirometer declares the exact condition of the lungs, and patients can readily tell whether they are curable or not.

The directions for taking the medicines are adapted to the habits of every individual. Follow these directions, and kind Nature will do the rest, excepting that in some cases the Mandrake Pills are to be taken in increased doses; the three medicines need no other accompaniments than the simple instructions that accompany them. First, create appetite. Of returning health hunger is the most welcome symptom. When it comes, as it will come, get the disposition at once be of good cheer. Good blood at once follows, the cough loosens, the night sweat is abated. In a short time both of these morbid symptoms are entirely subdued.

Dr. Schenck's medicines are constantly kept in tens of thousands of families. As a laxative or purgative, the Mandrake Pills are a standard preparation: while the Pulmonic Syrup, as a cure of coughs and colds, may be regarded as a prophylactic against consumption in any of its forms.

Price of the Pulmonic Syrup and Seaweed Tonic $1.50 a bottle, or $7.50 a half dozen. Mandrake Pills, 25 cents a box. For sale by all druggists and dealers.

ARE YOU GOING TO PAINT?

—IF SO, USE THE—

AVERILL CHEMICAL PAINT.

It is Cheaper, Handsomer and more durable than the best of other Paints. One Thousand Gallons of it were sold in this City, in the year 1870, and not one complaint has come from those who have used it; but all speak in its favor; it is mixed ready for application, and is much easier put on than any other Paint, making a smooth, glossy surface for years, that can be cleaned with hot suds without injuring it. It is excellent for walls inside, in the place of paper.

I shall keep this season a large stock of Chemical Paints of all shades on hand, to accommodate customers with any amount, without delay in ordering it. Those who want to use the Chemical Paints and have had them misrepresented by those who deal in Lead and Oil, are invited to call and examine my Paints that have been on Buildings two years, and you will find them as fresh as if laid but one month.

I am prepared to do Painting by Contract, or by the day, using the Chemical Paint, or furnishing good experienced workmen by the day at very low wages. B. NORTON, only Agent for selling the

FOR 45 CENTS—At the BOSTON CHEAP STORE

FIRST MORTGAGE

7 Per Cent. Gold Bonds,

ON A COMPLETED ROAD,

FREE OF U. S. TAX,

At 90 and Accrued Interest in Currency.

Burlington, Cedar Rapids and Minnesota Railway.

The completion of this Road has given to these Bonds an established character equal to any mortgage issue dealt in at the Stock Exchange. We are prepared to buy and sell them at any time, at our Banking House, at market price—thus placing them on the same basis; for temporary or permanent investment, with Governments or any other security.

These bonds are a first and only mortgage on a railroad that has cost double the amount of the issue, and which commands, without competition, all the traffic of Northern Iowa and Southern Minnesota—shortening the distance from St. Paul to Chicago 45 miles, and to St. Louis more than 90 miles.

The net earnings are already largely in excess of interest on the bonds, and no doubt exists that they will more than double within the ensuing year.

A contract has been secured with the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy Railroad Company obligating the latter to invest 50 per cent. of gross earnings derived from traffic with the Burlington, Cedar Rapids and Minnesota Road in the bonds of this Company. This arrangement is a strong guarantee of the Bonds, and establishes a large sinking fund for their redemption.

The convertibility privilege, these bonds enables them to be exchanged for stock, at par, at any time. This secures to the holder, at his option, a share in any excess of earnings over the interest obligation.

An exchange of Government securities for these bonds returns 9½ per cent. interest, instead of 6 per cent., which is all that Governments pay at present price, besides leaving an immediate gain of about 20 per cent. in price for re-investment.

All marketable Securities taken in exchange free of Commission and Express charges. f24dWaS

BANKS AND BANKERS GENERALLY.

A GREAT MEDICAL DISCOVERY!

DR. WALKER'S CALIFORNIA

VINEGAR BITTERS,

Hundreds of Thousands Bear Testimony to their Wonderful Curative Effects.

WHAT ARE THEY?

THEY ARE NOT A VILE FANCY DRINK,

Made of Poor Rum, Whiskey, Proof Spirits and Refuse Liquors doctored, spiced and sweetened to please the taste, called "Tonics," "Appetizers," "Restorers," &c., that lead the tippler on to drunkenness and ruin, but are a true Medicine, made from the Native Roots and Herbs of California, free from all Alcoholic Stimulants. They are the GREAT BLOOD PURIFIER and a LIFE-GIVING PRINCIPLE, a perfect Renovator and Invigorator of the system, carrying off all poisonous matter and restoring the blood to a healthy condition. No person can take these Bitters according to direction and remain long unwell, provided the bones are not destroyed by mineral poison or other means, and the vital organs wasted beyond the point of repair.

For Inflammatory and Chronic Rheumatism and Gout, Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Bilious, Remittent and Intermittent Fevers, Diseases of the Blood, Liver, Kidneys and Bladder, these Bitters have been most successful. Such Diseases are caused by Vitiated Blood, which is generally produced by derangement of the Digestive Organs.

DYSPEPSIA OR INDIGESTION, Headache, Pain in the Shoulders, Coughs, Tightness of the Chest, Dizziness, Sour Eructations of the Stomach, Bad taste in the Mouth, Bilious Attacks, Palpitation of the Heart, Inflammation of the Lungs, Pain in the regions of the Kidneys, and a hundred other painful symptoms, are the offspring of Dyspepsia.

They invigorate the stomach and stimulate the torpid liver and bowels, which render them of unequalled efficacy in cleansing the blood of all impurities and imparting new life and vigor to the whole system.

FOR SKIN DISEASES, Eruptions, Tetter, Salt Rheum, Blotches, Spots, Pimples, Pustules, Boils, Carbuncles, Ring-Worms, Scald Head, Sore Eyes, Erysipelas, Itch, Scurfs, Discolorations of the Skin, Humors and Diseases of the Skin, of whatever name or nature, are literally dug up and carried out of the system in a short time by the use of these Bitters. One bottle in such cases will convince the most incredulous of their curative effect.

Cleanse the Vitiated Blood whenever you find its impurities bursting through the skin in Pimples, Eruptions or Sores; cleanse it when you find it obstructed and sluggish in the veins, cleanse it when it is foul, and your feelings will tell you when. Keep the blood pure, and the health of the system will follow.

PIN, TAPE and other WORMS, lurking in the system of so many thousands, are effectually destroyed and removed. For full directions, read carefully the circular around each bottle, printed in four languages—English, German, French and Spanish.

FOR FEMALE COMPLAINTS, whether in young or old, married or single, at the dawn of womanhood or at the turn of life, these Tonic Bitters have no equal. ☞ Send for a circular.

They are a Gentle Purgative as well as a Tonic, possessing also, the peculiar merit of acting as a powerful agent in relieving Congestion or Inflammation of the Liver, and all the Visceral Organs. 1yrdawfeb16

THE CENTRAL RAILROAD CO.

have now built and equipped, in first-class manner, about

which will complete their entire line, with the exception of laying the track on twenty-five miles, which is already graded. They will thus open

from north to south, and, by making a slight detour at one point, they will give

DIRECT COMMUNICATION BETWEEN ST. LOUIS AND ST. PAUL.

This line of Railroad will have very special advantages for both local and through business, besides such superior railroad connections as will secure to it a large portion of the carrying trade of the Great Northwest. The

First Mortgage

7 PER CENT. GOLD BONDS,

which are issued upon this road, are limited in amount to $16,000 per mile (while many roads issue from $20,000 to $40,000), and are offered at 90 and accrued interest, in currency. About two millions and a half of these bonds have already been disposed of, leaving but a small balance unsold, which are being rapidly taken.

The most experienced financiers agree that First Mortgage Bonds, to a limited amount, upon finished railroad, which is well located for business, are one of the very safest forms of investment.

Parties desiring to secure a first-class security, based upon a railroad practically done, and in the hands of leading capitalists who have a large pecuniary and business interest in its success, will do well to apply at the office of the Company, or any of the advertised agents, for a pamphlet and map, showing the characteristics of the enterprise.

They are issued in denominations of $100, $500, $1,000, $5,000 and $10,000.

The Trustees under the Mortgage are Messrs. Jay Cooke, of Philadelphia, and J. Edgar Thomson, President of the Pennsylvania Central Railroad Company.

These Northern Pacific 7-30 Bonds will at all times before maturity, be receivable at TEN PER CENT. Premium (or 1.10,) in exchange for the Company's lands at their lowest cash price.

THE ISLES OF SHOALS IN 1653.

BY CHARLES W. TUTTLE, A. M.

The Isles of Shoals have become a second time prominent in New England history. For nearly two centuries they were famous as a fishing station, and swarmed with inhabitants. After the revolutionary war the fishing interest declined, and these isles seemed likely to return to their primitive nakedness and desolation. Within the last twenty-five years they have become widely known as a summer resort, more persons now visiting them annually, for pleasure or health, than in the days of their fishing glory.

History has not preserved the name of the European who first discovered these isles. It seems quite certain that Thorfinn, on his celebrated voyage to Vinland, A. D. 1008, must have seen them, as he sailed along the Gulf of Maine, "to the south-west having the land always on their starboard;" but there is no record that he did. The English and French navigators of the sixteenth and beginning of the seventeenth centuries must likewise have seen them, while sailing along our shores.

To the famous Captain John Smith we are indebted for our first knowledge of these isles. While exploring the New England coast, in 1614, he surveyed them, gave them a name, and a place on his map of New England with a good degree of accuracy. Unfortunately his description of them is remarkably brief. He says, "Smyth's Iles are a heaps together, none neere them, against Accominticus." In 1623, Christopher Levett visited them, and calls them "Isle of Shoulds, being Islands in the sea about two leagues from the main." Levett adds: "Upon these Islands, I neither could see one good timber tree, nor so much good ground as to make a garden. The place is found to be a good fishing place for six ships, but more cannot well be there, for want of convenient stage room, as this year's experience hath proved. The harbor is but indifferent good. Upon these islands are no savages at all."

The name by which this group of isles is now known and has been from early times, is one obviously suggested by their plurality. On Capt. Smith's map, eighteen distinct islands are laid down, a number that suggests the idea of a "Shoal of Isles," shoal being current in those days, to signify a multitude, a throng, or a crowd. In this sense, which is its primitive one, Bacon, Waller, and other writers of that period, use this word constantly. In our days, its use is limited, almost entirely, to its secondary meaning, to signify a place where the water is shallow. Writers have chosen to write, "Isles of Shoals," in place of "Shoals of Isles," thereby concealing, to some extent, the origin of the name. This name, descriptive of their numerical characteristic, a most striking feature, was, undoubtedly, applied to these islands by fishermen and others, long before Capt. Smith gave them a name.

The name, "Smith's Iles," given them by Capt. Smith, and adopted by Prince Charles, did not prevail, although it was the first name designedly applied to them, and the first engraved on any chart. It seems to have been used only in reprints of his map of New England. The descriptive name, mentioned by Levett, has attached to them ever since. Although he is the first to use it, so far as we know, it does not seem to be an invention of his. On the map in Wood's New England Prospect, printed in 1634, they are designated, "Ilands of Shoulds." The Indians do not appear to have had a name for them.

England first extended dominion over them, and was first in actual possession of them. They were included in the great patent of Virginia in 1606; and in the great charter to the Council established at Plymouth, in 1620; not, however, by any other name than the general one, islands. They were embraced, in the same way, in the grant of the Province of Maine, to Gorges and Mason in 1622, being of the description of "Islands within five leagues" of the shore. In the grant of the Province of New Hampshire to Mason in 1635, the "South half of the Isles of Shoals" was specifically included therein. The north half was included in the grant to Gorges in 1639.

Prior to 1652, these isles were substantially under the jurisdiction of the province of Maine. At this epoch Massachusetts put a new construction upon its charter limits, and by this "all those eastern plantations are comprehended within our northerly line;" and so, suiting their actions to their word, they sent commissioners in October, 1652, to "settle the civil government amongst the inhabitants of Kittery, the Isle of Shoals, Accomenticus, and so to the most northerly extent of our Patent." At this stage of their history the following important document becomes intelligible. It is copied from the original on file in the office of the Secretary of State in Boston, and is, perhaps, the oldest and most interesting document now extant relating to these celebrated islands. Every signer wrote his name in a good, fair hand. Upon the reception of the petition, the court ordered, that the inhabitants of the "Isles of Shoales" have liberty to determine all civil actions where either or both parties are inhabitants, to the value of ten pounds; that Mr. Brian Pendleton, Mr. Nicholas Shapley, Hercules Hunkins, Richard Sealey, and Philip Babb be commissioners for such causes, any three, Pendleton and Shapley being one, making a quorum. As to the military the court said it had already given full authority in the premises to the chief military officer. The commissioners were authorized to appoint a "Clark of the writts." The modest request to be made a township was ignored; and, on another application in 1659, it was expressly declared that the petitioners were not of a "capacity at present to make a township."

On the 22d of May, 1661, "for the better settling of order in the Isle of Shoales," the court ordered, that all the islands, then lying in two counties, be "a township called Appledoore."

To the much honored Court, held at Boston, ye 18th of ye 3d, 53.

The humble petition of the Inhabitants in the Isles of Shoulds.

Sheweth

That whereas wee the said Inhabitants living so remote from the neighbor townes upon the maine and having thereby allready sustained much vexing through want of a power deputed amongst our selves to helpe, whom it may concerne to their due debts, and findinge alsoe by unsuitable wind and weather, that wee cannot (upon occasion) visit the Court that we might enjoy the benefit of the Law, to recover our owne, in a way rightecousness. Wee therefore upon such like reasons doe think it our dutie to make petition to this much honored general Court that you mought be pleased to take our condition into your serious and sage consideration and to grant us the privilege of a township, as farre as your wisdomes shall as capable, as that we may have amongst us a Clarke of the Writts & some others authorized to have the hearing & issuing of such causes as may fall out under the summe of Tea pounds, wee finding as wee under your favor, more necde of such a prevelege than our neighbor-townes, forasmuch as some of our transient ones as it may fall out, they cannot tarrie until their causes may be issued elswhere.

Alsoe, may it please the honored Court to take notice that ohr situation is such, as many times wee necessarilie shall not be able to joyne with our neighbours in militarie affaires through unseasonable weather, without great hazard or damage to ourselves. Our request is therefore that, you would be pleased to make us a distinct company in that respect, wee being upwards of a hundred men at this time, & that our loving friends John Arthur Lieut: & William Sealy Ensign so chosen amongst us, to beginne that service, they mought be installed into such places, for the benefit of the rest, according to your order.

Thus wee nothing doubting, but yee will be pleased to pass by any of these our unsuitable expressions, & grant us whatsoever your discretion shall see mostly conducing to our best good. Wee for your fatherlie ceare allready enjoyed, & yet expected doe account our selves in bounden dutie to be ready to doe you any service to our abilitie, & to make supplications yet in your behalfe, for the further infludgies of the holie ghost upon your hearts, in that approaching & all after agitations, for his own glory, with his churches wellfare. We now humblie take our leave, & subscribe in the name & with general consent.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

WALTHAM WATCHES.

The extensive use of these watches for the last fifteen years by Railway Conductors, Engineers and Expressmen, the most exacting of watch-wearers, has thoroughly demonstrated the strength, steadiness durability and accuracy of the Waltham Watch. To satisfy that class in all these respects, is to decide the question as to the real value of these time-keepers.

More than 500,000 of these watches are now speaking for themselves in the pockets of the people—a proof and a guarantee of their superiority over all others.

The superior organization and great extent of the Company's Works at Waltham, enables them to produce watches at a price which renders competition futile, and those who buy any other watch merely pay from 25 to 50 per cent. more for their watches than is necessary.

These time-pieces combine every improvement that a long experience has proved of real practical use. Having had the refusal of nearly every invention in watch-making originating in this country or in Europe, only those were finally adopted which severe testing by the most skillful artisans in our works, and long use on the part of the public, demonstrated to be essential to correct and enduring time-keeping.

Among the many improvements we would particularize:—

The invention and use of a centre-pinion of peculiar construction, to prevent damage to the train by the breakage of main-springs, is original with the American Watch Company, who, having had the refusal of all other contrivances, adopted Dennison's patent pinion as being the best and faultless.

Hardened and tempered hair-springs, now universally admitted by Watchmakers to be the best, are used in all grades of Waltham Watches.

All Waltham Watches have dust-proof caps, protecting the movements from dust and lessening the necessity of the frequent cleaning necessary in other watches.

Our new patent stem-winder, or keyless watch is already a decided success, and a great improvement on any stem-winding watch in the American market, and by far the cheapest watch of its quality now offered to the public. To those living in portions of the United States where watchmakers do not abound, watches with the above mentioned improvements, which tend to ensure accuracy, cleanliness, durability and convenience, must prove invaluable.

A BRIDAL TOUR IN YE OLDEN TIME. Gilmanton was settled in 1761, nine years before Pittsfield, though lying beyond it. The first man to take his wife into the town was Benjamin Mudgett. He and his brother John from Brentwood, with several others from Exeter and vicinity, went up in the summer of this year, selected their lots, and built a camp and commenced their clearings.

John Mudgett was one of the original proprietors of the town. He and Benjamin selected lot No. 3 third range of hundred acre lots and built their camp on a spot which is a little northwest of the school house in Dist. No. 1. Here they made what preparation and provision they could for the comfort of their families the coming winter and in their anxiety to make preparation for those whom they had chosen to share with them the solitudes of the wilderness, they were delayed till late in the fall before they returned to the settlements. A heavy fall of snow soon after disconcerted their plans and it was not till toward the last of December, that preparations were completed for their return to their solitary camp in the wilderness.

Benjamin was still unmarried and on the twenty-first day of December, he was married to Hannah Bean of Brentwood, who was then twenty two years of age and they immediately set out for their forest home many miles distant, on horse back, the snow being several feet on a level. They probably spent the first night at Raymond, the next at Nottingham, and the next day reached Epsom where they may have tarried a day or two.

They left Epsom on the morning of the twenty-sixth on snow shoes, leaving behind them the last traces of civilization, the last hospitable cabin, and started for that cold cheerless camp in the wilderness twelve miles distant, and in a town where there was not another woman to greet and cheer that heroic young bride.

In passing from Epsom they passed through what is now Pittsfield, then an unbroken wilderness. It is not strange that long before the long weary journey was ended, the young wife felt her strength giving out and was often compelled to stop to rest. Her courage and her fortitude held out till within about a mile of their camp, when it seemed impossible for her to take another step, and dropping exhausted upon the cold snow she exclaimed to her husband; "I may as well die here as anywhere; if I attempt to go further it will kill me, and if I stop here I shall but die."

But after resting a while, as the gloomy shades of night began to gather around them, this heroic young wife made one effort more to reach the end of their journey and was this time successful. That night she was the only woman in Gilmanton. The next day John Mudgett and his wife arrived, and fifteen days after, Orlando Weed and his wife; and here these three families passed the winter alone, with not a neighbor nearer than Epsom, twelve miles distant, and the snow full six feet deep on a level!—Suncook Valley Times.

STATE SOVEREIGNTY.—In his brief speech in this city on Monday night last Jefferson Davis reiterated his faith in the doctrine of State sovereignty and asserted his belief in its ultimate triumph. This is the first occasion of which we have any kowledge that Mr. Davis has in public touched upon the general political questions that agitate the country. It must be that the recent election in New Hampshire, the native State of his friend Pierce, produced an unusual degree of exultation in his mind. It may be that the expectation of a Democratic success in the Presidential contest of 1872 was strengthened and confirmed into confidence, and he would no doubt consider such a victory as the ultimate triumph of State sovereignty.

It is well that the people all over the country should know that so distinguished a champion of State sovereignty as Jefferson Davis has not given up hope of the ultimate triumph of that cause. In its behalf great armies have been raised, a gigantic war waged, bloody battles fought, public debt has been piled mountain high, and widows and orphans created by hundreds of thousands—yet it did not succeed. But now the chief who championed it, and who marshalled its forces, tells the people that he yet has confidence in its ultimate triumph.

We commend these views to the consideration of that portion of the Northern press and people which has been led to believe that the cause of the rebellion is a "dead issue" in the minds of leading men at the South.—Selma (Ala.) Press.

—The witty member of the Kentucky senate in the course of a speech on the last day of the session proposed the establishment of a normal school for legislators in every county of the State. His valedictory was in this strain: "Farewell, senators! Home is now the word, and my prayer is for your general and particular reformation. May you be able to excuse your blunders to your constituents, to live happy in the bosom of your families, and to deserve the commendations of all men."

Extract Catawba

GRAPE PILLS.

Component Parts—Fluid Extract Rhubarb and Fluid Extract Catawba Grape Juice.

FOR LIVER COMPLAINTS, JAUNDICE, BILIOUS AFFECTIONS, SICK OR NERVOUS HEADACHE, COSTIVENESS, ETC. PURELY VEGETABLE, CONTAINING NO MERCURY, MINERALS OR DELETERIOUS DRUGS.

H

These Pills are the most delightfully pleasant purgative, superseding castor oil, salts, magnesia, etc. There is nothing more acceptable to the stomach. They give tone, and cause neither nausea nor griping pains. They are composed of the finest ingredients. After a few days' use of them, such an invigoration of the entire system takes place as to appear miraculous to the weak and enervated, whether arising from imprudence or disease. H. T. Helmbold's Compound Fluid Extract Catawba Grape Pills, are not sugar-coated, from the fact that sugar-coated Pills do not dissolve, but pass through the stomach without dissolving, consequently do not produce the desired effect. THE CATAWBA GRAPE PILLS, being pleasant in taste and odor, do not necessitate their being sugar-coated. PRICE FIFTY CENTS PER BOX.

O

H. T. HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU CURES DISEASES ARISING FROM IMPRUDENCES, HABITS OF DISSIPATION, &c., In all their stages, at little expense, little or no change in diet, no inconvenience, and no exposure. It causes a frequent desire, and gives strength to Urinate, thereby removing Obstructions, Preventing and Curing Strictures of the Urethra, Allaying Pain and Inflammation, so frequent in this class of diseases, and expelling all Poisonous matter.

Thousands who have been the victims of incompetent persons, and who have paid heavy fees to be cured in a short time, have found they have been deceived, and that the "Poison" has, by the use of "powerful astringents," been dried up in the system, to break out in a more aggravated form, and perhaps after Marriage.

Use HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU for all Affections and Diseases of the Organs, whether existing in Male or Female, from whatever cause originating, and no matter of how long standing. PRICE, ONE DOLLAR AND FIFTY CENTS PER BOTTLE.

L

HENRY T. HELMBOLD'S IMPROVED ROSE WASH

cannot be surpassed as a FACE WASH, and will be found the only specific remedy in every species of CUTANEOUS AFFECTION. It speedily eradicates PIMPLES, SPOTS, SCORBUTIC DRYNESS, INDURATIONS of the CUTANEOUS MEMBRANE, etc., dispels REDNESS and INCIPIENT INFLAMMATION, HIVES, RASH, MOTH PATCHES, DRYNESS OF SCALP OR SKIN, FROST BITES, and all purposes for which SALVES or OINTMENTS are used; restores the skin to a state of purity and softness, and insures continued healthy action to the tissue of its vessels, on which depends the agreeable clearness and vivacity of complexion so much sought and admired. But however valuable as a remedy for existing defects of the skin, H. T. Helmbold's Rose Wash has long sustained its principle claim to unbounded patronage, by possessing qualities which render it a TOILET APPENDAGE of the most Superlative and Congenial character, combining in an elegant formula those prominent requisites, SAFETY and EFFICACY—the invariable accompaniments of its use—as a Preservative and Refresher of the Complexion. It is an excellent Lotion for diseases of a Syphilitic Nature, and as an injection for diseases of the Urinary Organs, arising from habits of dissipation; used in connection with the EXTRACTS BUCHU, SARSAPARILLA, AND CATAWBA GRAPE PILLS, in such diseases as recommended, cannot be surpassed. MONDAY, APRIL 3, 1871.

A BLIND SIDE.—Some of our northern democratic editors have periodical attacks of panic, which takes the shape of fear that the awful creature, President Grant, is aiming at the foundation of a military empire with himself at its head. This may do very well as a war cry with which to fire the heart of the copperhead—his brain can be in no danger when such twaddle suits his mental calibre—but it is rather hard to see how the President is to establish a military despotism over more than 36,000,000 people, with an army of only 30,000 men, even with all the assistance he can get from "federal-bayonet-election laws" for preserving the purity of the ballot box. "How should one chase a thousand?" Why, in each of several of the larger States there are enough veterans of the rebel-slaveholders' war to whip the whole United States army, horse, foot and dragoons.

But while oppressed with such a lively fear that the impossible may come to pass, the democratic editors of the North steadily refuse to believe (or they pretend to disbelieve) in the existence of a vast, organized conspiracy at the South, having for its object the nullification of the national decrees consequent on the rebellion, said object to be attained by violence and even murder offered to all who dare to differ with the conspirators in politics or to attempt the elevation of the black race. On one side is an immense mass of evidence offered by the people of the South, to the effect that while more than nineteen-twentieths of the innumerable outrages reported in that section are committed by democrats upon republicans, yet the only convictions for violence are when republicans are accused of violence to democrats; on the other side, we have the denial of northern editors who were never in the South, and of men who have risen to notice through this same violence, that it exists. A few democratic papers at the South, among them the Louisville Courier-Journal, declare the Ku-Klux to be formidable in numbers and terrible in act, and that the democratic authorities do nothing to suppress them. We know of no northern one which admits so much.

Not long ago the copperhead press raised a great shout over the "negro riot" in Meridian, Miss., where the blacks murdered a judge in open court, while he was trying three negroes for incendiarism. Later and fuller accounts show that the judge was a republican, that the negroes were only charged (and that falsely) with making incendiary speeches, that the negroes were unarmed, and that the entire riot and scene of violence and murder was occasioned by the attack of a body of armed whites; in short, that the Meridian negro riot was but a Ku-Klux massacre of black and white republicans.

It is remarkable that while the copperhead press and leaders admit the existence of great lawlessness at the South, and charge it all to the blacks, they should so strenuously oppose any investigation that would prove such to be the case if their stories were true, or any measures designed to prevent such outrages. The republicans court the strictest investigation and the most rigid enforcement of laws for the protection of life and liberty in the South; the democrats say that the blacks are the only offenders there, but they won't have them molested in their work. This brotherly regard of the copperhead for the negro is truly touching.

CONGRESS.

In the Senate, March 31, Mr. Pool of North Carolina had the floor all day in a speech upon the situation in his State. He presented a damaging array of facts in support of his plea for prompt legislation to save the State from complete anarchy. Frank Blair and other democrats tried to question some of his statements, but were quickly discomfitted.

The House was occupied all day in debating the Ku-Klux bill. Mr. Bingham defended its constitutionality, and while he was speaking the galleries were well filled, the members gathered around and gave close attention, and at the close of his peroration he was vigorously applauded.

Mr. Swann of Maryland followed on the other side and soon cleared both galleries and the floor.

There was an evening session which lasted until midnight, and eight speeches were disposed of.

ELECTION in Connecticut to-day.

THE MURDER OF DR. WINNSMITH.—A more dastardly outrage has not yet blackened the records of crime, than that committed upon the person of the venerable Dr. Winnsmith, at his home in Spartanburg county, on Wednesday night last. Dr. Winnsmith was a quiet citizen, a man of sterling integrity and high moral character, one who has been identified with the State ever since his birth, and no man has as yet ever breathed a word against his honor. He was for several years a member of the Legislature, and has always been regarded as a conservative, considerate man, one who would not do aught that his conscience did not approve, and while he has been regarded as a Republican, he did not sanction many things done and said by Republican leaders, but has always stood up for obeidience to law and order, under all circumstances.

It does not seem possible that anything could be brought up against the character of Dr. Winnsmith, that could induce men to resort to violence against him, and yet we hear that this old man, just on the brink of eternity, a man who has lived out almost his allotted time, three-score years and ten, is surrounded at night by disguised men and barbarously murdered, and for what? Men may try to explain this away to their hearts content, but the damning inference will be drawn by all fair-minded men throughout the whole country, that it was for no other reason than because Dr. Winnsmith was a Republican.—Columbia (S. C.) Union of March 27th.

CHARACTERISTIC.—Remarking on the crusade establishment against school houses in some parts of the State of Missouri, resulting in the destruction by fire of some twenty or more, a contempory very pertinently remarks that "next to a Republican voter, a school house seems to be the chief object of hate of the Ku-Klux, a peculiarity which has always distinguished the Democratic party in the South." And this is the party that expect to triumph at the next Presidential election, and these school house burners are the men whose hearts are made glad by Democratic victories in New Hampshire!—Boston Journal.

FRANCE.

The sub-central committee in Paris has remitted its powers to the communal council. The council has been seriously discussing proposals to dispose of the property of the crown. The commune is actively disarming the loyal nationals.

Le Vengeur threatens the forcible ejection of the national assembly at Versailles. The insurgents seem to be confident that the government troops will not fight.

Troops from the south and west of France are ordered to concentrate at Angouleme. The Independance Belge states that Ulric Ponvielle is organizing a force of 300,000 national guards at St. Germaine, for the support of law and order.

The Germans will at once re-occupy Paris in case the Thiers government proves unable to subdue the insurgents.

A dispatch of the 31st ult. says:—Thiers pays five hundred millions of francs to the Prussians this evening, and the French government will then be allowed to receive reinforcements from the north.

☞ Ex-Senator Howard of Michigan has been stricken with apoplexy.

☞ The registration of voters in the District of Columbia, just completed, shows a total of 19,614, of whom 12,144 are whites and 7500 are colored.

☞ A report comes from Washington to the New York Tribune that twenty-eight Republican Senators have promised to vote against the annexation of San Domingo upon any terms.

☞ New York is a good place for thieves to live in. Two New York detectives are now in prison awaiting the result of shots fired at thieves whom they caught in the act and who fired upon the officers first.

☞ News from the Asiatic squadron states that recently in sending down the mainyard of the U. S. flagship Colorado, the jeer tackles gave away and the heavy stick fell on deck, killing two and wounding several.

☞ The visit of the Japanese embassy to this country has already resulted in the introduction of the Ku-Klux into Japan. One of the Mikado's counsellors has been assassinated in consequence of political difficulties.

☞ The latest report from the Isthmus of Darien represents that the newly discovered route for a canal is only twenty-two miles long, and the deepest cutting necessary not more than one hundred and fifty feet, and perhaps only seventy-five or one hundred feet.

☞ Governor English offers $500 reward for the arrest and conviction of the author of that despatch to William M. Tweed; the managers of the telegraph companies in New Haven certify that no such despatch was sent over their lines. The Hartford Courant repeats the charge that it was sent.

☞ U. S. Steamer Tennessee arrived at New York on Saturday.

☞ The Fenian raid claims have been laid before the joint high commission at Washington.

☞ Judge Blatchford has issued an order forbidding the issue of any more Erie stock.

☞ The Rochester Courier says "Joshua L. Foster was always a dirty politician and a disgrace to his profession."

From the Portsmouth Journal.

IN BAD COMPANY.—The New Hampshire Members of Congress have been taken in charge by Fernando Wood, by whom they have been dined and wined and introduced to the Democratic Lions of the capital. Fernando, like some of his constituents, is not the best company for gentlemen from the rural districts to fall into, and if, after a few weeks' experience of Washington life, they should return to their native hills, wiser, we fear it cannot be said that they are "better men." Those few Republicans, in the several Districts, whose neglect to vote, or to vote the right the way, exposed these New Hampshire gentlemen to temptation, have much to answer for.

The Portsmouth Journal must draw its principal sustance from the Navy Yard. It indorses the San Domingo job, the ostracism of Senator Sumner, and everything which has been done or may be done by "our noble Executive," General Grant! So much for a little "hard tack."—Independent Democrat.

If the Journal was disposed to return the compliment, it might say that it must be because the Democrat has been reduced to "hard tack" that it can see no honesty in President Grant, while richer fare under a previous administration enabled it to have a high appreciation of the virtues of Andy Johnson. But as this might be as gratuitous, and possibly unfounded, as are the insinuations of the Democrat, we will not say it.

BUSINESS NOTICES.

LONGER AND BETTER—the wearing of boots and shoes made with the CABLE SCREW WIRE, than any other class of goods. Many heavy firms deal exclusively in them, and all first-class retailers have them. Comfortable, economical and durable, they need only a trial.

The public are hereby assured, through the columns of the Portsmouth Chronicle, that Parson's Purgative Pills contain no injurious principle, but that they may be administered to children and the most weak and shattered constitutions in small doses, with great certainty of success.

Dr. A. Johnson, one of the most successful practitioners of his time, invented what is now called Johnson's Anodyne Liniment. The great success of this article in the cure of Bronchitis and all diseases of throat and lungs, will make the name of Johnson not less favorably, if less widely known than that of Louis Napoleon. 1 wapl

SPECIAL NOTICES.

Danger Ahead.

A single spark may kindle a flame that will consume a city, and small ailments neglected, may end in fatal disorders. Bearing this fact in mind, let the first symptoms of debility or nervous prostration be met promptly with invigorating treatment. Foremost among the vegetable tonics of the age stands HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS, and whenever the vital powers seem to languish, or there is any reason to suspect that the animal functions essential to the sustenation and purification of the body are imperfectly performed this invaluable invigorant and antiseptic should at once be resorted to. Indigestion always produces weakness of the bodily powers. Sometimes it happens that the appetite demands more food than the stomach can digest; though not more, perhaps, than is required to keep up the full strength of the frame. The object under such circumstances, is to increase the digestive capacity of the assimilating organ, so as to make it equal to the duty imposed upon it by the appetite, and capable of supplying the building material of the system as fast as it is required. This object is fully accomplished by the use of the Bitters. They tone and gently stimulate the cellular membrane which secretes the gastric juice, and the result is that the solvent is mingled with the food in sufficient quantity to convert all its nourishing particles into pure and wholesome element. If, on the other hand, there is a deficiency of appetite, without any corresponding deficiency of digestive power, the effect of the tonic is to stimulate a desire for food. In nineteen cases out of twenty, headache, nausea, nervousness, fainting-fits, spasms and, indeed, most of the casual aches and pains to which humanity is subject, proceed primarily from indigestion complicated with biliousness; and for both these complaints HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS are recommended as a speedy and certain remedy.

To insure or not to insure? That is the question. Whether t'will be nobler for my family to suffer The stings and arrows of outrageous fortune Or take a policy against those dangers, And, by insuring, end them? To fret, to fear, No more; and by a policy to end The heartache and the thousand natural shocks That flesh is heir to: Yes, my application's Devoutly to be wished; apply, insure, And pay the premium: ay—there's the rub For in that time what premiums may come Before I shuffle off this mortal coil Does make me pause, tightens my purse, And makes me rather pay the bills I have Than fly to others I know not of. ☞ Persons of weak nerves and irritable temper are inclined to wish that the inventor of the "devil's fiddle," which makes day and night hideous in places out of sight of our City Marshal and Police, was safe in the custody of the gentlemen for whom he so appropriately named his instrument of torture.

MASONIC.—Earl de Grey and Ripon, one of the English members of the Joint High Commission, is Grand Master of Masons in England, and a fitting entertainment is to be given him at Washington by the brethren of the mystic tie, to which all the Grand Masters of the several States are invited. John R. Holbrook, G. M. of New Hampshire, left this city on Saturday for Washington, to take part in the proceedings.

THE DEFENDERS OF THE SANTO DOMINGO SCHEME exhibit considerable pique at the failure to make it popular among the people. Fred Douglass' paper, the Washington Era, has an article in which it says:—

One of the New Hampshire Senators, who stumped the State during the recent canvass, bitterly denounced the annexation measures from the stump, going into a startling mathematical calculation of its expense, and laboring with great zeal and eloquence to alarm the tax-payers of New Hampshire. He seemed to have forgotten that he went there in the interest of the Republican party, and only to have remembered his opposition to a certain administration measure. He did infinitely more mischief to the Republican party than a dozen Copperhead orators could have done.

If the editor believes the nonsense he writes, a brief trip trough this State might undeceive him. Senator Patterson did repudiate the Santo Domingo scheme, at Washington and before the people, and found his course endorsed with great unanimity by his constituents. Had he favored annexation instead of opposing it, Mr. Patterson would have not have stood so well with the people as he does to-day.

We have yet to learn that Santo Domingo annexation is a party question, and Fred Douglass may as well remember that the citizens of New Hampshire are as capable of judging between right and wrong as he is. Were a vote to be taken in this State, to-day, on annexation, not one in twenty would be cast in its favor. Senator Patterson faithfully represents his constituents.

Consumption.

ITS CURE AND ITS PREVENTIVE.

By J. H. SCHENCK, M. D.

Many a human being has passed away, for whose death there was no other reason than the neglect of known and suitable remedies. Many persons of care, whose dear and dear to family and friends are sleeping the dreamless slumber into which, had they calmly adopted and availed themselves of his wonderfully efficacious medicines, they would not have fallen.

Dr. JOSEPH H. SCHENCK'S SIMPLE TREATMENT,

Dr. Schenck is in his own case proven that wherever sufficient vitality remains, that vitality, by his medicines and his directions for their use, is quickened into healthful vigor.

In this statement there is nothing presumptuous. To the faith of the invalid it stands as a representation that is not a thousand times substantiated by living and visible works. The theory of the cure by Dr. Schenck's medicines is as simple as it is unfailing. Its philosophy requires no argument. It is self assuring, self-convincing.

The Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills are the first two weapons with which the citadel of the malady is assailed. Two-thirds of the cases of consumption originate in dyspepsia and a functionally disordered liver. With this condition the bronchial tubes "sympathize" with the stomach. They respond to the morbific action of the liver. Here, then comes the culminating result, and the setting in, with all its distressing symptoms, of

CONSUMPTION.

The Mandrake Pills are composed of one of Nature's noblest gifts—the Podophillum Peltatum. They possess all the blood-searching, alterative properties of calomel, but unlike calomel, they

"LEAVE NO STING BEHIND."

The work of cure is now beginning. The vitiated and mucous deposits in the bowels and in the alimentary canal are ejected. The liver, like a clock, is wound up. It arouses from its torpidity. The stomach acts responsively, and the patient begins to feel that he is getting well.

A SUPPLY OF GOOD BLOOD.

The Seaweed Tonic, in conjunction with the Pills, permeates and assimilates with the food. Chylification is now progressing, without its previous torture. Digestion becomes painless, and the cure is seen to be at hand. There is no more flatulence, no fermentation of the stomach. An appetite sets in.

Now comes the greatest Blood Purifier ever yet given by an indulgent father to suffering man. Schenck's Pulmonic Syrup comes in to perform its functions and to hasten and complete the cure. It effers at once upon its entry to the stomach, and is checked. It coagulates and ripens the impaired and diseased portions of the lungs. In the form of gathering it prepares them for expectoration, and lo! in a very short time the malady is vanquished, the rotten throne that it occupied is removed and made new, and the patient, in all the dignity of regained vigor, steps forth to enjoy the manhood or womanhood that was

GIVEN UP AS LOST.

The second thing is, the patients must stay in a warm room, until they get well; it is almost impossible to prevent taking cold when the lungs are diseased, but it must be prevented or a cure cannot be effected. Fresh air and riding out, especially in this section of the country in the fall and winter season, are all wrong. Physicians who recommend that course lose their patients, if their lungs are badly diseased; and yet, because they are in the house they must not sit down quiet: they must walk about the room as much and as fast as the strength will bear, to get up a healthy circulation of blood. The patients must keep in good spirits—be determined to get well. This has a great deal to do with the question, and is the most important point.

To despair of cure after such evidence of its possibility in the worst cases, and of its prevalence in all others, is sinful. Dr. Schenck's personal statement to the Faculty of his own cure was in these modest words:

"Many years ago I was in the last stages of consumption: confined to my bed, and at one time my physicians thought that I could not live a week; then like a drowning man catching at straws, I heard of, and obtained the preparations which I now offer to the public, and they made a perfect cure of me. It seemed to me that I could feel them penetrate my whole system. They soon ripened the matter in my lungs, and I would spit up more than a pint of offensive yellow matter every morning for a long time. As soon as that began to subside, my cough, fever, pains and night sweats all began to leave me, and my appetite became so good that it was with difficulty that I could keep from eating too much. I soon gained my strength, and have grown in flesh ever since."

"I was weighed shortly after my recovery," added the Doctor, "then looking like a mere skeleton; my weight was only ninety-seven pounds; my present weight is two hundred and twenty-five (225) pounds, and for years I have enjoyed uninterrupted health."

Dr. Schenck has discontinued his professional visits to New York and Boston. He or his son, Dr. J. H. Schenck, Jr., still continue to see patients at their office, No. 15 North 5th Street, Philadelphia, every Saturday from 9 A.M. to 3 P.M. Those who wish a thorough examination with the Respirometer will be charged $5. The Respirometer declares the exact condition of the lungs, and patients can really learn whether they are curable or not.

The directions for taking the medicines are adapted to the intelligence even of a child. Follow these directions, and Nature will do the rest, excepting that in some cases the Mandrake Pills are to be taken in increased dose; or the three medicines need no other accompaniments than the ample instructions that accompany them: First, create appetite. Or rather, let the Seaweed Tonic do the welcome symptom. When it comes, as it will come, let the digestive apparatus do its good office. Good blood at once follows, the cough loosens, the night sweat is abated. In a short time both of these morbid symptoms are gone forever.

Dr. Schenck's medicines are constantly kept in tens of thousands of families. As a laxative or purgative, the Mandrake Pills are a standard preparation: while the Pulmonic Syrup, as a cure of coughs and colds, and as a remedy for the more malignant consumption in any of its forms.

Price of the Pulmonic Syrup and Seaweed Tonic $1.50, a bottle, or half dozen for $7.50. Mandrake Pills, 25 cents a box. For sale by all druggists and dealers.

FIRST MORTGAGE

7 Per Cent. Gold Bonds,

ON A COMPLETED ROAD,

FREE OF U. S. TAX,

At 90 and Accrued Interest in Currency.

Burlington, Cedar Rapids and Minnesota Railway.

The completion of this Road has given to these Bonds an established character equal to any mortgage issue dealt in at the Stock Exchange. We are prepared to buy and sell them at any time, at our Banking House, at market price—thus placing them on the same basis; for temporary or permanent investment, with Governments or any other security.

These bonds are a first and only mortgage on a railroad that has cost double the amount of the issue, and which commands, without competition, all the traffic of Northern Iowa and Southern Minnesota—shortening the distance from St. Paul to Chicago 45 miles, and to St. Louis more than 90 miles.

The net earnings are already largely in excess of interest on the bonds, and no doubt exists that they will more than double within the ensuing year.

A contract has been secured with the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy Railroad Company obligating the latter to invest 59 per cent. of gross earnings derived from traffic with the Burlington, Cedar Rapids and Minnesota Road in the bonds of this Company. This arrangement is a strong guarantee of the Bonds, and establishes a large sinking fund for their redemption.

The convertibility privilege in these bonds enables them to be exchanged for stock, at par, at any time. This secures to the holder, at his option, a share in any excess of earnings over the interest obligation.

An exchange of Government securities for these bonds returns 9½ per cent. interest, instead of 5 per cent., which is all that Governments pay at present price, besides leaving an immediate gain of about 20 per cent. in price for re-investment.

All marketable Securities taken in exchange free of Commission and Express charges. 2MdWaS

Hundreds of Thousands Bear Testimony to their Wonderful Curative Effects.

WHAT ARE THEY?

THEY ARE NOT A VILE FANCY DRINK,

Made of Poor Rum, Whiskey, Proof Spirits and Refuse Liquors doctored, spiced and sweetened to please the taste, called "Tonics," "Appetisers," "Restorers," &c., that lead the tippler on to drunkenness and ruin, but are a true Medicine, made from the Native Root and Herbs of California, free from all Alcoholic Stimulants. They are the GREAT BLOOD PURIFIER and a LIFE-GIVING PRINCIPLE, a perfect Renovator and Invigorator of the system, carrying off all poisonous matter and restoring the blood to a healthy condition. No person can take these Bitters according to direction and remain long unwell, provided the bones are not destroyed by mineral poison or other means, and the vital organs wasted beyond the point of repair.

For Inflammatory and Chronic Rheumatism and Gout, Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Bilious, Remittent and Intermittent Fevers, Diseases of the Blood, Liver, Kidneys and Bladder, these Bitters have been most successful. Such Diseases are caused by Vitiated Blood, which is generally produced by derangement of the Digestive Organs.

DYSPEPSIA OR INDIGESTION, Headache, Pain in the Shoulders, Coughs, Tightness of the Chest, Dizziness, Sour Eructations of the Stomach, Bad taste in the Mouth, Bilious Attacks, Palpitation of the Heart, Inflammation of the Lungs, Pain in the regions of the Kidneys, and a hundred other painful symptoms, are the offspring of Dyspepsia.

They invigorate the stomach and stimulate the torpid liver and bowels, which render them of unequalled efficacy in cleansing the blood of all impurities and imparting new life and vigor to the whole system.

FOR SKIN DISEASES, Eruptions, Tetter, Salt Rheum, Blotches, Spots, Pimples, Pustules, Boils, Carbuncles, Ring-Worms, Scald Head, Sore Eyes, Erysipelas, Itch, Scurfs, Discolorations of the Skin, Humors and Diseases of the Skin, of whatever name or nature, are literally dug up and carried out of the system in a short time by the use of these Bitters. One bottle in such cases will convince the most incredulous of their curative effect.

Cleanse the Vitiated Blood whenever you find its impurities bursting through the skin in Pimples, Eruptions or Sores; cleanse it when you find it obstructed and sluggish in the veins, cleanse it when it is foul, and your feelings will tell you when. Keep the blood pure, and the health of the system will follow.

PIN, TAPE and other WORMS, lurking in the system of so many thousands, are effectually destroyed and removed. For full directions, read carefully the circular around each bottle, printed in four languages—English, German, French and Spanish.

FOR FEMALE COMPLAINTS, whether in young or old, married or single, at the dawn of womanhood or at the turn of life, these Tonic Bitters have no equal. ☞ Send for a circular.

They are a Gentle Purgative as well as a Tonic, passessing also, the peculiar merit of acting as a powerful agent in relieving Congestion or Inflammation of the Liver, and all the Visceral Organs. 1yrdawfab16

THE CENTRAL RAILROAD CO. OF IOWA,

have now built and equipped, in first-class manner, about

180 MILES OF RAILROAD,

which will complete their entire line, with the exception of laying the track on twenty-five miles, which is already graded. They will thus open

The First Through Line Across the State

from north to south, and, by making a slight detour at one point, they will give

DIRECT COMMUNICATION BETWEEN ST. LOUIS AND ST. PAUL.

This line of Railroad will have very special advantages for both local and through business, besides such superior railroad connections as will secure to it a large portion of the carrying trade of the Great Northwest. The

First Mortgage

7 PER CENT. GOLD BONDS,

which are issued upon this road, are limited in amount to $16,000 per mile (while many roads issue from $20,000 to $40,000,) and are offered at 90 and accrued interest, in currency. About two millions and a half of these bonds have already been disposed of, leaving but a small balance unsold, which are being rapidly taken.

The most experienced financiers agree that First Mortgage Bonds, to a limited amount, upon a finished railroad, which is well located for business, are one of the very safest forms of investment.

Parties desiring to secure a first-class security, based upon a railroad practically done, and in the hands of leading capitalists who have a large pecuniary and business interest in its success, will do well to apply at the office of the Company, or any of its advertised agents, for a pamphlet and map, showing the characteristics of the enterprise.

NEW 7-30 GOLD LOAN.

SAFE! PROFITABLE! PERMANENT!

JAY COOKE & CO.,

Offer For Sale at Par and Accrued Interest the

FIRST MORT. LAND GRANT GOLD BONDS

—OF THE—

Northern Pacific Railroad Co.

These bonds are secured, first, by a First Mortgage on the Railroad itself, its rolling stock, and all equipments; second, by a First Mortgage on its entire Land Grant, being more than Twenty-Two Thousand Acres of Land to each mile of Road.

The Bonds are free from United States Tax; the Principal and Interest are payable in Gold; the Principal at the end of Thirty years, and the Interest Semi-annually, at the rate of SEVEN AND THREE-TENTHS PER CENT. per annum.

They are issued in denominations of $100, $500, $1,000, $5,000 and $10,000.

The Trustees under the Mortgage are Messrs. Jay Cooke, of Philadelphia, and J. Edgar Thomson, President of the Pennsylvania Central Railroad Company.

These Northern Pacific 7-30 Bonds will at all times before maturity, be receivable at THEIR PAR CENT. PREMIUM (or 1.10,) in exchange for the Company's lands at their lowest cash price.

In addition to their absolute safety, these Bonds yield an income larger, we believe, than any other first-class security. Persons holding United States 6-20's can, by converting them into Northern Pacifics, increase their yearly income one-third, and still have a perfectly reliable investment.

HOW TO GET THEM.—Your nearest Bank or Banker will supply these Bonds in any desired amount, and of any needed denomination. Persons wishing to exchange stocks or other bonds for these, can do so with any of our Agents, who will allow the highest current price for ALL MARKETABLE SECURITIES.

Those living in localities remote from Banks, may send money, or other bonds, directly to us by express, and we will send back Northern Pacific Bonds at our own risk, and without cost to the investor. For further information, pamphlets, maps, etc., call on or address the undersigned, or any of the Banks or Bankers employed to sell this Loan. eod3mda3mwfab8

JEFF DAVIS AGAIN.—For four long years of bitterest strife; months of uninterrupted slaughter of our bravest and best citizens, and days of intense national agony, the name of the greatest traitor of his time was ever mentioned with execration by all good men. By his clamorous and wild ambition he called thousands to destruction and impoverished us as a people; while almost placing this once proud republic under the armed heel of foreign monarchies. To the intense amazement of our European friends we did not hang this fellow. Having caught him flying from his just doom, attired in the petticoats of an accommodating negro wench, we thought him an object too contemptible for the anger of the government. We now see our mistake. Jeff. Davis should have been "reconstructed" in a summary manner, so that the popular refrain,

"We'll hang Jeff Davis on a sour apple tree,
As we go marching on,"

would not have proved a silly prophecy born on the agony of the hour.

We do not believe in hanging as a measure calculated to silence disaffection or satisfy wronged people. But it seems now that it would have been better had the arch traitor suffered the penalty of his great crime at the hands of the hangman.

Not content with the accomplishment of the ruin, the evidence of which he everywhere sees about him in the State which he would again urge to madness, Davis has again uttered treason against the sovereignty of the people of the United States. In his speech delivered in Selma, Ala., Jeff insulted the government and people through whose maudlin mercy he is allowed his liberty. He had the effrontery to say that "he had always been willing to give his life for his people, and now if any Yankee wanted his blood," &c., &c. This was simply contemptible, and Jeff's hearers should have had more sense than to cheer. We distinctly remember when his life was wanted by the government of the United States, and he didn't offer to give it; on the contrary, he attempted to sneak off to Texas in the disguise of an old woman when he was urgently wanted by Captain Dougherty. Now that nobody cares what he does or says, he valiantly offers his life.

Poor, dear Jeff Davis, yours is a bad case when a scornful nation decides that you are not worth the hanging!—New York Telegram.

—A good story is told of a postmaster out in Iowa. A man asked the price of postage stamps, and was told "three cents," whereupon he asked if he couldn't have them cheaper if he took four or five. To this the accommodating postmaster responded; "We cannot sell them at that rate now. We could have done so until lately, but now the Government punches holes around each stamp for the convenience of the people, which so increases the cost that we cannot afford to make any discount." The satisfied customer cheerfully paid three cents.

—There is apparently no cause too slight for a great lawsuit. A right of way case has just been decided at the Exeter assizes in England, in which the plaintiff was a brother of Sir R. P. Collier, the attorney-general of England, and the defendant a clergyman of the church of England. The trial lasted three days and the costs amounted to about one thousand pounds sterling, and yet according to the defendant's counsel the right of way could have been purchased for fourpence a year.

—One of the great inducements to settle in Cairo, Ill., is that every person who dies there is entitled to a railroad ride after his death. The people have used all the dirt within four miles of them trying to make a bottom to the city, and there is none to spare to cover dead men with. The consequence is they have to go about eleven miles to the hills, and the only transportation is by railroad. Persons who wish to enjoy a pleasure excursion after death will be sure to locate in Cairo.

—Let the Protestant portion of the country, the vast majority, by its utter fidelity to the divorce of Church and State, of religion and politics, throw all theological, religious, and ecclesiastic questions back where they belong,—into the arena of logic, historical evidence, literary or religious discussion; into pulpits, synods, religious conferences,— and it will quickly appear whether this is a Protestant country or not. It is only because we foolishly allow our Jesuitical friends to drag the Roman-Catholic Church into the political circus, and hitch the horses of party and legislation to its wheels, that we see its alarming progress. They, we may be sure, intoxicated with present success, will do their utmost to keep their religious affairs mixed in with all political questions. They thrive by it. But will they not pause to consider whether their present swift advance on the route, and by this method, is not the road to ruin? Has not the history and fate of American slavery a solemn lesson for them? Did not that "domestic institution" attempt to make itself a national one, establish its propaganda, send its missionaries to Congress, and compel its whole political life to turn upon the question of extending its dark area? Did it not long prosper and thrive upon this political pabulum, of threatening and fear, and spread, until it invaded territories consecrated to liberty, nay until it almost seemed ready to seize the national Capitol,—flag, archives, and all,— and rule over a nation held together by the black marble keystone of negro slavery, pronounced a divine institution? Only slowly the nation comprehended its purpose; for it was an inevitable purpose, a part of the logic of slavery, not so much the fault as the fatal proclivity of its heirs; but, when the nation did fully comprehend it, it rose, and cut down the accursed Upas at a stroke, and tore up its roots out of the national soil! Will the American people, a Christian-Protestant nation, see any form of sacramental, hierarchical, theological priestcraft getting possession of their politics and government, cheating them, before their very eyes, out of their rights and liberties, and not, sooner or later, treat it just as they treated slavery? Nay, would they not over-ride the Constitution to save the nation threatened by a government of priests?—Old and New for April.

—Water is six cents a gallon in Pioche City, Colorado.

—A beautiful woman of Portland, Oregon, has eloped to China with an almond-eyed pagan.

—American cotton-seed is now being exported to England, to be made into first quality "olive oil."

—Dr. W. T. Taliaferro, who died in Cincinnati a few days since, was the last surviving officer of our forces engaged in the naval battles on Lake Erie. He was then acting as surgeon on one of the American vessels.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

WALTHAM WATCHES.

The extensive use of these watches for the last fifteen years by Railway Conductors, Engineers and Expressmen, the most exacting of watch-wearers, has thoroughly demonstrated the strength, steadiness, durability and accuracy of the Waltham Watch. To satisfy that class in all these respects, is to decide the question as to the real value of these time-keepers.

More than 500,000 of these watches are now speaking for themselves in the pockets of the people—a proof and a guarantee of their superiority over all others.

The superior organization and great extent of the Company's Works at Waltham, enables them to produce watches at a price which renders competition futile, and those who buy any other watch merely pay from 25 to 50 per cent. more for their watches than is necessary.

These time-pieces combine every improvement that a long experience has proved of real practical use. Having had the refusal of nearly every invention in watch-making originating in this country or in Europe, only those were finally adopted which severe testing by the most skillful artisans in our works, and long use on the part of the public, demonstrated to be essential to correct and enduring time-keeping.

Among the many improvements we would particularize:—

The invention and use of a centre-pinion of peculiar construction, to prevent damage to the train by the breakage of main-springs, is original with the American Watch Company, who, having had the refusal of all other contrivances, adopted Dogg's patent pinion as being the best and mildest.

Hardened and tempered hair-springs, now universally admitted by Watchmakers to be the best, are used in all grades of Waltham Watches.

All Waltham Watches have dust-proof caps, preventing the entrance of dust from and insuring the necessity of the frequent cleaning necessary in other watches.

Our new patent stem-winder, or keyless watch is already a decided success, and a great improvement on any stem-winding watch in the American market, and by far the cheapest watch of its quality now offered to the public. To those living in portions of the United States where watchmakers do not abound, watches with the above mentioned improvements, which tend to ensure accuracy, cleanliness, durability and convenience, must prove invaluable.

The trademarks of the various styles made by the Company are as follows:—

The Chronicle.

NEW HAVEN possessed two citizens named James Gallagher and Thomas Brinley, reported to be prominent Democratic politicians; and the narrative which we are printing seems to render the assertion both natural and highly probable. At the late Congressional Convention, it appears some difficulty occurred between these gentlemen, growing out of the subject of registration and the payment of the men who gathered in the faithful to the registering places; somehow, we say, a difficulty arose between these gentlemen, which culminated one day last week in a physical argument.

They met on the street, when Mr. Brinley accused Gallagher of selling out to the Kendrick faction. To this Hon. Mr. Gallagher demurred, and in the course of his remarks made use of rather strong language. He called Hon. Mr. Brinley "a —— infernal liar," "a —— beat," "a —— loafer," "a —— cheat," and several other endearing appellations. Hon. Mr. Brinley, who is a gentleman of exquisite refinement and elegant culture, objected to Hon. Mr. Gallagher's vocabulary and threatened to knock him down. He dared Hon. Mr. Gallagher to repeat any of the choice epithets which he had used, and upon Hon. Mr. Gallagher's repeating one, with a double barrelled series of adjectives attached to it, Hon. Brinley was good as his word and let fly his right fist, taking Hon. James Gallagher under one of his ears, and sending that gentlemen flat on the floor and all in a heap. Hon. Mr. Brinley then leaped toward the prostrate friend and rained blows on him until he was pulled away by some of the bystanders.

The affair was a very lively one while it lasted and causes much animated conversation in democratic circles. Public sentiment, the Palladium informs us, does not sympathize with the conquered, but rather espouses the cause of Hon. Mr. Brinley and glories in the laurels he has won. The encounter was witnessed by several leading democrats, who speak highly of the science displayed by both the distinguished participants. Hon. James L. Hayes of Connecticut, whom Hon. James Gallagher floored in a personal encounter some time since, considers himself avenged, and it is understood, will present Hon. Mr. Brinley with a champion's belt elegantly wrought with brass.

The gentlemen who compose the democratic party have every reason to be proud of their leaders. Hon. Messrs. Gallagher and Brinley are kind enough to run the party, nominate its candidates and look after the workings of the campaign, and their encounter only proves how thoroughly harmonious the democracy are.

A SAILOR'S DESCRIPTION OF A DANCE. Haven't had any fun with the land lubbers till last Thursday night at a dance. When I arrived in the cabin, found 'em under way on a Spanish dance. Took my station in line with Lucy Tucker—fell back and filled, then shot ahead two fathoms—hauled up on the starboard tack to let another craft pass, and then came stern on another sail, spoke her, and bore round against the sun, and fell in with another sail in full chase. Passed twenty sails on same course, and when half across to the other shore, drop astern—fell back—couldn't fill, so let go anchor and hauled up for repairs. Next time I was drawn into the current by a cowtillion, but didn't make much headway—shot ahead with Betsey Stark, and sailed over to the other coast. Took a turn opposite range abreast twice towards other crafts, and back astern again—moved round to starboard—passed near partner's lights and make sail for berth. Third time ran me into port to the tune of the tempest, the tar's favorite. Proceeded along up coast according to the regular ordering of sailing—bore ahead again, and rounded to—then passing adversary yardarm lock astern with the whole squadron, in circular order of sailing, Sally Jones all the time maneuvering and making signals when under full sail. Finally anchored after a heavy squall.

—Joe Howard thus writes of the late Daniel D. Howard: "Mr. Howard was at one time genial in manner and a general favorite. As he grew old he became cross and ugly, and it probably struck in." We don't know if this is always the case with members of the Howard family, but Joe ought to be posted.—N. Y. Globe.

ARE YOU GOING TO PAINT? —IF SO, USE THE— AVERILL CHEMICAL PAINT.

It is Cheaper, Handsomer and more durable than the best of other Paints. One Thousand Gallons of it were sold in this City, in the year 1870, and not one complaint has come from those who have used it; but all speak in its favor; it is mixed ready for application, and is much easier put on than any other Paint, making a smooth, glossy surface for years, that can be cleaned with hot water without injuring it. It is excellent for walls inside, in the place of paper.

I shall keep this season a large stock of Chemical Paints of all shades on hand, to accommodate customers with any amount, without delay in ordering it. Those who want to use the Chemical Paints and have had them misrepresented by those who deal in Linseed Oil, are invited to call and examine my Paints that have been on Buildings two years, and you will find them as fresh as if laid but one month.

I am prepared to do Painting by Contract, or by the day, using the Chemical Paint, or furnishing good experienced workmen by the day at very low wages. B. NORTON, only Agent for selling the

A Book for Everybody.

Flattered by the reception of, and great demand for, the above valuable and timely treatises, and also to meet a great need of the present age, the author has just published a new book, treating exclusively of NERVOUS AND MENTAL DISEASES. 150 pp. cloth. Price $1, or SENT FREE on receipt of $3 for the other two books, postpage paid.

These are, beyond all comparison, the most extraordinary works on Physiology ever published. There is nothing whatever that the MARRIED OR SINGLE, of EITHER SEX, can either require or wish to know, but what is fully explained, and many matters of the most important and interesting character are introduced to which no allusion even can be found in any other works in our language. All the NEW DISCOVERIES of the author, whose experience is such as probably never before fell to the lot of any man, are given in full. No person should be without these valuable books.

"VALUABLE BOOKS.—We have received the valuable medical works published by the Peabody Medical Institute. These books are of actual merit, and should find a place in every intelligent family. They are not the cheap order of abominable trash, published by irresponsible parties, and purchased to gratify coarse tastes, but are written by a responsible professional gentleman of eminence, as a source of instruction on vital matters, concerning which lamentable ignorance exists. The important subjects presented are treated with delicacy, ability and care, and, as an appendix, many useful prescriptions for prevailing complaints are added."—Coos Republican, Lancaster, N. H.

"The author of these books is one of the most learned and popular physicians of the day, and is entitled to the gratitude of our race for these invaluable productions. It seems to be his aim to induce men and women to avoid the cause of those diseases to which they are subject, and he tells them just how and when to do it."—Chronicle, Farmington, Maine, Sept. 7, 1865.

Either book sent by mail on receipt of price.

N. B. The Author of the above-named medical works is the Chief Consulting Physician of the Peabody Medical Institute, and is so constantly employed in consultation with invalids from all parts of the country, that he has no time to attend to mere business details. Therefore all letters should be addressed to the PEABODY MEDICAL INSTITUTE, or to Dr. W. H. PARKER, the Medical Assistant of the Author, and his Business Agent, who, as well as the Author himself, may be consulted on all diseases requiring skill, secrecy and experience. oct281yr

TUESDAY, APRIL 4, 1871.

OUR BIRD OF PROMISE;

HE REJOICETH!

CONNECTICUT REDEEMED!!!

The Connecticut election took place Monday, and the result is a Republican victory greatly overbalancing our defeat in this State, for this victory was won on national issues while our defeat was wholly owing to local ones. The favorable result in Connecticut, notwithstanding the unfavorable influence of the New Hampshire fiasco in elating the Democrats and disheartening their opponents, will go far towards convincing the patriots who since our defeat have talked so boldly of nullifying the constitutional amendments, that the people are not yet convinced that the war for the Union was a mistake; and it also considerably demoralizes that famous "tidal wave of Democracy" which commenced in this State last month, and was going to drown Republicanism entirely before it subsided. The Republicans have elected the Governor, and the next four Congressmen; the Legislature was Republican last year, and will be more strongly so this one. Below we give the returns as received:—

NEW HAVEN, 3d, 11 P. M.

In New Haven, Jewell, the Republican candidate for Governor, gains 391 on the vote of last year. Twenty-one towns in New Haven County give a Republican gain of 831 over last year. Jewell is probably elected. Kendrick, Democrat, is probably elected to Congress in the 2nd District by a small majority.—a Democratic gain. Strong, Republican, is elected to Congress from the 1st District.

NORWICH, 3d, 11:45 P. M.

As far as heard from this District [the 3d] gives about the same majority as last year; Starkweather, Republican, for Congress, has about 1500 majority. Norwich gives Jewell 1501, English 1242; New London, Jewell 729, English 752.

NEW HAVEN, 11:50.

A. B. Woodward, Republican, is elected Senator over E. A. Woodward, Democrat, in the 12th District, by about 100 majority. The figures in the Palladium office give Kellogg, Republican, about 75 majority for Congress in the 2nd District, over Kendrick, Democrat.

HARTFORD, 4th, 12:30 A. M.

167 towns give a net gain for Jewell of 998 over last year. Barnum, Democrat, is elected to Congress in the 4th District.

NEW HAVEN, 4th, 12:40 A. M.

Returns to the Palladium show Jewell's election by about 500 majority, and Kellogg's election to Congress by 9 majority. For Governor, in New Haven, Jewell 3720, English 5267; Windham, Jewell 464, English 301.

HARTFORD, 1:15 A. M.

This city gives Jewell 3229, English 3546; Hartford County, Jewell 12,868, English 13,261; New Haven County, Jewell 10,373, English 11,786. Jewell's majority, with 22 towns to hear from, 139.

HARTFORD, 1:30 A. M.

Returns from all but 16 towns have been received. Reckoning the vote of these towns the same as last year, Jewell has 102 majority.

The city elections in Danville and Harrodsburg, Ky., resulted in favor of the Republicans.

☞ A preliminary survey of the Boston and Maine Railroad extension was begun at South Berwick on Friday.

—One of our residents found something offensive in his last dozen of eggs, and took the dealer to task. 'What is the matter with them?' asked that individual. 'They ain't good,' was the reply. 'Well, that isn't to be wondered at,' was the apologetic rejoinder. 'Hens are drove so now they ain't expected to be as particular as usual.'"

—A country clergyman says he has married but one couple this year, and that they paid him nothing, staid to dinner, as it was a rainy day, and then borrowed his umbrella when they left, which he has never seen since.

THE MAN THAT WOULDN'T VOTE.—I know him; he happens to be a neighbor of mine, and a very good neighbor he is—that is, I suppose he would be. But I am a little afraid of him; he won't vote.

He lives in a self-governing country—that is, a country where the people govern themselves, and he is content to let other people govern him. I wish you could see some of them.

He says he don't like the candidates. "Well then, vote on the other side."

"But I like them still less."

"Then take the best you can get. If you are stuck in the mud, you don't wait for dry ground. You take the best way out, even if it be a muddy one."

"But I don't like the way things are managed."

"Well, then, take hold and help to manage them better." He shrugs his shoulders. I'll tell you the reason he does so—it is too much trouble to attend to his duty.

I have met this man before. We were once together on board a vessel; there came a gale; she sprang a leak! "All hands to the pumps!" He did not move a finger;—"I'm only a passenger!"

"Never mind; come to the pumps!"

But the captain did not handle the ship well. He ought to have taken in that top-sail hours before."

"No matter; come and pump!"

"But some of the men are drunk, and things are all in disorder. There is no discipline."

"So much the more need. Pump!"

"No; I'm disgusted with the whole thing."

"That does not help the matter; do your duty!"

"Just then a sail hove in sight, and we were saved—no thanks to him.

One day a house was on fire near ours, and we were all in danger. He stood looking on.

"How badly things are managed," said he.

"No matter, friend, lend a hand here; give us a bucket of water." "No!"

"Put your hands to those breaks." "No." "Help to drag out that furniture." No." "What will you do?"

"Well, if they will manage things rightly, I will help them."

"Help them! Help us, help yourself. Why, man, your barn is in danger!"

"Well, I can't do any good. I may as well keep still. You see there's no discipline, all is confusion and everything is mismanaged. We ought to have a better supply of water in this town, and somebody to control these men. They do as much harm as good. I'm disgusted."

So was I. I am happy to say his barn was burned for want of a wet blanket and a few pails of water.

I heard a story once, and a circumstantial one, of the chain of results that hung upon one vote. It was startling. Of course, no one knew which vote it was. But it was only one. Since that time I have been afraid to neglect my duty in that line. So I make it a point to be at home and to vote early. If things go wrong, it shall not be my fault, and that is some consolation when trouble comes.

Seriously, solemnly, it is a time when every man's voice and work are needed on the right side. The greatest dangers are those that work in the dark.

GOOD.—The Washington correspondent of the N. Y. Times says that "the President will accompany the transmission of the San Domingo commissioners' report to Congress next week, with a message, which will be new evidence that he has no policy to enforce against the will of the people. He says, in substance, that had the subject received fair treatment when the last treaty was rejected, he would not have asked its further consideration, but believing it had not been fairly presented to the country, and the question having become complicated with charges and insinuations foreign to its merits, he desired its full investigation at the hands of Congress, which has been had with results indicating the correctness of his public policy and disavowing the charges of improper action in the investigations. He does not ask for action now, but transmits the report for the information of Congress and the country. He does not by any means abandon his views, but leaves the responsibility of future action upon Congress, and repeats his original declaration that he has no policy to enforce against the will of the people."

MISSISSIPPI.—Gov. Alcorn of Mississippi, in a message to the legislature, Saturday, says "rewards for the detection of men engaged in outrages perpetrated by what is called Ku-Klux in any county shall, when paid by the executive, be made a special tax upon that county." On the part of that State he asks the authorities to organize and call into the field a cavalry regiment of picked men "for operating wherever the masked assassins shall be seen, the cost of the subsistence of said regiment to be levied on the county to which they have been called by the appearance of masked assassins. The taxpayers, who shall dare to tolerate by their sympathies the performances of the Ku-Klux, will soon find out that such toleration will cost them heavily in penal taxes. It is our solemn duty to see that we leave nothing undone to remove all possible grounds for provocation."

☞ The Queen Dowager of Sweden is ill.

DEATH OF AN EX-SENATOR.—Ex-Senator Jacob M. Howard, of Detroit, Michigan, died in that city of apoplexy on Sunday. The attack came upon him on Friday, and he was insensible until death. He was born in Shaftsbury, Vermont, and was in his sixty-sixth year. He graduated at Williams College, and after studying law went to Michigan to practice. His first entrance into political life was when, at the age of thirty-three, he was chosen a member of the State legislature. In 1854 he drew up the first platform ever framed for the republican party, and gave that party its name. He was elected to the Senate to fill a vacancy, took his seat January 17, 1862, and was reelected in 1865. In the last Congress he was chairman of the Pacific Railroad committee, and was also a member of the committee on Territories and of the committee on military affairs.

☞ The boiler of a rum mill engine in Cincinnati blew up, Friday, killing eight persons and wounding seven. The loss on the building is $15,000. The cause of the disaster has not been ascertained; among the rumors is one to the effect that a number of the hands have been in a drunken state for two days. The distillery had been running day and night, Sundays excepted.

☞ The Californians now think Harte is a brat.

BUSINESS NOTICES.

THE ACKNOWLEDGED SUPERIORITY of heavy boots and shoes, fastened with CABLE SCREW WIRE, has induced the belief that this fastening is applicable only to the heavier grades of work. So far from this being the case, the excellence of this mode of manufacture is strikingly manifest in the most delicate goods.

$1,000 REWARD is offered by the proprietor of Dr. Pierce's Alt. Ext. or Golden Medical Discovery for a medicine that will equal it in the cure of "Liver Complaint" or Biliousness," Constipation of the Bowels, Bronchial, Throat and Lung diseases, Boils, Eruptions, Tumors, Blotches and Rashes appearing upon the face. Sold by druggists.

The public are hereby assured, through the columns of the Portsmouth Chronicle, that Parson's Purgative Pills contain no injurious principle, but that they may be administered to children and the most weak and shattered constitutions in small doses, with great certainty of success.

Dr. A. Johnson, one of the most successful practitioners of his time, invented what is now called Johnson's Anodyne Liniment. "The great success of this article in the cure of Bronchitis and all diseases of throat and lungs, will make the name of Johnson not less favorably, if less widely known than that of Louis Napoleon. 1wapl

SPECIAL NOTICES.

Danger Ahead.

A single spark may kindle a flame that will consume a city, and small ailments neglected, may end in fatal disorders. Bearing this fact in mind, let the first symptoms of debility or nervous prostration be met promptly with invigorating treatment. Foremost among the vegetable tonics of the age stands HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS, and whenever the vital powers seem to languish, or there is any reason to suspect that the animal functions essential to the sustenation and purification of the body are imperfectly performed this invaluable invigorant and antiseptic should at once be resorted to. Indigestion always produces weakness of the bodily powers. Sometimes it happens that the appetite demands more food than the stomach can digest; though not more, perhaps, than is required to keep up the full strength of the frame. The object under such circumstances, is to increase the digestive capacity of the assimilating organ, so as to make it equal to the duty imposed upon it by the appetite, and capable of supplying the building material of the system as fast as it is required. This object is fully accomplished by the use of the Bitters. They tone and gently stimulate the cellular membrane which secretes the gastric juice, and the result is that the solvent is mingled with the food in sufficient quantity to convert all its nutritious particles into pure and wholesome aliment. If, on the other hand, there is a deficiency of appetite, without any corresponding deficiency of digestive power, the effect of the Bitters is to stimulate a desire for food. In nineteen cases out of twenty, headache, nausea, nervousness, fainting-fits, spasms and, indeed, most of the casual aches and pains to which humanity is subject, proceed primarily from indigestion complicated with biliousness; and for both these complaints HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS are recommended as a speedy and certain remedy.

While there are grave doubts if a crust of bread is sweeter to a hungry beggar because it is donated, the charitable bestower feels better sometimes to have his gift enlarged into a donation.

The road will accommodate those towns which lie between the Nashua and Lowell and the Worcester railroads which do not now have railroad facilities. Only about three miles of the proposed road will be in New Hampshire. This thoroughfare, when completed, will open a new route to Boston for the people of that portion of our State. Consumption,

ITS CURE AND ITS PREVENTIVE,

By J. H. SCHENCK, M. D.

Many a human being has passed away, for whose death there was no other reason than the neglect of known and indisputably proved means of cure. Those near and dear to them and friends are sleeping the dreamless slumber into which, had they calmly adopted and availed themselves of his wonderfully efficacious medicines, they would not have fallen.

Dr. JOSEPH H. SCHENCK'S SIMPLE TREATMENT,

Dr. Schenck has his own case proven that wherever sufficient vitality remains, that vitality, by his medicines and his directions for their use, is quickened into healthful vigor.

In this statement there is nothing presumptuous. To the faith of the invalids made on representations that is not a thousand times substantiated by living and visible works. The theory of the cure by Dr. Schenck's medicines is as simple as it is philosophic. Its philosophy requires no argument. It is self assuring, self-convincing.

The Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills are the first two weapons with which the citadel of the malady is assailed. Two-thirds of the cases of consumption originate in dyspepsia and a functionally disordered liver. With this condition the bronchial tubes "sympathize" with the stomach. They respond to the morbific action of the liver. Here, then comes the culminating result, and the setting in, with all its distressing symptoms, of

CONSUMPTION.

The Mandrake Pills are composed of one of Nature's noblest gifts—the Pedophillum Peltatum. They possess all the blood-searching, alterative properties of calomel, but unlike calomel, they

"LEAVE NO STING BEHIND."

The work of cure is now beginning. The vitiated and mucous deposits in the bowels and in the alimentary canal are ejected. The liver, like a clock, is wound up. It arouses from its torpidity. The stomach acts responsively, and the patient begins to feel that he is getting at last,

A SUPPLY OF GOOD BLOOD.

The Seaweed Tonic, in conjunction with the Pills, permeates and assimilates with the food. Chylification is now progressing, without its previous tortures. Digestion becomes painless, and the cause is seen to be at hand. There is no more flatulence, no exacerbation of the stomach, and no dyspepsia.

Now comes the greatest Blood Purifier ever yet given by an indulgent father to suffering man. Schenck's Pulmonic acts at once upon the bronchial functions and to hasten and complete the cure. It enters at once upon its work. Nature cannot be cheated. It collects and opens the impaired and diseased portions of the lungs. In the form of gathering it prepares them for expectoration, and lo! in a very short time the malady is vanquished, the rotten throne that it occupied is renovated and made new, and the patient, in all the dignity of regained vigor, steps forth to enjoy the manhood or womanhood that was

GIVEN UP AS LOST.

The second thing is, the patients must stay in a warm room, until they get well; it is almost impossible to prevent taking cold when the lungs are diseased, but it must be prevented or a cure cannot be effected. Fresh air and riding out, especially in this section of the country in the fall and winter season, are all wrong. Physicians who recommend that course lose their patients, if their lungs are badly diseased; and yet, because they are in the house they must not sit down quiet; they must walk about the room as much and as fast as the strength will bear, to get up a good circulation of blood. The patients must keep in good spirits—be determined to get well. This has a great deal to do with the appetite, and is the great point to aim at.

To despair of cure after such evidence of its possibility in the worst cases, and moral certainty in all others, is sinful. Dr. Schenck's personal statement to the Faculty of his own cure was in these modest words:

"Many years ago I was in the last stages of consumption: confined to my bed, and at one time my physicians thought that I could not live a week; then like a drowning man catching at straws, I heard of, and obtained the preparations which I now offer to the public, and they made a perfect cure of me. It seemed to me that I could feel them penetrate my whole system. They soon ripened the matter in my lungs, and I would spit up more than a pint of offensive yellow matter every morning for a long time. As soon as that began to subside, my cough, fever, pains and night sweats all began to leave me, and my appetite became so great that it was with difficulty that I could keep from eating too much. I soon gained my strength, and have grown in flesh ever since."

"I was weighed shortly after my recovery," added the Doctor, "then looking like a mere skeleton; my weight was only ninety-seven pounds; my present weight is two hundred and twenty-five (225) pounds, and for years I have enjoyed uninterrupted health."

Dr. Schenck has discontinued his professional visits to New York and Boston. He or his son, Dr. J. H. Schenck, Jr., still continue to see patients at their office, No. 15 North Sixth street, Philadelphia, every Saturday from 9 A. M. to 3 P. M. Those who wish a thorough examination with the Respirometer will be charged $5. The Respirometer declares the exact condition of the lungs, and patients can readily learn whether they are curable or not.

The directions for taking the medicines are adapted to the intelligence even of a child. Follow these directions, and kind Nature will do the work, excepting that in some cases the Mandrake Pills are to be taken in increased doses; the Pulmonic requires no other accompaniments than the ample instructions that accompany them: First, create appetite. Of remedies the hungry is the most delicious symptom. When it comes, as it will come, let the despairing at once be of good cheer. Good blood at once follows, the sound sleep follows, the night sweat is abated. In a short time both of these morbid symptoms are gone forever.

Dr. Schenck's medicines are constantly kept in tens of thousands of families. As a laxative or purgative, the Mandrake Pills are the standard preparation: while the Pulmonic Syrup, as a cure of coughs and colds, may be regarded as a prophylactic against consumption in any of its forms.

Price of the Pulmonic Syrup and Seaweed Tonic $1.50, a bottle, or $15 per dozen. Mandrake Pills, 25 cents a box. For sale by all druggists and dealers.

FIRST MORTGAGE

7 PER CENT. GOLD BONDS,

ON A COMPLETED ROAD,

FREE OF U. S. TAX,

At 90 and Accrued Interest in Currency.

Burlington, Cedar Rapids and Minnesota Railway.

The completion of this Road has given to these Bonds an established character equal to any mortgage issue dealt in at the Stock Exchange. We are prepared to buy and sell them at any time, at our Banking House, at market price—thus placing them on the same basis, for temporary or permanent investment, with Governments or any other security.

These bonds are a first and only mortgage on a railroad that has cost double the amount of the issue, and which commands, without competition, all the traffic of Northern Iowa and Southern Minnesota—shortening the distance from St. Paul to Chicago 45 miles, and to St. Louis more than 90 miles.

The net earnings are already largely in excess of interest on the bonds, and no doubt exists that they will more than double within the ensuing year.

A contract has been secured with the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy Railroad Company obligating the latter to invest 50 per cent. of gross earnings derived from traffic with the Burlington, Cedar Rapids and Minnesota Road in the bonds of this Company. This arrangement is a strong guarantee of the Bonds, and establishes a large sinking fund for their redemption.

The convertibility privilege in these bonds enables them to be exchanged for stock, at par, at any time. This secures to the holder, at his option, a share in any excess of earnings over the interest obligation.

An exchange of Government securities for these bonds returns 9½ per cent. interest, instead of 5 per cent., which is all that Governments pay at present price, besides leaving an immediate gain of about 20 per cent. in price for re-investment.

All marketable Securities taken in exchange free of Commission and Express charges. f24dWAS

A GREAT MEDICAL DISCOVERY!

DR. WALKER'S CALIFORNIA

VINEGAR BITTERS.

Hundreds of Thousands Bear Testimony to their Wonderful Curative Effects.

WHAT ARE THEY!

THEY ARE NOT A VILE FANCY DRINK,

Made of Poor Rum, Whiskey, Proof Spirits and Refuse Liquors doctored, spiced and sweetened to please the taste, called "Tonics," "Appetizers," "Restorers," &c., that lead the tippler on to drunkenness and ruin, but are a true Medicine, made from the Native Roots and Herbs of California, free from all Alcoholic Stimulants. They are the GREAT BLOOD PURIFIER and a LIFE-GIVING PRINCIPLE, a perfect Renovator and Invigorator of the system, carrying off all poisonous matter and restoring the blood to a healthy condition. No person can take these Bitters according to direction and remain long unwell, provided the bones are not destroyed by mineral poison or other means, and the vital organs wasted beyond the point of repair.

For Inflammatory and Chronic Rheumatism and Gout, Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Bilious, Remittent and Intermittent Fevers, Diseases of the Blood, Liver, Kidneys and Bladder, these Bitters have been most successful. Such Diseases are caused by Vitiated Blood, which is generally produced by derangement of the Digestive Organs.

DYSPEPSIA OR INDIGESTION, Headache, Pain in the Shoulders, Coughs, Tightness of the Chest, Dizziness, Sour Eructations of the Stomach, Bad taste in the Mouth, Bilious Attacks, Palpitation of the Heart, Inflammation of the Lungs, Pain in the regions of the Kidneys, and a hundred other painful symptoms, are the offspring of Dyspepsia.

They invigorate the stomach and stimulate the torpid liver and bowels, which render them of unequalled efficacy in cleansing the blood of all impurities and imparting new life and vigor to the whole system.

FOR SKIN DISEASES, Eruptions, Tetter, Salt Rheum, Blotches, Spots, Pimples, Pustules, Boils, Carbuncles, Ring-Worms, Scald Head, Sore Eyes, Erysipelas, Itch, Scurfs, Discolorations of the Skin, Humors and Diseases of the Skin, of whatever name or nature, are literally dug up and carried out of the system in a short time by the use of these Bitters. One bottle in such cases will convince the most incredulous of their curative effect.

Cleanse the Vitiated Blood whenever you find its impurities bursting through the skin in Pimples, Eruptions or Sores; cleanse it when you find it obstructed and sluggish in the veins, cleanse it when it is foul, and your feelings will tell you when. Keep the blood pure, and the health of the system will follow.

PIN, TAPE and other WORMS, lurking in the system of so many thousands, are effectually destroyed and removed. For full directions, read carefully the circular around each bottle, printed in four languages—English, German, French and Spanish.

FOR FEMALE COMPLAINTS, whether in young or old, married or single, at the dawn of womanhood or at the turn of life, these Tonic Bitters have no equal. ☞ Send for a circular.

They are a Gentle Purgative as well as a Tonic, possessing also, the peculiar merit of acting as a powerful agent in relieving Congestion or Inflammation of the Liver, and all the Visceral Organs. 1yrdawfebl6

THE CENTRAL RAILROAD CO.

OF IOWA,

have now built and equipped, in first-class manner, about

180 MILES OF RAILROAD,

which will complete their entire line, with the exception of laying the track on twenty-five miles, which is already graded. They will thus open

The First Through Line Across the State

from north to south, and, by making a slight detour at one point, they will give

DIRECT COMMUNICATION BETWEEN ST. LOUIS AND ST. PAUL.

This line of Railroad will have very special advantages for both local and through business, besides such superior railroad connections as will secure to it a large portion of the carrying trade of the Great Northwest. The

First Mortgage

7 PER CENT. GOLD BONDS,

which are issued upon this road, are limited in amount to $16,000 per mile (while many roads issue from $20,000 to $40,000,) and are offered at 90 and accrued interest, in currency. About two millions and a half of these bonds have already been disposed of, leaving but a small balance unsold, which are being rapidly taken.

The most experienced financiers agree that First Mortgage Bonds, to a limited amount, upon finished railroad, which is well located for business, are one of the very safest forms of investment.

Parties desiring to secure a first-class security, based upon a railroad practically done, and in the hands of leading capitalists who have a large pecuniary and business interest in its success, will do well to apply at the office of the Company, or any of its advertised agents, for a pamphlet and map, showing the characteristics of the enterprise.

Holders of Government Bonds may exchange them for Central Iowas at a large present profit, beside a handsome increase of interest for a long term of years. Parties making such exchange will receive for each $1,000 Bond a $1,600 Central Iowa Bond, and the following difference in cash (less the accrued interest in currency upon the latter bond,) and in annual interest, this calculation being based upon market prices of December 27th, 1870:—

SAFE! PROFITABLE! PERMANENT!

JAY COOKE & CO.,

Offer For Sale at Par and Accrued Interest the FIRST MORT. LAND GRANT GOLD BONDS

—OF THE—

Northern Pacific Railroad Co.

These bonds are secured, first, by a First Mortgage on the Railroad itself, its rolling stock, and all equipments; second, by a First Mortgage on its entire Land Grant, being more than twenty-Two Thousand Acres of Land to each mile of Road.

The Bonds are free from United States Tax; the Principal and Interest are payable in Gold; the Principal at the end of Thirty years, and the Interest Semi-annually, at the rate of SEVEN AND THREE-TENTHS PER CENT. per annum.

They are issued in denominations of $100, $500, $1,000, $5,000 and $10,000.

The Trustees under the Mortgage are Messrs. Jay Cooke, of Philadelphia, and J. Edgar Thomson, President of the Pennsylvania Central Railroad Company.

These Northern Pacific 7-30 Bonds will at all times before maturity, be receivable at TEN PER CENT. PREMIUM (or 1.10,) in exchange for the Company's lands at their lowest cash price.

The Profits under the Mortgage, at these Bonds yield an income larger, we believe, than any other first-class security. Persons holding United States 5-20's can, by converting them into Northern Pacifics, increase their yearly income one-third, and still have a perfectly reliable investment.

HOW TO GET THEM.—Your nearest Bank or Banker will supply these Bonds in any desired amount, and of any needed denomination. Persons wishing to exchange United States other bonds for these, can do so with any of our Agents, who will allow the highest current price for ALL MARKETABLE SECURITIES.

Those living in localities remote from Banks, may send money, or other bonds, directly to us by express, and we will send back Northern Pacific Bonds at our own risk, and without cost to the investor. Morning Chronicle.

FRANCE.

The commune has forced loans from five insurance companies of Paris. Communication with Paris has been suspended; the city is now perfectly isolated and fears of another famine are again entertained.

Thiers has paid another instalment of the indemnity, and Bismark consents to an increase of the troops in Paris; also to put the departments in a state of siege should the revolution spread. The government has charged General Clinchamps with the organization of the troops. General Charette holds Nantes.

A movement is on foot in Paris to disarm and disband all the battalions of nationals which do not recognize the authority of the committee. The Sociale, a new journal, proposes the abolition of the inheritance of property. Rochefort, in behalf of the commune, calls on the central committee to abdicate.

Zenits, with 900 men, has defeated the insurgents at Narbonne and captured their leaders. Marseilles has recognized the regular government, and the commune is divided, agitated and powerless. The assembly is sitting at Versailles, surrounded by the army.

Several thousand national guards, occupying Puteau Courbevois and Bridge Neuilly, have been routed by the troops, who carried the barricades and captured many prisoners. The nationals fled into the city. The organization and equipment of marching battalions in Paris is actively going on. The Bank of France to save itself from being plundered, has advanced three million francs to the insurgents.

The army of Versailles has occupied St. Cloud and the line of the Seine.

Rochefort proposes that steps should be taken with a view to the sale of the churches and convents.

There was a serious engagement Sunday morning between the government troops and the Communists. About two thousand of the National Guard marched on Courlevose, and were met by Gens d'Arms and Gardes Foresters. The Captain of the latter galloped up, waving his cap, intending to address the Communists, when a Zouave with that body shot him dead. A general action followed, in which the Gens d'Arms took five prisoners, one 76 years old, whom they shot immediately: The guns of Fort Valerien swept the road, and the Communists fled. Twenty-five of the insurgents were killed and many wounded. The engagement was over at 1 o'clock. The National Guards still hold Porte Maillot. Battalions of artillery are hurrying up, the rappel is beating, and the ramparts are being manned. The greatest excitement prevails.

—We regret very much that we cannot join in asking John G. Saxe and others who are lecturing in Kentucky to come to Paris. A few weeks since an agent of a really meritorious and instructive entertainment called at our office to have some work done, announcing a lecture in this place. We said to him, "We feel that we are really swindling you to do this work for you, as you will be unable to get a half-dozen persons to attend. Let's announce a monkey show, and then read something sensible after we have fooled the crowd into the hall." He objected, and as there were not half-a-dozen persons in the hall, declined reading, shook the dust of the town from his feet, and departed. Shortly after the hall was so crowded to see negro minstrels and women act unbecomely, that one-half of those who desired to attend could not get in the hall.—Paris Kentuckian.

A QUEER BLUNDER.—A suburban friend, blest with eleven children, and being a very domestic man and very fond of them, told this story:—One afternoon, business being very dull, he took the early train out to his happy home, and went up stairs to put the children to bed. Being missed from the smoking-room, his wife went up stairs to see what was going on; on opening the door she exclaimed: "Why, dear, what for mercy sake are you doing?" "Why," says he, "wifey, I am putting the children to bed, and having them say their little prayers." "Yes," says wifey, "but this is not one of ours." Sure enough, he had got one of the neighbor's children all undressed, and he had to redress it and send it home. After that he calls the roll every morning and night.

COURAGEOUS GIRL.—A correspondent informs us that a little girl about nine years of age, daughter of Daniel B. Cushman of Burnham, had an encounter with a bear a few days since. It appears that she had been to visit a neighbor and was returning home, when she was started by seeing a huge bear. She started to run, but on discovering that the bear gave chase she stopped, and seizing a club confronted the bear, which also stopped, sitting back upon his haunches and displaying his paws in a very playful manner. The little girl ran towards him, club in hand, shouting at him at the same time, when old Bruin took to his heels for the woods, leaving per master of the field.—Maine Farmer.

—The Danbury News has the following:—"And is Danbury to have no base-ball club this season? We notice one of our druggists has laid in a stock of court-plaster. He must expect something."

—Among those who went to see the Cardiff giant in New Haven was a middle-aged man who had lost his brother by a mysterious disappearance, and was heard to murmur, as he stepped lively away, "It sin't him!"

—The following appears as a leading editorial in the Cleveland Herald: "We wish to give a simple remedy for fever and ague, and wish to emphasize it by saying that it has, to our knowledge, proved very efficacious. It is simple common salt. A teaspoonful taken in water, and a teaspoonful deposited inside each stocking next to the foot, just as the chill is coming on. That's all there is of it; but, knowing that it has been very efficacious in 'breaking' the chill and perfecting a cure, we put it in our editorial columns, where no humbug remedy shall find a place, if we know it."

BROAD HINT.—It is said that the following took place in Rochester, but then you know folks will tell all sorts of stories, and this may not be true. But the story is that a worthy woman who thought her daughter rather too young to receive calls from a very attentive young gentleman, the other evening gave them a very broad hint to that effect—first, by calling the girl out of the room and sending her to bed; and second, by taking into the room a huge slice of bread and butter, with molasses attachment, and saying to the youth in her kindest manner, "There, Bubby, take this and go home; it is a long way, and your mother will be anxious."—Rochester Courier.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

WALTHAM

WATCHES.

The extensive use of these watches for the last fifteen years by Railway Conductors, Engineers and Expressmen, the most exacting of watch-wearers, has thoroughly demonstrated the strength, steadiness, durability and accuracy of the Waltham Watch. To satisfy that class in all these respects, is to decide the question as to the real value of these time-keepers.

More than 500,000 of these watches are now speaking for themselves in the pockets of the people—a proof and a guarantee of their superiority over all others.

The superior organization and great extent of the Company's Works at Waltham, enables them to produce watches at a price which renders competition futile, and those who buy any other watch merely pay from 25 to 50 per cent. more for their watches than is necessary.

These time-pieces combine every improvement that a long experience has proved of real practical use. Having had the refusal of nearly every invention in watch-making originating in this country or in Europe, only those were finally adopted which severe testing by the most skillful artisans in our works, and long use on the part of the public, demonstrated to be essential to correct and enduring time-keeping.

Among the many improvements we would particularize:—

The invention and use of a centre-pinion of peculiar construction, to prevent damage to the train by the breakage of main-springs, is original with the American Watch Company, who, having had the refusal of all other contrivances, adopted Fogg's patent pinion as being the best and faultless.

Hardened and tempered hair-springs, now universally admitted by Watchmakers to be the best, are used in all grades of Waltham Watches.

All Waltham Watches have dust-proof cape, protecting the movements from dust and lessening the necessity of the frequent cleaning necessary in other watches.

Our new patent stem-winder, or keyless watch is already a decided success, and a great improvement on any stem-winding watch in the American market, and by far the cheapest watch of its quality now offered to the public. To those living in portions of the United States where watchmakers do not abound, watches with the above mentioned improvements, which tend to ensure accuracy, cleanliness, durability and convenience, must prove invaluable.

The trademarks of the various styles made by the Company are as follows:—

AMERICAN WATCH CO., Waltham, Mass.
AEN. WATCH CO., Waltham, Mass.

HOW SOME BOSTON FELLOWS "TREED" A FOX.

This isn't an old story, or anything of the sort. The thing happened on the 9th of November, 1870, down in Maine. I say "down," because all the rest of the country seems to have the impression that Maine is down, geographically; though being further north than the rest of the country, it ought to be "up," according to my way of thinking. But call it "down" if you like.

All through the fall, the Edwards boys, Tom and "Midge" (we call him Midge because he's such a little spud of a fellow,) and myself had been planning to do a little fox-hunting, after the first snows had come. There were foxes about, though we didn't often get sight of them. For Reynard, you know, is a rogue by practice, and without doubt by nature,—a regular cracksman among the quadrupeds, and nearly always in the way of the law. So, like a true "professionalist," he keeps pretty close by day, though always on the lookout for "openings," when there are no spectators.

By going out and listening, however, almost any evening, we could hear his short, sharp bark off on some sharp ridge, or down by the brook; and out in the cleared field we had frequently heard him "mousing" round the stone-heaps,—making a slow squeaking noise to call out the field-mice which had their nests there. For it is a great mistake to suppose that cats enjoy a monopoly of mouse-catching. Tabby is but a bungler in the business at best. Your great solemn owl is the champion mouse-catcher. One owl will catch more than a dozen cats. And Reynard himself, although as a gentleman sportsman he much prefers patridges, turkeys, and occasional a goose, will, upon a pinch, turn to as a mouser and prosecute the business with a dexterity cats never dreamed of.

As a preliminary step to our fox-hunting, we had invested in a hound, a great spotted, flap-eared chap with the usual hollow, foggy voice, which comes out, when he runs, just so much at a time and at every other leap.

Snow was now the only thing wanted to enable us to commence operations. For it doesn't do much good to chase a fox on bare ground with our common hounds; at least we don't often do it.

A few inches of snow, especially if it be damp and accompanied by a little rain, not only renders the track plainly visible, but makes the fox's "bush" so heavy that its weight soon tires him. It began to snow up here on Monday, the last day of October; and Tuesday morning, November 1st, the ground was covered to the depth of several inches. We were out early; there were plenty of tracks, and, selecting a fresh one, we laid on the hound. Away he went, baying steadily. After dodging about for an hour or so in a swamp, the fox ran off to the higher lands to the northward, where, after "circling" twice around a high, bare hill we call the "Hard-scrabble," he took the ground in an old barrow. Crowbars and shovels were brought up, and after a couple of hours of good, honest digging he was unearthed, seized by the hound and dispatched. It wasn't a "silver-gray" or a "woods-gray,"—nothing but a common red fox. Still we felt pretty well satisfied; we had secured the game, at any rate, and thus shown that we could hunt and catch a fox,—a point upon which some of the members of our respective families had been a little sceptical.

During the day the snow had melted off, and we were waiting for another storm, when our prospects were most unexpectedly darkened by the arrival in the neighborhood of three fellows from the city, who came up ("down," I mean) on the afternoon stage, and went into quarters at the tavern out at the "Corner." Midge had been there when the stage came; and what he now told us concerning them was anything but satisfactory. They had brought, he said, four hounds, a lot of guns and rifles in long green covers, and a whole chest full of traps, shot-pouches, shooting-jackets, etc. And Midge heard them telling the landlord that they had come down expressly to have some sport in fox-hunting, and that they might stay a month, perhaps, if they found game to their liking. After they had gone out to supper, Midge had examined the register, and seen the names of "Archer," "Newcome," and "Bragdon," all of Boston.

"Plague take 'em!" was all we could say. Their coming had just spoiled all our plans. Perhaps they did have as much right to hunt as we had. But we couldn't see it so exactly; we were the "oldest proprietors" at any rate; we felt as if they had no business to get in our way. Consequently it was in no amiable mood that we listened to the baying of their hounds the next morning.

All that day, and during the two following days, they were out, hallooing, stubboying, and now and then firing off guns. We soon discovered, however, from their motions, that they were green, grass-green, at the business; that was some satisfaction. Foxes, when chased by the hounds, nearly always "circle" 'round some hill, or range of hills. But Messrs. Archer, Concluded on fourth page.

ARE YOU GOING TO PAINT?

—IF SO, USE THE—

AVERILL CHEMICAL PAINT.

It is Cheaper, Handsomer and more durable than the best of other Paints. One Thousand Gallons of it were sold in this City, in the year 1870, and not one complaint has come from those who have used it; but all speak in its favor; it is mixed ready for application, and is much easier put on than any other Paint, making a smooth, glossy surface for years, that may be cleaned with hot suds without injuring it. It is excellent for walls inside, in the place of paper.

I shall keep this season a large stock of Chemical Paints of all shades on hand, to accommodate customers with any amount, without delay in ordering it. Those who want to use the Chemical Paints and have had them misrepresented by those who deal in Lead and Oil, are invited to call and examine my Paints that have been on Buildings two years, and you will find them as fresh as if laid but one month.

I am prepared to do Painting by Contract, or by the day, using the Chemical Paint, or furnishing good experienced workmen by the day at very low wages. B. NORTON, only Agent for selling the Medical knowledge for everybody. 250,000 copies sold in two years.

A Book for every Man.

THE SCIENCE OF LIFE, OR SELF-PRESERVATION. A Medical Treatise on the Cause and Cure of EXHAUSTED VITALITY, PREMATURE DECLINE IN MAN, NERVOUS AND PHYSICAL DEBILITY, HYPOCHONDRIA, and all other diseases arising from the Errors of Youth, or the Indiscretions or Excesses of mature years. This is indeed a book for every man. Price only $1.00. 235 pages, bound in cloth.

A Book For Every Woman,

Entitled SEXUAL PHYSIOLOGY OF WOMAN, AND HER DISEASES; or, WOMAN TREATED OF PHYSIOLOGICALLY, PATHOLOGICALLY, FROM INFANCY TO OLD AGE, with elegant ILLUSTRATIVE ENGRAVINGS: 250 pages, bound in beautiful French cloth. Price $2.00.

A Book for Everybody.

Flattered by the reception of, and great demand for, the above valuable and timely treatises, and also to meet a great need of the present age, the author has just published a new book, treating exclusively of NERVOUS AND MENTAL DISEASES. 150 pp. cloth. Price $1, or SENT FREE on receipt of $3 for the other two books, postpaid.

These are, beyond all comparison, the most extraordinary works on Physiology ever published. There is nothing whatever that the MARRIED OR SINGLE, of EITHER SEX, can either require or wish to know, but what is fully explained, and many matters of the most important and interesting character are introduced to which no allusion even can be found in any other works in our language. All the NEW DISCOVERIES of the author, whose experience is such as probably never before fell to the lot of any man, are given in full. No person should be without these valuable books.

"VALUABLE BOOKS.—We have received the valuable medical works published by the Peabody Medical Institute. These books are of actual merit, and should find a place in every intelligent family. They are not the cheap order of abominable trash, published by irresponsible parties, and purchased to gratify coarse tastes, but are written by a responsible professional gentleman of eminence, as a source of instruction on vital matters, concerning which lamentable ignorance exists. The important subjects presented are treated with delicacy, ability and care, and, as an appendix, many useful prescriptions for prevailing complaints are added."—Coos Republican, Lancaster, N. H.

"The author of these books is one of the most learned and popular physicians of the day, and is entitled to the gratitude of our race for these invaluable productions. It seems to be his aim to induce men and women to avoid the cause of those diseases to which they are subject, and he tells them just how and when to do it."—Chronicle, Farmington, Maine, Sept. 7, 1869.

Either book sent by mail on receipt of price.

N. B. The Author of the above-named medical works is the Chief Consulting Physician of the Peabody Medical Institute, and is so constantly employed in consultation with invalids from all parts of the country, that he has no time to attend to mere business details. WEDNESDAY, APRIL 5, 1871.

OUR BIRD SINGETH YE SONG

CALLED

"YE DEMOCRATIC TIDAL WAVE"

THE ELECTIONS.

Returns from all but six towns in Connecticut give Jewell 45,789, English 45,674. Republican majority 115. The remaining towns gave Jewell 540, English 551, last year. Add this vote to the returns received and Jewell has 104 majority for Governor.

The State Senate consists of 13 Republicans and 8 Democrats, a Republican gain of 4.

The House is also Republican by a small majority.

Atchison and Fort Scott, Kansas, have elected Republican officers.

Cincinnati has elected Davis, Republican, Mayor, by 1491 majority.

Evansville, Indiana, has elected William Baker, Republican, Mayor, by 800 majority.

The towns of Wooster, Alliance, Massilon, Elyss and Akron, Ohio, chose Republican officers on Monday.

So did Annapolis, Maryland.

LARGE STOCK NEEDED.—The Boston Post has got tired of inverted roosters and "great democratic gains in Hell," as headings for the columns wherein it announces democratic defeats, and this time it merely puts "Connecticut" in heavy mourning. We have heard that the Post has a lot of suitable headings to use when its party is defeated, constantly on hand; but the stock must be very large if it is going to hold out as long as it will be needed, if the device is changed for every defeat. A cartoon of a Tidal Wave brought to a dead stop by a Connecticut breakwater would have been suitable for this occasion.

CONGRESS.

In the Senate, April 3, Mr. Blair occupied the entire day with his speech, which was expected to embody the ideas of the extreme wing of the democratic party. His argument against Ku-Klux legislation had two divisions, which destroy each other in the most unfriendly and illogical manner; first, everything at the South is in a good condition and there is no need of any legislation; second, everything at the South is in a demoralized condition, and the fact must be charged to reconstruction and the republican party. On these two discordant keys General Blair pitched his three-hours' song, to the satisfaction of the republicans and the disgust of his democratic brethren. The concern and embarrassment of the latter were very apparent. The democratic row scarcely tried to conceal the feelings which Blair's assurance and indiscretion continually provoke. Republican Senators, one after another, convicted him of false statements, inconsistent conduct and incoherent reasoning.

The House was edified all through the session with Ku-Klux speeches. It is hoped that a vote will be reached to-day.

☞ Advices from Hayti announce that there is much feeling against the president because his secretary favors annexation. The president's life is threatened. The government being considered unstable, gold has advanced from 200 to 450. There were several engagements recently on the Dominican frontier. In one a general, supposed to be Baez, was killed.

☞ A daring attempt was made to rob the Central Park Savings Bank in New York on Monday. Three men entered the bank about noon, and after locking the front door bound and gagged the paying teller and proceeded to rifle the safes. One of the directors, finding the door locked, broke it open, when the burglars fled through the rear and escaped.

☞ Lake navigation is open. Steamers leave Buffalo for Chicago and Milwaukee. Lake Champlain is clear of ice and navigation resumed.

☞ A daughter was born to Ole Bull in West Lebanon, Maine, two weeks ago.

WHO SHALL DECIDE when doctors disagree? is a question that was long ago asked, but so far as we know never satisfactorily answered. Had it been, we should now know whom to apply to for information regarding the political health of the democratic party, concerning which that party's doctors disagree most wonderfully. The democratic party had been in a very shaky condition from the effects of a great moral cancer, for many years previous to Abraham Lincoln's election to the Presidency; but when that event occurred the disease took a fresh start, and broke out in the shape of secession, rebellion, and an attempt to create an aristocracy with servitude of the laboring man for its foundation, from the ruins of the Union.

Uncle Sam, who had entrusted all his work for many years to that party, when they became so ill gave his patronage to the republicans, and set the latter's most skillful surgeons at work to lance and cauterize the dangerous "issues" of the democratic party, and endeavor to make them clean. The heroic treatment was so successful that at the end of four years Uncle Sam ceased it, and tried a course of milk-and-water, which he hoped would complete the cure already begun. Whether the pestilent issues which reduced and overthrew the democratic party in 1861 are "dead issues" now, or not, is what we should like to know, and what we cannot find from the reports of the democratic doctors.

Those of the North, led off by Dr. World of New York, declare the party to be recovered, able to do honest men's work and quite worthy of once more being trusted to do the very work they formerly botched so badly; but Drs. Blair, J. Davis and Southern Press—the latter being as numerous as a Mormon wife—declare that so far from being "dead," the old "issues" of nullification, secession, State sovereignty and laborers' servitude to the rich, were never more alive than at present, and that the whole body politic will soon be infected by them. "Who shall decide when doctors disagree?"

The weight of evidence seems to be with the Southerners. The rebellion party did some unusual work in this State last month, with the apparent result of having irritated and inflamed the chronic disorders of the southern portion of the organization. The symptoms are once more alarming, as the following extracts will show:—

State sovereignty, although defeated in the late struggle, will ultimately triumph.—J. Davis, at Selma, Ala.

Nothing is irreversible which the mongrels have done to our Federal system unless the South gives up. The dead cannot be brought back, but all the sovereignty which has been stolen from the States can be regained, or will be, if the South is not whipped in its manhood.—Augusta (Ga.) Constitutionalist.

Give us the true, the genuine Democracy, that is not afraid to denounce the usurpations of Congress, in its work of reconstruction, as 'unconstitutional, null and void.'—Lagrange (Ga.) Reporter.

Now this evil work must be undone; the United States Government must be deprived of the powers it has obtained. Alabama Advertiser.

Is the old issue dead yet? Not a bit of it. In our country a villainy, a cheat and a fraud is apotheosized as a 'dead issue' in two years after its successful perpetration.—Mobile Register.

The crime of reconstruction produces alienation and anarchy, and there is no escape but in restoration; aye, we go further, and demand a re-adjustment of our institutions upon renewed constitutions.—Jeffersonian Democrat.

The duty of Southern Democrats is to "strike first, last and all the time, for our own (Southern) people, whatever the National organization may dictate to the contrary."—Montgomery Mail.

We seek to detach the Democratic party from all conceivable association with the idea of KuKluxism. We propose to do this not only by denouncing Ku-Klux, but proceed against them in a way that will not be mistaken, and effectually carried out, cannot be evaded. Denials are childish, and it is worse than childish to charge the Radicals with getting up disturbances.—Louisville Courier-Journal.

☞ The Coast Wrecking Company have begun to raise the silver ore which was lost from the barge David Sturtevant some time ago, off Staten Island. The entire cargo of the schooner D. H. Baldwin, sunk off Black Rock, Conn., and $50,000 worth of silver ore lately sunk in New York harbor while on the way from Nevada to Europe, have been recovered.

☞ Rev. Charles Edward Cheney, rector of Christ Church, Chicago, is to be brought to trial for contumacy in disregarding the sentence of the ecclesiastical court as pronounced by the bishop by which he was tried and convicted for non-conformity.

☞ Maggie Mitchell is playing in Portland.

☞ According to the New York Times, the father of the oldest man has died in Baltimore, having been born March 14, 177, and died March 14, 1871. Where's Methuselah now?

BUSINESS NOTICES.

$1,000 REWARD is offered by the proprietor of Dr. Pierce's Alt. Ext. or Golden Medical Discovery for a medicine that will equal it in the cure of "Liver Complaint" or Biliousness, Constipation of the Bowels, Bronchial, Throat and Lung diseases, Boils, Eruptions, Tumors, Blotches and Rashes appearing upon the face. Sold by druggists.

The public are hereby assured, through the columns of the Portsmouth Chronicle, that Parson's Purgative Pills contain no injurious principle, but that they may be administered to children and the most weak and shattered constitutions in small doses, with great certainty of success.

Dr. A. Johnson, one of the most successful practitioners of his time, invented what is now called Johnson's Anodyne Liniment. The great success of this article in the cure of Bronchitis and all diseases of throat and lungs, will make the name of Johnson not less favorably, if less widely known than that of Louis Napoleon. 1wapl

SPECIAL NOTICES.

Danger Ahead.

A single spark may kindle a flame that will consume a city, and small ailments neglected, may end in fatal disorders. Bearing this fact in mind, let the first symptoms of debility or nervous prostration be met promptly with invigorating treatment. Foremost among the vegetable tonics of the age stands HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS, and whenever the vital powers seem to languish, or there is any reason to suspect that the animal functions essential to the sustentation and purification of the body are imperfectly performed this invaluable invigorant and antiseptic should at once be resorted to. Indigestion always produces weakness of the bodily powers. Sometimes it happens that the appetite demands more food than the stomach can digest; though not more, perhaps, than is required to keep up the full strength of the frame. The effect under such circumstances, is to increase the digestive capacity of the assimilating organ, so as to make it equal to the duty imposed upon it by the appetite, and capable of supplying the building material of the system as fast as it is required. This object is fully accomplished by the use of the Bitters. They tone and gently stimulate the cellular membrane which secretes the gastric juice, and the result is that the solvent is mingled with the food in sufficient quantity to convert all its nourishing particles into pure and wholesome elements. If, on the other hand, there is a deficiency of appetite, without any corresponding deficiency of digestive power, the effect of the tonic is to stimulate a desire for food. In nineteen cases out of twenty, heartburn, nausea, nervousness, fainting-fits, spasms and, indeed, most of the casual aches and pains to which humanity is subject, proceed primarily from indigestion complicated with biliousness; and for both these complaints HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS are recommended as a speedy and certain remedy.

FRANCE.

The Paris commune have issued a decree arraigning Thiers, Favre, Picard, Dufaure, Simon and Pothuan before a tribunal of the people, and ordering their properties seized. Another decree pronounces the separation of the church and state, suppresses religious bodies and abolishes national property. They have also issued a proclamation, couched in the following language: "Attacked by the Versailles government, we have a mission to protect the city and count upon the aid of citizens."

Marshal McMahon has been appointed commander-in-chief of the French army.

About 4 o'clock Sunday afternoon, after great preparation, the National insurgents commenced passing out at Neuilly gate, in all 50,000 men, Gens. Bergeret, Flourens and Minotti Garibaldi commanding. It was understood that Fort Valerien would not fire; but about six o'clock, the artillery all in front, and Gen. Bergeret in advance with 10,000 men, Fort Valerien opened fire, killing Commandant Henry. Gen. Bergeret had just got out of his carriage, when the vehicle was smashed by a bombshell. The wildest excitement ensued. The troops tried to retreat. The main body left Bergeret alone with 10,000 men. He tried to fight with Fort Valerien, but it was useless.

The most part got into the city, but Bergeret and his men were cut off and cannot pass Valerien. The main body escaped with a loss of one hundred, but Bergeret must lose large numbers. Altogether there are twelve thousand men killed, wounded and missing, including Bergeret's force. The Communist troops under arms number one hundred and fifty thousand.

Flourens is reported killed.

The army of Versailles surrounds Paris, and order elsewhere in France is established.

Consumption.

ITS CURE AND ITS PREVENTIVE,

By J. H. SCHENCK, M. D.

Many a human being has passed away, for whose death there was no other reason than the neglect of known and indisputably proved means of cure. Those near and dear to family and friends are sleeping the sleepless slumber into which, had they simply adopted and availed themselves of his wonderfully efficacious medicines, they would now have gladdened their homes by their presence.

Dr. JOSEPH H. SCHENCK'S SIMPLE TREATMENT,

Dr Schenck has in his own case proven that wherever sufficient vitality remains, that vitality, by his medicines and his directions for their use, is quickened into healthful vigor.

In this statement there is nothing presumptuous. To the faith of the world his medicines make no representation that is not a thousand times substantiated by living and visible works. The theory of the cure by Dr. Schenck's medicines is as simple as it is unfailing. Its philosophy requires no argument. It is self-asserting, self-evincing.

The Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills are the first two weapons with which the citadel of the malady is assailed. Two-thirds of the cases of consumption originate in dyspepsia and a functionally disordered liver. With this combination the bronchial tubes "sympathize" with the stomach. They respond to the morbific action of the liver. Here, then comes the culminating result, and the setting in, with all its distressing symptoms, of

CONSUMPTION.

The Mandrake Pills are composed of one of Nature's mildest gifts—the Podophillum Peltatum. They possess all the blood-searching, alterative properties of calomel, but unlike calomel, they

"LEAVE NO STING BEHIND."

The work of cure is now beginning. The vitiated and mucous deposits in the bowels and in the alimentary canal are ejected. The liver, like a clock, is wound up. It arouses from its torpidity. The stomach and responsively, and the patient begins to feel that he is getting, at last,

A SUPPLY OF GOOD BLOOD.

The Seaweed Tonic, in conjunction with the Pills, permeates and assimilates with the food. Chylification is now performed in the bowels and in the alimentary canal. Digestion becomes painless, and the cure is seen to be at hand. There is no more flatulence, no exacerbation of the stomach. An appetite sets in.

Now comes the greatest Blood Purifier ever yet given by an indigenous Medicine. Dr. Schenck's Pulmonic Syrup comes in to perform its functions and to hasten and complete the cure. It enters at once upon its work. Nature cannot be cheated. It collects and ripens the impaired and diseased portions of the lungs. In the form of gatherings it prepares them for expectoration, and lo! in a very short time the malady is vanquished, the potent throne that it occupied is renovated and made new, and the patient, in all the dignity of regained vigor, steps forth to enjoy the manhood or womanhood that was

GIVEN UP AS LOST.

The second thing is, the patients must stay in a warm room, until they get well; it is almost impossible to prevent taking cold when the lungs are diseased, but it must be prevented or a cure cannot be effected. Fresh air and riding out, especially in this section of the country in the fall and winter season, are all wrong. Physicians who recommend that course lose their patients, if their lungs are badly diseased; and yet, because they are in the house they must not sit down quiet: they must walk about the room as much and as fast as the strength will bear, to set up a good circulation of blood. The patients must keep in good spirits—be cheerful and not worry. This has a great deal to do with the appetite, and is the great point to gain.

To despair of cure after such evidence of its possibility in the worst cases, and moral certainty in all others, is sinful. Dr. Schenck's personal statement to the Faculty of his own cure was in these modest words:

"Many years ago I was in the last stages of consumption: confined to my bed, and at times my physicians thought that I could not live a week; then like a drowning man catching at straws, I heard of, and obtained the preparations which I now offer to the public, and they made a perfect cure of me. It seemed to me that I could feel them penetrate my whole system. They soon ripened the matter in my lungs, and I would spit up more than a pint of offensive yellow matter every morning for a long time. As soon as that began to subside, my cough, fever, pains and night sweats all began to leave me, and my appetite became so great that it was with difficulty that I could keep from eating too much. From gained in strength, and have grown in flesh ever since."

"I was weighed shortly after my recovery," added the Doctor, "then looking like a mere skeleton; my weight was only ninety-seven pounds; my present weight is two hundred and twenty-five (225) pounds, and for years I have enjoyed uninterrupted health."

Dr. Schenck has discontinued his professional visits to New York and Boston. He or his son, Dr. J. H. Schenck, Jr., will professionally be at his office, at their office, No. 15 North Sixth street, Philadelphia, every Saturday from 9 A. M. to 3 P. M. Those who wish a thorough examination with the Respirometer will be charged $5. The Respirometer declares the exact condition of the lungs, and patients can readily learn whether they are curable or not.

The directions for taking the medicines are adapted to the intelligence of the child. Follow these directions, and kind Nature will do the rest, excepting that in some cases the Mandrake Pills are to be taken three nights in succession. These medicines need no other accompaniments than the simple nutritious food they enable them to relish, and the appetite. Of returning health hunger is the most welcome symptom. When it comes, as it will come, let the desiring sufferer know he or she is cured. Good blood at once follows, the cough loosens, the night sweats abated. In a short time both of these morbid symptoms are no more.

Dr. Schenck's medicines are constantly kept in tens of thousands of families. As a laxative or purgative, the Mandrake Pills are a standard preparation: while the Pulmonic Syrup, as a cure of coughs and colds, may be regarded as a popular bacteria against consumption in any of its forms.

Price of the Pulmonic Syrup and Seaweed Tonic $1.50, a bottle, or $7.50 a half dozen. Mandrake Pills, 25 cents a box. For sale by all druggists and dealers.

FIRST MORTGAGE

7 PER CENT. GOLD BONDS,

ON A COMPLETED ROAD,

FREE OF U. S. TAX,

At 90 and Accrued Interest in Currency.

Burlington, Cedar Rapids and Minnesota Railway.

The completion of this Road has given to these Bonds an established character equal to any mortgage issue dealt in at the Stock Exchange. We are prepared to buy and sell them at any time, at our Banking House, at market price—thus placing them on the same basis; for temporary or permanent investment, with Governments or any other security.

These bonds are a first and only mortgage on a railroad that has cost double the amount of the issue, and which commands, without competition, all the traffic of Northern Iowa and Southern Minnesota—shortening the distance from St. Paul to Chicago 45 miles, and to St Louis more than 90 miles.

The net earnings are already largely in excess of interest on the bonds, and no doubt exists that they will more than double within the ensuing year.

A contract has been secured with the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy Railroad Company obligating the latter to invest 50 per cent. of gross earnings derived from traffic with the Burlington, Cedar Rapids and Minnesota Road in the bonds of this Company. This arrangement is a strong guarantee of the Bonds, and establishes a large sinking fund for their redemption.

The convertibility privilege in these bonds enables them to be exchanged for stock, at par, at any time. This secures to the holder, at his option, a share in any excess of earnings over the interest obligation.

An exchange of Government securities for these bonds returns 9½ per cent. interest, instead of 5 per cent., which is all that Governments pay at present price, besides leaving an immediate gain of about 20 per cent. in price for re-investment.

All marketable Securities taken in exchange free of Commission and Express charges. f21dWS

A GREAT MEDICAL DISCOVERY!

DR. WALKER'S CALIFORNIA

VINEGAR BITTERS,

Hundreds of Thousands Bear Testimony to their Wonderful Curative Effects.

WHAT ARE THEY!

THEY ARE NOT A VILE FANCY DRINK, Made of Poor Rum, Whiskey, Proof Spirits and Refuse Liquors doctored, spiced and sweetened to please the taste, called "Tonics," "Appetizers," "Restorers," &c., that lead the tippler on to drunkenness and ruin, but are a true Medicine, made from the Native Root and Herbs of California, free from all Alcoholic Stimulants. They are the GREAT BLOOD PURIFIER and a LIFE-GIVING PRINCIPLE, a perfect Renovator and Invigorator of the system, carrying off all poisonous matter and restoring the blood to a healthy condition. No person can take these Bitters according to direction and remain long unwell, provided the bones are not destroyed by mineral poison or other means, and the vital organs wasted beyond the point of repair.

For Inflammatory and Chronic Rheumatism and Gout, Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Bilious, Remittent and Intermittent Fevers, Diseases of the Blood, Liver, Kidneys and Bladder, these Bitters have been most successful. Such Diseases are caused by Vitiated Blood, which is generally produced by derangement of the Digestive Organs.

DYSPEPSIA OR INDIGESTION, Headache, Pain in the Shoulders, Coughs, Tightness of the Chest, Dizziness, Sour Eructations of the Stomach, Bad taste in the Mouth, Bilious Attacks, Palpitation of the Heart, Inflammation of the Lungs, Pain in the regions of the Kidneys, and a hundred other painful symptoms, are the offspring of Dyspepsia.

They invigorate the stomach and stimulate the torpid liver and bowels, which render them of unequalled efficacy in cleansing the blood of all impurities and imparting new life and vigor to the whole system.

FOR SKIN DISEASES, Eruptions, Tetter, Salt Rheum, Blotches, Spots, Pimples, Pustules, Boils, Carbuncles, Ring-Worms, Scald Head, Sore Eyes, Erysipelas, Itch, Scurfs, Discolorations of the Skin, Humors and Diseases of the Skin, of whatever name or nature, are literally dug up and carried out of the system in a short time by the use of these Bitters. One bottle in such cases will convince the most incredulous of their curative effect.

Cleanse the Vitiated Blood whenever you find its impurities bursting through the skin in Pimples, Eruptions or Sores; cleanse it when you find it obstructed and sluggish in the veins, cleanse it when it is foul, and your feelings will tell you when. Keep the blood pure, and the health of the system will follow.

PIN, TAPE and other WORMS, lurking in the system of so many thousands, are effectually destroyed and removed. For full directions, read carefully the circular around each bottle, printed in four languages—English, German, French and Spanish.

FOR FEMALE COMPLAINTS, whether in young or old, married or single, at the dawn of womanhood or at the turn of life, these Tonic Bitters have no equal. ☞ Send for a circular.

They are a Gentle Purgative as well as a Tonic, passessing also, the peculiar merit of acting as a powerful agent in relieving Congestion or Inflammation of the Liver, and all the Visceral Organs. 1yrdawlb16

THE CENTRAL RAILROAD CO.

OF IOWA,

have now built and equipped, in first-class manner, about

180 MILES OF RAILROAD,

which will complete their entire line, with the exception of laying the track on twenty-five miles, which is already graded. They will thus open

The First Through Line Across the State

from north to south, and, by making a slight detour at one point, they will give

DIRECT COMMUNICATION BETWEEN ST. LOUIS AND ST. PAUL.

This line of Railroad will have very special advantages for both local and through business, besides such superior railroad connections as will secure to it a large portion of the carrying trade of the Great Northwest. The

First Mortgage

7 PER CENT. GOLD BONDS,

which are issued upon this road, are limited in amount to $16,000 per mile (while many roads issue from $20,000 to $40 000,) and are offered at 90 and accrued interest, in currency. About two millions and a half of these bonds have already been disposed of, leaving but a small balance unsold, which are being rapidly taken.

The most experienced financiers agree that First Mortgage Bonds, on a limited amount, upon finished railroad, which is well located for business, are one of the very safest forms of investment.

Parties desiring to secure a first-class security, based upon a railroad practically done, and in the hands of leading capitalists who have a large pecuniary and business interest in its success, will do well to apply at the office of the Company, or any of its advertised agents, for a pamphlet and map, showing the characteristics of the enterprise.

Holders of Government Bonds may exchange them for Central Iowas at a large present profit, besides a handsome increase of interest for a long term of years. Parties making such exchange will receive for each $1,000 Bond a $1,000 Central Iowa Bond, and the following difference in cash (less the accrued interest in currency upon the latter bond,) and in annual interest, this calculation being based upon market prices of December 27th, 1870:—

Offer For Sale at Par and Accrued Interest, the FIRST MORT. LAND GRANT GOLD BONDS

—OF THE—

Northern Pacific Railroad Co.

These bonds are secured, first, by a First Mortgage on the Railroad itself, its rolling stock, and all equipments; second, by a First Mortgage on its entire Land Grant, being more than Twenty-Two Thousand Acres of Land to each mile of Road.

The Bonds are free from United States Tax; the Principal and Interest are payable in Gold the Principal at the end of Thirty years, and the Interest Semi-annually, at the rate of SEVEN AND THREE-TENTHS PER CENT. per annum.

They are issued in denominations of $100, $500, $1,000, $5,000 and $10,000.

The Trustees under the Mortgage are Messrs. Jay Cooke, of Philadelphia, and J. Edgar Thomson, President of the Pennsylvania Central Railroad Company.

These Northern Pacific 7-30 Bonds will at all times before maturity, be receivable at TEN PER CENT. PREMIUM (or 1.10,) in exchange for the Company's lands at the lowest cash price.

Morning Chronicle.

Concluded from first page.

Newcome, and Bragdon evidently knew nothing of the advantages usually taken of this fact, namely, to make the dogs relieve each other by taking them off and laying them on afresh, also waiting for the fox at some point along his circuit and thus shooting him as he comes round. And we presently learned at the Corners that they hadn't met with great success,—in fact, hadn't got a fox. But it amounted to much the same to us. For with the outrageous din they were keeping up, every fox would soon leave the township.

It began snowing again on the 8th, and on the morning of the 9th the ground was white once more. A rare chance; but, hearing their hounds out as early as six o'clock, we held back. We didn't care to get their way. For they were a pretty saucy, flashy-looking trio; and there was no knowing what unpleasantness might result to boys, like us, from running across them on their war-path.

During the day they ran a fox up the "Hardscrabble," where he began circling 'round the base of the hill, as ours had done. Looking up from the flat below, we could see the chase, upon the southward side, quite plainly. They would be near an hour making the circuit, which might have been from five to six miles in extent. The hounds were apparently pretty well tired down, and the fox was fully half a mile in advance of them. He still seemed pretty well to do, running by fits and starts and keeping his "bush" up off the snow. And over on the crust of the opposite ridge, across the deep, wooded valley, we espied our city friends, seemingly jaded as their hounds, ogling the steep, rough sides of the "Hardscrabble" with an air of leg-weary desperation.

"Now if they only knew enough," exclaimed Tom, "to cross over and lie in wait for the fox, somewhere along the path he's running on, they might shoot him as easily as not, when he comes around again."

"Of course," said Midge; "but that's what is the matter with them; they don't know enough. Dare say they never saw a fox nearer than this one."

"And they're never like to at this rate," said Tom. "Should think they might get discouraged after a while."

"Tell you what!" exclaimed Midge, suddenly. "Let us play a little game on them. Get the gun and come on quick!"

"Why, what will you do?" said Tom.

"Oh, I will tell you. Come on!"

The fox had just passed along the south side of the hill; we ran up the valley on the opposite side from our Boston friends, keeping well out of sight; and going up through the hemlock growth to the foot of the hill we soon came upon the track. The next thing was to find a good hiding place. There was a clump of low spruces, some eight or ten rods off. Hence we concealed ourselves, and waited for the fox to come 'round again.

"It's rather a saucy trick, Midge, to shoot the fox out from before their hounds," said I.

"I know that well enough," said he. "But they shall have their Fox all safe and right. We'll have some fun with them, though."

In about forty minutes we again heard the hounds coming 'round the foot of the hill; and presently the fox appeared, trotting leisurely along with his tongue out a little. "Twas a fair "woods-gray," a beauty, with a "bush" as large as the sleeve of your great coat. Occasionally he would stop, and cock his ear and listen, then lick the snow a moment and scuttle away again. As soon as he had come up opposite our hiding-place, Midge fired and dropped him.

"Now for a sell!" he exclaimed, throwing down the gun. "If the hounds come up before I get him placed, you keep them off."

There was a large yellow birch, with low, trailing limbs, standing near the track; such as you often see out in the pastures. Catching up the fox, Mudge trailed him along to the birch tree, then, slinging him over his shoulder, climbed rapidly up and placed the carcass in as natural a position as possible among the topmost branches. This done, he as quickly descended, and brushing out his tracks with a spruce bough, came back to our lurking-place. It was rather a ludicrous spectacle certainly. For, of course, to a person knowing anything about a fox, his habits, the nails, etc., the idea of one climbing a tree must be wholly preposterous and whimsical.

In a few minutes the hounds came up, and running to the tree snuffed 'round a little; when, suddenly discovering the fox aloft, they began yelping and whining, as is their custom when sighting game. We kept quiet, waiting for the hunters. It was too far for them to have heard our gun; but they would doubtless come 'round soon. So we waited with great patience, in anticipation of a rich thing. In the course of an hour and a half we began to hear voices, and, peering out from among the thick spruces, saw them come out in sight of the tree and the now clamorous dogs.

"Hillo! 'pon my soul," quoth Mr. Archer, "they've treed him at last! See him look down at them!"

"Didn't know they climbed trees before," said Newcome.

"Ah, that's because you're not posted, Fred!" cried Bragdon.

"Well, did you know?" inquired the not posted Newcome.

"I? Well I don't know that I did. But they do, it appears."

"There's evidence for you, at any rate!" exclaimed Archer.

"Well, what is to be done?" demanded Bragdon.

"Done! why, shoot him, I suppose," said Archer. "We've treed him, and the next thing is to bag him."

"Let's all fire together," suggested Newcome, "so as to be sure of him."

They were seven or eight rods off; and, raising their guns, Bragdon counted (as if it had been a duel) one, two, three, and they all blazed away, Archer dropping his gun as it went off, at which we crammed our mouths with snow to keep from roaring. Some of their shot must have hit the carcass; for it swayed a moment, then came tumbling to the ground. The dogs rushed upon it; and it was pretty well chewed up before the "sportsmen" could get it from them. So they didn't attempt to skin it, but contented themselves with cutting off the tail,—"English style," they called it,—with which they departed in great good-humor, and not a whit the wiser for the trick that had been played on them.

We ran home, and hastily swallowing our suppers, betook ourselves to the tavern to hear their story. It was now evening, and the usual bar-room company had collected. Our sportsmen had just come in, bringing poor Reynard's tail as their trophy.

"Hullo!" exclaimed Uncle Peter Emery, an old merry-andrew of the first water. "So you've got him at last!"

"Yes, siree, my old buck!" cried Archer, slapping the old fellow on the shoulder. "Rather a nice job too! Hounds treed him handsomely!"

"Treed him! Treed him!" exclaimed everybody.

"Yes, treed him," repeated Archer. "In a pretty high tree too. Forty feet from the ground, sure."

Now the evening assemblage at the Corner tavern is never in any state of the weather a very intelligent one, but they couldn't stand that anyhow. A great and mighty silence succeeded this unparalleled announcement, broken at first by a few incredulous "whews" and whistles, and then by a roar of laughter. Archer stared contemptuously around, Bragdon asserted, protested, and declared upon "his word and honor" that it was so. The uproar redoubled. It seemed as though those old fellows would split themselves. It was very evident they hadn't the slightest intention of believing a word of it. Archer and Bragdon now flared up. "They reckoned they knew what they had seen, and done; and they were not to be sneezed at by any such crowd as the one present. In short if that beastly haw-hawing wasn't shut off, "somebody might get punched." But just then supper was called: and having been out all day they concluded to devour the supper instead of the crowd.

As soon as they had gone out Midge told the whole story, amid a chorus of laughter. And under the circumstances we judged it prudent to withdraw before they came in again. So I can't describe the denouement. I have been told, though, that it took them down prodigiously. At any rate, they left the next morning, hounds and all. But they sent Midge the present of a first-rate rifle, with their "compliments;" and the old fellows out at the tavern speak of them in the very highest terms. So I must needs acknowledge that they did the handsome thing by us all.

I can't help hoping this may come to their eyes. If so, they may know by this token that we still take a fox up here now and then, but that we haven't heard of any being "treed" 'round here since the 9th of November.

A GOOD OFFER TO THE Ladies of Portsmouth and Vicinity.
E. A. JOY
Has Fitted up a Spacious and Elegant SEWING MACHINE ROOM directly over his Music Store and employs a competent young lady to take charge of the same. A cordial invitation is hereby extended to all the ladies (not having good Sewing Machines of their own) to bring in lots of work and learn to make it up on the Machines. This will cost nothing whether a Machine is purchased or not. If you do not buy now, you will at some future time; for the day is not far distant when a SEWING MACHINE will be considered as indispensable as a Cook-Stove. Come as often and stay as long as you please.

MR. JOY'S business in the Sewing Machine line is very rapidly increasing, which enables him to make the above generous offer.

His long experience in this branch qualifies him to be an excellent judge of the goods he sells; and as he has had the Agency of all kinds offered him at different times it is reasonable to suppose that the Best SEWING MACHINES may always be had at the SEWING MACHINE EMPORIUM, No. 9 PLEASANT ST., nearly opposite the Post Office, Portsmouth, N. HOW A SCHOOLBOY GOT LOST.—The Boston Traveller tells this story:

The pet of a family residing not far from La Grange street, is a boy who has recently passed his fifth year, and having just donned his first jacket and trowsers, is attending a primary school. The other afternoon he failed to come home at the usual hour, much to the alarm of the household, and after a long search, he was found, some time after dark, at the Providence depot. He was sent to bed without much explanation, though it is possible his treatment was what Solomon would have recommended, in such an emergency. The next morning he was down to the breakfast table, evidently more the worse for the lesson, and perhaps the wiser. Taking advantage of a lull in the conversation customary at the morning meal, he turned his grave countenance toward the head of the table, and giving free vent to his overcharged mind, he exclaimed, "I'll tell you, mamma, how it happened. After school, I went part of the way home with Mary ——, and at the corner of a street where she left me, I kissed her, and she kissed me, and then I found I was lost." There was an explosion around the table, just about that time. It is suspected this is not the first young gentleman who has been lost under similar circumstances.

New Hampshire Items.

In Wilton, a $225 horse owned by Mr. J. B. Dane, kicked the boards from the side of its stall and was hurt by falling to the ground so, it had to be killed.

Ten cents recently gave to a citizen of Milford the possession of half a brick house in Keene, which he disposed of for the sum of $2500.

Mr. Lucian Follansbee of Canaan has five trees in his sugar orchard which gave nearly half a barrel of sap in one night.

Mr. George Harris of Canaan died after an illness of three days, resulting from a fall in which he strained himself internally.

Nathaniel M. Rollins committed suicide at Pittsfield, on the 3d, by shooting himself through the left temple by means of a pistol.

Rochester has a calf thirteen weeks old that weighs 360 lbs., having gained three pounds a day since born. It is part Ayrshire and part Durham.

A Warren lad of eighty-one has just been united to a blushing damsel resident in the same town aged seventy-six.

☞ Timothy Lynch of East Boston was a ring-leader in a fight on Porter Street, Sunday evening, and resisted arrest next day. The policemen were assailed by a mob, and Lynch being quite muscular and belligerent, was pounded on the head with billies, from the effect of which he died on Wednesday, the 5th.

SPROUTING POTATOES.—Potatoes for early planting into a nail cask or small box, sprinkle a little plaster among them, set them in a warm place, by the kitchen stove and cover them over. When the time comes for planting, large thick sprouts will be found on them, from one half an inch to an inch long, tough and not easy to rub off. Take the potatoes out carefully one by one, cut them into peices with one or two sprouts and plant immediately in a light rich soil, twelve inches apart in the drill. For early planting use none but large potatoes.

—Among the bills signed by Governor Hoffman of New York is one "providing redress for words imputing unchastity to a female."

—A Connecticut man who applied to be register, was found to be unable to read, but said: "Well I've been sick two or three days, or else I could read."

ARE YOU GOING TO PAINT?
—IF SO, USE THE—
AVERILL CHEMICAL PAINT.
It is Cheaper, Handsomer and more durable than the best of other Paints. One Thousand Gallons of it were sold in this City, in the year 1870, and not one complaint has come from those who have used it; but all speak in its favor; it is mixed ready for application, and is much easier put on than any other Paint, making a smooth, glossy surface for years, that can be cleaned with hot suds without injuring it. It is excellent for walls inside, in the place of paper.
I shall keep this season a large stock of Chemical Paints of all shades on hand, to accommodate customers with any amount, without delay in ordering it. Those who want to use the Chemical Paints and have had them misrepresented by those who deal in Lead and Oil, are invited to call and examine my Paints that have been on Buildings two years, and you will find them as fresh as if laid but one month.
I am prepared to do Painting by Contract, or by the day, using the Chemical Paint, or furnishing good experienced workmen by the day at very low wages. B. NORTON, only Agent for selling the

SCIENTIFIC AND POPULAR MEDICAL WORKS —ON—
MANHOOD, WOMANHOOD AND NERVOUS DISEASES,
PUBLISHED BY THE
PEABODY MEDICAL INSTITUTE,
No. 4 Bulfinch Street, Boston,
(Opposite Revere House.)
DR. W. H. PARKER, Assistant Physician.
Medical knowledge for everybody. 250,000 copies sold in two years.
A Book for every Man.
THE SCIENCE OF LIFE, OR SELF-PRESERVATION. A Medical Treatise on the Cause and Cure of EXHAUSTED VITALITY, PREMATURE DECLINE IN MAN, NERVOUS AND PHYSICAL DEBILITY, HYPOCHONDRIA, and all other diseases arising from the ERRORS OF YOUTH, OR THE INDISCRETIONS OR EXCESSES of mature years. This is indeed a for every man. Price only $1.00. 285 pages, bound in cloth.
A Book For Every Woman,
Entitled SEXUAL PHYSIOLOGY OF WOMAN, AND HER DISEASES; or, WOMAN TREATED OF PHYSIOLOGICALLY AND PATHOLOGICALLY, FROM INFANCY TO OLD AGE, with elegant ILLUSTRATIVE ENGRAVINGS. 350 pages, bound in beautiful French cloth. Price $2.00.
A Book for Everybody.
Flattered by the reception of, and great demand for, the above valuable and timely treatises, and also to meet a great need of the present age, the author has just published a new book, treating exclusively of NERVOUS AND MENTAL DISEASES. 150 pp., cloth. Price $1, or SENT FREE on receipt of $3 for the other two books, postpage paid.
These are, beyond all comparison, the most extraordinary works on Physiology ever published. There is nothing whatever that the MARRIED OR SINGLE, OF EITHER SEX, can either require or wish to know, but what is fully explained, and many matters of the most important and interesting character are introduced to which no allusion even can be found in any other works in our language. All the NEW DISCOVERIES of the author, whose experience is such as probably never before fell to the lot of any man, are given in full. No person should be without these valuable books.
"VALUABLE BOOKS.—We have received the valuable medical works published by the Peabody Medical Institute. These books are of actual merit, and should find a place in every intelligent family. They are not the cheap order of abominable trash, published by irresponsible parties, and purchased to gratify coarse tastes, but are written by a responsible professional gentleman of eminence, as a source of in-truction on vital matters, concerning which lamentable ignorance exists. The important subjects presented are treated with delicacy, ability and care, and, as an appendix, many useful prescriptions for prevailing complaints are added."—Coos Republican, Lancaster, N. H.
"The author of these books is one of the most learned and popular physicians of the day, and is entitled to the gratitude of our race for these invaluable productions. It seems to be his aim to induce men and women to avoid the cause of those diseases to which they are subject, and he tells them just how and when to do it."—Chronicle, Farmington, Maine, Sept. 7, 1869.
Either book sent by mail on receipt of price.
N. B. The Author of the above-named medical works is the Chief Consulting Physician of the Peabody Medical Institute, and is so constantly employed in consultation with invalids from all parts of the country, that he has no time to attend to mere business details. Therefore all letters should be addressed to the PEABODY MEDICAL INSTITUTE, or to Dr. W. H. PARKER, the Medical Assistant of the Author, and his Business Agent, who, as well as the Author himself, may be consulted on all diseases requiring skill, secrecy and experience. oct26 1yr

THURSDAY, APRIL 6, 1871.

FRANCE.

Paris advices contain information confirmatory of the death of Gustave Flourens. He was killed at the head of his troops, during an engagement with the government troops. General Bergeret and his column of 10,000 men are still cut off by the heavy guns of Fort Mont Valerien. No relief can reach them from the insurgents, who are thus effectually prevented from returning to Paris. The loss consequent on the attack by the forts upon the insurgents has not been exaggerated. The number of killed is enormous, and the excitement in the neighborhood of St. Denis has greatly increased the difficulty of suppressing the insurrection, which increases every hour, and further sacrifice of life is certain.

The redoubt at Chatillon, held by the insurgents, was captured on the 4th by the government forces, with 2000 prisoners, including General Henry. General Duval was shot. No fighting has occurred on any other part of the line. The troops are becoming more than ever exasperated at the resistance by the insurgents. Order has been restored and the troops have entered the town.

It is rumored that the Nationals have sustained a decisive defeat. Forty thousand are massed before Issy and Clamart. The ramparts are strongly guarded. Mont Valerien is silent. The artillery duel between Issy and Versailles continues. The Nationals occupy Neuilly. The Government troops are invisible.

Fifteen thousand insurgents have been taken prisoners.

CONGRESS.

In the Senate, on the 4th, Mr. Blair concluded his speech, and Senator Morton answered him most effectually before reaching his own written speech, which was one of his best efforts. Mr. West of Louisiana followed in a complete denial of Mr. Blair's statements concerning Louisiana.

ONE LESS DEMOCRAT IN THE HOUSE Mr. Thurston, Democrat, reported elected to the legislature from Errol and Cambridge on the 14th March, was not elected. The Patriot says that a meeting to elect a Representative was held March 31st, classed towns being allowed to elect any time in March. The Democracy quarreled among themselves and the result was that the meeting adjourned sine die without choosing a Representative.

The Patriot claims that the town clerk of Lisbon has re-counted the vote for Representative and refuses to give a certificate to the Republican Representative who was chosen, on the ground that a mistake was made. Mr. Page of Concord, Democrat, is in a similar condition.

BASE BALL.—The Harvards and Lowells have a game at Cambridge at 10 o'clock this forenoon. The new Boston nine and a picked nine play at the Union Grounds, Boston, this afternoon at half past 2 o'clock.

☞ The sad story of the two little children of Brunell Bonaparte of Wickford, Rhode Island, who were buried alive by the falling in of the wall of a cave, has as sad a sequel. Mrs. Brunell, who was ill, died from the shock, and Mr. Brunell, the father, has become insane.

☞ The Capital, of Washington, thus speaks of Senator Howe's last speech: "Senator Howe of Wisconsin, who looks like a silver poplar dusted with chalk, and whose elocution and rhetoric appears to have been derived from the exhortation end of revival sermons, made his great humorous effort to detain Mr. Sumner's audience last Monday. The difference between the men and the speeches was the difference between the caucus and the nation. Some parts of Howe's speech reminded one of the late Mullins, of Tennessee, but in its general treatment it was pitched between the scriptural reminiscences of Lorenzo Dow and the classical learning of David Crockett."

NAVAL.—It is rumored that the U. S. S. Tennessee is to go out of commission on account of defective machinery.

VICTORY!

Far and near the shout is heard,
Which bringeth out our joyful bird.

"And the Colored Troops fought nobly!"

CONNECTICUT.

The Hartford Courant foots up Jewell 47,333 and English 47,350, giving English a majority of 17. This is claiming a Republican majority of 144 in Stamford, which is perhaps only 104. The Times claims 42 for English, or with Stamford changed, 82. The result is not absolutely certain, as other errors are suspected. A majority is required for an election.

In New Haven 20 scattering votes are reported and it is not unlikely that enough have been polled to defeat an election by the people. Should the election go to the legislature, there is no doubt of Jewell's success, as the legislature is Republican in both branches.

The Senate consists of 13 Republicans and 8 Democrats; last year it was composed of 11 Republicans and 10 Democrats.

The House is Republican by at least 5 majority.

Three Republicans and one Democrat are elected to Congress. Strong, Republican, has 850 majority in the 1st District; Kellogg, Republican, 47 in the 2d; Startweather, Republican, 1600 in the 3d; and Barnum, Democrat, 1000 in the 4th.

There is a dispute concerning 23 votes in Chesbire, which good lawyers say will be decided in favor of Jewell; and it is claimed that, owing to a mistake in counting a package of Democratic ballots twice in Enfield, there are twenty-four more votes returned than are numbered on the check list. There are some other changes not depending upon legal examination, which will certainly make the result wholly dependent upon the official count, which will take place some three weeks hence.

A Hartford dispatch of the 5th says: Our corrected returns give English 5 plurality. There are slight discrepancies in the votes of two or three towns, but giving English the benefit of all doubts he cannot have more than 15 or 20 plurality, and there are scattering votes to overcome that and send the election to the Legislature.

There is an alleged mistake of 24 in the count of Enfield, which, if corrected, will on our figures put Jewell 19 ahead. The official count alone will settle beyond all doubt.

The legislature meets May 3d.

The Buckeye State joins in the cry,
And warms the "cope" tremendously.

OHIO.

Pelton, Republican, is elected Mayor of Cleveland by 1500 majority—a Republican gain of over 4000.

The Republican gain in Wooster is over 200. Last year the town was Democratic.

The Badger State, too, "takes a hand,"
And "puts a head on" th' rebel band.

WISCONSIN.

Harrison Ludington, Republican, was elected Mayor of Milwaukee on Tuesday, by 1000 majority. Last year, Milwaukee gave 2000 Democratic majority.

Republican Mayors were chosen in La Crosse and Madison.

The Hawkeyes also are about.
And put the K.K.'s to the rout.

IOWA.

Keokuk, Dubuque and Davenport have elected Republican city officers.

Rhode Island does her level best,
And therefore wins untold success.

RHODE ISLAND.

Ever so many thousand Rebublican majority—Padelford elected Governor. Returns not all in, but enough at hand to show that the "Tidal Wave" has not seriously injured anything.

He's little—but he feels like a Morning Star.

NEW YORK.

On Tuesday, Schenectady elected William J. Van Howe, Republican, Mayor, by 300 majority. Last year a Democratic Mayor was chosen.

Our post couldn't think of any appropriate motto to work in here.

ILLINOIS.

Jacksonville has elected the Republican ticket.

MICHIGAN.

The Republicans have elected their candidates for the Supreme Court. A Republican Congressman has been chosen, to fill a vacancy in the 4th District.

NEBRASKA.

Omaha elected a Republican Mayor on Tuesday.

Aroused by such shouting and lifting of voices,
Our rum-cashed March bird seeks for what all the noise is;
Being told 'tis for victories his party has won,
He essays to crow as the others have done—
And hopes he'll have a chance to crow on his own hook over a proper election in New Hampshire, next March.

The republicans now have 133 members in the National House of Representatives, and the democrats 99. The full house will probably stand—138 republicans and 105 democrats.

A SPRING-TIME CHIRP.

The blue birds and the robins red,
This morning came in pairs;
The blue-birds with much modesty,
The robins with some airs.
The morning winds moved gently
The reddening maple tree,
Where the blue-birds and the robins
Piped their spring-time minstrelsy.

The audience room was very large,
The audience rather small—
Peering through half-closed window blinds,
One "family circle" all.
The curtain rose at break of day,
Dissolving into air;
The singers promptly were in place,
For morning praise and prayer.

The little chirping soloists,
And choristers as well,
Thrilled clearly all the higher notes,
And to the lowest fell.
So perfectly, in time and tune,
So blithely and so gay,
While the King of Day, from the eastern sky,
Threw his robes of night away.

And in his care of molten gold,
With cloud-steeds snowy white,
On perfumed breath—the morning air,
Rode up the empyrean height.
Its regal robes and royal state,
Passing our maple tree,
Where the blue-birds and the robins
Sing their morning melody.

No feasts, no sharps, not one false note,
None hired to cry "encore";
The daily programme warbled through,
All this and nothing more,
Comprising spring-time songs of joy,
At early break of day,
From the blue-birds and the robins,
In a genuine matinee.

With earnest listeners only—
With only those who hear
The song of the birds in spring time,
With eager listening ear;
The sky for an auditorium,
The budding trees for bowers,
For a guest the Sun of the morning:
Such are very precious hours.

But, ah, the concert closes
Too soon, by far, each day,
And we look, and wait and listen,
As the bird-notes die away,
In the dim and vaulted distance
Of the blue, ethereal sky,
Leaving rainbow tints of beauty,
At our feet, as the world goes by.

The public are hereby assured, through the columns of the Portsmouth Chronicle, that Parson's Purgative Pills contain no injurious principle, but that they may be administered to children and the most weak and shattered constitutions in small doses, with great certainty of success.

Dr. A. Johnson, one of the most successful practitioners of his time, invented what is now called Johnson's Anodyne Liniment. The great success of this article in the cure of Bronchitis and all diseases of throat and lungs, will make the name of Johnson not less favorably, if less widely known than that of Louis Napoleon. 1wapl

SPECIAL NOTICES.

Danger Ahead.

A single spark may kindle a flame that will consume a city, and small ailments neglected, may end in fatal disorders. Bearing this fact in mind, let the first symptoms of debility or nervous prostration be met promptly with invigorating treatment. Foremost among the vegetable tonics of the age stands HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS, and whenever the vital powers seem to languish, or there is any reason to suspect that the animal functions essential to the sustenation and purification of the body are imperfectly performed this invaluable invigorant and antiseptic should at once be resorted to. Indigestion always produces weakness of the bodily powers. Sometimes it happens that the appetite demands more food than the stomach can digest; though not more, perhaps, than is required to keep up the full strength of the frame. The object under such circumstances, is to increase the digestive capacity of the assimilating organ, so as to make it equal to the duty imposed upon it by the appetite, and capable of supplying the building material of the system as fast as it is required. This object is fully accomplished by the use of the Bitters. They tone and gently stimulate the cellular membrane which secretes the gastric juice, and the result is that the solvent is mingled with the food in sufficient quantity to convert all its nourishing particles into pure and wholesome aliment. If, on the other hand, there is a deficiency of appetite, without any corresponding deficiency of digestive power, the effect of the tonic is to stimulate a desire for food. In nineteen cases out of twenty, headache, nausea, nervousness, faintness, spasms and, indeed, most of the casual aches and pains to which humanity is subject, proceed primarily from indigestion complicated with biliousness; and for both these complaints HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS are recommended as a speedy and certain remedy.

☞ We shall issue no paper to-morrow.

☞ Work is suspended at the Navy Yard to-day.

☞ There will be a base ball match at the Plains this afternoon at 2 o'clock.

☞ The Massachusetts House of Representatives defeated the new prohibitory bill, on the 4th, by a vote of 112 to 97.

☞ Mr. James W. Verney of this city has accepted a position on the Atlantic & Pacific Telegraph Line, at Albany, New York.

☞ There will be divine service in the North Church this forenoon at the usual hour, conducted by the pastor, Rev. Geo. M. Adams.

☞ An original Operetta, the "Queen of the Sagamore," will be brought out some time during the present year by Mr. T. P. Moses, at the Temple.

☞ A fine white-oak schooner of 130 tons, old measurement, named the "Gov. Goodwin" and built by David Clark of Kennebunkport for Messrs. Harding & Doane of Newcastle, was launched at the former place on Tuesday, April 4th.

☞ A current rumor 'round town on Tuesday was that the Connecticut negroes had got into the democratic chicken-coops and scared all the poultry away. A glance at the coppery local paper on Wednesday evening satisfied us that the rumor was unfounded.

☞ On the evening of the 5th, at a democratic jubilee at Hampton, at which many ladies were present, an Ex-Congressman apologized by saying —"I cannot make much of a speech; you know I am only a 'plain man, like the rest of you." It was not exactly apparent to the handsome ladies present how they could be plain men.

☞ The first of a series of free entertainments under the direction of the Young People's Union is to be given at their rooms to-night, consisting of a choice selection of readings by Miss Flora M. Fitts, with duets on piano and violin by Messrs. E. A. Tilton and C. H. Cushing, — to commence at 8 o'clock. A class in singing is to be formed Friday evening, April 4th.

☞ The report that the Boston and Maine Railroad has joined the Eastern in renting the Portland, Saco and Portsmouth road is without foundation. The Boston and Maine is said to be surveying their proposed extension. The new arrangement between the Eastern and the Portland, Saco and Portsmouth roads will be a contract as formerly, and not a lease, and so will not need the permission of any legislature. The Maine legislatnre in 1847 refused to authorize a lease, and so a contract was made which has just terminated.

☞ In the record of deaths this morning will be noticed that of Francis Bacon, Esq., of Kittery, well known to many of our citizens. Mr. Bacon was a lawyer by profession and a member of the York County Bar. He held for many years the office of Register of Deeds for York County, and while acting in that capacity was distinguished for accuracy and precision in the discharge of the duties connected with that office. He was universally respected by a large circle of acquaintances, for integrity of character, honesty of purpose and courteous treatment of all who sought his counsel or with whom the business of his legal profession brought him in contact. With an extensive demand upon his professional abilities, and possessing a nervous and delicate organism, his nature readily succumbed to disease, so that after one short week of withdrawal from active duty he passed on to a higher sphere.

Possessing a kindly disposition and a warm heart he was a firm friend and a genial companion. He was alike gentlemanly and attentive to rich and poor, learned and unlearned, with whom he chanced to have business transactions. Scrupulously honest and exact in his dealings with his fellowmen, he won for himself a reputation for honor that made him conspicuous in his profession. In the death of Francis Bacon the community loses one of its best citizens, the legal fraternity a valued member, and in the social circle in which he moved a vacancy is created that cannot be readily filled.

Mr. Bacon was a member of St. Andrews' Lodge of Masons and Washington Chapter of Royal Arch Masons in this city.

☞ To-morrow being Good Friday, the Episcopal service will be held in St. John's Church, at 11 o'clock A. M., instead of in the Chapel as previously announced.

☞ The Crispins' calico-and-necktie sociable at Congress Hall this evening will doubtless furnish amusement for a large company. Ladies holding tickets to the past course will be admitted, and Harlow's Band will make the music.

BIDWELL'S DRAMATIC COMPANY presented "East Lynne" to a good audience at the Temple last evening. Mr. Ogden is a skillful and pleasing actor, and is well supported. This (Thursday) afternoon and evening two performances will be given.

☞ The understandings of the editors of the Lyre were so disarranged by the victory won by our bird in their hen-coop, Thursday, that they stated that the Republicans had the Band hired on Wednesday for the purpose of jubilating over the Connecticut election. Such was not the fact, however, for a public jubilee was not contemplated. In the words of a Connecticut cotemporary we have this advice to offer: Lie down, William, and keep out of the rain.

☞ Thayer and Guppy borrowed our rooster on Thursday and put it in their hen-coop. Of course the fowls immediately went to fighting, and of course our bird came out with flying colors. T. and G. picked him up and claimed him for their own, but he knew better and came home in triumph, and shows himself this morning in battle array. The copperhead rooster was let out of his coop and sailed over to Kittery in a punt, but recognizing nobody there, returned to New Hampshire and as will be seen by his faithful likeness printed in the copper horn, is the sorriest looking biped that ever fled from a foe.

Consumption,

ITS CURE AND ITS PREVENTIVE,

By J. H. SCHENCK, M. D.

Many a human being has passed away, for whose death there was no other reason than that the neglect of known and indisputably proved means of cure. These near and dear to family and friends are sleeping the dreamless slumber into which, had they calmly adopted and availed themselves of his wonderfully efficacious medicines, they would not have fallen.

Dr. JOSEPH H. SCHENCK'S SIMPLE TREATMENT,

Dr Schenck has in his own case proven that wherever sufficient vitality remains, that vitality, by his medicines and his directions for their use, is quickened into healthful vigor.

In this statement there is nothing presumptuous. To the faith of the invalid is made no representation that is not a thousand times substantiated by living and visible works. The theory of the cure by Dr. Schenck's medicines is as simple as it is unfailing. Its philosophy requires no argument. It is self assuring, self-convincing.

The Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills are the first two weapons with which the citadel of the malady is assailed. Two-thirds of the cases of consumption originate in dyspepsia and a functionally disordered liver. With this condition the bronchial tubes "sympathize" with the stomach. They respond to the morbific action of the liver. Hence, then come the culminating result, and the setting in, with all its distressing symptoms, of

CONSUMPTION.

The Mandrake Pills are composed of one of Nature's noblest gifts—the Podophyllum Peltatum. They possess all the blood-searching, alterative properties of calomel, but unlike calomel, they

"LEAVE NO STING BEHIND."

The work of cure is now beginning. The vitiated and mucous deposits in the bowels and in the alimentary canal are ejected. The liver, like a clock, is wound up. It answers from its torpidity. The stomach gets responsive, and the patient begins to feel that he is getting, at last,

A SUPPLY OF GOOD BLOOD.

The Seaweed Tonic, in conjunction with the Pills, permeates and assimilates with the food. Digestation is now progressing, without its previous tortures. Digestion becomes painless, and the cure is seen to be a sure one. There is no more fluttions, no exacerbation of the stomach. An appetite sets in.

Now comes the greatest Blood Purifier ever yet given by an enlightened and suffering man. Schenck's Pulmonic Syrup comes in to perform its functions and to hasten the complete the cure. It enters at once upon its work. Nature cannot be cheated. It collects and ripens the impaired and diseased portions of the lungs. In the form of gatherings it prepares them for expectoration, and lo! in a very short time the malady is vanquished, the rotten tissue that it occasioned is renovated and made new, and the patient, in all the dignity of regained vigor, steps forth to enjoy the manhood or womanhood that was

GIVEN UP AS LOST.

The second thing is, the patients must stay in a warm room, until they get well; it is almost impossible to prevent taking cold when the lungs are diseased, but it must be prevented or a cure cannot be effected. Fresh air and riding out, especially in this section of the country in the full and winter season, are all wrong. Physicians who recommend that course lose their patients, if their lungs are badly diseased; and yet, because they are in the house they must not sit down quiet; they must walk about the room as much and as fast as the strength will bear, to get up a good circulation of blood. The patients must keep up good spirits—be determined to get well. This has a great deal to do with the appetite, and is the great point to gain.

To despair of curing a consumptive is impossible in the worst cases, and moral certainty in all others, is sinful. Dr. Schenck's personal statement to the Faculty of his own cure was in the modest or womanhood that was

GIVEN UP AS LOST.

"Many years ago I was in the last stages of consumption: confined to my bed, and at one time my physicians thought that I could not live a week; then like a drowning man catching at straws, I heard of, and obtained the preparations which I now offer to the public, and they made a perfect cure of me. It seemed to me as if I could feel them penetrate my whole system. They soon ripened the matter in my lungs, and I would spit up more than a pint of offensive yellow matter every morning for a long time. As soon as that began to subside, my cough ceased, my night sweats all began to leave me, and my appetite became so great that it was with difficulty that I could keep from eating too much. Soon gained my strength, and have grown in flesh ever since."

"I was taught shortly after my recovery," added the Doctor, "then looking like a mere skeleton; my weight was only ninety-seven pounds; my present weight is two hundred and twenty-five (225) pounds, and for years I have enjoyed uninterrupted health."

Dr. Schenck has discontinued his professional visits to New York and Boston. He or his son, Dr. J. H. Schenck, Jr., still continue to see patients at their office, No. 15 North Sixth street, Philadelphia, every Saturday from 9 A. M. to 3 P. M. Those who wish a thorough examination with the Respirometer will be charged $5. ☞ The Respirometer declares the exact condition of the lungs, and patients can readily learn whether they are curable or not.

The directions for taking the medicines are adapted to the intelligence even of a child. Follow these directions, and kind Nature will do the rest, excepting that in some cases the Mandrake Pills are to be taken in increased doses; the three medicines need no other accompaniments than the plain instructions which accompany them. First, create appetite. Of returning health hunger is the most welcome symptom. When that comes, it will come, let the disturbing at once be of good cheer. Good blood at once follows, the cough loosens, the night sweats subside, the hectic flush passes away, and bid symptoms are gone forever.

Dr. Schenck's medicines are constantly kept in tens of thousands of families. As a laxative or purgative, the Mandrake Pills are a standard preparation; while the Pulmonic Syrup, as a cure of coughs and colds, may be regarded as a prophylactic against consumption in any of its forms.

Price of Pulmonic Syrup and Seaweed Tonic $1.50, a bottle, or $7.50 a half dozen. Mandrake Pills, 25 cents a box. For sale by all druggists and dealers.

FIRST MORTGAGE

7 PER CENT. GOLD BONDS,

ON A COMPLETED ROAD,

FREE OF U. S. TAX,

At 90 and Accrued Interest in Currency.

Burlington, Cedar Rapids and Minnesota Railway.

The completion of this Road has given to these Bonds an established character equal to any mortgage issue dealt in at the Stock Exchange. We are prepared to buy and sell them at any time, at our Banking House, at market price—thus placing them on the same basis; for temporary or permanent investment, with Governments or any other security.

These bonds are a first and only mortgage on a railroad that has cost double the amount of the issue, and which commands, without competition, all the traffic of Northern Iowa and Southern Minnesota—shortening the distance from St. Paul to Chicago 45 miles, and to St. Louis more than 90 miles.

The net earnings are already largely in excess of interest on the bonds, and no doubt exists that they will more than double within the ensuing year.

A contract has been secured with the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy Railroad Company obligating the latter to invest 50 per cent. of gross earnings derived from traffic with the Burlington, Cedar Rapids and Minnesota Road in the bonds of this Company. This arrangement is a strong guarantee of the Bonds, and establishes a large sinking fund for their redemption.

The convertibility privilege in these bonds enables them to be exchanged for stock, at par, at any time. This secures to the holder, in his option, a share in any excess of earnings over the interest obligation.

An exchange of Government securities for these bonds returns 9½ per cent. interest, instead of 5 per cent., which is all that Governments pay at present price, besides leaving an immediate gain of over 20 per cent. in price for re-investment.

All marketable Securities taken in exchange free of Commission and Express charges. f24dWeS

A GREAT MEDICAL DISCOVERY!

DR. WALKER'S CALIFORNIA

VINEGAR BITTERS,

Hundreds of Thousands Bear Testimony to their Wonderful Curative Effects.

WHAT ARE THEY!

THEY ARE NOT A VILE FANCY DRINK,

Made of Poor Rum, Whiskey, Proof Spirits and Refuse Liquors doctored, spiced and sweetened to please the taste, called "Tonics," "Appetizers," "Restorers," &c., that lead the tippler on to drunkenness and ruin, but are a true Medicine, made from the Native Roots and Herbs of California, free from all Alcoholic Stimulants. They are the GREAT BLOOD PURIFIER and a LIFE-GIVING PRINCIPLE, a perfect Renovator and Invigorator of the system, carrying off all poisonous matter and restoring the blood to a healthy condition. No person can take these Bitters according to direction and remain long unwell, provided the bones are not destroyed by mineral poison or other means, and the vital organs wasted beyond the power of repair.

For Inflammatory and Chronic Rheumatism and Gout, Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Bilious, Remittent and Intermittent Fevers, Diseases of the Blood, Liver, Kidneys and Bladder, these Bitters have been most successful. Such Diseases are caused by Vitiated Blood, which is generally produced by derangement of the Digestive Organs.

DYSPEPSIA OR INDIGESTION, Headache, Pain in the Shoulders, Coughs, Tightness of the Chest, Dizziness, Sour Eructations of the Stomach, Bad taste in the Mouth, Bilious Attacks, Palpitation of the Heart, Inflammation of the Lungs, Pain in the regions of the Kidneys, and a hundred other painful symptoms, are the offspring of Dyspepsia.

They invigorate the stomach and stimulate the torpid liver and bowels, which render them of unequalled efficacy in cleansing the blood of all impurities and imparting new life and vigor to the whole system.

FOR SKIN DISEASES, Eruptions, Tetter, Salt Rheum, Blotches, Spots, Pimples, Pustules, Boils, Carbuncles, Ring-Worms, Scald Head, Sore Eyes, Erysipelas, Itch, Scurfs, Discolorations of the Skin, Humors and Diseases of the Skin, of whatever name or nature, are literally dug up and carried out of the system in a short time by the use of these Bitters. One bottle in such cases will convince the most incredulous of their curative effect.

Cleanse the Vitiated Blood whenever you find its impurities bursting through the skin in Pimples, Eruptions or Sores; cleanse it when you find it obstructed and sluggish in the veins, cleanse it when it is foul, and your feelings will tell you when. Keep the blood pure, and the health of the system will follow.

PIN, TAPE and other WORMS, lurking in the system of so many thousands, are effectually destroyed and removed. For full directions, read carefully the circular around each bottle, printed in four languages—English, German, French and Spanish.

FOR FEMALE COMPLAINTS, whether in young or old, married or single, at the dawn of womanhood or at the turn of life, these Tonic Bitters have no equal. ☞ Send for a circular.

They are a Gentle Purgative as well as a Tonic, possessing also, the peculiar merit of acting as a powerful agent in relieving Congestion or Inflammation of the Liver, and all the Visceral Organs. 1yrdawfeb16

THE CENTRAL RAILROAD CO. OF IOWA,

have now built and equipped, in first-class manner, about

180 MILES OF RAILROAD,

which will complete their entire line, with the exception of laying the track on twenty-five miles, which is already graded. They will thus open

The First Through Line Across the State

from north to south, and, by making a slight detour at one point, they will give

DIRECT COMMUNICATION BETWEEN ST. LOUIS AND ST. PAUL.

This line of Railroad will have very special advantages for both local and through business, besides such superior railroad connections as will secure to it a large portion of the carrying trade of the Great Northwest. The

First Mortgage

7 PER CENT. GOLD BONDS,

which are issued upon this road, are limited in amount to $16,000 per mile (while many roads issue from $20,000 to $40 000,) and are offered at 90 and accrued interest, in currency. About two millions and a half of these bonds have already been disposed of, leaving but a small balance unsold, which are being rapidly taken.

The most experienced financiers agree that First Mortgage Bonds, on a limited amount, upon finished railroad, which is well located for business, are one of the very safest forms of investment.

Parties desiring to secure a first-class security, based upon a railroad practically done, and in the hands of leading capitalists who have a large pecuniary and business interest in its success, will do well to apply at the office of the Company, or any of its advertised agents, for a pamphlet and map, showing the characteristics of the enterprise.

NEW 7-30 GOLD LOAN.

SAFE! PROFITABLE! PERMANENT!

JAY COOKE & CO.,

Offer For Sale at Par and Accrued Interest the FIRST MORT. LAND GRANT GOLD BONDS

—OF THE—

Northern Pacific Railroad Co.

These bonds are secured, first, by a First Mortgage on the Railroad itself, its rolling-stock, and all equipments; second, by a First Mortgage on its entire Land Grant, being more than Twenty Two Thousand Acres of Land to each mile of Road.

The Bonds are free from United States Tax; the Principal and Interest are payable in Gold; the Principal at the end of Thirty years, and the Interest Semi-annually, at the rate of SEVEN AND THREE-TENTHS PER CENT. per annum.

They are issued in denominations of $100, $500, $1,000, $5,000 and $10,000.

The Trustees under the Mortgage are Messrs. Jay Cooke, of Philadelphia, and J. Edgar Thomson, President of the Pennsylvania Central Railroad Company.

These Northern Pacific 7-30 Bonds will at all times before maturity be receivable at TEN PER CENT. PREMIUM (or 1.10,) in exchange for the Company's lands at their lowest cash price.

In addition to their absolute safety, these Bonds yield an income larger, we believe, than any other first-class security. Persons holding United States 6-20's can, by converting them into Northern Pacifics, increase their yearly income one-third, and still have a perfectly reliable investment.

HOW TO GET THEM.—Your nearest Bank or Banker will supply these Bonds in any desired amount, and of any needed denomination. Persons wishing to exchange stocks or other bonds for these, can do so with any of our Agents, who will allow the highest current price for ALL MARKETABLE SECURITIES.

Those living in localities remote from Banks, may send money, or other bonds, directly to us by express, and we will send back Northern Pacific Bonds at our own risk, and without cost to the investor. For further information, pamphlets, maps, etc., call on or address the undersigned, or any of the Banks or Bankers employed to sell this Loan. eodSmda3mwfeb8

SUNSHINE.—Seclusion from sunshine is one of the misfortunes of our civilized life. The same cause, which makes potato vines white and sickly, when grown in dark cellars, operates to produce the pale sickly girls, that are reared in our parlors. Expose either to the direct rays of the sun, and they begin to show color, health and strength.

When in London, some years ago, I visited an establishment which had acquired a wide reputation for the cure of those maladies in which prostration and nervous derangement were prominent features. I found in the use made of the sunshine the secret of success. The slate roof had been removed and a glass one substituted. The upper story had been divided into sixteen small rooms, each one provided with a lounge, washing apparatus, etc. The patient, on entering each his little apartment, removed all his clothing, exposed himself to the direct rays of the sun, lying on the lounge and turning over from time to time, each and every part of the body was thus exposed to the life-giving rays of the sun. Several London physicians candidly confessed to me that many cases, which seemed waiting only for the shroud, were galvanized into life and health by this baptism in the blessed sunshine.

Many years ago a clergyman, who had for years been a victim of dyspepsia, and who had prayed for death as the only door of escape, came at length, through the advice of a mutual friend, to consult with me. I advised the disuse of all medicines, the generous use of cracked wheat and good beef, and much exposure to the sunshine. To secure the last mentioned influence, I directed him to build a close fence, covering a space of twenty feet square, in his garden, and plant the earth within with something to occupy his mind. Then, when the weather was warm, shutting himself in, he was to busy himself, quite nude, with the cultivation of his vegetables from ten to sixty minutes a day, always indulging in a thorough bath and vigorous friction before leaving. He was radically cured!

I was practising my profession in Buffalo, New York, during '49 and '51, those memorable cholera seasons. I saw at least five cases of cholera on the shady side of the street and houses to one on the sunny side. One eminent physician in New Orleans reports from his own practice eight cases of yellow fever on the shady side of the street to one on the sunny side.

Who has not read Florence Nightingale's observations in the Crimea as between the shady and sunny side of hospitals! In St. Petersburg the shady side of the hospitals was so notoriously unfavorable to the sick soldier, that the Czar decreed it into disuse.

The shade tree; about our dwelling have done much to make our wives and daughters pale, feeble and neuralgic. Trees ought never to stand near enough to our dwellings to cast a shade upon them, and if the blinds were removed and nothing but a curtain within, with which to lessen on the hottest days the intensity of the heat, it would add greatly to the tone of our nerves and to our general vigor. The piazzas which project over the lower story, always make that less healthy than the upper story, especially for sleeping purposes. I am sure I have cured a great many cases of rheumatism by advising patients to leave bedrooms shaded by trees and piazzas, and sleep in a room and bed which was constantly dried and purified by the direct rays of the sun.—Dio Lewis.

E. A. JOY
Has Fitted up a Spacious and Elegant SEWING MACHINE ROOM directly over his Music Store and employs a competent young lady to take charge of the same. A cordial invitation is hereby extended to all the ladies (not having good Sewing Machines of their own) to bring in lots of work and learn to make it up on the Machines. This will cost nothing whether a Machine is purchased or not. Come as often and stay as long as you please.
MR. JOY'S business in the Sewing Machine line is very rapidly increasing, which enables him to make the above generous offer.
His long experience in this branch qualifies him to be an excellent judge of the goods he sells; and as he has had the Agency of all kinds offered him at different times it is reasonable to suppose that the Best SEWING MACHINES may always be had at the SEWING MACHINE EMPORIUM, No. 9 PLEASANT ST., nearly opposite the Post Office, Portsmouth, N. The CATAWBA GRAPE PILLS, being pleasant in taste and odor, do not nauseate their being sugar-coated, and are prepared according to rules of Pharmacy and Chemistry, and are not Patent Medicines.

It speedily eradicates Pimples, Spots, Scorbutic Dryness, Indurations of the Cutaneous Membrane, etc., Ringworm, Redness and Incident Inflammation, Itches, Rash, Moth Patches, Dryness of Scalp or Skin, Frost Bites, and all purposes for which Salves or Ointments are used, restores the skin to a state of purity and softness, and insures continued healthy action to the tissue of its vessels, on which depends the agreeable smoothness and vivid tint of complexion so much sought and admired. But however valuable as a remedy for existing defects of the skin, H. T. A COMPETENT WITNESS.—"William Look who made you?"

William, who was considered a fool, screwed up his face, and looking thoughtful and somewhat bewildered, replied, "Moses, I s'pose."

"That will do," said counsellor Gray, addressing the court. "The witness says he supposed Moses made him; that is an intelligent answer, more than I thought him capable of giving, for it shows that he has some faint idea of Scripture. I submit that is not sufficient to entitle him to be sworn as a witness capable of giving evidence."

"Mister Judge," said the fool, "may I ax the lawyer a question?"

"Certainly," said the judge.

"Well, then, Mister Lawyer, who d'ye s'pose made you?"

"Aaron, I s'pose," said counsellor Gray imitating the witness.

After the mirth had somewhat subsided, the witness drawled out:—

"Wall, ne-ow, we do read in the book that Aaron once made a calf, but who'd a thought the darned critter got in here!"

The judge ordered the man to be sworn.

Communication.

THE PLANET MARS.—In the Chronicle of March 22, "Tyro" made interesting mention of the display of three planets now seen every evening. Mars, one of them, is seen in the east. We wish to notice this planet more particularly.

This body is next in order outside of our world. Its year is equal one year and ten months of ours. It is our evening star in the Constellation Virgo and is distinguished by its ruddy, fiery appearance; and from this it was named in honor of Mars, the heathen god of war.

The diameter of this planet is about half of that of the earth and bodies of the same specific gravity weigh there about half of what they do here. It follows that a person of 300 or 400 pounds weight here, may leap five or six feet in the air and run with astonishing speed.

The nearness of this planet to ours and the perfection of telescopes enable us to make a somewhat close inspection of it. Its surface is less in area than a hemisphere on our globe, and yet it is evident there is nearly as much land as on the earth. Its seas are small like the Baltic, Red and Mediterranean, and no bodies of water can probably be called oceans.

Light and heat there are about one half of what they are here.

And what of its inhabitants? We can say nothing here. We may never know, unless in the future state. It is the opinion of some that in the life to come there may be communications with different parts of the universe; but relative to that we may rest content.

☞ Mr. George Chadbourn of Sanford, Me., wintered thirteen hens and a full blooded democratic crower. From January 1st to April 1st, as a remuneration for kind treatment, the hens awarded him 59 dozen eggs. Mr. Chadbourn says that he has but one hen that he will warrant to lay two eggs a day, yet he thinks he has more in the flock that will do the same thing.

BENEVOLENCE.—For the American Board of Mission a friend in Chester has given two dollars. And the Congregational church has given $100, which constitutes John F. Hazelton an honorary member. The first Congregational church in Exeter, $67.76. Hampstead Congregational church and society $27.39

BAPTISTS IN NEW HAMPSHIRE.—There are 85 churches, 91 ministers and 8,029 members. Thirteen of these churches are in Rockingham County, 10 ministers and 1257 members. The Free Will Baptists in the State have 124 churches, 108 ordained ministers and 8,436 members.

☞ A few days since Mrs. Mary McKenny of Buxton, Me., while stooping down run a knitting needle through her lip and between her teeth. She was instantly seized by a fit, and now has her left side partially paralyzed.

☞ The new French minister who succeeded Paradol, M. Treilhard, some days ago gave signs of insanity and continued growing worse until last Monday, when he was sent to the insane asylum.

ARE YOU GOING TO PAINT?
—IF SO, USE THE—
AVERILL CHEMICAL PAINT.
It is Cheaper, Handsomer and more durable than the best of other Paints. One Thousand Gallons of it were sold in this City, in the year 1870, and not one complaint has come from those who have used it; but all speak in its favor; it is mixed ready for application, and is much easier put on than any other Paint, making a smooth, glossy surface for years, that can be cleaned with hot suds without injuring it. It is excellent for walls inside, in the place of paper.
I shall keep this season a large stock of Chemical Paints of all shades on hand, to accommodate customers with any amount, without delay in ordering it. Those who want to use the Chemical Paint and have had them mixed previously by those who deal in Lead and Oil, are invited to call and examine my Paints that have been on Buildings two years, and you will find them as fresh as if laid but one month.
I am prepared to do Painting by Contract, or by the day, using the Chemical Paint, or furnishing good experienced workmen by the day at very low wages. B. NORTON, only Agent for selling the

"VALUABLE BOOKS.—We have received the valuable medical works published by the Peabody Medical Institute. These books are of actual merit, and should find a place in every intelligent family. They are not the cheap order of abominable trash, published by irresponsible parties, and purchased to gratify coarse tastes, but are written by a responsible professional gentleman of eminence, as a source of in-truction on vital matters, concerning which lamentable ignorance exists. The important subjects presented are treated with delicacy, ability and care, and, as an appendix, many useful prescriptions for prevailing complaints are added."—Cape Republican, Lancaster, N. H.
"The author of these books is one of the most learned and popular physicians of the day, and is entitled to the praise for the issue of these invaluable productions. It seems to be his aim to induce men and women to avoid the cause of those diseases to which they are subject, and he tells them just how and when to do it."—Chronicle, Farmington, Maine, Sept. 7, 1869.
Either book sent by mail on receipt of price.
N. B. The Author of the above-named medical works is the Chief Consulting Physician of the Peabody Medical Institute, and is so constantly employed in consultation with invalids from all parts of the country, that he has no time to attend to mere business details. Therefore all letters should be addressed to the PEABODY MEDICAL INSTITUTE, or to Dr. W. H. PARKER, the Medical Assistant of the Author, and his Business Agent, who, as well as the Author himself, may be consulted on all diseases requiring skill, secrecy and experience. oct21yr

SATURDAY, APRIL 8, 1871.

THE REACTION.—The hopes of one political party and the fears of a portion of the other concerning a reaction of the country in favor of democratic "principles," are both quieted by the recent Connecticut election. There can be no question but what the democratic leaders fully anticipated a great victory for their party in that State, that both parties exerted all their power to win, and that Tammany itself went to the assistance of its party friends in Connecticut. The New Hampshire copperhead victory was held up by the democratic press of the country as a proof that republicanism is on its last legs, and by a large portion of the republican press as a warning to their friends of the great danger existing, that trifling differences in the republican ranks will throw the nation back to the barbarism of ten years ago.

We, being fully aware that our defeat in this State was wholly owing to local and temporary causes, did not for a moment tremble at the reactionary tidal wave which was to float to victory the principles of state sovereignty and disunion, abolish the fourteenth and fifteenth amendments, disfranchise the negroes and win for the South at the ballot box what was not won before either by the ballot or the sword. But apparently many republicans did fear it; and had the Connecticut election taken place at the same date as our own, their fears would have amounted almost to a panic, for that State would almost certainly have stood with ours—on the wrong side. But the democratic victory in New Hampshire, instead of weakening the republican party, only made it stronger than before—by showing them the danger of dissensions in their own ranks, and causing a general showing of colors by their opponents.

The result of our election was the signal for a general shout from the southern and a large part of the northern democratic press, that the "dead issues" of the war were never more alive than now, that the party of secession was on the eve of a national victory, and that such a victory meant neither more nor less than the entire overthrow of all the reconstruction acts, including the amendments to the constitution. The democratic party were to win, not because they deserved success, but because their opponents did not deserve it any longer. The effect of these democratic threats to advance the country backward for ten years, was to rouse the republican party to a sense of the danger they were incurring from apathy and division in their ranks, and to open the eyes of many who believed that the democracy had advanced with the age to the fact that that party stands now just where it did when its active men were planting batteries against Fort Sumter. The result of this great awakening is seen in the great and unexpected gains of the republican party in the middle and western states, and notably in their success in Connecticut.

The New York World, just as the Connecticut men were going to the polls, announced that the only question was "how large the majority should be" for the democratic nominees; and Gov. English informed a Sun (good copperhead paper) reporter that his party had a sure thing in that State, and an assured majority of some two thousand.

The republican leaders, (who two weeks ago had no hope of saving anything worth mentioning from the wreck, in Connecticut,) though they knew that their party had got thoroughly waked up to the importance of the work they ha dto do in that State, entertained well-grounded fears of what would be the result of the interference of the Tammany King and purse in the election; but the assistance given to the republican party by the copperhead press and Jeff Davis more than overbalanced the evil influence of Tammany Hall,—and the republican State ticket has an average majority of three hundred, a gain of more than 1100 from last year. Gov. English is not elected, and instead of the democrats having three out of the four Congressmen, as they confidently expected, they have but one.

To our mind, this election is conclusive evidence that the democratic party will never be victorious on the principles of secession and a "white man's government," on which they have so often been beaten, and that, even admitting that all the democrats say of the republican rule were true, the country will never but in power their opponents, until they shall give some better evidence of their fitness to rule than they show by merely decrying the dominant party and threatening to overturn all the results of the recent war. When the democratic party goes farther than the republican in demanding progress, then they will win, and deserve to; but so long as their only claim to power is that they will force the nation to make a retrograde movement, so long they will be allowed backs seats in the national councils.

PRESIDENT GRANT sent a message to Congress on the 5th, with the report of the Santo Domingo Commissioners. He claims that the report more than sustains all he has said in regard to the productiveness and healthfulness of the republic of Santo Domingo, of the unanimity of the people for annexation to the United States and their peaceable character.

He said he advised annexation because the agents of Baez appealed to him to take charge of the feebly governed Republic, which he did not hesitate to do, being a strong believer in the Monroe doctraine. To do otherwise he thought would be a dereliction of duty. He insisted on the appointment of Commissioners to convince his detractors of the truth of his statements and to combat the unfounded allegations of those who charged him with pecuniary interest in the proposed purchase. His honor and the honor of the nation demanded it. His task is finished and all personal solicitude in the matter ceases.

The President recommends no action on the subject of annexation until the next session of Congress, that the people may form an intelligent opinion concerning it, to which opinion he will cheerfully conform, having no policy but the will of the people, whose best interests he has striven to subserve.

The document is creditable to the chief of the nation and should disarm all criticism by political friends of the administration. We doubt not that its timely appearance will tend to heal dissension and harmonize the Republican factions.

The message has been read with great satisfaction by almost all men of prominence in the party, and most all who have opposed the President's course upon the question of annexation are loud in his praise. The report of the Commissioners presents nothing new. It does not recommend annexation but expresses the opinion that the annexation of Santo Domingo to the United States will be of scarcely less benefit to Hayti than to the Dominican people.

CONGRESS.

In the Senate, on the 4th, a resolution directing the judiciary committee to report a bill for the support a bill for the suppression of the Ku-Klux was passed, 38 to 12.

The President's message on the Santo Domingo report was ordered to be printed.

The House was amused by a personal passage between Ex-Gov. Swann of Maryland and Gen. Butler, Swann being the attacking party.

The onslaught on Gen. Butler was of the most bitter and savage character, and seemed to be a preconcerted movemented. General Butler's reply was in his finest style, and perfectly overwhelmed his assailant.

On the 5th, Senator Davis of Kentucky made a personal explanation of his controversy with Gen. Butler, and was called to order by the Vice President.

The House passed the Ku-Klux bill by a vote of 113 to 94. The three Democratic members from New Hampshire voted against it, of course.

EFFECTS OF THE CONNECTICUT ELECTION IN NEW HAMPSHIRE.—The Portland Press publishes the following extract from a letter from a leading Democrat in Concord, N. H., to a gentleman in Portland.

"The effect of the election in Connecticut is rather against us in this State, more especially since we were confident that the Democrats would carry the State handsomely. In our State there is no choice for Governor. In the House of Representatives the two parties are nearly evenly divided. Three or four Republicans were elected by Democratic votes, and it has been supposed they would go with us and vote for Weston when the question came before them, and thus decide the vote in his favor. But, since the election in Connecticut, it is rumored, and I fear the rumor is true, that they will stick to their party, and, if necessary to secure Pike's election, will vote for him. I shall not be surprised to see a Republican organization of the House, the election of a Republican in the Councillor district where there was nochoice—making the Council stand three Republicans and two Democrats—the election of the Republican candidate in the vacant Senatorial district—making that body a tie—and the ultimate election of Mr. Pike as Governor. We hoped for a better state of things, but Connecticut has upset all our calculations."

☞ The miners of Scranton, Pa., were indulging in a riot on the 6th.

PROGRESS OF THE NORTHERN PACIFIC RAILROAD. — The energy with which the building of this great thoroughfare is being pushed forward is an added guaranty of its early completion and its wise management. We learn from the financial agents of the Road, Messrs. Jay Cooke & Co., that, at the present date, the grading is nearly finished for 266 miles, from Lake Superior, through Central Minnesota, to the eastern border of Dakota; trains are running over 130 miles of completed track; the Mississippi river is bridged at Brainerd and once more joined to the Lakes by rail, and track-laying is rapidly progressing westward. By September next, trains will run to the Red river, and the grading will probably be far advanced toward the Great Bend of the Missouri river in Central Dakota.

In the meantime work has been commenced the present season on the Pacific coast; a large force of men is already employed in the valley of the Columbia river, in Washington Territory, and hereafter the work of construction will be pushed both eastward and westward toward the centre with such rapidity as the best interests of the Road may justify.

Including its purchase of the St. Paul and Pacific Road, the Northern Pacific Railroad Company has 413 miles of Road now in operation, and before the close of the present season the length of finished track will be at least 560 miles. The new highway to the Pacific is being constructed at the lowest cost compatible with first-class work.

Nashua is to have a horticultural and floricultural society.

BUSINESS NOTICES.

Thieves! KNAVES!! SWINDLERS!! These are mild terms with which to designate those mean contemptible adventurers, who have been induced by the high reputation which Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy has won to put up and offer for sale a worthless imitation of this celebrated medicine. Remember that Dr. Pierce's private Stamp, which is the only positive guarantee of genuineness, should be upon every package. This private stamp, issued by the U. S. Government expressly for stamping Dr. Pierce's medicines, has upon it his portrait, name and address, and the words "U. S. Certificate of Genuineness." Dont get swindled by men calling themselves Dr. Sage; Dr. R. V. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y., is the only man now living that has the right and can prepare the genuine and original Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy. Sold by druggists, or sent by mail on receipt of sixty cents.

Veterinary Surgeons all over the country are recommending Sheridan's Cavalry Condition Powders for following trouble in horses:—Loss of appetite, roughness of the hair, stoppage of bowels or water, thick water, coughs and colds, swelling of the glands, worms, horse ail, thick wind and heaves.

A friend of ours who is chief clerk in the Governmental Dispensary, says that no medicine chest is now complete without Johnson's Anodyne Liniment. We always supposed it was prescribed by law; if it is not, it ought to be, for certainly there is nothing in the whole materia medica of so much importance to the soldier and the sailor as Johnson's Anodyne Liniment.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

Exhaustion.

Invalids, broken down in health and spirits by Chronic Dyspepsia, or suffering from the terrible exhaustion which follows the attacks of acute disease, the testimony of thousands who have been raised as by a miracle from a similar state of prostration by HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS, is a sure guarantee that by the same means you too may be strengthened and restored. But to those who stand in peril of epidemics, to all who, by reason of exposure, privations and uncongenial climate or unhealthy pursuits, may at any moment be stricken down, this paragraph is most particularly and emphatically addressed. You, who, are thus situated, are proffered an absolute safeguard against the danger that menaces you. Tone and regulate the system with this harmless medicinal stimulant and alterative, and you will be forearmed against the maladies whose seeds float around you in the air unseen. HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS are not only a standard tonic and alterative throughout the United States, but they are accredited by the certificates of the most distinguished citizens of the Union, to the people of all other lands. In Canada, Australia and the West Indies, they are gradually taking the place of all other stomachics, whether native or foreign, and as surely as truth is progressive and demonstration overthrows doubt, they will eventually supersede every other invigorant and restorative now employed in medicinal practice.

FRANCE.

A severe engagement took place at the bridge of Neuilly on the 6th. Both sides lost heavily. The result was indecisive.

THE JOINT HIGH COMMISSION.—It is reported as coming from members of the Joint High Commission on the part of the United States that they have little hopes of being able to present a treaty which will be acceptable to the Senate.

It seems to be conceded by the best informed persons that should Congress adjourn before the treaty can be presented, the Senate will be convened in extraordinary session, and at least two weeks will be consumed in discussing the treaty.

—As ministers, when they go into politics, think it necessary to become rascals, so men who go to Congress for the first time, appear to think it incumbent upon them to become boors at once. One of the new democratic members from New Hampshire, Mr. Parker, exhibited himself in his seat, on Wednesday, with his feet on his desk and a smoking pipe in his mouth; while another recent member, Garrett of Tennesssee, frequently sits with his feet over his desk, pointing toward the speaker, the soles of his boots forming a delicate head rest for the Andalusian locks of "Sunset" Cox. Why don't the galleries cry the nuisances down, by shouts of "boots," as the pit does at the theatres?—Springfield Republican.

7-30 GOLD LOAN

—OF THE—

NORTHERN PACIFIC RAILROAD.

RAPID PROGRESS OF THE WORK.

The building of the Northern Pacific Railroad, (begun July last,) is being pushed forward with great energy from both extremities of the line. Several thousand men are employed in Minnesota and on the Pacific coast. The grade is nearly completed 266 miles westward from Lake Superior; trains are running over 130 miles of finished road, and track-laying is rapidly progressing toward the eastern border of Dakota. Including its purchase of the St. Paul & Pacific Road, the Northern Pacific Company now has 413 miles of completed road, and by September next this will be increased to at least 560.

A GOOD INVESTMENT.—Jay Cooke & Co. are now selling and unhesitatingly recommend, as a Profitable and perfectly Safe investment, the First Mortgage Land Grant Gold Bonds of the Northern Pacific Railroad Company. They have 30 years to run, bear Seven and Three-Tenths' per cent. gold interest (more than 8 per cent. currency) and are secured by first and only mortgage on the ENTIRE ROAD AND ITS EQUIPMENTS and also, as fast as the Road is completed, on 23,000 ACRES OF LAND to every mile of track, or 500 Acres for each $1,000 Bond. They are exempt from U. S. Taxation. Principal and Interest are payable in Gold; Denominations; Coupons, $100 to $1,000; Registered, $100 to $10,000.

LANDS FOR BONDS.—Northern Pacific 7-30's are at all times receivable at TEN PER CENT. ABOVE PAR, in exchange for the Company's Lands, at their cash price, when used by them in practically INTEREST BEARING LAND WARRANTS.

SINKING FUNDS.—The proceeds of all sales of Lands are required to be devoted to the re-purchase and cancellation of the First Mortgage Bonds of the Company. The Land Grant of the Road exceeds Fifty Million Acres. This immense Sinking Fund will undoubtedly cancel the principal of the Company's bonded debt before it falls due. With their ample security and high rate of interest, there is no investment, accessible to the people, which is more PROFITABLE OR SAFE.

EXCHANGING U. S. FIVE-TWENTIES.—The success of the New Government 5 per cent. Loan will compel the early surrender of United States 6 per cents. Many holders of Five-Twenties are now exchanging them for Northern Pacific Seven-Thirties, thus realizing a handsome profit and greatly increasing their yearly income.

OTHER SECURITIES.—All marketable Stocks and Bonds will be received at their highest current price in exchange for Northern Pacific Seven-Thirties. EXPRESS CHARGES on Money or Bonds received and on Seven-Thirties sent in return, will be paid by the Financial Agents. Full information, maps, pamphlets, etc., can be obtained on application at any agency, or from the undersigned. For sale by

PRACTICAL APPLICATION OF

HAMLET'S SOLILOQUY.

To insure or not to insure? That is the question.
Whether t'will be nobler for my family to suffer
The stings and arrows of outrageous fortune
Or take a policy against those dangers,
And, by insuring, end them? To fret, to fear,
No more; and by a policy to end
The heartache and the thousand natural shocks
That flesh is heir to. Yes, my application's
Devoutly to be wished; apply, insure,
And pay the premium: ay—there's the rub
For in that time what premiums may come
Before I shuffle off this mortal coil
Does make me pause, tightens my purse,
And makes me rather pay the bills I have
Than fly to others I know not of.
Thus does meanness make brutes of us all.

To Hon. The President of the Club on Thursday received the following answer:—

HARTFORD, CONN., April 5,

To HON. HORTON D. WALKER:—Dear Sir:—For your very kind congratulations and dispatch please return my heartfelt thanks to your Club. We made a hard and gallant fight, but the returns are so close that it is very difficult to tell who is to be Governor. It is so close that it may have to go to the legislature, in which case I am sure of an election. Very Resp'y Yours, MARSHALL JEWELL.

THE ELECTIONS.

WISCONSIN.—Judge Lyons, Republican, has 10,000 majority.

MICHIGAN.—Foster, Republican, is elected to Congress in the 4th District, to fill a vacancy, by 8000 majority; a Republican gain of 1500.

CONNECTICUT.—The election returns at the Courant office, which have been carefully revised and footed, show English's plurality for governor is only 17. In these returns the scattering votes are not given, but there is little doubt that there are enough of these to throw the election of Governor into the Legislature. The official canvass of the votes is not made for some two weeks. The Courant's returns also show all the Republican State officers are elected by the people by handsome majorities, as follows:—Morris Tyler, Lieut. Governor, 306 majority; Hiram Appelman, Secretary of State, 250 majority; David P. Nichols, Treasurer, 339 majority; Joseph W. Manning, Controller, 354 majority. The complete returns show that there is a Republican majority of 26 on joint ballot in the Legislature, 5 in the Senate and 21 in the House, the House standing 130 Republicans to 109 Democrats.

RHODE ISLAND.—Complete returns of the State election give Padelford, Rep., for Governor, 8819; Steere, Dem., 5365. Senate, 29 Republicans, 9 Democrats, 1 no choice. House, 51 Republicans, 13 Democrats, 8 no choice.

McFadden, Republican, is elected Mayor of Matloon, Ill., by 152 majority.

Lyons City, Iowa, heretofore Democratic, has chosen a Republican Mayor by a large majority.

Warren, Republican, has been elected Mayor of Kansas city.

OHIO POLITICS.—Hon. B. F. Wade is spoken of as the Republican nominee for Governor. Pendleton and Groesbeck are candidates for the Democratic nomination.

☞ William Earl, who was injured in the picker of the Newickwannock Manufacturing Company, at South Berwick, died of lock-jaw. He was 55 years old, and leaves a family.

☞ Saco, Me., is to have a firemen's muster, July 4th.

NEWMARKET.—The buildings, with the exception of the stables on the site of the new $20,000 Methodist church were sold on Saturday for $526, much less than was expected by some of their financiers, who thought they would sell for $1,000 to $1,500.—The Congregational society are to expend the sum of $5,000 in repairing their church.—Dover Enquirer.

From the Portsmouth Journal.

Capt. Matthew T. Betton has presented Diamond Lodge No. 9, Knights of Pythias, with an elegant pitcher, on which is engraved the name of the Lodge in gold. Accompanying it is a silver salver.

The Portsmouth Ship Como, Drevan, from Cardiff for New York, reported last week as having foundered at sea, sailed from the former place February 11, with railroad iron, encountering severe gales, causing the vessel to leak badly. The crew worked until thoroughly exhausted, and were finally obliged to abandon her. The ship foundered very soon after. All hands were saved by the ship Cornelius Grinnell, of New York, March 1st, and taken to London.

The Portsmouth Journal is of the opinion that "the Democracy have made no substantial gains in the recent election." ○ ○ When ignorance is bliss, as in this case, it would be more than folly to be wise.—N. H. Patriot.

The Patriot is right. It will be time enough for Democracy to tear their hair and refuse to be comforted, when they find the Legislature organized by the choice of a Republican Speaker, and a Republican Governor duly inaugurated, next June. Let them eat, drink and be merry while they may. To-morrow it may be too late.

JOB AND CARD PRINTING.—We have made great additions to our jobbing facilities—a mammoth Hand Press (the largest in Portsmouth,) new Display Type, Borders of various styles, &c. —and are prepared to execute with neatness and dispatch, all orders for FULL SHEET POSTERS, DATE SLIPS, PAMPHLETS, SERMONS, ADDRESSES, AUCTION BILLS, CONSTITUTIONS, BY LAWS, PROGRAMMES, HANDBILLS, CIRCULARS, ORDERS DANCES, BLANKS, BILL HEADS, RECEIPTS, TICKETS, BUSINESS, MARRIAGE, ADDRESS AND VISITING CARDS, LABELS, TAGS, and in fact PRINTING OF ANY DESCRIPTION, at SATISFACTORY PRICES. Consumption,

ITS CURE AND ITS PREVENTIVE.

By J. H. SCHENCK, M. D.

Many a human being has passed away, for whose death there was no other reason than the neglect of known and indisputably proved means of cure. Those near and dear to family and friends are sleeping the dreamless slumber into which, had they only heard of

Dr. JOSEPH H. SCHENCK'S SIMPLE TREATMENT,

and availed themselves of his wonderfully efficacious medicines, they would not have fallen.

Dr Schenck has in his own case proven that wherever sufficient vitality remains, that vitality, by his medicines and his directions for their use, is quickened into healthful vigor.

In this statement there is nothing presumptuous. To the faith of the invalid is made no no representation that is not a thousand times substantiated by living and visible works. The theory of the cure by Dr. Schenck's medicines is simple as it is unfailing. Its philosophy requires no argument. It is self assuring, self-convincing.

The Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills are the first two weapons with which the citadel of the malady is assailed. Two-thirds of the cases of consumption originate in dyspepsia and a functionally disordered liver. With this notice the lungs and tubes "sympathize" with the stomach. They respond to the morbific action of the liver. Here, then comes the culminating result, and the setting in, with all its distressing symptoms, of

CONSUMPTION.

The Mandrake Pills are composed of one of Nature's noblest gifts—the Podophyllum Peltatum. They possess all the blood-purifying, alterative properties of calomel, but unlike calomel, they

"LEAVE NO STING BEHIND."

The work of cure is now beginning. The vitiated and mucous deposits in the bowels and in the alimentary canal are ejected. The liver, like a clock, is wound up. It arouses from its torpidity. The stomach acts responsively, and the patient begins to feel that he is getting, at last,

A SUPPLY OF GOOD BLOOD.

The Seaweed Tonic, in conjunction with the Pills, permeates and assimilates with the food. Chylification is now progressing with a vigor previous to unknown. Digestion becomes painless, and the cure is seen to be at hand. There is no more fitfulness, no exacerbation of the stomach. An appetite sets in.

Now comes the greatest Blood Purifier ever yet given by an indigent father to suffering man. Schenck's Pulmonic Syrup comes in to perform its functions and to hasten and complete the cure. It enters at once upon its work. Nature cannot be cheated. It collects and ripens the impaired and diseased portions of the lungs. In the form of gatherings it prepares them for expectoration, and lo! in a very short time the malady is vanquished, the return thrown that it occupied is renovated and made new, and the patient, in all the dignity of regained vigor, steps forth to enjoy the manhood or womanhood that was lost.

GIVEN UP AS LOST.

The second thing is, the patients must stay in a warm room, until they get well; it is almost impossible to prevent taking cold when the lungs are diseased, and it proves fatal. Exposure or a cure cannot be effected. Fresh air and riding out, especially in this section of the country in the fall and winter season, are wrong. Physicians who recommend that course lose their patients, if their lungs are badly diseased; and yet, because they are in the house they must not sit down quiet: they must walk about the room as much and as fast as the strength will permit, to get up a good circulation of blood. The patients must keep in good spirits—be determined to get well. This has a great deal to do with the appetite, and is the great point to gain.

To despair of cure after such evidence of its possibility in the worst cases, and moral certainty in all others, is sinful. Dr. Schenck's personal statement to the Faculty of his own cure was in these modest words:

"Many years ago I was in the last stages of consumption: confined to my bed, and at one time my physicians thought that I could not live a week; then like a drowning man catching at straws, I heard of, and obtained the preparations which I now offer to the public, and they made a perfect cure of me. It seemed to me that I could feel them penetrate my system. They soon ripened the matter in my lungs, and I would spit up more than a pint of offensive yellow matter every morning for a long time. As soon as that began to subside, my cough, fever, pains and night sweats all began to leave me, and my appetite became so great that it was with difficulty that I could keep from eating too much. I soon gained my strength, and have grown in flesh ever since."

"I was weighed shortly after my recovery," added the Doctor, "then looking like a mere skeleton; my weight was only ninety-seven pounds; my present weight is two hundred and twenty-five (225) pounds, and for years I have enjoyed uninterrupted health."

Dr. Schenck has discontinued his professional visits to New York and Boston. He or his son, Dr. J. H. Schenck, Jr., still continue to see patients at their office, No. 15 North Sixth street, Philadelphia, every Saturday from 9 A. M. to 3 P. M. Those who wish a thorough examination with the Respirometer will be charged $5. The Respirometer declares the exact condition of the lungs, and patients can readily learn whether they are curable or not.

The directions for taking the medicines are adapted to the intelligence even of a child. Follow these directions, and kind Nature will do the rest, excepting that in some cases the Mandrake Pills are to be taken in increased doses; the three medicines need no other accompaniments than the ample instructions that accompany them. Plenty of good appetite. Unwonted digestion. Hunger is the most welcome symptom. When it comes, as it will come, let the inquiring at once be of good cheer. Good blood at once follows, the cough loosens, the night sweat is abated. In a short time both of these morbid symptoms are gone forever.

Dr. Schenck's medicines are constantly kept in tens of thousands of families. As a laxative or purgative, the Mandrake Pills are a standard preparation: while the Pulmonic Syrup, as a cure of coughs and colds, may be regarded as a prophylactic against consumption in any of its forms.

Price of the Pulmonic Syrup and Seaweed Tonic $1.50, a bottle or $7.50 a half dozen. Mandrake Pills, 25 cents a box. For sale by all druggists and dealers.

FIRST MORTGAGE 7 PER CENT. GOLD BONDS, ON A COMPLETED ROAD, FREE OF U. S. TAX, At 90 and Accrued Interest in Currency.

Burlington, Cedar Rapids and Minnesota Railway.

The completion of this Road has given to these Bonds an established character equal to any mortgage issue dealt in at the Stock Exchange. We are prepared to buy and sell them at any time, at our Banking House, at market price—thus placing them on the same basis for temporary or permanent investment, with Governments or any other security.

These bonds are a first and only mortgage on a railroad that has cost double the amount of the issue, and which commands, without competition, all the traffic of Northern Iowa and Southern Minnesota—shortening the distance from St. Paul to Chicago 45 miles, and to St Louis more than 90 miles.

The net earnings are already largely in excess of interest on the bonds, and no doubt exists that they will more than double within the ensuing year.

A contract has been secured with the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy Railroad Company obligating the latter to invest 50 per cent. of gross earnings derived from traffic with the Burlington, Cedar Rapids and Minnesota Road in the bonds of this Company. This arrangement is a strong guarantee of the Bonds, and establishes a large sinking fund for their redemption.

The convertibility privilege in these bonds enables them to be exchanged for stock, at par, at any time. This secures to the holder, at his option, a share in any excess of earnings over the interest obligation.

An exchange of Government securities for these bonds returns 9½ per cent. Interest, instead of 6 per cent., which is all that Government pay at present price, besides leaving an immediate gain of about 20 per cent. in price for re-investment.

All marketable Securities taken in exchange free of Commission and Express charges. fd4dWaS

A GREAT MEDICAL DISCOVERY! DR. WALKER'S CALIFORNIA VINEGAR BITTERS, Hundreds of Thousands Bear Testimony to their Wonderful Curative Effects.

WHAT ARE THEY!

THEY ARE NOT A VILE FANCY DRINK, Made of Poor Rum, Whiskey, Proof Spirits and Refuse Liquors doctored, spiced and sweetened to please the taste, called "Tonics," "Appetizers," "Restorers," &c., that lead the tippler on to drunkenness and ruin, but are a true Medicine, made from the Native Root and Herbs of California, free from all Alcoholic Stimulants. They are the GREAT BLOOD PURIFIER and a LIFE-GIVING PRINCIPLE, a perfect Renovator and Invigorator of the system, carrying off all poisonous matter and restoring the blood to a healthy condition. No person can take these Bitters according to direction and remain long unwell, provided the bones are not destroyed by mineral poison or other means, and the vital organs wasted beyond the point of repair.

For Inflammatory and Chronic Rheumatism and Gout, Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Bilious, Remittent and Intermittent Fevers, Diseases of the Blood, Liver, Kidneys and Bladder, these Bitters have been most successful. Such Diseases are caused by Vitiated Blood, which is generally produced by derangement of the Digestive Organs.

DYSPEPSIA OR INDIGESTION, Headache, Pain in the Shoulders, Coughs, Tightness of the Chest, Dizziness, Sour Eructations of the Stomach, Bad taste in the Mouth, Bilious Attacks, Palpitation of the Heart, Inflammation of the Lungs, Pain in the regions of the Kidneys, and a hundred other painful symptoms, are the offspring of Dyspepsia.

They invigorate the stomach and stimulate the torpid liver and bowels, which render them of unequalled efficacy in cleansing the blood of all impurities and imparting new life and vigor to the whole system.

FOR SKIN DISEASES, Eruptions, Tetter, Salt Rheum, Blotches, Spots, Pimples, Pustules, Boils, Carbuncles, Ring-Worms, Scald Head, Sore Eyes, Erysipelas, Itch, Scurfs, Discolorations of the Skin, Humors and Diseases of the Skin, of whatever name or nature, are literally dug up and carried out of the system in a short time by the use of these Bitters. One bottle in such cases will convince the most incredulous of their curative effect.

Cleanse the Vitiated Blood whenever you find its impurities bursting through the skin in Pimples, Eruptions or Sores; cleanse it when you find it obstructed and sluggish in the veins, cleanse it when it is foul, and your feelings will tell you when. Keep the blood pure, and the health of the system will follow.

PIN, TAPE and other WORMS, lurking in the system of so many thousands, are effectually destroyed and removed. For full directions, read carefully the circular around each bottle, printed in four languages—English, German, French and Spanish.

FOR FEMALE COMPLAINTS, whether in young or old, married or single, at the dawn of womanhood or at the turn of life, these Tonic Bitters have no equal. ☞ Send for a circular.

They are a Gentle Purgative as well as a Tonic, possessing also, the peculiar merit of acting as a powerful agent in relieving Congestion or Inflammation of the Liver, and all the Visceral Organs. 1yrdawfeb16

SAFE AND PROFITABLE.

THE CENTRAL RAILROAD CO. OF IOWA,

have now built and equipped, in first-class manner, about

180 MILES OF RAILROAD,

which will complete their entire line, with the exception of laying the track on twenty-five miles, which is already graded. They will thus open

The First Through Line Across the State

from north to south, and, by making a slight detour at one point, they will give

DIRECT COMMUNICATION BETWEEN ST. LOUIS AND ST. PAUL.

This line of Railroad will have very special advantages for both local and through business, besides such superior railroad connections as will secure to it a large portion of the carrying trade of the Great Northwest. The

which are issued upon this road, are limited in amount to $16,000 per mile (while many roads issue from $20,000 to $40,000,) and are offered at 90 and accrued interest, in currency. About two millions and a half of these bonds have already been disposed of, leaving but a small balance unsold, which are being rapidly taken.

The most experienced financiers agree that First Mortgage Bonds, to a limited amount, upon finished railroad, which is well located for business, are one of the very safest forms of investment.

Parties desiring to secure a first-class security, based upon a railroad practically done, and in the hands of leading capitalists who have a large pecuniary and business interest in its success, will do well to apply at the office of the Company, or any of its advertised agents, for a pamphlet and map, showing the characteristics of the enterprise.

Holders of Government Bonds may exchange them for Central Iowas at a large present profit, beside a handsome increase of interest for a long term of years. Parties making such exchange will receive for each $1,000 Bond a $1,000 Central Iowa Bond, and the following difference in cash (less the accrued interest in currency upon the latter bond,) and in annual interest, this calculation being based upon market prices of December 27th, 1870:—

Morning Chronicle.

April on the Farm.—Sow Clover seed in the spring. This work should be done early. Sometimes it is done on the late snow, when the seed can be seen as it scatters, which is quite an assistance in getting it evenly distributed.

Mowing fields ought to be visited and all brush from apple trees and rubbish of every kind gathered up so as to have clean work in haying.

Where drains are laid, each outlet should be examined to see that it is open, as frogs like to occupy them, and where water backs up grass and small sticks are likely to accumulate. It will be well to look at the whole line of the drain to see that it is in good order.

Stones on lands laid down last year ought to be taken away. It is not a mark of the best husbandry to see them standing in miniature pyramids all over the field. They are greatly in the way when mowing with a machine and when raking up the hay. They also occupy valuable ground, and often get scattered about again.

Soils ploughed while they are wet and heavy are likely to dry in lumps, which become hard and are then unfit to prepare food for plants. If ploughing is delayed until the surface soil is sufficiently dry to fall to pieces when turned over by the plough, it will remain in that friable condition through the summer. It will then allow rain to pass freely through it, catching the ammonia contained in the rain, and letting in the air to give breath and activity to the soil. It seems better to be a little late in ploughing, than to plough when the soil is too wet. Plough deep should be the rule, excepting on lands that are mostly sand.

Barley and oats afford better crops when got in early in April, if the soil is in suitable condition. It is a singular fact, that these crops rarely do as well if sowed as late as the middle of May as they do put in by the middle of April. There is something in the temperature of April congenial to them which they miss in late sowing.

There is usually very little gained in hurrying garden seeds into the ground, except those of the most hardy varieties of plants, till May. Potatoes, peas, and one or two other varieties of similarly hardy seeds may be safely planted earlier, and a little time be gained, but for most varieties, seed planted when the soil and weather are such that germination instantly commences and goes steadily forward to maturity, gives us much more satisfactory results than when we have to wait a slow germination, and the young plants, after they reach the surface, stand, as if undecided which way to go. But if we wait till this time for all varieties, we may deprive ourselves of some that, with a little extra trouble, we might enjoy. It is possible for us to change the climate of a sufficient portion of our soil to supply a few desirable green vegetables which will afford us a very agreeable, healthful, and appetizing change, after our long season of stale vegetables and meat.

Asparagus is worth much more than the trouble it costs to produce it in abundance, in any of our gardens. Rake off the coarser part of the winter covering of manure, and fork into the soil the finer portion, using great care not to injure the crowns. Spread on a sprinkling of salt, or sprinkle the bed over with refuse brine. A portion of the bed may be forced to produce cuttings somewhat in advance of the season by setting a hot-bed frame over it and banking closely all around it, and covering with the sash. New beds may be prepared and planted out as soon as the soil can be well worked, using good strong one-year-old roots, if to be had; if not two-year-old ones. The ground cannot be made too rich, or be worked too deeply for asparagus. The smallest variety may be made to grow large, rank shoots by extra high culture on deep rich soil, and any variety grows more tender and rich with such care. Plant so as to cover the crowns not less than four inches deep. Many otherwise good beds are much less valuable than they should be on account of planting too near the surface.

Early Bassano Beets may be planted as soon as the soil can be well worked. The seed is slow in germinating, and will stand a considerable degree of cold while in the ground. Later sowing may bring as early plants by soaking and sprouting the seeds before planting. It is better to break open and separate the cluster of seeds, previous to planting, and then there will not be those little bunches of plants so frequently seen, as commonly planted.

Sow cabbage seeds in the hot-bed; harden off, ready to transplant, as soon as safe in the open ground, the plants wintered in cold frames.

Sow Cress or Pepper Grass in rows six inches apart. Sprinkle the young plants with ashes to keep off insects. This makes an agreeable salad, warming and appetizing.

Horse radish beds may be planted, using the crowns or pieces of roots. Make the bed where it can remain, in rich, rather moist soil, as best. Liberal manuring and good culture will be rewarded by increased size of the roots.

Onion Seed may be sown soon as the ground may be worked. Sow in rich, clean soil. Peas, potatoes, radishes, lettuce, parsnips and salsify may be planted soon as the soil can be worked well.—N. E. Farmer.

HENRY T. HELMBOLD'S
COMPOUND FLUID
Extract Catawba
GRAPE PILLS.
Component Parts—Fluid Extract Rhubarb and Fluid Extract Catawba Grape Juice.

For Liver Complaints, Jaundice, Bilious Affections, Sick or Nervous Headache, Costiveness, etc. Purely Vegetable, containing no Mercury, Minerals or Deleterious Drugs.

H

These Pills are a pleasant purgative, superseeding castor oil, salts, magnesia, etc. There is nothing more acceptable to the stomach. They give tone, and cause other medicines to act more gripping pills. They are composed of the finest ingredients. After a few days' use of them, such an invigoration of the entire system takes place as to appear miraculous to the weak and enervated. H. T. Helmbold's Compound Fluid Extract Catawba Grape Pills are not sugar-coated; sugar-coated Pills pass through the stomach without dissolving; consequently do not produce the desired effect. The CATAWBA GRAPE PILLS, being pleasant in taste and odor, do not necessitate their being sugar-coated, and are prepared according to rules of Pharmacy and Chemistry, and are not Patent Medicines.

E

LADIES.

In many affections peculiar to Ladies, the Extract Buchu is unequalled by any other remedy—as in Chlorosis or Retention, Irregularity, Painfulness or Suppression of Customary Evacuations, Ulcerated or Schirrous State of the Uterus, Leucorrhœa or Whites, Sterility, and for all complaints incident to the sex, whether arising from Indiscretion or Habits of Dissipation. Affections of the Urinary Stricture of the Urethra, Allaying Pain and Inflammation, so frequent in this class of diseases, and expelling all Poisonous matter.

HENRY T. HELMBOLD'S IMPROVED
ROSE WASH

cannot be surpassed as a FACE WASH, and will be found the only specific remedy in every species of Cutaneous Affection. It speedily eradicates Pimples, Spots, Scorbutic Dryness, Indurations of the Cutaneous Membrane, etc., dispels Tan, Freckles, Redness and Inflammation, Rash, Moth Patches, Dryness of Scalp or Skin, Frost Bites, and all purposes for which Salves or Ointments are used; restores the skin to a state of purity and softness, and insures continued healthy action to the tissue of its vessels, on which depends the agreeable clearness and vivacity of complexion so much desired. It is not, however valuable as a remedy for existing defects of the skin. H. T. Helmbold's Rose Wash has long sustained its position, and enjoyed unbounded patronage, by possessing qualities which render it a Toilet Appendage of the most Superlative order. Ingenious charlatans, imitating in adjunct formula those prominent requisites, Safety and Efficacy—the invariable accompaniments of its use—as a Preservative and Refresher of the Complexion. It is an excellent Lotion for diseases of a Syphilitic Nature, and as an injection for diseases of the Urinary Organs, arising from habits of dissipation, used in connection with the EXTRACTS BUCHU, SARSAPARILLA AND CATAWBA GRAPE PILLS, in such diseases as recommended, cannot be surpassed.

—Concerning the new toy that is making spring hideous, a Brooklyn Teuton thus versifies:—

Der schades of night was falling down
Ofer der roofs of Brooklyn town,
Ven droo der shtreets you hear der noise
Of five, six hundred leetle boys
Mit boxes.

Dese boxes vot they shteel, I know,
Dey does'nt der buy them anyhow;

Dere vas no hens, not any vare—

Vidin de 'ouse, vidout der door,
Dey makes much drubbel as pefore,

Und den you see dot dey shall feel

CARE OF TEAMS.—The necks and muscles of teams need to be hardened gradually, by means of a little labor every day. A team that has done but little work during the long winter, will be in an unsuitable condition to draw the plough even for a half a day; while another team that has hauled saw logs, wood, bark and stones, all winter, will be in a condition to plough all day without inconvenience. When a team is first attached to the plough, the ploughman should not attempt to do more than a half-day's work, daily, during the first two or three days.

See that the horse collars fit comfortably to the necks of the animals. Let the upper hame straps be adjusted and re-adjusted, until the collar and hames fit the neck. See that the back-bands are not so short as to chafe the animal's back. Let the "lazy" straps be let out, or buckled up, until the traces will play loosely in the lower ends of the straps.

See that the bows and yoke fit the necks of the oxen neatly. If too long, make new key holes, or add wreathings on the top of the yoke. If the bows are too wide, wind a large or small rope, as may be required, around one or both branches of the bow, below the yoke, and cover the whole with strong canvass; and over the canvass, fasten a piece of leather.

Let the team rest a minute at every through, and their muscles will soon be prepared for a steady pull at the plough. But if a fresh team be put through for a day or two, before their muscles are hardened, their limbs will be stiffened to such a degree, that the animals will never recover their accustomed elasticity.—N. Y. Observer.

OVERWORKING LABORERS. — After one has hardened and prepared his muscles for constant heavy labor, he will feel but little inconvenience from unremitting application to his duties. But when an employe, who has been engaged in light labor during the winter, commences the laborious drudgery of ditching, or forking over heavy compost, let him make fence, or perform some light work for half a day, after he has been ditching a few hours. A little overwork will often unfit a faithful laborer for his accustomed duties for several days. "Big day's works" are usually unprofitable for both employer and employe. We once employed an ambitious cradler, who laid down six acres of heavy rye in one day. But he did not feel able to cradle another acre for two weeks afterwards. After one has been digging half a day, it will rest him to pick stones half a day.

PAINTING FARM IMPLEMENTS.—The woodword of most of our farm implements decays before it wears out, and therefore money is saved by keeping it well painted. If the farm tools could be overhauled once a year, the joint filled up, the worn places brushed over, and bolts, nuts and iron-work not in wear, oiled and blackened, the implement would last enough longer to repay the cost of the work many times. Manufacturers are sending out a great deal of wood-work that has only been varnished. It looks well finished in this style, and the buyer can judge of the grain and quality of timber used, but the varnish is little better than nothing as a protection from decay. New tools that are simply varnished should be well painted, before being used.—Rural Home.

ARE YOU GOING TO PAINT?

—IF SO, USE THE—

AVERILL CHEMICAL PAINT.

It is Cheaper, Handsomer and more durable than the best of other Paints. One Thousand Gallons of it were sold in this City, in the year 1870, and not one complaint has come from those who have used it; but all speak in its favor; it is mixed ready for application, and is much easier put on than any other Paint, making a smooth, glossy surface for years, that can be cleaned with hot suds without injuring it. It is excellent for walls inside, in the place of paper.

I shall keep this season a large stock of Chemical Paints of all shades on hand, to accommodate customers with any amount, without delay in ordering it. Those who want to use the Chemical Paints and have had them misrepresented by those who deal in Lead and Oil, are invited to call and examine my Paints that have been on Buildings two years, and you will find them as fresh as if laid but one month.

I am prepared to do Painting by Contract, or by the day, using the Chemical Paint, or furnishing good experienced workmen by the day at very low wages. B. NORTON, only Agent for selling the

A Book for Everybody.

These are, beyond all comparison, the most extraordinary works on Physiology ever published There is nothing whatever that the MARRIED OR SINGLE, of EITHER SEX, can either require or wish to know, but what is fully explained, and many matters of the most important and interesting character are introduced to which no allusion even can be found in any other works in our language. All the NEW DISCOVERIES of the author, whose experience is such as probably never before fell to the lot of any man, are given in full. No person should be without these valuable books.

"VALUABLE BOOKS.—We have received the valuable medical works published by the Peabody Medical Institute. These books are of actual merit, and should find a place in every intelligent family. They are not the cheap order of abominable trash, published by irresponsible parties, and purchased to gratify coarse tastes, but are written by a responsible professional gentleman of eminence, as a source of instruction on vital matters, concerning which lamentable ignorance exists. The important subjects presented are treated with delicacy, ability and care, and as an appendix, many useful prescriptions for prevailing complaints are added."—Coos Republican, Lancaster, N. H.

"The author of these books is one of the most learned and popular physicians of the day, and is entitled to the gratitude of our race for these invaluable productions. It seems to be his aim to induce men and women to avoid the cause of those diseases to which they are subject, and he tells them just how and when to do it."—Chronicle, Farmington, Maine, Sept. 7, 1868.

Either book sent by mail on receipt of price.

N. B. The Author of the above-named medical works is the Chief Consulting Physician of the Peabody Medical Institute, and is so constantly employed in consultation with invalids from all parts of the country, that he has no time to attend to mere business details. Therefore all letters should be addressed to the PEABODY MEDICAL INSTITUTE, or to Dr. W. H. PARKER, the Medical Assistant of the Author, and his Business Agent, who, as well as the Author himself, may be consulted on all diseases requiring skill, secrecy and experience. oct28 1yr

MONDAY, APRIL 10, 1871.

CONGRESS.

On the 7th, in the Senate, the Ku-Klux bill was received from the House, read twice and referred to the judiciary committee.

Mr. Morrill of Vermont made a speech against the annexation of Santo Domingo.

The special committee on the alleged southern outrages was re-appointed.

FRANCE.

The insurgents have closed the churches in Paris and have thrown the cures into prison.

Marshal McMahon has taken command of the Versailles army. Gen. Vinoy has charge of the reserves.

President Thiers announces a great battle near Paris, Saturday morning, in which the positions occupied by the insurgents at the bridge of Neuilly were carried. The losses of the insurgents were immense and the positions captured are of decisive importance.

Paris has only provisions for two days, and the collapse of the insurgents is imminent.

CONNECTICUT.—A Hartford dispatch says there is no doubt that the election of governor will be carried to the legislature. If it does not get there by the failure of either candidate to secure a majority of all the votes cast, it will probably be on a protest of Governor Jewell against accepting the report of the board of canvassers, if the report shall show a clear majority for English less than the number (twenty-four) of votes supposed to have been over-counted in Enfield. That over-count can only be ascertained by legal investigation, as the box is now sealed; but there is hardly a doubt that a mistake was made in the count.

THE STATE SENATE.—Fuller and later returns from the 10th District reveal the fact that Thrasher, Democrat, who was supposed to be elected to the State Senate by four majority, is defeated by the scattering vote. The Senate will stand five Republicans to five Democrats.

☞ The New York Herald, previous to election, claimed that Connecticut would elect English, Democrat, by 2000 majority. It now says that since the Connecticut election "the recent Democratic victory in New Hampshire is not an absolute test of public opinion in the Northern States."

The Manchester Union thinks the New Hampshire election hurt the Connecticut Democrats.

☞ The President has removed Hon. Moses H. Grinnell from the Naval office at New York. A majority of the U. S. Senate would not vote to confirm Ex-Congressman Laflin for the place, and 22 Republicans, including Senators Cragin and Patterson, left the executive session in disgust. Laflin was then confirmed, the Democrats voting for him.

☞ The Nashua Telegraph prints a letter from Missouri from J. C. Mason, Esq., which shows how rebels thrive when Democrats are victorious. The letter should be issued as a campaign document and sent immediately into every household in New Hampshire by the Republican State Committee.

Ex-Congressman Ela has written a letter to the Cincinnati Gazette, in which he attributes the defeat to party organization, apathy, bad management, and to the opposition of the Anti-Prohibitionists to the nominee for Governor. He also says that in consequence of the protracted drouth of last year taxes were harder to pay than for ten years before, and that this contributed to increase the dissatisfaction.

—At the Democratic celebration in Littleton, a certain Republican, who, at times, takes a little of the creature and is not any too particular as to an excuse for "indulging," imbibed too freely of the celebrating fluid. Of course it had the same effects upon him as upon others, and he was found quite boozy. One of his opponents (politically) seeing him in this condition accosted him as follows: "Say friend J——, how is this? What are you, a Republican, getting drunk on our rum for? This is good Democratic liquor." Whereupon "friend J——," arousing himself a little, replies: "Be still, S——, what's the odds; hain't I got all the qual-i-fications of a Democrat?"—Coos Republican.

—In New Hampshire the election of Governor may depend upon the health of the members of the Legislature. If two or three members of either party should be sick the first Wednesday of June, the other party may elect the Governor. It is incumbent upon all the members elected to rise early, live temperate, and keep themselves in good condition till after the first Wednesday in June next.—Hav. Gazette.

☞ The child of the Princess of Wales is dead.

☞ As the mail train from Southbridge over the Boston, Hartford and Erie Railroad was approaching the station at Readville at a high rate of speed, about 10 o'clock Saturday forenoon, it was thrown from the track and two cars passed down an embankment into a shallow pond. The track at Readville crosses a bridge on a curve. The momentum of the train was such that instead of following the curve as it passed along, it moved both ties and track in a tangent line. The engine and forward cars passed along without accident, but the two rear cars left the track and bounded down the embankment.

Both cars made a complete turn in going down, one coming on to the wheels, and the other resting on its side, with its top torn off and the interior a complete wreck. There was an average number of passengers in each car, and at first it was thought that many must have been killed. Fortunately no one was killed outright, but three ladies, Mrs. Newton George of Wilmington, Mrs. Senter of Franklin, and Mrs. Whitin of Whitinsville, were severely injured. Thirty passengers in all were hurt.

☞ It is hoped that Congress will adjourn this week.

☞ The Western Female Medical College at Oxford, Ohio, was burned on the 7th.

☞ The Turco-Russian Convention abrogation of the restriction on the navigation of the Black Sea has been ratified.

☞ Berlin advices compute the total number of Germans killed and died of wounds and from sickness during the war, at 95,000.

☞ The Lower House of the Reichsrath has ratified the Consular treaty between the United States of America and the Austrian Empire.

☞ The United States storeship Supply, from New York with a cargo of provisions for the destitute people of France, arrived at Havre on the 5th.

☞ Circulars are being distributed through Mississippi asking for funds for the Ku-Klux organization. It is proposed to raise one million dollars.

☞ Zadock Pratt of Prattsville, N. Y., once a member of Congress and a well-known politician and a manufacturer, died on Thursday at Bergen, N. J., at an advanced age.

☞ The Columbia (S. C.) Union approves the proposition that the ballot should be accorded only to those who can read and write, remarking that "there are as many white men, in proportion to their numbers, in South Carolina, who can neither read nor write, as there are colored."

☞ Those desiring to have the complete and illustrated history of the war of 1870, including the siege of Paris, should subscribe for L'Illustration, commencing July 1st, 1870. Terms one year, $12; six months, $6; single copy, 25 cents. American News Company, New York, General Agents.

New Hampshire Items.

It is stated that the Cocheco Manufacturing Company at Dover proposes to purchase the new print-works at Ashland, and move their machinery to that city. The present buildings will be made into cotton factories. The property has been offered at 40 per cent. on the cost, and this company has offered 25.

The post office at East Moultonborough has been discontinued.

The snow is said to have disappeared from the White Mountains.

Milford is to have a steam fire-engine.

Hon. George McDaniel, a prominent Democrat, and former Sheriff of Strafford county, died at his residence in Barrington, on Friday.

The Pittsfield Times is to be revived, Mr. Edward Johnson having bought out Mr. John C. French.

On the 7th, Mr. Charles Millet of West Lebanon went on a freight train to act as brakeman, and, in making up the train at Canaan, got his arm caught between the bunters, peeling the flesh completely from the bone. The arm will, unquestionably, be amputated.

Hon. George C. Peavey of Strafford, late State Senator, who has been nearly blind for several years past, has recovered the use of his eyes.

A fellow named Edward Greene advertised a gift concert in Manchester, but as soon as the distribution commenced, the officer arrested the manager, under the provision of the status regarding lotteries and gift enterprises.

Of the seven Daily papers in this State, four appear to be in favor of Woman Suffrage. The Manchester Mirror declines to discuss the matter with the Nashua Telegraph.

Our Correspondence.

PORTLAND, ME., April 8.

Eds. Chronicle:—Considerable is "on paper" about a Union depot on the Back Bay, but as yet nothing definite is arrived at. The movement as at present started is in the hands of certain unpopular schemers and real estate owners, the railroad managers not having taken much interest in it. The citizens at large regard the Back Bay as the place for said depot, but we see but little chance of one at present.

The P. S. & P. depot as is admitted by the managers of that road, is not up to the needs of the times, and they have only been waiting for a golden opportunity to join in a union depot with the Portland & Kennebec and the Portland & Ogdensburg roads. Something will undoubtedly be done ere long for the P. S. & P., as the others are managed by enterprising men who perfectly comprehend the wants of the public and the demands of the future.

The Portland Commandery Knight Templars contemplate a trip to Rochester, N. Y., early in the season.

SANCHO.

—Some years ago, in one of our western courts, three men—an Englishman, an Irishman and a Scotchman—were found guilty of murder and sentenced to be hung. The judge told them they could each choose the tree on which they would like to be "strung up." The Scotchman promptly chose an ash tree, and the Englishman an oak tree. "Well, Pat, what will you be hung on?" asked the judge. "If it please you honor, I'd rather be hung on a gooseberry bush." "Oh!" said the judge, "that's not big enough." "Begorry, thin," replied Pat, brightening up, "I'll wait till it grows.

—The Richmond Enquirer gives the citizens of Virginia a mild rebuke when it says: "With one breath we call upon Hercules to come and help us, and when he moves his shoulder to the wheel the ragged urchins cry out, 'Why, he's a foreigner or a carpetbagger.'"

A friend of ours who is chief clerk in the Governmental Dispensary, says that no medicine chest is now complete without Johnson's Anodyne Liniment. We always supposed it was prescribed by law; if it is not, it ought to be, for certainly there is nothing in the whole materia medica of so much importance to the soldier and the sailor as Johnson's Anodyne Liniment.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

Exhaustion.

Invalids, broken down in health and spirits by Chronic Dyspepsia, or suffering from the terrible exhaustion which follows the attacks of acute disease, the testimony of thousands who have been raised from a similar state of prostration by HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS, is a sure guarantee that by the same means you too may be strengthened and restored. But to those who stand in peril of epidemics, to all who, by reason of exposure, privations and uncongenial climate or unhealthy pursuits, may at any moment be stricken down, this paragraph is most particularly and emphatically addressed. You, who, are thus situated, are proffered an absolute safeguard against the danger that menaces you. Tone and regulate the system with this harmless medicinal stimulant and alterative, and you will be forearmed against the maladies whose seeds float around you in the air unseen. HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS are not only a standard tonic and alterative throughout the United States, but they are accredited by the certificates of the most distinguished citizens of the Union, to the people of all other lands. In Canada, Australia and the West Indies, they are gradually taking the place of all other stomachics, whether native or foreign, and as surely as truth is progressive and demonstration overthrows doubt, they will eventually supersede every other invigorant and restorative now employed in medicinal practice.

JURUBEBA. WHAT IS IT?

IT IS A SURE AND Perfect Remedy for all diseases of the LIVER AND SPLEEN, ENLARGEMENT OR OBSTRUCTION OF INTESTINES, URINARY, UTERINE, OR ABDOMINAL ORGANS, POVERTY OR A WANT OF BLOOD, INTERMITTENT OR REMITTENT FEVERS, INFLAMMATION OF THE LIVER, DROPSY, SLUGGISH CIRCULATION OF THE BLOOD, ABSCESSES, TUMORS, JAUNDICE, SCROFULA, DYSPEPSIA, AGUE AND FEVER, OR THEIR CONCOMITANTS.

DR. WELLS, having become aware of the extraordinary medicinal properties of the South American Plant, called

JURUBEBA,

Sent a special commission to that country to procure it in its native purity, and having found its wonderful curative properties to even exceed the anticipations formed by its great reputation, has concluded to offer it to the public, and is happy to state that he has perfected arrangements for a regular and sufficient supply of this wonderful plant. He has spent much time experimenting and investigating as to the most efficient preparation from it, for popular use, and has for some time used in his own practice with most happy results the effectual medicine now presented to the public as

Dr. Wells' Extract of Jurubeba,

and he confidently recommends it to every family as a household remedy which should be freely taken as a BLOOD PURIFIER in all derangements of the system and to animate and fortify all weak and Lymphatic Temperaments. 4wap10

7-30 GOLD LOAN

OF THE

NORTHERN PACIFIC RAILROAD.

RAPID PROGRESS OF THE WORK.

The building of the Northern Pacific Railroad, (begun July last,) is being pushed forward with great energy from both extremities of the line. Several thousand men are employed in Minnesota and on the Pacific coast. The grade is nearly completed 266 miles westward from Lake Superior; trains are running to the end of finished road, and track-laying is rapidly progressing toward the eastern border of Dakota. Including its purchase of the St. Paul & Pacific Road, the Northern Pacific Company now has 413 miles of completed road, and by September next this will be increased to at least 560.

A GOOD INVESTMENT.—Jay Cooke & Co. are now selling and unhesitatingly recommend as a Profitable and perfectly Safe investment, the First Mortgage Land Grant Gold Bonds of the Northern Pacific Railroad Company. They have 30 years to run, bear Seven and Three-Tenths per cent. gold interest (more than 8 per cent. currency) and are secured by first and only mortgage on the ENTIRE ROAD AND ITS EQUIPMENTS and also, as fast as the Road is completed, on 25,000 ACRES OF LAND to every mile of track, or 500 Acres for each $1,00 Bond. They are exempt from U. S. Tax; Principal and Interest payable in Gold; Denominations: Coupons, $100 to $1,000; Registered, $100 to $10,000.

LANDS FOR BONDS.—Northern Pacific 7-30's are at all times receivable at TEN PER CENT. ABOVE PAR, in exchange for the Company's Lands, at their lowest cash price. This renders them practically INTEREST BEARING LAND WARRANTS.

SINKING FUNDS.—The proceeds of all sales of Lands are required to be devoted to the purchase and cancellation of the First Mortgage Bonds of the Company. The Land Grant of the Road exceeds Fifty Million Acres. This immense Sinking Fund will undoubtedly cancel the principal of the Company's bonded debt before it falls due. With their ample security and high rate of interest, there is no investment, accessible to the people, which is more PROFITABLE OR SAFE.

EXCHANGING U. S. FIVE-TWENTIES.—The success of the New Government 5 per cent. Loan will compel the early surrender of United States 6 per cents. Many holders of Five-Twenties are now exchanging them for Northern Pacific Gold Thirties, thus realizing a handsome profit and greatly increasing their yearly income.

OTHER SECURITIES.—All marketable Stocks and Bonds will be received at their highest current price in exchange for Northern Pacific Seven-Thirties. EXPRESS CHARGES on Money or Bonds received and Seven-Thirties sent in return, will be paid by the Financial Agents. Full information, maps, pamphlets, etc., can be obtained on application to any agency, or from the undersigned. For sale by

A gallery will extend along each side of the room, and an addition is being built out at the rear of the house, to give a recess for the reception of the minister's desk. The slips are to be of chestnut, topped with black walnut, and arranged in a half-circle. The whole will present a very neat appearance, and the capacity of the building will be much increased.

☞ The funeral services of the late Francis Bacon, Esq., were held at the Methodist church, Kittery, on Saturday, and were attended by the Masonic fraternity of Portsmouth, of which organization he was an esteemed member. The church was filled with the friends of the deceased, many being present from this city. The services were conducted by Rev. Messrs. Pottle, Payne and Hutchinson, and were very impressive. Touching tributes were paid to the noble characteristics of the deceased and there was scarcely a dry eye in the house when his loss was mentioned. After singing by the choir, a dirge was played by the Portsmouth Cornet Band and the procession took up its march for the depot, the remains being taken to Buxton, Me., for interment.

The town of Kittery has sustained a great loss by the death of Mr. Bacon, who was always a friend to the friendless, inspiring respect from all parties and sects. Rarely does a public man retain so many strong personal friends as did Francis Bacon, and the general sadness which prevails among the citizens of his adopted town, testifies to the great extent of his influence and the general esteem in which he was held.

Capt. Henry Becker, who recently died in Newcastle, was born in Berlin, Prussia, entered the army at the age of eighteen, was in the battle of Leipsic, Guttenburg and many other battles, was with Gen. Blucher in the battle of Waterloo, and was a sergeant in the Black Horse Cavalry, where there were Scotch Highlanders at both stirrups and both were killed in the memorable charge. He entered Paris with the army in 1817, entered the English service in 1818 to go to South America; was to have 20 guineas and 160 acres of land, but his regiment was finally sent to Gibraltar, much against the wishes of the men. From thence he was sent to Quebec, and after serving a short time, was sent in pursuit of the celebrated General Fitzgerald and forgot to return to his post. He walked from Canada to Fort Constitution (N. H.) and enlisted under Colonel Walback. It took the Sergeant from the 8th of January to the 8th of March (five days in the woods without food) to reach Newcastle. He served two enlistments in the U. S. Army, a part of the time in North Carolina. Upon receiving an honorable discharge he went to South Berwick and married, moved to the Isle of Shoals, where he kept a hotel and carried on the fishing business until 1861, when he removed to Newcastle, living with his sons Captains Henry and Charles Becker. Capt. Becker was a man of strictly temperate habits, very methodical in his every day life, and was possessed of prodigious strength. His sword exercises were wonderful. He easily defended himself against his two sons in exercise. His first sickness was his last.

Capt. Becker was much respected by all who knew him, was an ardent lover of his adopted country, took an active part in social and political life, even in his sickness, which was long and severe, took lively interest in the recent war in France, his intimate knowledge of Paris and its surroundings making his conversation with his friends very interesting and profitable. Long shall we remember the old and highly esteemed veteran.

☞ Mrs. Senter, reported seriously injured by the accident on the Boston, Hartford & Erie Railroad, on Saturday, is the wife of Timothy G. Senter, Esq., formerly of this city, and was on her way to Boston from Dean Academy, of which institution Mr. Senter is Principal, to attend the funeral of Miss Carrie Brooks, daughter of Dr. E. G. Brooks of Philadelphia, (a native of Portsmouth,) Miss Brooks being a graduate of Dean Academy.

Mrs. Senter was carried to the residence of Rev. A. J. Patterson, at Boston Highlands. She sustained very serious wounds, including a severe cut on the head, and it is feared that she may have received internal injuries.

☞ A great fire raged in the woods at North Hampton on Saturday. It caught from the engine of the train for Boston which left this city at 11.15 A. M. A hundred men were called out to fight fire; a favorable change of the wind from west to south-east in the afternoon checked it, and with hard work the fire was put out before night fall.

Some 200 acres were burned over, a portion being of valuable pine growth. We hear the loss estimated at $2000 to $3000, Messrs. Freeman Drake and John L. Hobbs, of Hampton, and Mr. Edward Garland, of Rye, being the chief losers.

Consumption.

ITS CURE AND ITS PREVENTIVE.

By J. H. SCHENCK, M. D.

Many a human being has passed away, for whose death there was no other reason than the neglect of known and singularly proved means of cure. Those near and dear to family and friends are sleeping the dreadless slumber into which, had they only adopted and availed themselves of his wonderfully efficacious medicines, they would not have fallen.

Dr. JOSEPH H. SCHENCK'S SIMPLE TREATMENT,

Dr. Schenck has in his own case proven that wherever sufficient vitality remains, that vitality, by his medicines and his directions for their use, is quickened into healthful vigor.

In this statement there is nothing presumptuous. To the faith of the invalid is made no representation that is not a thousand times substantiated by living and visible works. The theory of the cure by Dr. Schenck's medicines is as simple as it is unfailing. Its philosophy requires no argument. It is self assuring, self-convincing.

The Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills are the first two weapons with which the citadel of the malady is assailed. Two-thirds of the cases of consumption originate in dyspepsia and a functionally disordered liver. With this condition the bronchial tubes "sympathize" with the stomach. They respond to the morbific action of the liver. Here, then comes the excruciating result, and the setting in, with all its distressing symptoms, of

CONSUMPTION.

The Mandrake Pills are composed of one of Nature's noblest gifts—the Podophyllum Peltatum. They possess all the blood-searching, alterative properties of calomel, but unlike calomel, they

"LEAVE NO STING BEHIND."

The work of cure is now beginning. The vitiated and mucous deposits in the bowels and in the alimentary canal are ejected. The liver, like a clock, is wound up. It arouses from its torpidity. The stomach acts responsively, and the patient begins to feel that he is getting, at last,

A SUPPLY OF GOOD BLOOD.

The Seaweed Tonic, in conjunction with the Pills, permeates and assimilates with the food. Chylification is now progressing without its previous torpor. Digestion becomes painless, and the cure is seen to be at hand. There is no more fitfulness, no nonsecretion of the stomach. Appetite sets in.

Now comes the greatest Blood Purifier ever yet given by an indigent father to suffering humanity, Schenck's Pulmonic Syrup comes in to perform its functions and to hasten and complete the cure. It enters at once upon its work. Nature cannot be cheated. It collects and ripens the impaired and diseased portions of the lungs. In the form of gallstones it prepares them for expectoration, and lo! in a very short time the malady is vanquished, the rotten throne that it occupied is renovated and made new, and the patient, in all the dignity of regained vigor, steps forth to enjoy the manhood or womanhood that was

GIVEN UP AS LOST.

The second thing is, the patients must stay in a warm room until they get well; it is almost impossible to prevent taking cold when the lungs are diseased, but it must be prevented or a cure can not be effected. Fresh air and riding out, especially in this section of the country in the fall and winter is death, and all wrong. Physicians who recommend that course lose their patients, if their lungs are badly diseased, and yet, because they are in the house they must not sit down quiet; they must walk about the room as much and as fast as the strength will bear, to get up a good circulation of blood. The patients must keep in good spirits—be determined to get well. This has a great deal to do with the action, and is the great point to gain.

To despair of cure after such evidence of its possibility in the worst cases, and to allow a great deal to others, is sinful. Dr. Schenck's personal statement to the Faculty of his own cure was in these modest words:

"Many years ago I was in the last stages of consumption; confined to my bed, and at one time my physicians thought that I could not live a week; then like a drowning man catching at straws, I heard of, and obtained the preparations which I now offer to the public, and they made a perfect cure of me. It seemed to me that they went into my whole system. They made my cough loosen the matter in my lungs, and I would spit up more than a pint of offensive yellow matter every morning for a long time. As soon as that began to subside, my cough, fever, pains and night sweats all began to leave me, and my appetite became so great that it was with difficulty that I could keep from eating too much. I soon gained my strength, and have grown in flesh ever since."

"I was weighed shortly after my recovery," added the Doctor, "then looking like a mere skeleton; my weight was only ninety-seven pounds; my present weight is two hundred and twenty-one (221) pounds, and for years I have enjoyed uninterrupted health."

Dr. Schenck has discontinued his professional visits to New York and Boston. He is now, Dr. J. H. Schenck, Jr., still continue to see patients at their office, No. 15 North Sixth street, Philadelphia, every Saturday from 9 A. M. to 3 P. M. Those who wish a thorough examination with the Respirometer will be charged $5. The Respirometer declares the exact condition of the lungs, and patients can readily learn whether they are curable or not.

The directions for taking the medicines are adapted to the intelligence even of a child. Follow these directions, and kind Nature will do the rest, excepting that in some cases the Mandrake Pills are to be taken in increased doses. The three medicines need no other accompaniments than the simple instructions that accompany them. First, create appetite. Of returning health hunger is the most welcome symptom. When it comes, as it will come, let the patient eat to satiety of good food. Good blood at once follows, the cough loosens, the night sweat is abated. In a short time both of these morbid symptoms are cured forever.

Dr. Schenck's medicines are constantly kept in tens of thousands of families. As a laxative or purgative, the Mandrake Pills are a standard preparation: while the Pulmonic Syrup, as a cure of coughs and colds, may be regarded as a prophylactic against consumption in any of its forms.

Price of the Pulmonic Syrup and Seaweed Tonic $1.50, a bottle, or $7.50 a half dozen. Mandrake Pills, 25 cents a box. For sale by all druggists and dealers.

FIRST MORTGAGE

7 PER CENT. GOLD BONDS,

ON A COMPLETED ROAD,

FREE OF U. S. TAX,

At 90 and Accrued Interest in Currency.

Burlington, Cedar Rapids and Minnesota Railway.

The completion of this Road has given to these Bonds an established character equal to any mortgage issue dealt in at the Stock Exchanges. We are prepared to buy and sell them at any time, at our Banking House, at market price—thus placing them on the same basis; for temporary or permanent investment, with Governments or any other security.

These bonds are a first and only mortgage on a railroad that has cost double the amount of the issue, and which commands, without competition, all the traffic of Northern Iowa and Southern Minnesota—shortening the distance from St. Paul to Chicago 45 miles, and to St. Louis more than 90 miles.

The net earnings are already largely in excess of interest on the bonds, and no doubt exists that they will more than double within the ensuing year.

A contract has been secured with the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy Railroad Company obligating the latter to invest 50 per cent. of gross earnings derived from traffic with the Burlington, Cedar Rapids and Minnesota Road in the bonds of this Company. This arrangement is a strong guarantee of the Bonds, and establishes a large sinking fund for their redemption.

The convertibility privilege in these bonds enables them to be exchanged for stock, at par, at any time. This secures to the holder, at his option, a share in any excess of earnings over the interest obligation.

An exchange of Government securities for these bonds returns 9½ per cent. interest, instead of 6 per cent., which is all that Governments pay at present price, besides leaving an immediate gain of about 20 per cent. in price for investment.

All marketable Securities taken in exchange free of Commission and Express charges. f24dWaS

A GREAT MEDICAL DISCOVERY!

DR. WALKER'S CALIFORNIA

VINEGAR BITTERS.

Hundreds of Thousands Bear Testimony to their Wonderful Curative Effects.

WHAT ARE THEY!

THEY ARE NOT A VILE FANCY DRINK,

Made of Poor Rum, Whiskey, Proof Spirits and Refuse Liquors doctored, spiced and sweetened to please the taste, called "Tonics," "Appetizers," "Restorers," &c., that lead the tippler on to drunkenness and ruin, but are a true Medicine, made from the Native Root and Herbs of California, free from all Alcoholic Stimulants.

They are the GREAT BLOOD PURIFIER and a LIFE-GIVING PRINCIPLE, a perfect Renovator and Invigorator of the system, carrying off all poisonous matter and restoring the blood to a healthy condition. No person can take these Bitters according to direction and remain long unwell, provided the bones are not destroyed by mineral poison or other means, and the vital organs wasted beyond the point of repair.

For Inflammatory and Chronic Rheumatism and Gout, Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Bilious, Remittent and Intermittent Fevers, Diseases of the Blood, Liver, Kidneys and Bladder, these Bitters have been most successful. Such Diseases are caused by Vitiated Blood, which is generally produced by derangement of the Digestive Organs.

DYSPEPSIA OR INDIGESTION, Headache, Pain in the Shoulders, Coughs, Tightness of the Chest, Dizziness, Sour Eructations of the Stomach, Bad taste in the Mouth, Bilious Attacks, Palpitation of the Heart, Inflammation of the Lungs, Pain in the regions of the Kidneys, and a hundred other painful symptoms, are the offspring of Dyspepsia.

They invigorate the stomach and stimulate the torpid liver and bowels, which render them of unequaled efficacy in cleansing the blood of all impurities and imparting new life and vigor to the whole system.

FOR SKIN DISEASES, Eruptions, Tetter, Salt Rheum, Blotches, Spots, Pimples, Pustules, Boils, Carbuncles, Ring-Worms, Scald Head, Sore Eyes, Erysipelas, Itch, Scurfs, Discolorations of the Skin, Humors and Diseases of the Skin, of whatever name or nature, are literally dug up and carried out of the system in a short time by the use of these Bitters. One bottle in such cases will convince the most incredulous of their curative effect.

Cleanse the Vitiated Blood whenever you find its impurities bursting through the skin in Pimples, Eruptions or Sores; cleanse it when you find it obstructed and sluggish in the veins, cleanse it when it is foul, and your feelings will tell you when. Keep the blood pure, and the health of the system will follow.

PIN, TAPE and other WORMS, lurking in the system of so many thousands, are effectually destroyed and removed. For full directions, read carefully the circular around each bottle, printed in four languages—English, German, French and Spanish.

FOR A FEMALE COMPLAINTS, whether in young or old, married or single, at the dawn of womanhood or at the turn of life, these Tonic Bitters have no equal. Send for a circular.

They are a Gentle Purgative as well as a Tonic, possessing also, the peculiar merit of acting as a powerful agent in relieving Congestion or Inflammation of the Liver, and all the Visceral Organs. 1yrdawfebl6

SAFE AND PROFITABLE.

THE CENTRAL RAILROAD CO.

OF IOWA,

have now built and equipped, in first-class manner, about

180 MILES OF RAILROAD,

which will complete their entire line, with the exception of laying the track on twenty-five miles, which is already graded. They will thus open

The First Through Line Across the State

from north to south, and, by making a slight detour at one point, they will give

DIRECT COMMUNICATION BETWEEN ST. LOUIS AND ST. PAUL.

This line of Railroad will have very special advantages for both local and through business, besides such superior railroad connections as will secure to it a large portion of the carrying trade of the Great Northwest. The

First Mortgage

7 PER CENT. GOLD BONDS,

which are issued upon this road, are limited in amount to $16,000 per mile (while many roads issue from $30,000 to $40,000,) and are offered at 90 and accrued interest, in currency. About two millions and a half of these bonds have already been disposed of, leaving but a small balance unsold, which are being rapidly taken.

The most experienced financiers agree that First Mortgage Bonds, to a limited amount, upon a finished railroad, which is well located for business, are one of the very safest forms of investment.

Parties desiring to secure a first-class security, based upon a railroad practically done, and in the hands of leading capitalists who have a large pecuniary and business interest in its success, will do well to apply at the office of the Company, or any of its advertised agents, for a pamphlet and map, showing the characteristics of the enterprise.

Holders of Government Bonds may exchange them for Central Iowas at a large present profit, beside a handsome increase of interest for a long term of years. Parties making such exchange will receive for each $1,000 Bond a $1,000 Central Iowa Bond, and the following difference in cash (less the accrued interest in currency upon the latter bond,) and in annual interest, this calculation being based upon market prices of December 27th, 1870:—

Morning Chronicle.

TOBACCO.

BY DR. DIO LEWIS.

I believe that tobacco is playing an important part in the morbid development of our nervous systems. I want to discuss this question frankly. I have used tobacco, and for many years I used it excessively. I both chewed and smoked it. In college, I smoked a small, short, black pipe, and used to exhibit it to my fellow-student with pride, because of its rare color; and I chawed between the smokes all the time.

During the last fifteen years, I have used sixty cigars; an average of four a year. I have sometimes avoided it altogether for several years. You see that I have had experience, and I am not going to say a severe word to any man who uses tobacco Having used it myself, I am only going to tell you, in a plain, friendly way, what science says of it.

Tobacco, in its ordinary state—the "plugs," which you have in your pockets here to-night—is a powerful poison. It will do what no other poison will do. I do not speak of the oil of tobacco. I do not speak of nicotine, a single drop of which, put upon the tongue of a cat, will kill her in twenty seconds; three drops of which, put upon the tongue of a bull-dog, will kill him so quick he will hardly get out of your arms in his struggles; and ten drops of which will kill a cow inside of ten minutes. I am not talking of these things at all, although they are in tobacco. I am talking of tobacco in the form of the original "plug."

Now, ladies and gentlemen, let me suppose an experiment. I call from this audience a boy ten years old, who has never used tobacco. "Charles, will you help us make an experiment here to-night?" "Yes, sir." "I will give you fifty dollars if you will go through it like a plucky man." "I will, sir." There is a piece of tobacco, as large as a pea. Put that in your mouth; chew it; don't let one drop of the juice go down your throat; spit every drop of the juice into that spittoon; but keep on chewing; don't stop; just chew steadily." Before he has done with that piece of tobacco, as large as a pea, simply squeezing the juice out of it, without swallowing a drop, he lies here upon the platform in a cold, death-like perspiration; he vomits the contents of his stomach; put your fingers up his wrist, there is no pulse; and so he seems for two or three hours as though he were dying, or perchance dead.

Now, gentlemen, go to your drug stores, begin with the upper shelves, and take down every bottle, and then open every drawer, and you cannot find a single poison, (except some very rare ones, which you never heard of) which, taken into the mouth of that ten-year old boy, and not swallowed, will produce those effects. Tobacco, then, I repeat, in its ordinary state, is an extremely powerful poison.

I will say, that no matter how you use tobacco, it lets down your tone. Don't you know that most of us are satisfied with a health that we ought to be disgusted with? Ask a man, "How are you, Colonel?" and he says, "I am perfectly well; I am always well; I never had a doctor in my life." And yet that man has no spirits, no happiness. Happiness is the legitimate fruit of health, as apples are the legitimate fruit of apple trees. I remember in my father's neighborhood was a deacon a good man, whose name was a synonym for every good word and work. That deacon was not well, and his sickness manifested itself in low spirits. I never heard him say a cheerful thing. I passed his house one day, and saw him in the front yard. It was a magnificent morning; God's smile shone out all over everything. I thought I had the deacon in a tight place, and I said: "Good morning, deacon. Isn't this a splendid day?" "Yes," said he, "but its only a weather-breeder." The deacon was n't well; that was his trouble.

I did see a man once, who I thought was well. I was walking down Lake Street in Chicago, one morning, and I saw a big man, with a great buffalo overcoat and a big fur cap, walking along in a vigorous way, and every three or four steps he would strike his leg, and a jump a foot off the sidewalk, and as he came down he would scream a little, laugh, and go on. The boys thought he was drunk. It was about seven o'clock in the morning, and the boys, who were taking down the shutters of the stores, would call out to each other, "pin, Charlie, he's all right."

But he did not look to me like a drunken man. He certainly was behaving queerly, and being interested in queer folks, as you all are, I hurried along and got up by his side. I looked him in the face and said, "Good morning, sir." He said, "Good morning." "Anything the matter this morning?" With that, flourishing his hand and giving his leg a great blow, he jumped up about two feet from the sidewalk, and as he came down, he squirmed all over, screamed like a railroad whistle, and said, "I feel good." That man was well, and when anybody is well, health crops out in hope, in happiness.

Well, friends, tobacco lets you down; lets you down below the normal level. No man who fills his system with opium, tobacco, or any other narcotic poison, can have high spirits; it lets him down low. Look at the Turks—poisoned with opium. There was never such a solemn people. They never smile. Our Yankees, who are chawing and squirting eternally, are becoming about as bad as the Turks. I came up from Providence to Boston, and I declare to you, that when I got out of the cars, I had to wade through seas of tobacco spittle. I say, these Yankees who are forever chawing, are not a happy people. With all our wealth, and means of comfort, there are few nations on this planet that have so little real enjoyment.

But friends, permit me one point more. Let us go a little higher. How does a man differ from a horse? Not in having a body, for a horse has a body too; not in having intellect, for a horse has intellect too; not in having a social nature, for a horse, or a dog, if you please, is more social than a man. Then what are the distinguishing characteristics of our humanity? It is the possession of moral and religious sensibilities. These constitute the links in that chain which unite us to God o'erhead, through which chain every one of us hopes some day in the future to go up like an electric spark, to live above our present selves.

I know I do but echo the voices of the wise ones of the world, when I say that this use of tobacco paralyzes and deadens these moral sensibilities almost more than any other habit in which civilized men indulge. Gentlemen, I advise you to clean yourselves, and quit. I would give it up. It is a nasty, disgusting, ruinous habit.

But somebody says; "I can't give it up; I want to, and have tried, but I can't do it." Can't you? Then I wouldn't. But if you really are so enslaved that you cannot get out of your chains, I will help you a little. Stop to-night; don't use any to-morrow. The first day will not be so very hard. You can get on pretty well the first day, as everybody knows who has been through the mill, as I have been.

The second day is pretty bad. In the afternoon of the second day, your memory is a little doubtful; you can't exactly say whether it was two brothers or three brothers that came over; you can't exactly say whether your grandfather came from the east or the west when he settled here. But be patient the second day.

The third morning comes the tug. Now go and take an old fashioned alcohol sweat. Place an alcohol lamp under your chair, put a blanket over your shoulders, and sweat until your skin is fairly parboiled. Then you will be just as comfortable for one day as you could wish. There is no dryness of the mouth, no disturbance of the secretions. You are perfectly comfortable for one day.

The next day you are in trouble again, but not so bad as the day before. Take another sweat; take even a third, or a fourth one. Sweating does not hurt people; sometimes it is good for them. Take three or four thorough sweats, and then you will go off under easy sail, and will have no further trouble from your enemy.

Ladies, I advise you to sweat 'em. Whether they will or not, sweat 'em!

ON SCULPINS.—Much as we despise money, we had rather find a thousand dollars left on our table than for one short spell to be a sculpin.

The sculpin proper resembles an exclamation point, minus the dot, with the mouth on the big end. If a marlin spike was covered with a dark brown bark, and had fins, it would look dreadfully like a sculpin. They derive their name from the Dragon, and there is no disputing but what they will drag on a line with more ounces to the pound than anything of their size that wears scales. There is not much of a sculpin except head, and the head is most all mouth. They don't own any ears, he couldn't have so much mouth, and if there be one thing a sculpin delights in more another, it is the door of his face.

It is Hoosac tunnel, on a small scale. We do not wish to be personal, so we will not tell whose mouth looks like a sculpin; he asked us not to. No one ever fished for sculpins. People have been mean enough to rob graveyards and poison their great-grandmothers, but there is no instance on record of any one ever getting low enough to fish for sculpins. A sculpin will live as long out of water as any one ever lets him. We have seen them lie on a wharf in the sun and flap around and gape for half a day, and on being put back into the water, swim off as though they had not been away from home a minute. They are the bummers of the fish creation, the loafers that hang 'round ready to steal a drink, when they can't get an invitation. They don't care what they eat any more than a shanghai rooster, which will make a hearty meal on leather-headed carpet tacks, and then swallow the paper to do them up in.

When a fishermen catches a sculpin it is always by accident, and the first thing he does on landing it, is to pat its head several times with the heel of his boot and then stoop down to unfasten his hook. He gently slides the right hand down the line and with the left grasps the head of the sculpin, which with fixed eyes and open mouth awaits the movement. The moment he feels his head clutched he closes one eye, shuts his mouth with a snap, and a horn which he wears on his snout, a la rhinoceorus, is jibed into the fisherman's palm. The angler resumes an erect position, shakes a flipper, a sound that resembles "damn" in an incipient state issues from his mouth, and he cuts off his hook and proceeds to gange another. This is to catch a sculpin—and when hooks cost not over one $1 each, never try to take one out of a sculpin's mouth. If there is anything else that we remember about sculpins we have forgotten it, but what we don't know about them our friend Prof. Agassiz does, and will tell you all about them if you will address him, enclosing stamp.—Belfast Journal.

HOW TO GET A NEW IDEA.—The good people of Connecticut have found a man who claims to have a "new idea," and they propose to hang him right away. His name is James Wilson, who took part in a little unpleasantness in the Connecticut State Prison, which liberated Warden Willard from the charge of State prisoners. For his action in this he was tried, found guilty of murder and sentenced to death. Various motions for a new trial have been successful, and as he has a marked unwillingness to swing, or, as he mildly phrases it, to have his "neck cracked," he commenced to starve himself to death. After nine days' experiment he commenced to eat again. Why, is best explained in his own words: "My long fast was not broken because I was hungry. I had passed that place. But it was because I had got a new idea, and such a one as never would have been born of a full stomach. When a man has fasted nine days, the grossness of his natural condition is worked off. His brain then either gets fuddled, or he sees things with a spiritual clearness beyond the ken of sensual mortals." What this new idea is passes the comprehension of the people of the midway state.

DANGERS OF KEROSENE.—Kerosene oil can be made which will not explode, and any one with two ideas can find out whether it is fit to be used in a lamp or not. Take a saucer of warm water, say a hundred degrees, that is not hotter than a healthy heat, pour some of the oil on the water, and apply a flame to it; if the flame sets it on fire, it is not safe; if it does not set it on fire, it is safe, and you should tell every friend and neighbor where they can purchase kerosene oil which cannot blow them up, burn them to death, or scare them out of their wits. If the clothing should take fire, lie down instantly and roll yourself up in a carpet, blanket, or anything else at hand. If you stand up while the clothes are on fire, the flame rises about the head and face, and breathing it in is certain death. If you lie down, the flame goes upward, and the face is untouched. Rolling yourself in a carpet or blanket smothers the fire.—Hall's Journal of Health.

ARE YOU GOING TO PAINT?

—IF SO, USE THE—

AVERILL CHEMICAL PAINT.

It is Cheaper, Handsomer and more durable than the best of other Paints. One Thousand Gallons of it were sold in this City, in the year 1870, and not one complaint has come from those who have used it; but all speak in its favor; it is mixed ready for application, and is much easier put on than any other Paint, making a smooth, glossy surface for years, that can be cleaned with hot suds without injuring it. It is excellent for walls inside, in the place of paper.

I shall keep this season a large stock of Chemical Paints of all shades on hand, to accommodate customers with any amount, without delay in ordering it. Those who want to use the Chemical Paints and have had them misrepresented by those who deal in Lead and Oil, are invited to call and examine my Paints that have been on Buildings two years, and you will find them as fresh as if laid but one month.

I am prepared to do Painting by Contract, or by the day, using the Chemical Paint, or furnishing good experienced workmen by the day at very low wages. B. NORTON, only Agent for selling the

These are, beyond all comparison, the most extraordinary works on Physiology ever published. There is nothing whatever that the MARRIED OR SINGLE, OF EITHER SEX, can either require or wish to know, but what is fully explained, and many matters of the most important and interesting character are introduced to which no allusion even can be found in any other works in our language. All the NEW DISCOVERIES of the author, whose experience is such as probably never before fell to the lot of any man, are given in full. No person should be without these valuable books.

"VALUABLE BOOKS.—We have received the valuable medical works published by the Peabody Medical Institute. These books are of actual merit, and should find a place in every intelligent family. They are not the cheap order of abominable trash, published by irresponsible parties, and purchased to gratify coarse tastes, but are written by a responsible professional gentleman of eminence, as a source of instruction on vital matters, concerning which lamentable ignorance exists. The important subjects are treated with delicacy, ability and care, and, as an appendix, many useful prescriptions for prevailing complaints are added."—Cox Republican, Lancaster, N. H.

"The author of these books is one of the most learned and popular physicians of the day, and is entitled to the gratitude of our race for these invaluable productions. It seems to be his aim to induce men and women to avoid the cause of those diseases to which they are subject, and he tells them just how and when to do it."—Chronicle, Farmington, Maine, Sept. 7, 1869.

Either book sent by mail on receipt of price.

N. B. The Author of the above-named medical works is the Chief Consulting Physician of the Peabody Medical Institute, and is so constantly employed in consultation with invalids from all parts of the country, that he has no time to attend to mere business details. Therefore all letters should be addressed to the PEABODY MEDICAL INSTITUTE, or to Dr. W. H. PARKER, the Medical Assistant of the Author, and his Business Agent, who, as well as the Author himself, may be consulted on all diseases requiring skill, secrecy and experience. oct26 1yr

TUESDAY, APRIL 11, 1871.

FRANCE.

After those hard-headed, obstinate old Dutchmen, William and Bismarck, had caused the proclamation of a Republic in France by capturing the French army and carrying off the French Emperor, public opinion in this country was in favor of a cessation of hostilities, and of the Germans letting the Republic alone; and there has been much hard talk about them because the war was not then closed. But it now seems that they were not far from right in saying that there was no government with which they could make peace, for after being defeated time and again, after having a national election, and with all the preliminaries of a peace arranged, the terribly Frenchy Frenchmen in Paris hardly wait till the spiked helmets are out of their city before they make war upon those of their own countrymen who have endeavored to conclude a peace.

The Germans were blamed for making war on the Republic; and now the cry is, in many quarters, that the French are not fit for self-government, and that the restoration of the Empire or a monarchy would be the best thing for them, after all. Disappointed as we are, and as all friends of a republican form of government must be, by the mad folly of the Parisian insurgents, we are not prepared to assert that a despotism is the best form of government for the French or any other people. Even a turbulent and troubled republic we consider better than a tranquill despotism; for by the very sufferings and blunders of the former its people will learn to govern themselves, while the latter can teach them only that there is a power stronger than themselves, which they must obey.

The present French Republic may—probably will, go down; but that will only prove that the French people have not learned the art of self-government under a despotism—not that they cannot learn it under more favorable auspices. The people of this country are considered capable of ruling themselves with wisdom; and yet, after eighty years and more of study in the school of republicanism, the nation was shaken to its foundations by a civil war a thousand times more determined and deadly than the present French one. The European monarchists said then that we were not fit for self-government; but the people on this side of the Atlantic did not believe them.

Paris has mobs, big ones and brutal; but we doubt if any more degraded, vicious and brutal a crowd than the famous New York mob composed of Seymour's "friends" was ever collected even in the French capital; and even Boston has had mobs, who destroyed convents and maltreated every man who dared to assert that human slavery was not a "divine institution." Even as we write, the ignorant coal miners of Pennsylvania are engaged in a little civil war on their own account; and all through the South exists a reign of terror which surpasses anything in France outside of Paris. It will hardly do for us to reason that the French are fit only for a despotism, because a Parisian mob opposes the general government, while we can ourselves boast of the Ku-Klux.

POLITICAL REFORM.—Disgusted with the mismanagement of the affairs of New York city, an immense meeting has been held at Cooper Institute in favor of political reform. All parties were well represented, and vigorous speeches were made by Messrs. Evarts, Beecher and Bellows, the latter condemning the political cowardice of "influential" citizens who talk the most and do the least to promote political morality.

Dr. Bellows pointed out some of the difficulties that lie in the path of a just and honest government for the city. He says New York city has 30,000 professional thieves, 20,000 lewd women, 3,000 grog shops, and 2,000 gaming establishments! Out of a population of one million of inhabitants, more than half a million live in tenement houses. He charged that there is deliberate corruption and bribery of a majority of the justices; that men of highest intelligence and courage neglect their duty; that the clergy neglect their duty through fear of losing their bread and butter, and that the doctors do not dare to speak out, for fear of losing their patients. It is high time for men who take but little interest in politics to come to the front and help govern New York city and the United States of America.

BASE BALL.—The Boston Nine beat the Lowells on Saturday, 40 to 1.

CONGRESS.

On the 10th, the House passed Mr. Hole's general amnesty bill, 144 to 46.

FRANCE.

There was desperate fighting around Paris on Saturday. Fort Valerien and the advanced batteries of the army of Versailles steadily bombarded Porte Maillot, their shells falling in Champs Elysees. An engagement took place at Villejuif and skirmishes at Bagneux and Billancourt. All the southern forts have resumed firing. The government forces are gaining ground in front of Montrouge and Bicetre, and a decisive struggle is expected at the gates of the city.

A flotilla of gunboats has been sent from Havre up the Seine to assist in the operations. Siege guns have also been despatched from Havre to Cherbourg for an attack on the forts occupied by the insurgents.

Gen Pechat has died from wounds.

The cathedral of Notre Dame has been sacked.

THE REDUCTION OF THE PUBLIC DEBT.—By a circular from Acting Treasurer Richardson, we learn that the revenue from March 1, 1867 to March 1, 1869 was $664,405,442.25; from March 1, 1869 to March 1, 1871, $749,399,491.99; increase of revenue, $84,994,049.74. The decrease of expenditures for the same years is $126,700,949.21; total amount gained, $211,694,998.95. The national debt was reduced $26,441,986 from March 1, 1867 to March 1, 1869; and $204,754,413.09 from March 1, 1869 to March 1, 1871, showing an increase of reduction of $178,312,427.09. The amount of interest which will be saved to the Government on the debt actually paid, is $11,537,461, annually, mostly in gold.

—J. Bigger Bell is the resounding clerk of the Virginia House of Delegates.—N. H. Gazette.

—Will the acomplished editor of the Gazette inform the public what the specific duties of this resounding clerk may be.—Haverhill Gazette.

We copied the item to which the Gazette refers, and do not profess to know what the duties of a resounding clerk are. As to may-be's, the Gazette man has mistaken the time of day, altogether—but if a clerk of the weather makes mistakes, why shouldn't an editor? The resounding clerk must be a high-toned chap, we surmise, though rather a scarce article in some legislative bodies, we admit.

—A prophetic reporter in The World predicts that the empire will be restored in France under the Empress Eugenie, Miss Tennie C. Claflin, the sister of Mrs. Woodhull, a spiritual medium and clairvoyant, has predicted for more than a year past, long before the war, that Louis Napoleon "will have his head cut off in Paris." It looked wholly improbable when just said; but if he consents to return to the Tuilleries at anybody's invitation, he may make "Tennessee" a true prophetess. Golden Age.

☞ The mining difficulties at Scranton have subsided.

☞ Six lives were lost by the capsizing of a tug at Chicago on Saturday, and seven by the explosion of a Mississippi steamer.

☞ A lady in Exeter is endeavoring to obtain 1,000,000 old (worthless) postage stamps, and with the help of many friends, known and unknown, has a collection of 50,000.

☞ Senator Morton was serenaded by Indianians in Washington on Saturday. Speeches were made by Senators Morton and Clayton, Vice-President Colfax and others.

☞ There is not a church in Cynthiana, Kentucky, that will allow a temperance lecture to be delivered from its pulpit. No wonder Kentucky gives a Democratic majority of 50,000.

☞ A York correspondent of the Biddeford Democrat has been struck on the eye by "the Nubble." What an eye that correspondent must have had! A common ball hitting a mosquito's eye is no comparison to the above mentioned accident.

☞ The corrected official returns at the State House show that the State Senate will stand as heretofore reported, which is six Democrats to five Republicans, with no choice in the Portsmouth District. Thrasher's majority in the Claremont District is 17.

James M. Sanborn, one of the Democratic and Labor Reform Representatives elect from Pittsfield, fell from a staging on which he was painting, last Saturday morning and was seriously injured.

—Dr. Mary Walker declares that if any man desires to get her out of her pantaloons, he must marry her. It looks now as if the Doctor would "die in the harness."

—"Doc." Simmons, the engineer who was killed on his train, had an intelligent reason for sticking to his engine. Perceiving that the train could not be checked in time to avoid a collision, he threw open the throttle, hoping to dash through the obstructions. Had he been able to do this, and had he leaped from the engine, the train would have sped on its way at a tremendous speed, without an engineer to control it. He therefore had a reason for staying at his post, and he knowingly risked and lost his life in the hope of saving the lives of his passengers. A grateful public, in appreciation of his heroism, has subscribed $350 for his widow. We forget precisely how much was subscribed the other day to erect a statue to Mr. Tweed.—Golden Age.

☞ There is a manufacturer in Williamsburg, N. Y., whom the fire insurance companies consider a first-class fraud. He never effects an insurance on his property, this Williamsburg man doesn't; he just dreams that his property is on fire, jumps out of bed, and rushes to the spot in season to extinguish the flames with a bucket of water. It is much cheaper than insurance.

Thieves! KNAVES!! SWINDLERS!!! These are mild terms with which to designate those mean contemptible adventurers, who have been induced by the high reputation which Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy has won to put up and offer for sale a worthless imitation of this celebrated medicine. Remember that Dr. Pierce's private Stamp, which is the only positive guarantee of genuineness, should be upon every package. This private stamp, issued by the U. S. Government expressly for stamping Dr. Pierce's medicines, has upon it his portrait, name and address, and the words "U. S. Certificate of Genuineness." Dont get swindled by men calling themselves Dr. Sage; Dr. R. V. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y., is the only man now living that has the right and can prepare the genuine and original Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy. Sold by druggists, or sent by mail on receipt of sixty cents.

Veterinary Surgeons all over the country are recommending Sheridan's Cavalry Condition Powders for the following trouble in horses;—Loss of appetite, roughness of the hair, stoppage of bowels or water, thick water, coughs and colds, swelling of the glands, worms, horse ail, thick wind and heaves.

A friend of ours who is chief clerk in the Governmental Dispensary, says that no medicine chest is now complete without Johnson's Anodyne Liniment. We always supposed it was prescribed by law; if it is not, it ought to be, for certainly there is nothing in the whole materia medica of so much importance to the soldier and the sailor as Johnson's Anodyne Liniment.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

Exhaustion.

Invalids, broken down in health and spirits by Chronic Dyspepsia, or suffering from the terrible exhaustion which follows the attacks of acute disease, the testimony of thousands who have been raised as by a miracle from a similar state of prostration by HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS, is a sure guarantee that by the same means you too may be strengthened and restored. Not to those who stand in peril of epidemics, to all who, by reason of exposure, privations and uncongenial climate or unhealthy pursuits, may at any moment be stricken down, this paragraph is most particularly and emphatically addressed. You, who, are thus situated, are proffered an absolute safeguard against the danger that menaces you. Tone and regulate the system with this harmless medicinal stimulant and alterative, and you will be forearmed against the maladies whose seeds float around you in the air unseen. HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS are not only a standard tonic and alterative throughout the United States, but they are accredited by the certificates of the most distinguished citizens of the Union, to the people of all other lands. In Canada, Australia and the West Indies, they are gradually taking the place of all other stomachics, whether native or foreign, and as surely as truth is progressive and demonstration overthrows doubt, they will eventually supersede every other invigorant and restorative now employed in medicinal practice.

PRACTICAL APPLICATION OF

HAMLET'S SOLILOQUY.

To insure or not to insure? That is the question. Whether t'will be nobler for my family to suffer The stings and arrows of outrageous fortune Or take a policy against those dangers, And, by insuring, end them? To feel, to fear, No more; and by a policy to end The heartache and the thousand natural shocks That flesh is heir to. Yes, my application's Devoutly to be wished; apply, insure, And pay the premium: ay—there's the rub For in that time what premiums may come Before I shuffle off this mortal coil Does make me pause, tightens my purse, And makes me rather pay the bills I have Than fly to others I know not of. Thus does meanness make brutes of us all.

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a man more competent and trustworthy and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office. EDMUND BURKE, Late Commissioner of Patents.

"MR. R. H. EDDY has made for me over THIRTY applications for Patents, having been successful in almost every case. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend ALL inventors to apply to him to procure their Patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges. THE dust circulating about town causes citizens to ask if the streets are to be sprinkled this summer. How is it, Mr. Plaisted?

STEAMER Cocheco, with Southern pine timber for the Concord Railroad wharf, left Vineyard Haven for this port on Friday, leaking very badly.

THE SCHOLARS of the Unitarian Sunday School were each presented with an elegant bouquet on Sunday. The church altar was decorated with beautiful flowers.

At the North Church the pastor announced the celebration of the second centennial in July next, when a three days' festival is contemplated.

THE closing entertainment of the Lyceum course at Rye, this evening, will attract quite a number of gentlemen from this city. The exercises will be varied, consisting of Readings by Mr. John F. Leverton, singing by a select choir from this city, and music by Messrs. Cushing and Tilton. The gentlemen invited by the President of the Association are requested to be in readiness to start from the Chronicle office at 15 minutes before 6 o'clock.

THE EASTER FESTIVAL of the children of St. John's Sunday School, in the Episcopal Church, Sunday afternoon, attracted many visitors, and was very interesting and pleasing. The display of beautiful flowers was large, each child bearing a bouquet, and the altar and other prominent points in the church being decorated with them; the service was largely choral. The annual Sunday School report was read, and exhibited an encouraging state of affairs in that branch of the Church's work. The address was delivered by the Rector, Rev. Mr. Clark.

A MODERN NIMROD, mighty in the chase, (we have seen him chase a base ball for half an hour before he caught it,) is one of the legal gentlemen of Portsmouth. On Monday morning he awoke from the peaceful slumbers which the legal profession always enjoy as a consequence of their unruffled consciences, with a vivid perception that "something was 'round." Hastily donning his hunting suit, including big boots and most tremendous spurs—probably to fight with when retreating—he pocketed some revolvers and dashed fearlessly out to meet the enemy. The legal instinct at once led him to the hen-coop, (he's a democrat, and the democrats have been fooling 'round with their roosters lately, so his first thought was for the safety of the birds,) and there he found a specimen of the most powerful animal known to American jurists, looking exactly as though he had been sucking eggs.

Undaunted by the prospective peril, the legal gentleman dashed into the hen-coop, and was just on the point of commencing hostilities when the wild beast looked up at him. Being determined that the legal profession should not be brought into bad odor through any misconduct of his, the legal gentleman hurriedly made for the door by which he had entered the hen-coop, but in his zeal he overshot the mark, and the sk— wild animal got between him and the only means of exit. Here was a pretty go. However, our legal friend was pretty mad by this time, so holding his nose firmly with his left hand he took deadly aim with the "Colts' navy" in his right, breathed an inaudible petition for safety, shut both eyes and blazed away. To the amazement and utter demoralization of both parties to the transaction, the shooter actually hit the shootee fair in the head with the bullet; the latter shuffled off this mortal coil in great haste, but the former "still lives"—and if anybody thinks he isn't fit to be Judge of the Police Court, just let them find somebody with more courage, that's all. There are but few men in these degenerate days who have nerve enough to deliberately force a wild beast to single combat, within the narrow confines of a hen-coop.

☞ Joshua L. Foster is out of the New Haven Lever, having it is said sunk his entire investment.

Communicated.

Messrs. Editors:—In your issue of March 26th, there were two communications in regard to the Annexation of Newcastle. The first of which I could not understand and am forced to give it up.

The other seems to have been written by a person anxious for information, and calls upon "Ann X" to tell how long the three bridges are. X accordingly took a walk that way, Fast Day, and found they reached clear across the water, allowing the citizens of Portsmouth and the rest of mankind to travel in safety to the Island.

The considerations passed before the meeting at the First National Bank will doubtless be made known to "Anxious" and the general public in due season. The exact debt of Newcastle can be ascertained by asking the Town Clerk; not being a native of the Island we do not feel authorized to publish a statement of its financial affairs.

The object of our letters has been to answer objections to the proposed union. There are some important considerations favorable to annexation, which will be presented to the people of both places before long. The cost of keeping the bridges in repair has been stated once; four hundred dollars being the average annual expenditure. The bridges are considered safe; no accident of a serious nature has ever happened on either of them. The outlay for years to come will depend upon the amount of travel they accommodate; an increase of usefulness would warrant additional repairs if necessary.

Yours, ANN X.

Consumption,

ITS CURE AND ITS PREVENTIVE,

By J. H. SCHENCK, M. D.

Many a human being has passed away, for whose death there was no other reason than the neglect of known and indisputably proved means of cure. Those near and dear to family and friends are sleeping the dreamless slumber into which, had they calmly adopted and availed themselves of the wonderfully efficacious medicines, they would not have fallen.

Dr. JOSEPH H. SCHENCK'S SIMPLE TREATMENT,

Dr Schenck has in his own case proven that wherever sufficient vitality remains, that vitality, by his medicines and his directions for their use, is quickened into healthful vigor.

In this statement there is nothing presumptuous. To the faith of the invalid is made no representation that is not a thousand times substantiated by living and visible works. The theory of the cure by Dr. Schenck's medicines is as simple as it is unfailing. Its philosophy requires no argument. It is self assuring, self-convincing.

The Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills are the first to vanquish with which the citadel of the malady is assailed. Two-thirds of the cases of consumption originate in dyspepsia and a derangement disordered liver. With this condition the bronchial tubes "sympathize" with the stomach. They respond to the morbidic action of the liver. Here, then comes the culminating result, and the setting in, with all its distressing symptoms, of

CONSUMPTION.

The Mandrake Pills are composed of one of Nature's noblest gifts—the Pedophilium Peltatum. They possess all the blood-searching, alterative properties of calomel, but unlike calomel, they

"LEAVE NO STING BEHIND."

The work of cure is now beginning. The vitiated and mucous deposits in the bowels and in the alimentary canal are ejected. The liver, like a clock, is wound up. It arouses from its torpidity. The stomach acts responsively, and the patient begins to feel that he is getting, at last,

A SUPPLY OF GOOD BLOOD.

The Seaweed Tonic, in conjunction with the Pills, permeates and assimilates with the food. Chyification is now progressing, without its previous tortures. Digestion, and the pleasures, and the cure is seen to be at hand. There is no more flatulence, no exacerbation of the stomach. An appetite sets in.

Now comes the grand question, and the cure is given by an indulgent father to suffering man. Schenck's Pulmonic Syrup comes in to perform its functions and to hasten and complete the cure. It enters at once upon its work. Nature cannot be cheated. It collects and ripens the impurified and diseased portions of the lungs. In the form of gatherings it prepares them for expectoration, and lo! in a very short time the malady is vanquished, the rotten throne that it occupied is renovated and made new, and the patient, in all the dignity of regained vigor, steps forth to enjoy the manhood or womanhood that was

GIVEN UP AS LOST.

The second thing is, the patients must stay in a warm room, until cure is well; it is almost impossible to prevent taking cold when the lungs are diseased, but it must be prevented or a cure cannot be effected. This is a point of difficulty, especially in this section of the country in the fall and winter season, are all wrong. Physicians will recommend that course to their patients, if their lungs are badly diseased; and yet, because they are in the house they cough and hang down upon the stove, walk about the room as much and as fast as the strength will bear, to get up a good circulation of blood. The patient must keep in good spirits—be determined to get well. This has a great deal to do with the approach, and is the great point to gain.

To despair of cure after such evidence of its possibility in the worst cases, and moral certainty in all others, is unfair. Dr. Schenck's present, and his gift to the Faculty of his own cure was to these modest words:

"Many years ago I was in the last stages of consumption: confined to my bed, and at one time my physicians thought that I could not live a week. I then like a drowning man catching at straws, I heard of, and obtained the preparations which I now offer to the public, and they made a perfect cure of me. It seemed to me that I could feel them penetrate my whole system. They soon ripened the matter in my lungs, and I would spit up more than a pint of offensive yellow matter every morning for a long time. As soon as that began to subside, my cough, fever, pains and night sweats all began to leave me, and my appetite became so good that it was with difficulty that I could keep from eating too much. I soon gained my strength, and have gone in the enjoyment of health."

"I was weighed shortly after my recovery," added the Doctor, "then looking like a mere skeleton my weight was only one-hundred-and-seven pounds; my present weight is two hundred and twenty-five (225) pounds; and for years I have enjoyed unimpaired health."

Dr. Schenck has discontinued his professional visits to New York and Boston. He or his son, Dr. J. H. Schenck, Jr., still continue to see patients at their office, No. 15 North Sixth street, Philadelphia, every Saturday from 9 A. M. to 3 P. M. Those who wish a thorough examination with the Respirometer will be charged $5. The Respirometer declares the exact condition of the lungs, and patients can readily learn whether they are curable or not.

"The directions for using the medicines are adapted to the intelligence even of a child. Follow those directions, and the cure will follow, of course, excepting that in some cases the Mandrake Pills are to be taken in increased doses; the three medicines need no change, no accompanying diet, no ample instructions that accompany them: First, create appetite. Of returning health hunger is the most welcome symptom. When it comes, as it will come, let the despairing at once be of good cheer. Good blood at once follows, the cough loosens, the night sweat is abated. In a short time both of these morbid symptoms are gone forever.

Dr. Schenck's medicines are constantly kept in tens of thousands of families. As a laxative or purgative, the Mandrake Pills are a standard preparation: while the Pulmonic Syrup, as a cure of coughs and colds, may be regarded as a prophylactic against consumption in any of its forms.

Price of the Pulmonic Syrup and Seaweed Tonic $1.50, a bottle, or $7.50 a half dozen. Mandrake Pills, 25 cents a box. For sale by all druggists and dealers.

FIRST MORTGAGE

7 PER CENT. GOLD BONDS,

ON A COMPLETED ROAD,

FREE OF U. S. TAX,

At 90 and Accrued Interest in Currency.

Burlington, Cedar Rapids and Minnesota Railway.

The completion of this Road has given to these Bonds an established character equal to any mortgage issue dealt in at the Stock Exchange. We are prepared to buy and sell them at any time, at our Banking House, at market price—thus placing them on the same basis for temporary or permanent investment, with Governments or any other security.

These bonds are a first and only mortgage on a railroad that has cost double the amount of the issue, and which commands, without competition, all the traffic of Northern Iowa and Southern Minnesota—shortening the distance from St. Paul to Chicago 45 miles, and to St. Louis more than 90 miles.

The net earnings are already largely in excess of interest on the bonds, and no doubt exists that they will more than double within the ensuing year.

A contract has been secured with the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy Railroad Company obligating the latter to invest 50 per cent. of gross earnings derived from traffic with the Burlington, Cedar Rapids and Minnesota Road in the bonds of this Company. This arrangement is a strong guarantee of the bonds, and establishes a large sinking fund for their redemption.

The convertibility privilege in these bonds enables them to be exchanged for stock, at par, at any time. This secures to the holder, at his option, a share in any excess of earnings over the interest obligation.

An exchange of Government securities for these bonds returns 9½ per cent. interest, instead of 5 per cent., which is all that Governments pay, at present price, besides leaving an immediate gain of about 20 per cent. in price for re-investment.

All marketable Securities taken in exchange free of Commission and Express charges. f24d WaS

A GREAT MEDICAL DISCOVERY!

DR. WALKER'S CALIFORNIA

VINEGAR BITTERS,

Hundreds of Thousands Bear Testimony to their Wonderful Curative Effects.

WHAT ARE THEY!

THEY ARE NOT A VILE FANCY DRINK,

Made of Poor Rum, Whiskey, Proof Spirits and Refuse Liquors doctored, spiced and sweetened to please the taste, called "Tonics," "Appetizers," "Restorers," &c., that lead the tippler on to drunkenness and ruin, but are a true Medicine, made from the Native Root and Herbs of California, free from all Alcoholic Stimulants. They are the GREAT BLOOD PURIFIER and a LIFE-GIVING PRINCIPLE, a perfect Renovator and Invigorator of the system, carrying off all poisonous matter and restoring the blood to a healthy condition. No person can take these Bitters according to direction and remain long unwell, provided the bones are not destroyed by mineral poison or other means, and the vital organs wasted beyond the point of repair.

For Inflammatory and Chronic Rheumatism and Gout, Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Bilious, Remittent and Intermittent Fevers, Diseases of the Blood, Liver, Kidneys and Bladder, these Bitters have been most successful. Such Diseases are caused by Vitiated Blood, which is generally produced by derangement of the Digestive Organs.

DYSPEPSIA OR INDIGESTION, Headache, Pain in the Shoulders, Coughs, Tightness of the Chest, Dizziness, Sour Eructations of the Stomach, Bad taste in the Mouth, Bilious Attacks, Palpitation of the Heart, Inflammation of the Lungs, Pain in the regions of the Kidneys, and a hundred other painful symptoms, are the offspring of Dyspepsia.

They invigorate the stomach and stimulate the torpid liver and bowels, which render them of unequalled efficacy in cleansing the blood of all impurities and imparting new life and vigor to the whole system.

FOR SKIN DISEASES, Eruptions, Tetter, Salt Rheum, Blotches, Spots, Pimples, Pustules, Boils, Carbuncles, Ring Worms, Scald Head, Sore Eyes, Erysipelas, Itch, Scurfs, Discolorations of the Skin, Humors and Diseases of the Skin, of whatever name or nature, are literally dug up and carried out of the system in a short time by the use of these Bitters. One bottle in such cases will convince the most incredulous of their curative effect.

Cleanse the Vitiated Blood whenever you find its impurities bursting through the skin in Pimples, Eruptions or Sores; cleansing it when you find it obstructed and sluggish in the veins, cleanse it when it is foul, and your feelings will tell you when. Keep the blood pure, and the health of the system will follow.

PIN, TAPE and other WORMS, lurking in the system of so many thousands, are effectually destroyed and removed. For full directions, read carefully the circular around each bottle, printed in four languages—English, German, French and Spanish.

FOR FEMALE COMPLAINTS, whether in young or old, married or single, at the dawn of womanhood or at the turn of life, these Tonic Bitters have no equal. ☞ Send for a circular.

They are a Gentle Purgative as well as a Tonic, possessing also, the peculiar merit of acting as a powerful agent in relieving Congestion or Inflammation of the Liver, and all the Visceral Organs. 1yrdawfebl6

SAFE AND PROFITABLE.

THE CENTRAL RAILROAD CO.

OF IOWA,

have now built and equipped, in first-class manner, about

180 MILES OF RAILROAD,

which will complete their entire line, with the exception of laying the track on twenty-five miles, which is already graded. They will thus open

The First Through Line Across the State

from north to south, and, by making a slight detour at one point, they will give

DIRECT COMMUNICATION BETWEEN ST. LOUIS AND ST. PAUL.

This line of Railroad will have very special advantages for both local and through business, besides such superior railroad connections as will secure to it a large portion of the carrying trade of the Great Northwest. The

First Mortgage

7 PER CENT. GOLD BONDS,

which are issued upon this road, are limited in amount to $16,000 per mile (while many roads issue from $30,000 to $40,000,) and are offered at 90 and accrued interest, in currency. Amount two millions and a half of these bonds have already been disposed of, leaving but a small balance unsold, which are being rapidly taken.

The most experienced financiers agree that First Mortgage Bonds, to a limited amount, upon finished railroad, which is well located for business, are one of the very safest forms of investment.

Parties desiring to secure a first-class security, based upon a railroad practically done, and in the hands of leading capitalists who have a large pecuniary and business interest in its success, will do well to apply at the office of the Company, or any of its advertised agents, for a pamphlet and map, showing the characteristics of the enterprise.

7-30 GOLD LOAN

—OF THE—

NORTHERN PACIFIC RAILROAD.

RAPID PROGRESS OF THE WORK.

The building of the Northern Pacific Railroad, (begun July last,) is being pushed forward with great energy from both extremities of the line. Several thousand men are employed in Minnesota and on the Pacific coast. The grade is nearly completed 240 miles westward from Lake Superior; trains are running over 130 miles of finished road, and track-laying is rapidly progressing toward the eastern border of Dakota. Having its purchase of the St. Paul & Pacific Road, the Northern Pacific Company now has 415 miles of completed road, and by December next this will be increased to at least 560.

A GOOD INVESTMENT.—Jay Cooke & Co. are now selling authoritatively recommended, as a Profitable and perfectly Safe investment, the First Mortgage Land Grant Gold Bonds of the Northern Pacific Railroad Company. They have 30 years to run, bear Seven and Three-Tenths per cent. gold interest (more than 8 per cent. currency) and are secured by first and only mortgage on the ENTIRE ROAD AND ITS EQUIPMENTS and also, as fast as the Road is completed, on 23,000 ACRES OF LAND to every mile of track, or 500 acres for each $16,000 Bond. They are exempt from U. S. Tax; Principal and Interest are payable in Gold; Denominations; Coupons, $100, to $1,000; Registered, $100 to $50,000.

LANDS FOR BONDS.—Northern Pacific 7-30's are at all times receivable at TEN PER CENT. ABOVE PAR, in exchange for the Company's lands, at their lowest cash price. This renders them practically INTEREST BEARING LAND WARRANTS.

SINKING FUNDS.—The proceeds of all sales of Lands are required to be devoted to the re-purchase and cancellation of the First Mortgage Bonds of the Company. The Land Grant of the Road exceeds Fifty Million Acres. This immense Sinking Fund will undoubtedly cancel the principal of the Company's bonded debt before it falls due. With their ample security and high rate of interest, there is no investment accessible to the people, which is more SAFE AND PROFITABLE.

EXCHANGING U. S. FIVE-TWENTIES.—The success of the New Government 5 per cent. Loan will compel the early surrender of United States 6 per cents. Many holders of Five-Twenties are now exchanging them for Northern Pacific Seven-Thirties, thus realizing a handsome profit and greatly increasing their yearly income.

OTHER SECURITIES.—All marketable Stocks and Bonds will be received at their highest current price in exchange for Northern Pacific Seven-Thirties. EXPRESS CHARGES on Money or Bonds received and on Seven-Thirties sent in return, will be paid by the Financial Agents. Full information, maps, pamphlets, etc., can be obtained on application at any agency, or from the undersigned. For sale by Coachman's International Journal for April. I. D. Ware, Publisher, Phila., Pa.

Die Modenwelt, April number, published in Europe, and imported by S. T. Taylor, No. 391 Canal Street, New York, is one of the best and most reliable journals of fashion for ladies and children in this country. No lady should be without it. It gives some 1,500 illustrations, 280 patterns, 400 diagrams of embroidery, and 12 large colored engravings yearly, and the price is so cheap that every lady can afford to subscribe for it—$3 a year. Mr. Taylor has the exclusive agency of the English edition for this country, and will send specimen copies for 25 cents; ladies send for a copy immediately.

Harper's Bazar for April 15 opens with a splendid full-page cut of the new "Postilion-Basque Walking Suit; two pages of fancy work illustrated; a picture of "The Pillow-Lace Maker; a charming picture called "Flounder-Spearing," and a view of "The London Creche, or Baby's Home," showing the play-room and the nursery. The topics discussed on the editorial page are "Baggage" and "American Holidays." One of the new contributors to the Bazar is "Barry Gray," who has an article on "Apples for All of Us." We are sure he will be popular with the readers of the Bazar.

The American Odd Fellow for April has a varied table of contents, including several interesting illustrated articles. The Guerrilla's Revenge, a Texan Story; Freemasonary and Odd Fellowship compared, by Rev. A. B. Grosh; Entertaining Miscellany and Original Poetry; Extensive Correspondence, &c., &c. Published by the A. O. F. Association, No. 96 Nassau street, New York. $2.50 per year.

Demorest's Monthly Magazine flings us gorgeous displays of the new Spring Fashions, especially attractive in their originality and beauty. Address, W. Jennings Demorest, 838 Broadway, N. Y. $3 per year.

In the May number of Ballou's Magazine the stories, sketches and poetry are good, while the illustrations are fresh and seasonable. One of the most interesting articles in this number is the story called "Caught by Mosby," by James Franklin Fitts. The contents are: Bothwell Castle, Scotland; The Absurdities of Fashion; The Joys of a Miner's Life; Extinct Races;—Market Scene at the Cape of Good Hope; A Leap in the Dark; If He wanted Her; The Shipwreck of the Carrier Pigeon, &c. $1.50 per year, 15 cents per copy; Thomes & Talbot, 63 Congress Street, Boston.

COMPOUND FLUID
Extract Catawba
GRAPE PILLS.
Component Parts—Fluid Extract Rhubarb and Fluid Extract Catawba Grape Juice.
For Liver Complaints, Jaundice, Bilious Affections, Sick or Nervous Headache, Costiveness, etc. Purely Vegetable, containing no Mercury, Minerals or Deleterious Drugs.

H

These Pills are a pleasant purgative, superseding castor oil, salts, magnesia, etc. There is nothing more acceptable to the stomach. They give tone, and cause neither pain nor griping pains. They are composed of the finest ingredients. After a few days' use of them, such an invigoration of the entire system takes place as to appear miraculous to the weak and enervated. H. T. Helmbold's Compound Fluid Extract Catawba Grape Pills are not sugar-coated; sugar-coated Pills pass through the stomach without dissolving; consequently do not produce the desired effect. The CATAWBA GRAPE PILLS, being pleasant in taste and odor, do not necessitate their being sugar-coated, and are prepared according to rules of Pharmacy and Chemistry, and are not Patent Medicines.

LADIES.

In many affections peculiar to Ladies, the Extract Buchu is unequalled by any other remedy—as in Chlorosis or Retention, Irregularity, Painfulness or Suppression of Customary Evacuations, Ulcerated or Schirrus State of the Uterus, Leucorrhœa or Whites, Sterility, and for all complaints incident to the sex, whether arising from Indiscretion or Habits of Dissipation. H. T. HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU CURES DISEASES ARISING FROM IMPRUDENCES, HABITS OF DISSIPATION, &c., in all their stages, at little expense, little or no change in diet, no inconvenience, and no exposure. It causes a frequent desire, and gives strength to Urinate, thereby removing Obstructions, Strengthening the Urinary Structures of the Urethe, Allaying Pain and Inflammation, so frequent in this class of diseases, and expelling all Poisonous matter.

HENRY T. HELMBOLD'S IMPROVED
ROSE WASH
cannot be surpassed as a FACE WASH, and will be found the only specific remedy in every species of Cutaneous Eruption. It speedily eradicates Pimples, Spots, Scorbutic Dryness, Indurations of the Cutaneous Membrane, etc., dispels Redness and Incipient Inflammation, Hives, Rash, Moth Patches, Dryness of Scalp or Skin, Frost Bites, and all purposes for which Salves or Ointments are used; restores the skin to a state of purity and softness, and imparts a healthy action to the tissue of its vessels, on which depends the agreeable clearness and vivacity of complexion so much sought and admired. But however valuable as a remedy for existing defects of the skin, H. T. Helmbold's Rose Wash has long sustained its principal claim to unbounded patronage, by possessing qualities which render it a Toilet Appendage of the most Superlative and Congenial character, combining in an elegant formula those prominent requisites, Safety and Efficacy—the invariable accompaniments of its use—as a Preservative and Refresher of the Complexion. It is an excellent Lotion for diseases of a Syphilitic Nature, and as an injection for diseases of the Urinary Organs, arising from habits of dissipation, used in connection with the EXTRACTS BUCHU, SARSAPARILLA AND CATAWBA GRAPE PILLS, in such diseases as recommended, cannot be surpassed.

Full and explicit directions accompany the medicines.

HOW LONG TO STARVE.—A man will die for want of air in five minutes, for want of sleep in ten days, for want of water in a week, for want of food at varying intervals, dependent on constitution, habits of life, and the circumstances of the occasion. Instances have been given where persons have been said to live many weeks without eating a particle of food; but when opportunities have been offered for a fair investigation of the case, it has been invariably that a weak and wicked fraud has been at the bottom of it.

On the 28th of August, the captain of a Boston whaler was wrecked. For eight days he could not get a drop of water, nor a particle of food. On the day of the wreck he weighed a hundred and ninety pounds; when rescued, he weighed one hundred pounds. A tea-spoonful of brandy was given to each sailor; but before they could be taken aboard the vessel which saved them, they became unconscious, and remained so for two days, but all eventually recovered. Many persons have been killed by eating too much after having fasted for a long time; the safe plan of procedure, and which every reader should bear in mind, is to feel the way along, as persons who are travelling in the dark and fear a precipice ahead; there can be no one rule given, because there are so many modifying circumstances. Give a tea-spoonful of hot drink at a time, and it no ill result, repeat in five minutes, and the same amount of soft food, boiled rice, or softened bread, or soup, or gruel; for the stomach is itself a weak as the sufferer in proportion, and can only manage a very small amount of food.

Wading in water, or keeping the clothing saturated with water, even if it is sea-water, sensibly abates the horrors of thirst.—Hall's Journal of Health.

UNLUCKILY BLESSED.—There is a tradition in Rome that if a Pope occupies the chair of St. Peter for twenty-five years, he will be the last of the long line of the Apostolic Princes—and if Pius IX lives till next June that tradition will have a chance to be tested. He has been a most unfortunate monarch—and his ill-luck is not confined to himself. It is a singular fact that every royal house which has received his blessing has been remarkably unfortunate.

He blessed Maximilian and poor Carlotta just before the ill-starred Mexican expedition. He blessed Francis Joseph, Emperor of Austria, just before his conflict with Prussia and his defeat at Sadowa. He blessed Isabella, Queen of Spain, and sent to her the golden rose, and she lost her throne almost immediately after. He blessed Louis Napoleon and Eugenie, and they are exiles and wanderers on the face of the earth.

He cursed Victor Emanuel, and excommunicated him, and he is King of Italy, beloved by his people, victorious over his nation's enemies. His son Amadeus is the newly-elected King of Spain; one of his daughters the Queen of Portugal.—LAURA BULLARD, in Golden Age.

"CUNNING" SAYINGS.—A little four-year-old remarked to her mamma on going to bed, "I am not afraid of the dark."

"No, of course you are not," replied her mamma, "for it can't hurt you."

"But, mamma, I was a little afraid once, when I went into the pantry to get a cookey."

"What were you afraid of?" asked her mamma.

"I was afraid I couldn't find the cookies."

BRIGHTON CATTLE MARKET, FOR THE WEEK ENDING WEDNESDAY, APRIL 5. [Reported for the Boston Journal.]

At market for the current week—Cattle 1924; Sheep and Lambs 6825; Swine 5300; number of Western Cattle 1762; Eastern Cattle 73; Northern Cattle and Working Oxen 89. Cattle left over from last week —.

Prices Beef Cattle—Extra $11 50 @ $12 00; first quality $10 75 @ $11 25; second quality $10 25 @ $10 50; third quality $9 25 @ $10; poorest grade of coarse Oxen, Bulls, &c., $7 50 @ $9 00 ₱ cwt, (the total weight of hides, tallow and dressed beef.)

Brighton Hides 8c ₱ lb; Country Hides 7½ @ 8c ₱ lb.

Brighton Tallow 6@6½c per lb; Country Tallow 5½ @6c ₱ lb.

Sheep and Lamb Skins $1 75 @2 50 each; Calf Skins 16 @ 18c ₱ lb.

The supply this week was nearly as large as that of last; the quality of the Beeves falls a good, but the trade has not been so lively. Prices have fallen off from ½ @ 1c ₱ lb from last quotations. There were but a few Cattle sold as high as 12c ₱ lb. The Cattle from Maine were all Beeves and the demand for them dull. Some of the drovers sent their Cattle to be slaughtered and marketed rather than sell at prices offered for them. A large number of the best Cattle were taken at a commission.

Sheep and Lambs—Nearly all the Sheep and Lambs which are brought from the West are owned by butchers or bought for them at Albany and taken at a commission from the cars. We quote extra and select lots $4 50 @ $8; ordinary $2 @ $4 ₱ head, or from 5½ @ 8c ₱ lb. Trade dull and prices lower than last week.

Swine—Store Pigs—Wheelers 8½ @ 9½ ₱ lb; retail 8½ @ 10c ₱ lb. Fat Hogs—5300 at market; prices 8c @ 8½c ₱ lb. The trade for Store Pigs is dull and there were but a few fresh lots in market.

ARE YOU GOING TO PAINT?

—IF SO, USE THE—

AVERILL CHEMICAL PAINT.

It is Cheaper, Handsomer and more durable than the best of other Paints. One Thousand Gallons of it were sold in this City, in the year 1870, and not one complaint has come from those who have used it; but all speak in its favor; it is mixed ready for application, and is much easier put on than any other Paint, making a smooth, glossy surface for years, that can be cleaned with hot suds without injuring it. It is excellent for walls inside, in the place of paper.

I shall keep this season a large stock of Chemical Paints of all shades on hand, to accommodate customers with any amount, without delay in ordering it. Those who want to use the Chemical Paints and have had them misrepresented by those who deal in Lead and Oil, are invited to call and examine my Paints that have been on Buildings two years, and you will find them as fresh as if laid but one month.

I am prepared to do Painting by Contract, or by the day, using the Chemical Paint, or furnishing good experienced workmen by the day at very low wages. B. NORTON only Agent for selling the

(Opposite Revere House.)

DR. W. H. PARKER, Assistant Physician.

Medical knowledge for everybody. 250,000 copies sold in two years.

A Book for every Man.

THE SCIENCE OF LIFE, OR SELF-PRESERVATION. A Medical Treatise on the Cause and Cure of Enhanced Vitality, Premature Decline in Man, Nervous and Physical Debility, Hypochondria, and all other diseases arising from the Errors of Youth, or the Indiscretions or Excesses of mature years. This is indeed a book for every man. Price only $1.00. 285 pages, bound in cloth.

A Book for Every Woman,

Entitled SEXUAL PHYSIOLOGY OF WOMAN, AND HER DISEASES; or, WOMAN TREATED OF PHYSIOLOGICALLY AND PATHOLOGICALLY, from INFANCY TO OLD AGE, with elegant ILLUSTRATIVE ENGRAVINGS. 350 pages, bound in beautiful French cloth. Price $2.00.

A Book for Everybody,

Flattered by the reception of, and great demand for, the above valuable and timely treatises, and also to meet a great need of the present age, the author has just published a new book, treating exclusively of NERVOUS AND MENTAL DISEASES. 150 pp. cloth Price $1, or SENT FREE on receipt of $3 for the other two books, postpage paid.

These are, beyond all comparison, the most extraordinary works on Physiology ever published There is nothing whatever that the MARRIED OR SINGLE, of EITHER SEX, can either require or wish to know, but what is fully explained, and many matters of the most important and interesting character are introduced to which no allusion even can be found in any other works in our language. All the NEW DISCOVERIES of the author, whose experience is such as probably never before fell to the lot of any man, are given in full. No person should be without these valuable books.

"VALUABLE BOOKS.—We have received the valuable medical works published by the Peabody Medical Institute. These books are of actual merit, and should find a place in every intelligent family. They are not the cheap order of abominable trash, published by irresponsible parties, and purchased to gratify coarse tastes, but are written by a responsible professional gentleman of eminence, as a source of instruction on vital matters, concerning which lamentable ignorance exists. The important subjects presented are treated with delicacy, ability and care, and, as an appendix, many useful prescriptions for prevailing complaints are added."—Coos Republican, Lancaster, N. H.

"The author of these books is one of the most learned and popular physicians of the day, and is entitled to the great success he has met with in his valuable productions. It seems to be his aim to induce men and women to avoid the cause of those diseases to which they are subject, and he tells them just how and when to do it."—Chronicle, Farmington, Maine, Sept. 7, 1869.

Either book sent by mail on receipt of price.

N. B. The Author of the above-named medical works is the Chief Consulting Physician of the Peabody Medical Institute, and is so constantly employed in consultation with invalids from all parts of the country, that he has no time to attend to more business details. Therefore all letters should be addressed to the PEABODY MEDICAL INSTITUTE, or to Dr. W. H. PARKER, the Medical Assistant of the Author, and his Business Agent, who, as well as the Author himself, may be consulted on all diseases requiring skill, secrecy and experience. oct261yr

WEDNESDAY, APRIL 12, 1871.

HERE WE ARE AGAIN.

THE CONNECTICUT ELECTION.

An error in the count of the Governor vote has been discovered in the Fourth Ward of New Haven, where English gets 100 more votes than were actually polled for him. It is thought to be a clear case of fraud, and that this is not the first time it has occurred. There is no doubt of the overcount. This discovery, with the overcount of 24 in Enfield, will give Jewell over 100 majority. Of course the Legislature alone can legally determine the facts, but it is reported that the evidence is so clear, Gov. English will decline to make any contest over it, and it is possible that he may concede the election of Jewell before the meeting of the General Assembly.

In the new city of New Britain, at the city election, the first under the new charter, the Republican city ticket was elected by about 200 majority. Both branches of the city council are strongly Republican.

The recent judicial election in Wisconsin shows a total Republican gain of 5,000 since last year.

Although St. Louis, Mo., has chosen a Democratic Mayor, the Republican gain from last November is nearly 10,000.

MINNESOTA.

The Republicans elected their ticket at Duluth, Rochester and Stillwater.

CONGRESS.

The House, on the 10th, refused to second the previous question on the resolution offered by Mr. Parker of New Hampshire declaring that the tariff should be so reformed as to be taxed for revenue only, and not for protection of class interests at the general expense,—by a vote of 78 to 69.

FRANCE.

Favre is going to Berlin to accelerate the conclusion of peace, and reassure Bismark of the early restoration of order in Paris.

The strength of the army of Paris is 200,000 men.

The Versailles troops are steadily gaining ground, and the military situation has become exceedingly critical for the Commune, both on western and southern sides.

McMahon is expected to undertake operations on a great scale.

The insurgents made two sorties on Sunday, but were repulsed.

New Hampshire Items.

Col. J. B. Dearborn of Belmont has a cat, 19 years old.

A man in Danbury recently paid a debt of $40 which he had owed twenty-one years, and the creditor was so delighted, that he would take no interest, and gave half the amount to the children of the debtor.

The Legislature of Massachusetts has chartered the Nashua and Acton Railroad, which is to lead from Nashua to the Fitchburg Road. Only three miles of it lie in this State. A charter for this three miles will be asked from our Legislature in June, probably.

A team carrying a five thousand pound steam engine from Nashua to Londonderry, broke through the bridge at Center's Mills, Hudson, and landed on the bank of the river. The load was nearly across, so no great damage, except to the bridge, occurred. The farmers turned out with twenty yoke of oxen and got things straightened next day.

Hon. Samuel P. Thrasher, Democratic Senator elect in the 10th District, is dangerously ill with lung fever.

The Annual Examination of the State Reform School will take place Wednesday, April 19th, at one o'clock, P. M.

—The assassination of Mr. J. Q. Dickenson in Marianna, Florida, just made public, marks the death of the last leading Republican in a country in which sixty Republicans have been murdered in two years. He was shot for no other offence than that of being a Republican and an office holder.

BRUTAL ASSAULT IN THE NEW YORK ASSEMBLY. — On Friday night Mr. Smith M. Weed was assaulted by Jim Irving, a member from New York city. Mr. Weed is a democrat, and one of the few with the integrity or courage to stand out against Tammany Ring dictation. He has defeated several schemes for the benefit of the Ring,—once by detecting a false count of votes by the Clerk. On Friday night, as the vote was being taken on a bill reported to be corrupt, Mr. Weed went along to the Clerk's desk to overlook the tally, and while standing there, Mr. Irving, a friend of the bill, stepped up to him and with insulting epithets pushed against him, and would have struck him there, but for the interference of friends. The parties then withdrew into the ante-room, when Mr. Irving threw off all restraint and struck Mr. Weed a violent blow, knocking him against the door, when he was seized by friends and prevented from further outrage. The evidence of all present is that Irving's attack was unprovoked, and that Weed tried to avoid the conflict. A committee was appointed to investigate the affair. Irving has resigned.

THE GERMANS AT WASHINGTON had a grand peace celebration on Monday, and Senators Schurz and Patterson were invited guests. During Senator Patterson's speech there was general amusement at the expense of Baron Gerolt. Senator Patterson was speaking to the general satisfaction of the audience, when he referred to the great example of the union of the German states, and closed by proposing, as a toast, the future republic of North Germany. Baron Gerolt who had been quite enthusiastic as the speech went on and had lifted his glass to respond, suddenly set it down and became very grave, much to the amusement of the large number of persons who noticed the movement.

THE NEW YORK WORLD headed its report of the Connecticut election with displayed lines, "Democratic gains in the Legislature," "Fraudulent Voting." It is not often that cause and effect are so closely connected by the copperhead press in their account of their party success.

IMPOSING DEMONSTRATIONS were made by the Germans of New York, Philadelphia, Baltimore and Washington, Monday, to celebrate the return of peace in Europe. The procession and display in New York was one of the finest ever seen in that city.

BUFFALO GNATS are killing large numbers of horses, mules and cattle along the Missouri river. The recent overflow of the river has made them and the mosquitoes very numerous.

☞ The ringleaders of the Scranton riot are to be arrested at once, but forty thousand miners are pledged to resist their capture.

THE U. S. SUPREME COURT has decided that property bought at sale under the confiscation act is secure to the purchaser.

ANDREW JOHNSON wants to come back into the fold as a Republican. Grant forbid! Andy is only dangerous as a friend.

SCHUYLER COLFAX is now regarded, here and in England, as the best parliamentarian in the world.

MASSACHUSETTS is to vote whether malt liquors shall be sold or not, on the first Tuesday in May.

WEEPING AND WAILING BUT NO GNASHING OF TEETH.—Terrible times in Warrenton, Va., are thus depicted: A few weeks ago a dentist came to town, and advertised that he would "remove all of a person's teeth for $2, and insert a new set for $10, besides giving six months' credit." The Warrenton people are very fond of bargains, so there was a rush for the dentist's office. He was busy for two weeks pulling teeth and at the end of that time half the people had empty gums, and a bone dust factory in the neighborhood doubled its number of workmen so as to grind up the teeth. While the people were waiting for the dentist to fit them with their new sets, the scoundrel eloped with the hotel-keeper's wife; and now there are two or three thousand people in the town who cannot eat anything tougher than soup or farina. All the butchers have failed, and not a cracker has been sold for six weeks. One man, it is said, whittled out a set of wooden teeth for himself; but the first drink of whisky he took—Warrenton whisky—set them in a blaze, and his funeral came off the next day. The dentist will hear of something greatly to his disadvantage if he comes back.

—A mother trying to get her little daughter of three years old to sleep one night said, "Anna, why don't you try to go to sleep?" "I am trying," she replied. "But you haven't shut your eyes." "Well, tan't help it; um comes unbuttoned."

—It is given out, by those reputed to be well informed, that the tunnel under the Detroit River, from Detroit to Windsor, will be commenced during the coming summer. The plan is to construct three tunnels, two of which are to be about 16 feet in height, and running parallel to one another across, and uniting at one entrance and exit at each end. A third will be made of smaller dimensions, say five feet in diameter, to act as a main drain, and to be situated underneath and between the other two. The work will be commenced on the last-named tunnel first, so that drainage of the work may be effected as fast as they are carried on. Present appearances justify the surmise that this valuable engineering work will be completed in about two years.

SUPREME JUDICIAL COURT. — This Court commenced its April term at Exeter on Tuesday, Judge Ladd of Lancaster, presiding. Prayer was offered by Rev. Mr. Copp of Exeter. Judge Ladd charged the Grand Jury at some considerable length.

M. Bozzaris Goodrich, Esq., is the Grand Juror from Portsmouth. On the Petit Jury are Samuel Adams, Andrew J. Penhallow and Wm. Plaisted, excused; Robert Shillaber, who appears in a new role in the Court House; Dr. Sylvester Gilbert and Howard Walker.*

The number of actions on the continued docket is 285.

No case being ready for trial, the Court adjourned to Wednesday morning, at 9 o'clock.

BUSINESS NOTICES.

Thieves! Knaves!! Swindlers!!! These are mild terms with which to designate those mean contemptible adventurers, who have been induced by the high reputation which Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy has won to put up and offer for sale a worthless imitation of this celebrated medicine. Remember that Dr. Pierce's private Stamp, which is the only positive guarantee of genuineness, should be upon every package. This private stamp, issued by the U. S. Government expressly for stamping Dr. Pierce's medicines, has upon it his portrait, name and address, and the words "U. S. Certificate of Genuineness." Dont get swindled by men calling themselves Dr. Sage; Dr. R. V. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y., is the only man now living that has the right and can prepare the genuine and original Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy. Sold by druggists, or sent by mail on receipt of sixty cents.

Veterinary Surgeons all over the country are recommending Sheridan's Cavalry Condition Powders for the following trouble in horses:—Loss of appetite, roughness of the hair, stoppage of bowels or water, thick water, coughs and colds, swelling of the glands, worms, horse ail, thick wind and heaves.

A friend of ours who is chief clerk in the Governmental Dispensary, says that no medicine chest is now complete without Johnson's Anodyne Liniment. We always supposed it was prescribed by law; if it is not, it ought to be, for certainly there is nothing in the whole materia medica of so much importance to the soldier and the sailor as Johnson's Anodyne Liniment.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

Exhaustion.

Invalids, broken down in health and spirits by Chronic Dyspepsia, or suffering from the terrible exhaustion which follows the attacks of acute disease, the testimony of thousands who have been raised as by a miracle from a similar state of prostration by HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS, is a sure guarantee that by the same means you too may be strengthened and restored. But to those who stand in peril of epidemics, to all who, by reason of exposure, privations and uncongenial climate or unhealthy pursuits, may at any moment be stricken down, this paragraph is most particularly and emphatically addressed. You, who, are thus situated, are proffered an absolute safeguard against the danger that menaces you. Tone and regulate the system with this harmless medicinal stimulant and alterative, and you will be forearmed against the maladies whose seeds float around you in the air unseen. HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS are not only a standard tonic and alterative throughout the United States, but they are accredited by the certificates of the most distinguished citizens of the Union, to the people of all other lands. In Canada, Australia and the West Indies, they are gradually taking the place of all other stomachics, whether native or foreign, and as surely as truth is progressive and demonstration overthrows doubt, they will eventually supersede every other invigorant and restorative now employed in medical practice.

A barbarous custom—tolling bells at funerals.

WE HEAR that the new Hall, corner of Market Street and Market Squard, will probably be occupied as a lecture room by Spiritualists, and that a gallery is to be built near the entrance.

THE MEETING at the City Rooms, Monday evening, to consider what steps should be taken to endeavor to secure the holding of the next State Fair in Portsmouth, was attended by many of our most prominent and influential citizens, all of whom were thoroughly interested in the subject of the meeting. After considerable earnest discussion, a committee was appointed to confer with the State Agricultural Committee, and ascertain definitely what guaranties will be required to give us the Fair next Fall; Messrs. Frank Jones, Frank W. Miller, J. D. Butler, Edward D. Coffin, C. Hiram Hayes and Geo. W. Pendexter constituting the committee appointed by the meeting. They are live men, and if the people will but second their efforts as they should be seconded, we see no reason why our city should not secure whatever benefits may arise from holding this important Fair in our midst.

THE Rockingham Co-operative Boot and Shoe Manufacturing Company have been fairly at work for about a month, and have every prospect of success. They are making a first-class line of sewed goods, and find no difficulty in securing a market for all they can produce; in fact, they are unable to keep up with their orders. We inspected their manufactory on Tuesday, and found all the most approved machines used in the trade, but only a few manufactured goods, as they are sent off as fast as finished. What we did see seemed to us to be of the very best. Only first quality materials are used, and every part of the work is carefully performed.

We are pleased to record the prosperity of this new enterprise in our midst, and have no doubt that its success will steadily increase. There is no reason why such should not be the case, where each workman has a direct interest in the prosperity of the company; and the men who while working for capitalists, have saved the sums required to enable them to become stockholders, must have habits of thrift and economy which will go far to insure success when they in turn become manufacturers. The men who keep "Saint Monday" four days in each week, are not the ones who have enterprise and money to lay out in bettering their condition. With a determination to work for success, and to deserve it by putting only first-class goods in the market, the Rockingham Co. invested their united capital and skill in the co-operative manufacturing business; their enterprise is no longer,—if ever was—an experiment, and another step has been taken towards restoring to our city a portion of its former prosperity. We close this notice of a new and important industry by confidently asserting that if Portsmouth ever regains the place she once held, it must be by the efforts of the young men; and that the Rockingham Co. have done more for the welfare of the city in starting their manufactory than they would have done by purchasing many times their capital's worth of the choicest gold-bearing bonds.

THE body of the woman found drowned at Saco is said to be that of Miss Mary McCarthy of Boston. It is said she has been intimate with Henry L. Joy, who has disappeared. It is either a case of murder or suicide—perhaps double suicide.

Joy left a bundle at his wife's door containing $575, and directions to his trunk at Biddeford depot, which, when found, contained a letter confessing adultery and intent of self-murder. The woman's trunk was also found and returned to Boston. Joy was a mason and builder doing business in Boston in the firm of Kelley & Joy.

No trace of him has been found, except his hat which was discovered on an island near the mouth of the river, but he had also a cap with him at the hotel, and it was remarked that the jewelry worn by the woman in Saco was not found on her dead body.

☞ THE NEW HAMPSHIRE GAZETTE for this week, is now ready for delivery, at the Chronicle Office. Each number contains all the reading matter of the week's Dailies. Price $2 a year; single copies 5 cents,—in wrappers for mailing, if desired. Six copies for $10 per year, to Clubs—per mail or city carrier.

THE NEW POETRY.—The new order of poetry, represented chiefly by Bret Harte and Col. John Hay, is awakening discussion and criticism in Europe as well as this country. The latest specimens are found in the current number of Harper's Weekly. The first is by Col. Hay, who by the way, was one of Mr. Lincoln's private secretaries and has since been abroad in a diplomatic capacity, but is now connected with the New York Tribune. The second is by Bret Harte.

Banty Tim.

[Remarks of Sergeant Tilmon Joy to the White Man's Committee of Spunky Point, Illinois.]

I reckon I git your drift, gents,
You 'low the boy sha'n't stay;
This is a white man's country;
You're Democrats, you say;
And whereas, and seein', and wherefore,
The times being all out o' jint,
The nigger has got to mosey,
From the limits o' Spunky Pint!

Le's reason the thing a minute;
I'm an old-fashioned Dimocrat too,
Though I laid my politics out n' the way,
For to keep till the war was through.
But I come back here, allowin'
To vote as I used to do,
Though it gravels me like the devil to train,
Along o' sich fools as you.

Now dog my cats of I kin see,
In all the light of the day,
What you've got to do with the question,
Ef Tim shall go or stay.
And furder than that I give notice,
Ef one of you tetches the boy,
He can check his tickets to a warmer clime,
Than he'll find in Illanoy.

Why, blame your hearts, jest hear me!
You know that ungodly day,
When our left struck Vicksburg Hight, now ripped
And torn and tattered we lay;
When the rest retreated I staid behind,
For reasons sufficient to me,
With a rib caved in, and a log on a strike,
I sprawled on that cursed glacee.

Lord! how the hot sun went for us,
And briled and blistered and burned,
How the rebel bullets whizzed round us
When a cuss in his death-grin turned;
Till along toward dusk I seen a thing
I couldn't believe for a spell;
That nigger—that Tim—was a crawlin' to me
Through that fire-proof, gilt-edged hell!

The rebels seen him as quick as me,
And the bullets buzzed like bees;
But he jumped for me and shouldered me,
Though a shot brought him once to his knees;
But he staggered up, and packed me off,
With a dozen stumbles and falls,
Till safe in our lines he drapped us both
His black hide riddled with balls.

So my gentle gazelles, thar's my answer,
And here stays Banty Tim;
He trumped Death's ace for me that day,
And I'm not going back on him.
You may resolcot till the cows come home,
But of one of you tetches the boy,
He'll wrastle his hash to-night in hell,
Or my name's not Tilmon Joy!

In the Mission Garden.—(1865.)

FATHER FELIPE.

I speak not the English well, but Pachita
She speak for me; is it not so, my Pancha?
Eh, little rogue? Come, salute me the stranger Americano.

Sir, in my country we say, "Where the heart is There live the speech." Ah! you not understand?
So!
Pardon an old man—what you call "ol' fogy"—
Padre Felipe!

Old, Senor, old! just so old as the Mission,
You see that pear-tree? Twenty? Ah Senor, just Fifty
Gone, since I plant him!

You like the wine? It is some at the Mission,
Made from the grape of the year Eighteen Hundred,
All the same time when the earthquake came to San Juan Bautista.

But Pancha is twelve, and she is the rose tree;
And I am the olive, and this is the garden,
And Pancha we say; but her name is Francisca,
Same like her mother.

Eh, you know her! No? Ah! it is a story—
But I speak not, like Pachita, the English,
So! If I try, you will sit here beside me,
And shall not laugh, eh!

When the American comes to the Mission,
Many arrive to the house of Francisca,
One—he was fine man—he buy the cattle
Of Jose Castro.

So! he came much, and Francisca she saw him;
And it was Love—and a very dry season—
And the pears bake on the tree—and the rain come,
But not Francisca!

Not for one year; and one night I have walk much
Under the olive-tree, when comes Francisca—
Comes to me here, with her child, this Francisca—
Under the olive-tree.

Sir, it was sad....but I spake not the English—
So!....she stay here and she waitfor her husband.
He come no more, and she sleep on the hill-side;
There stands Pachita.

Ah! there's the Angelus. Will you enter!
Or shall you walk in the garden with Pancha!
Go, little rogue—sit—attend to the stranger;
Adios, Senor.

PACHITA (briskly.)

So, he's been telling that yarn about mother?
Bless you, he tells it to every stranger,
Folks about yer say the old man's my father.
What's your opinion?

Consumption,

ITS CURE AND ITS PREVENTIVE.

By J. H. SCHENCK, M. D.

Many a human being has passed away, for whose death there was no other reason (Mr. the neglect of known and indisputably proved means of cure. Those near and dear to family and friends are sleeping the dreamless slumber into which, had they calmly adopted and availed themselves of his wonderfully efficacious remedies, they would not have fallen.

Dr. Schenck has in his own case proven that wherever sufficient vitality remains, that, relying on his medicines and his directions for their use, is quickened into healthful vigor.

In this statement there is nothing presumptuous. To the faith of the invalid is made no representation that is not a thousand times substantiated by living and visible works. The theory of the cure by Dr. Schenck's medicines is as simple as it is unfailing. Its philosophy needs no argument. It is self assuring, self-convincing.

The Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills are the first two weapons with which the citadel of the malady is assailed. Two-thirds of the cases of consumption originate in dyspepsia and a torpid and disordered liver. With this condition the bronchial tubes "sympathize" with the stomach. They respond to the morbific action of the liver. Here, then comes the culminating result, and the setting in, with all its distressing symptoms, of

CONSUMPTION.

The Mandrake Pills are composed of one of Nature's noblest gifts—the Podophillum Peltatum. They possess all the blood-searching, alterative properties of calomel, but unlike calomel, they

"LEAVE NO STING BEHIND."

The work of cure is now beginning. The vitiated and mucous deposits in the bowels and in the alimentary canal are ejected. The liver, like a clock, is wound up. It arouses from its torpidity. The stomach acts responsively, and the patient begins to feel that he is getting, at last,

A SUPPLY OF GOOD BLOOD.

The Seaweed Tonic, in conjunction with the Pills, permeates and assimilates with the food. Chylification is now progressing, without its previous torture. Digestion becomes painless, and the cure is seen to be at hand. There is no more flatulence, no exacerbation of the stomach. An appetite sets in.

Now comes the greatest blessing of all, given by an indulgent father to suffering man. Schenck's Pulmonic Syrup comes in to perform its functions and to hasten and complete the cure. It enters at once upon its work. Nature cannot be cheated. It only needs the healing balm for the diseased portions of the lungs. In the form of gatherings it prepares them for expectoration, and lo! in a very short time the malady is vanquished, the rotten throne that it occupied is renovated and made new, and the patient, in all the dignity of regained vigor, steps forth to enjoy the manhood or womanhood that was

GIVEN UP AS LOST.

The second thing is, the patients must stay in a warm room, until they get well; it is dangerous, if possible to prevent taking cold when the lungs are diseased, but it must be prevented or a cure cannot be effected. Most people, I regret, especially in this section of the country in the fall and winter season, are all wrong. Physicians have prescribed that course for their patients, if their lungs are badly diseased; and yet, because they are in the house they get cold, and the patient they must walk about the room as much and as fast as the strength will bear, to get up a good circulation of blood. The patient gets cold, it is true, but he must be determined to get well. This has a great deal to do with the appetite, and is the great point to gain.

To display of cure after such evidence of its possibility in the worst cases, and moral certainty in all others, is useless. I will only add, that I attribute to the Faculty of his own cure was in these modest words:

"Many years ago I was in the last stages of consumption: confined to my bed, and at one time my physicians thought I could not live a week; then like a drowning man catching at straws, I heard of, and obtained the preparations which I now offer to the public, and they made a perfect cure of me. It seemed to me that I could feel them penetrate my whole system. They soon ripened the matter in my lungs, and I would spit up more than a pint of offensive yellow matter every morning for a long time. At last it began to subside, my cough, fever, pains and night sweats all began to leave me, and my appetite became so great that it was with difficulty that I could keep from eating too much. I soon gained my strength, and have enjoyed perfect health."

"I was weighed shortly after my recovery," added the Doctor, "then looking like a mere skeleton my weight was only twenty-seven pounds; my present weight is two hundred and twenty-five (225) pounds, and for years I have enjoyed uninterrupted health."

Dr. Schenck has discontinued his professional visits to New York and Boston. He or his son, Dr. J. H. Schenck, Jr., still continue to see patients at their office, No. 15 North Sixth street, Philadelphia, every Monday from 9 A. M. to 3 P. M. Those who wish a thorough examination with the Respirometer will be accommodated. The Respirometer declares the exact condition of the lungs, and patients can readily learn whether they are curable or not.

The directions for using the medicines are adapted to the intelligence even of a child. Follow these directions, and Nature will do the work, excepting that in some cases the Mandrake Pills are to be taken in increased doses; the three medicines need no change in any case, and the ample instructions that accompany them: First, create appetite. Of returning health hungers is the most welcome symptom. When it comes, as it will come, let the despairing at once be of good cheer. Good blood at once follows the cough loosens, the night sweat is abated. In a short time both of these morbid symptoms are gone forever.

Dr. Schenck's medicines are constantly kept in tens of thousands of families. As a laxative or purgative, the Mandrake Pills are a standard preparation: while the Pulmonic Syrup, as a cure of coughs and colds, may be regarded as a prophylactic against consumption in any of its forms.

Price of the Pulmonic Syrup and Seaweed Tonic $1.50, a bottle, or $7.50 a half-dozen. Mandrake Pills, 25 cents a box. For sale by all druggists and dealers.

FIRST MORTGAGE

7 PER CENT. GOLD BONDS,

ON A COMPLETED ROAD,

FREE OF U. S. TAX,

At 90 and Accrued Interest in Currency.

Burlington, Cedar Rapids and Minnesota Railway.

The completion of this Road has given to these Bonds an established character equal to any mortgage issue dealt in at the Stock Exchange. We are prepared to buy and sell them at any time, at our Banking House, at market price—thus placing them on the same basis; for temporary or permanent investment, with Governments or any other security.

These bonds are a first and only mortgage on a railroad that has cost double the amount of the issue, and which commands, without competition, all the traffic of Northern Iowa and Southern Minnesota—shortening the distance from St. Paul to Chicago 45 miles, and to St. Louis more than 90 miles.

The net earnings are already largely in excess of interest on the bonds, and no doubt exists that they will more than double within the ensuing year.

A contract has been secured with the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy Railroad Company obligating the latter to invest 50 per cent. of gross earnings derived from traffic with the Burlington, Cedar Rapids and Minnesota Road in the bonds of this Company. This arrangement is a strong guarantee of the Bonds, and establishes a large sinking fund for their redemption.

The convertibility privilege in these bonds enables them to be exchanged for stock, at par, at any time. This secures to the holder, at his option, a share in any excess of earnings over the interest obligation.

An exchange of Government securities for these bonds returns 9½ per cent. interest, instead of 5 per cent., which is all that Governments pay at present prices, besides leaving an immediate gain of about 20 per cent. in price for re-investment.

All marketable Securities taken in exchange free of Commission and Express charges. f24WaS

A GREAT MEDICAL DISCOVERY!

DR. WALKER'S CALIFORNIA

VINEGAR BITTERS.

Hundreds of Thousands Bear Testimony to their Wonderful Curative Effects.

WHAT ARE THEY!

THEY ARE NOT A VILE FANCY DRINK,

Made of Poor Rum, Whiskey, Proof Spirits and Refuse Liquors doctored, spiced and sweetened to please the taste, called "Tonics," "Appetizers," "Restorers," &c., that lead the tippler on to drunkenness and ruin, but are a true Medicine, made from the Native Roots and Herbs of California, free from all Alcoholic Stimulants. They are the GREAT BLOOD PURIFIER and a LIFE-GIVING PRINCIPLE, a perfect Renovator and Invigorator of the system, carrying off all poisonous matter and restoring the blood to a healthy condition. No person can take these Bitters according to direction and remain long unwell, provided the bones are not destroyed by mineral poison or other means, and the vital organs wasted beyond the point of repair.

For Inflammatory and Chronic Rheumatism and Gout, Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Bilious, Remittent and Intermittent Fevers, Diseases of the Blood, Liver, Kidneys and Bladder, these Bitters have been most successful. Such Diseases are caused by Vitiated Blood, which is generally produced by derangement of the Digestive Organs.

DYSPEPSIA OR INDIGESTION, Headache, Pain in the Shoulders, Coughs, Tightness of the Chest, Dizziness, Sour Eructations of the Stomach, Bad taste in the Mouth, Bilious Attacks, Palpitation of the Heart, Inflammation of the Lungs, Pain in the regions of the Kidneys, and a hundred other painful symptoms, are the offspring of Dyspepsia.

They invigorate the stomach and stimulate the torpid liver and bowels, which render them of unequalled efficacy in cleansing the blood of all impurities and imparting new life and vigor to the whole system.

FOR SKIN DISEASES, Eruptions, Tetter, Salt Rheum, Blotches, Spots, Pimples, Pustules, Boils, Carbuncles, Ring-Worms, Scald Head, Sore Eyes, Erysipelas, Itch, Scurfs, Discolorations of the Skin, Humors and Diseases of the Skin, of whatever name or nature, are literally dug up and carried out of the system in a short time by the use of these Bitters. One bottle in such cases will convince the most incredulous of their curative effect.

Cleanse the Vitiated Blood whenever you find its impurities bursting through the skin in Pimples, Eruptions or Sores; cleanse it when you find it obstructed and sluggish in the veins, cleanse it when it is foul, and your feelings will tell you when. Keep the blood pure, and the health of the system will follow.

PIN, TAPE and other WORMS, lurking in the system of so many thousands, are effectually destroyed and removed. For full directions, read carefully the circular around each bottle, printed in four languages—English, German, French and Spanish.

FOR FEMALE COMPLAINTS, whether in young or old, married or single, at the dawn of womanhood or at the turn of life, these Tonic Bitters have no equal. ☞ Send for a circular.

They are a Gentle Purgative as well as a Tonic, possessing also, the peculiar merit of acting as a powerful agent in relieving Congestion or Inflammation of the Liver, and all the Visceral Organs. lyrdawf6bi8

THE CENTRAL RAILROAD CO.

OF IOWA,

have now built and equipped, in first-class manner, about

180 MILES OF RAILROAD,

which will complete their entire line, with the exception of laying the track on twenty-five miles, which is already graded. They will thus open

The First Through Line Across the State

from north to south, and, by making a slight detour at one point, they will give

DIRECT COMMUNICATION BETWEEN ST. LOUIS AND ST. PAUL.

This line of Railroad will have very special advantages for both local and through business, besides such superior railroad connections as will secure to it a large portion of the carrying trade of the Great Northwest. The

First Mortgage

7 PER CENT. GOLD BONDS,

which are issued upon this road, are limited in amount to $16,000 per mile (while many roads issue from $20,000 to $40 000,) and are offered at 90 and accrued interest, in currency. About two millions and a half of these bonds have already been disposed of, leaving but a small balance unsold, which are being rapidly taken.

The most experienced financiers agree that First Mortgage Bonds, to a limited amount, upon finished railroad, which is well located for business, are one of the very safest forms of investment.

Parties desiring to secure a first-class security, based upon a railroad practically done, and in the hands of leading capitalists who have a large pecuniary and business interest in its success, will do well to apply at the office of the Company, or any of its advertised agents, for a pamphlet and map, showing the characteristics of the enterprise.

7-30 GOLD LOAN

—OF THE—

NORTHERN PACIFIC RAILROAD.

RAPID PROGRESS OF THE WORK.

The building of the Northern Pacific Railroad, (begun July last,) is being pushed forward with great energy from both extremities of the line. Several thousand men are employed in Minnesota and on the Pacific coast. The grade is nearly completed 266 miles eastward from Lake Superior; trains are running over 130 miles of finished road, and track-laying is rapidly progressing toward the eastern border of Dakota. The land in the purchase of the St. Paul & Pacific Road, the Northern Pacific Company now has 413 miles of completed road, and by December next this will be increased to at least 560.

A GOOD INVESTMENT.—Jay Cooke & Co. are now selling and unhesitatingly recommend, as a Profitable and perfectly Safe Investment, the First Mortgage Land Grant Gold Bonds of the Northern Pacific Railroad Company. They have 30 years to run, bear Seven and Three-Tenths' per cent. gold interest (more than 8 per cent. currency) and are secured by first and only mortgage on the entire ROAD AND ITS EQUIPMENT, and also, as fast as the Road is completed, on 23,000 ACRES OF LAND to every mile of track, or 300 Acres for each $1,000 Bond. They are exempt from U. S. Tax; Principal and Interest are payable in Gold; Denominations; Coupons, $100 to $1,000; Registered, $100 to $10,000.

LANDS FOR BONDS.—Northern Pacific 7-30's are at all times receivable at TEN PER CENT. ABOVE PAR, in exchange for EQUITABLE Company's Lands, at their lowest cash price. This renders them practically INTEREST BEARING LAND WARRANTS.

SINKING FUNDS.—The proceeds of all sales of Lands are required to be devoted to the re-purchase and cancellation of the First Mortgage Bonds of the Company. The Land Grant of the Road exceeds Fifty Million Acres. This immense Sinking Fund will undoubtedly cancel the principal of the Company's bonds before they fall due. With their ample security and high rate of interest, there is no investment, accessible to the people, which is more DESIRABLE OR SAFE.

EXCHANGING U. S. FIVE-TWENTIES.—The success of the New Government 5 per cent. Loan will compel the early surrender of United States 6 per cents. Many holders of Five-Twenties are now exchanging them for Northern Pacific Seven-Thirties, thus realizing a handsome profit and greatly increasing their yearly income.

OTHER SECURITIES.—All marketable Stocks and Bonds will be received at their highest current price in exchange for Northern Pacific Seven-Thirties. EXPRESS CHARGES on Money or Bonds received and on Seven-Thirties sent in return, will be paid by the Financial Agents. Full information, maps, pamphlets, etc., can be obtained on application at any agency, or from the undersigned. For sale by EDDY'S SEARCH!

OR,

A Brave Boy's Battle.

DR. BULLET'S "PRIVATE RETREAT."

It was early in June, 1851. In one of the small, neatly furnished rooms of good Mrs. Brierly's boarding-house, at Poughkeepsie, was seated our hero, Eddy Burns.

He was a fair and handsome lad, fifteen years of age, with bright blue eyes, a noble forehead, fair hair, and resolute mouth. He was a brave boy, first in his class at school, and distinguished for his generosity and kindness of heart.

His home was at Riverton, some miles further up the river, but he was a student at Poughkeepsie, and it was now several weeks since he had seen his home and his mother.

His geography lay unheeded on his knees as he wove his boyish plans; how he would achieve wealth and fame, and make his mother proud of him.

He was only aroused from his reverie by the entrance of Mrs. Brierly. She held up two letters.

"From home, I guess, Eddy," she said.

Eddy's face glowed as he sprang up, receiving the letters.

"It's about time I had a letter from mother," he exclaimed. "One is from her. Who can have written the other? I'll read mother's first, any how."

"I'll just stay to hear if Mrs. Burns is well," remarked Mrs. Brierly. "How is she?"

The boy tore open the smaller of the two envelopes, and hurriedly perused his mother's letter.

And as he read the glow faded from his face, the smile from his lips. He read the letter to the close, and looked up at Mrs. Brierly with an expression of unutterable grief.

"What is it, Eddy?" she questioned anxiously.

The lad replied only by a moan.

"Dead?" cried Mrs. Brierly.

Eddy shook his head.

"Not dead," he sobbed, "but it is almost the same. You can read the letter, Mrs. Brierly. Oh, my mother! my mother!"

He sobbed aloud.

Mrs. Brierly caught up the letter from the floor to which it had fallen.

It ran as follows:

"RIVERTON ON HUDSON,
June 10th, 1859.

MY DARLING SON: You must have wondered that I have not permitted your weekly visits home for the past month, and that I have written to you less frequently than usual. I am about to write you an explanation.

Three years ago your father and I were the happiest couple in Riverton. We lived in our own house, a pretty little villa overlooking the river, and your father owned his factory which was near. The failure of an extensive firm with which my poor husband was connected hurled us down to poverty.

About the time of my husband's failure, the California gold excitement became a fever in our vicinity. A successful miner returned to Riverton from the land of gold, and for days a portion of his wealth was displayed in our banker's window in the shape of a hugh gold brick. Your father, smarting under his reverses, conceived the idea of going to California, and two years ago he went.

Hart Burgoyne furnished him money for his venture. It was to the care Hart Burgoyne my husband and your father commended us in the hour of his departure. It was Hart Burgoyne who attended him to New York, who paid his passage, and whose friendly face he last saw before setting out upon the ill-fated voyage.

You know Eddy, that your father died of fever in California, within a week of his landing in San Francisco.

Hart Burgoyne was my lover, that I rejected for your father's truest friend, and has never borne me malice because I preferred another to him. He has lately renewed his suit to me, and urges me to become his wife. He has offered to make you his heir.

You know how poor I am, Eddy. I have not the strength to work as I used. I am anxious that you should obtain an education. In short, Eddy, I have consented to marry Mr. Burgoyne. It is for your sake, my boy. Do not believe that any one can come between us—you and me. I respect Mr. Burgoyne—I honor and esteem him—but I have told him that I have no love to give him. My heart is with you, dear Eddy, and with my lost Richard. That first love was the great love of my life.

We are to be married this morning—within an hour. I would have sent for you, but Mr. Burgoyne thought I had better not. We are to be married in my little cottage parlor, and we will then walk up together to the villa to which your father took me as his bride.

Come home to us on Saturday. Come with a light heart and a smiling face. Always your loving mother, though now for the last time I write my name JULIA BURNS."

Mrs. Brierly read this letter through. At its conclusion, she exclaimed:

"I don't see anything to fret at, Eddy. One would think your mother was dead. What is the matter? Don't you like Mr. Burgoyne?"

"No—no!" cried Eddy, with a shudder, "and he don't like me."

"What's done can't be undone," continued Mrs. Brierly. "I'd make the best of the matter."

"I will make the best of it, Mrs. Brierly," returned Eddy. "Poor mother! She married Mr. Burgoyne for my sake—and she shall never know that her marriage has cost me a pang."

Eddy took up the second letter, opened and read it aloud, while upon his countenance slowly gathered an expression of horror.

The second letter was from Hart Burgoyne.

"RIVERTON, June 12th, 1851.

MASTER EDWARD BURNS:—As you will understand, by the letter written by your mother the other day, Mrs. Julia Burns is now my wife. We were married on the morning of the 10th.

During the evening of the day on which we were married, I was called from home for an hour on business. On my return, I was met by my bride, who was in a state of frightful excitement. That excitement increased at sight of me, and a terrible scene ensued, in which the poor creature made an attack upon my life.

I summoned Dr. Bullet, and he, with other physicians, pronounced her dangerously insane. No one was with her in my absence. The cause of the attack is supposed to be excitement, brought on by finding herself to the same rooms where she had spent the first years of her first marriage. By medical advice, I caused poor Julia to be removed to Dr. Bullet's private retreat for the insane, where she now is, under the Doctor's wise and skillful treatment. Her recovery is more than doubtful.

I advise you to remain at Poughkeepsie until your school vacation, when you will come to my house, which is to be your future home. You have my sympathy in this affliction. Truly yours, HART BURGOYNE."

The letter fell from Eddy's nerveless hands. There were no tears now, but instead a look of stern resolve. Mrs. Brierly was startled as she encountered his burning glance.

"Insane on her bridal day!" exclaimed the good woman. "What an awful blow for you, my poor boy!

"Insane!" cried Eddy. "I don't believe it!"

"Not believe it! Why, here it is in black and white!"

A spasm of pain passed over Eddy's features, but he uttered no moan and shed no tear.

"There is a mystery here I can't understand," he said. "All I know is that my mother is in trouble, and I shall have just time to catch the three o'clock boat!"

He set about his preparations for departure at once, bade Mrs. Brierly good-by and hurried to the steam-boat landing, arriving just in time to catch the up river boat.

About an hour later he disembarked at Riverton, and swiftly took his way up the steep street to the bluff upon which the Burgoyne villa was situated.

The house stood back from the street. Eddy opened the small iron gate and passed into the shaded recesses of the lawn, hurrying to the house. He ascended the steps, when he discerned a man seated upon the veranda.

Eddy recognized Hart Burgoyne, and made his way to him without causing himself to be announced.

Mr. Burgoyne was smoking a cigar, but at Eddy's approach, started, and arose, his face changing color.

"You here?" he ejaculated.

"Yes, I am here," responded Eddy coolly.

The man and the boy faced each other in a mute antagonism.

Hart Burgoyne was a tall, well proportioned, portly man, forty years of age, with a florid complexion, and a prominent Roman nose, who bore the reputation of an honest, upright gentleman of great wealth.

"I told you to remain at Poughkeepsie till your school term closed," began Mr. Burgoyne irritably.

"I know you did, sir," returned Eddy respectfully. "But my mother is in trouble."

"Sit down, boy. I can see that the news has been a shock to you," said Mr. Burgoyne, in a more affable tone. "You cannot imagine how I have suffered!"

Eddy's heart softened toward him.

"Is mother really so bad off, sir, as you stated in your letter?" he asked, in a faltering voice.

"Bad off, my poor Eddy! She is raving mad."

Eddy shivered.

"Don't you know what made her crazy?" he asked.

"No. I wish I did. We were married in the morning, and she came home with me. We talked together, spending the day very pleasantly on the verandas. In the evening I was called out on business. Julia went into the library. The house-keeper says that no one called during my absence, and that Julia saw no one. Yet when I came in, an hour later, my wife flew at me like a wild-cat. She tried to kill me. The truth is, she did not know me—"

"Not know you, sir?"

"No. And she flew at Dr. Bullet also."

"Then there was no positive cause for this sudden attack, sir?"

"None, unless the sight of the house to which she came as a bride, sixteen years ago. Everything is as Burns arranged it. The sight of her old home where she had been so happy was, no doubt, too much for her sensitive soul."

"Mother is at the private madhouse?" asked Eddy, after a pause.

"Yes, I had to send her there."

"I suppose I can see her?" asked Eddy.

"You must ask Dr. Bullet, my boy. He can judge best of the effect your presence would have on his patient."

"Then I will walk out to the asylum," declared Eddy. "I can neither eat nor sleep till I have seen my mother!"

"Well, come back after you have seen her," said Mr. Burgoyne. "But be sure to be back by six, or supper time."

Eddy took his leave.

"There is some mystery in all this," he whispered. "Some dreadful mystery. And I must know what it is! Now for Doctor Bullet's!"

About a mile from the village of Riverton, upon a lonely country road, stood Dr. Bullet's private asylum for the insane.

The grounds were separated from the road by a high stone-wall. The house—square, three stories in height, built of red brick, and lighted within by narrow, grated windows—was some distance from the road, in the midst of a small pine grove, which screened the asylum from the curious glances of casual passers-by.

The double iron gates were open upon this bright June afternoon, and Eddy passed unchallenged into the grounds, and, with a sinking heart, he ascended the steps of the high porch and rang the door-bell loudly.

Presently the bolts securing the door upon the inner side were withdrawn, and a coarse looking fellow, one of the keepers of the institution evidently, presented himself.

"Well, what's wanted?" demanded this person roughly.

"I wish to see Dr. Bullet," replied Eddy.

"To see Dr. Bullet, eh? The Doctor's busy. He's got no time to waste on boys."

The keeper made a movement to shut the door in Eddy's face. As quick as a flash, the boy slipped across the threshold and into the hall.

"Tell Dr. Bullet I desire to see him," he said coolly. "I shall stay here until I do see him. You can give him my name—Edward Burns."

"Burns!" repeated the discomfited keeper. "Burns, eh? Well, I'll tell the Doctor. Seeing you're inside, you can step into the reception room."

He closed, bolted and barred the outer door, and sullenly ushered Eddy into a small, dreary waiting-room at one side of the hall. He then hurried away in quest of the Doctor.

Nearly half an hour elapsed before any one appeared. Now and then a muffled shriek or long-drawn moan reached his ears.

Unable to bear longer the suspense of waiting, he touched a bell-pull and rang a loud peal, the jangle of which reached even his ears.

The noise had scarcely died away when a pompous, portly personage entered the waiting-room.

Eddy recognized him at first glance as Dr. Bullet.

He was a hard-faced man, past middle-age, with keen eyes, a low forehead, a cleanly shaven face, rendered peculiarly unpleasant by a sanctimonious expression which contracted strangely with his sinister features. The Doctor had formerly kept a private insane asylum in New Jersey, but he had fallen into an ill-repute, and it having been proved against him that sane people had been incarcerated in his gloomy cells, he had been obliged to abandon that field of operations, and had established his asylum at Riverton on the Hudson. He had now been at Riverton some years, and was regarded in the village as an upright and honorable man, having, it seemed, left his former reputation behind when he changed his residence.

"Ah, Eddy Burns!" exclaimed the Doctor, in his mild, bland voice, extending his hand. "How do you do, Eddy? How you grow! Glad to see you, my fine fellow."

But Eddy did not seem to see the outstretched hand. He certainly did not offer to take it. There was a frown on his brows, and his lips were set together in an expression which would have rendered the smiling Doctor uneasy had he seen it upon an older face.

"I have heard from Mr. Burgoyne that mother is here," the boy said calmly. "I have come to see her, Dr. Bullet."

The expression on the Doctor's face changed to one of uneasiness, which, swiftly as it passed, was not unnoticed by Eddy.

"Yes, ah, yes," said the Doctor smoothly. "You have come to see your mother? Very laudable—very. I am sorry though, Master Burns, that I must refuse your request. Mrs. Burgoyne is in a critical state. The least excitement, such as the sight of you might occasion her, might prove fatal."

"Would she know me?" asked Eddy.

"I think not. She is a raving maniac, knows no one—has attempted to commit suicide. But the sight of you might strike a chord of memory, and I should not risk it. Ah, this is a terrible affliction to Mrs. Burgoyne's friends, my lad."

"You think, then, Doctor," he asked, "that it would excite my mother, if she were to see me?"

"Think? I know it. She might tear you to pieces!"

"I cannot think so, Doctor," declared Eddy. "Even in her madness, she would not harm me."

"My judgment must decide the matter, Master Burns," said the Doctor stiffly.

"I beg your pardon, Doctor," said Eddy, humbly enough; "but I beg you to let me look in upon her through the grating at her door. I won't speak a word. Only let me see her once more!"

"It is impossible, Master Burns—"

"Oh, don't say that!" cried Eddy. "I am all she has in the wide world, Doctor—"

"She has her husband!"

Eddy made a gesture of despair.

"She don't love him as she loves me," he said. "You don't know how she loves me, sir. She has worked hard to keep me at school since father died—she married Mr. Burgoyne because she thought he would be a father to me. My heart is breaking to see her!"

"I regret, Master Burns—"

"You refuse then?" cried the boy. "I tell you I must see her! My father left her in my care. I am her protector—"

"Mr. Burgoyne," said the Doctor, "is her guardian now, and the only one I can recognize. Go home to your stepfather. Your mother is in good hands, and you can do no good in hanging about and acting in this highly improper style."

Eddy felt insulted, but he could not abandon his project without a last endeavor to effect it.

"I am only a boy, Doctor Bullet," he said, "but I know that there must be some one in the land more powerful than you, who can permit me to see my mother. I will see a lawyer—"

"That is big talk for a boy of your size!" sneered the Doctor. "Your mother was committed to my asylum in accordance with the law made and provided for such cases. Any lawyer will tell you that no one can give a permit to see a mad woman, when her physician declares she must be secluded!"

Eddy felt the hopelessness of his case. He had no powerful friends—no money. And he felt sure that Mr. Burgoyne and Dr. Bullet were his enemies, and that some terrible mystery was connected with his mother.

"I am only a boy, Doctor," said Eddy at last, sorrowfully, but with a brave look shining in his eyes, "but I have a man's courage. You may hear from me again."

He bowed gravely and went out.

With a heavy heart, he moved down the gravelled walk to the gate.

He was determined not to abandon his mother, let her madness be as dangerous as it might; but how could he compass his object?

He had nearly reached the iron gates, and was moving with a loitering step, when he looked back at the grim asylum. No one was looking out at him.

Taking advantage of the opportunity thus afforded, Eddy slipped into a by-path, and sought the shelter of some shrubbery near the wall. Here he flung himself upon the ground, to wait patiently the coming of darkness.

It was now about six o'clock of the long summer afternoon.

How the twilight lingered! Eddy, peering out, saw one of the keepers lock the great iron gates at an early hour, but the old town clock at Riverton had struck the hour of ten before the lights and the noises died out of the asylum.

It was nearly eleven o'clock, when Eddy, cramped and tired, crept out from his concealment.

He moved slowly around the building again and again, scanning the upper windows. No light gleamed from them, no sound of life, save now and then a moan, came from within those dreary cells.

"Can it be she is not up there?" thought the boy, a cold sweat starting to his brow. "Can they have put her into a dungeon?"

Around and around the building he slowly circled, a wild prayer in his heart that if his mother was in one of the upper rooms, some providential impulse might lead her to look out.

His prayer was answered. He who answers prayer directed her restless steps to her grated window. A slender figure suddenly appeared, a pair of hands were clasped upon the window ledge, and a pale face, half hidden by a mass of floating hair, was pressed against the iron bars, looking upward at the glowing, star-lit sky.

Eddy's heart gave one throb, and through his pale lips quivered the words:

"My mother!"

The vision lingered but a moment at the open window, then withdrawing itself. At its disappearance, Eddy sprang up.

"She did not look dangerously mad," he whispered. "I must see her—speak to her."

He dared not call to her, and bring discovery upon him. He must work quietly.

Marking the window at which the vision had appeared, he saw that one of the heavy branches of a tall pine-tree swept close against its bars.

He crept to the tree, climbing its trunk like a squirrel, and gaining the shelter of its densest branches. He was soon upon a level with the second story of the asylum.

A moment more, and he was clinging to the lowest bar of the window.

What a sight it was that met his gaze within!

A small, whitewashed cell, that might have belonged to a prison. An open grating in the door, and the sound of footfalls in the corridor, told Eddy that supervision was exercised over the inmates by night as well as by day.

In the narrow cell a woman was kneeling at her prayers. The soft star-light drifted in upon her. She looked sad, but the fair, noble face had in it no token of an unthroned intellect.

"Perhaps she has quiet spells," thought Eddy, scarcely venturing to breathe. "Mr. Burgoyne and the Doctor said she was a 'raving maniac.' How am I to attract her attention without alarming the sentinel in the hall?"

He moved upon the branch. The rustling aroused the kneeling woman, and she raised her head. The next moment her head dropped again, lower than before.

Eddy, grasping the bar with one hand, softly tapped on the window ledge.

In an instant the head was uplifted, with the eagerness of a startled deer.

Eddy gently raised his head within view.

"Mother!" he called softly—so softly that his voice might have been taken for the murmur of the wind. "Mother! Hush! It is I—Eddy!"

The whispered words of Eddy penetrated to the hearing of the inmate of the lonely prison cell. She started to her feet, and looked wildly around.

"I must be going mad indeed!" she murmured, pressing her hands above her heart, as if to still its throbbings.

Again the boy's fingers tapped softly upon the lowest grating, and again Eddy's voice called softly:

"Mother! It is really I—your own Eddy! Come to the window!"

A low cry broke from the lips of Mrs. Burns. Then she pressed her face close against the rough iron bars.

The boy shrank back among the branches.

"Eddy! Oh, Eddy! Are you here?"

"I am here, mother!" he said. "Don't cry out, or some one will hear us."

He crept nearer to her, and pressed his face against the bars, his cheek touching hers.

She caught at Eddy's hand; she kissed his quivering lips again and again.

"O my brave boy!" she whispered. "I never expected to see you again."

"Poor mother!" said Eddy. "You might have known I would come to you if they had taken you to Madagascar!" RAISING POTATOES.—There are different methods of preparing the ground, —indeed almost every farmer has a way of his own. Many farmers plant their potatoes on their poorest ground, and plant a large piece, as they necessarily must, to get their supply. It costs a great deal to plant and hoe and dig them, and when they are finally stored in the cellar they don't make much of a pile after all. The boys get discouraged and can't bear to work, as their backs ache trying to dig up the tough, hard, and perhaps weedy ground, and inwardly resolve when they are out from under father's thumb, that they will not be farmers.

The potato will not thrive a succession of years on the same ground, as in village gardens, &c., unless much pains is taken to prepare the ground with especial reference to that crop. Where it is necessary to plant the same ground each year, early varieties only should be planted, and as soon as ripe should be dug, the ground ploughed, a heavy coat of manure spread on and harrowed in and sowed with buckwheat or clover. The potatoes can be planted in drills very thick one way, say a piece of potato once in six or eight inches. In this way a large amount of potatoes can be taken from a small piece of ground, and always of good quality; the land can be continually cropped, and yet grow better and richer every year.

Where no preparations are made beforehand and the time draws near for planting, it is a good plan to turn over a rich clover sod, if we have much to spare, and spread on horse manure, or course barnyard manure and mix well with the soil. We need to put on some kind of manure or we don't get much of a crop, and it is folly to go over a large piece of ground and get a few small potatoes. The quality is better if we can take land that has been highly manured the previous year, but it is better to prepare it late, than not at all.

—One can hardly exaggerate the evils that flow from temperance, or over-estimate the blessings that would come from sobriety. Abolish the use of rum and you would add a vast amount to human happiness—you would empty your alms houses; you would find little for the criminal courts to do; our prisons would find few tenants; homes now the miserable abodes of poverty, filth, and crime, would glow with intelligence, abound in the comforts of life, and become nurseries of morality. We do not say that all sin would disappear from the earth, but we do declare that the triumph of temperance would be the triumph of morality, and would do more to fit the world for the millenium, than all that has been done from the first appearance of mankind to this date.—Newburyport Herald.

—Somebody in the Golden Age, writing about Swinburne, the poet; asks, "What can be done with an illustrious young poet who, invited to your reception, makes such havoc with the proprieties as to reach across the room with open jaws to bite the bare neck of a handsome young lady, whose beauty has attracted his gaze; or who turns from the person with whom he happens to be conversing, to butt his head furiously against the wall?" We should say, let him butt, the harder the better; but no biting!—N. Y. Globe.

—A New York contemporary announces that "parental opinion is divided as to the best method of disposing of children. There are those who think that letting them play with loaded guns is the most effectual, though sliding them down stair bannisters in a six-story hotel has its advocates; in fact, three instances have been reported within a few days, in various parts of the country, where this latter method worked with complete success."

ARE YOU GOING TO PAINT?

—IF SO, USE THE—

AVERILL CHEMICAL PAINT.

It is Cheaper, Handsomer and more durable than the best of other Paints. One Thousand Gallons of it were sold in this City, in the year 1870, and not one complaint has come from those who have used it; but all speak in its favor; it is mixed ready for application, and is much easier put on than any other Paint, making a smooth, glossy surface for years, that can be cleaned with hot suds without injuring it. It is excellent for walls inside, in the place of paper.

I shall keep this season a large stock of Chemical Paints of all shades on hand, to accommodate customers with any amount, without delay in ordering it. Those who want to use the Chemical Paints and have had them misrepresented by those who deal in Lead and Oil, are invited to call and examine my Paints that have been on Buildings two years, and you will find them as fresh as if laid but one month.

I am prepared to do Painting by Contract, or by the day, using the Chemical Paint, or furnishing good experienced workmen by the day at very low wages. E. NORTON, only Agent for selling the

MANHOOD, WOMANHOOD AND NERVOUS DISEASES,

PUBLISHED BY THE

PEABODY MEDICAL INSTITUTE,

No. 4 Bulfinch Street, Boston,

(Opposite Revere House.)

DR. W. H. PARKER, Assistant Physician.

Medical knowledge for everybody. 250,000 copies sold in two years.

A Book for every Man.

THE SCIENCE OF LIFE, OR SELF-PRESERVATION. A Medical Treatise on the Cause and Cure of EXHAUSTED VITALITY, PREMATURE DECLINE IN MAN, NERVOUS AND PHYSICAL DEBILITY, HYPOCHONDRIA, and all other diseases arising from the EROSIONS OF YOUTH, OR THE INDISCRETIONS OR EXCESSES of mature years. This is indeed a book for every man. Price only $1.00. 285 pages, bound in cloth.

A Book For Every Woman,

Entitled SEXUAL PHYSIOLOGY OF WOMAN, AND HER DISEASES; or, WOMAN TREATED OF PHYSIOLOGICALLY AND PATHOLOGICALLY, from INFANCY TO OLD AGE, with elegant ILLUSTRATIVE ENGRAVINGS. 350 pages, bound in beautiful French cloth. Price $2.00.

A Book for Everybody.

Flattered by the reception of, and great demand for, its above valuable and timely treatises, and also to meet a great need of the present age, the author has just published a new book, treating exclusively of NERVOUS AND MENTAL DISEASES. 150 pp. cloth. Price $1, or SENT FREE on receipt of $3 for the other two books, postpage paid.

These are, beyond all comparison, the most extraordinary works on Physiology ever published There is nothing whatever that the MARRIED OR SINGLE, of EITHER SEX, can either require or wish to know, but what is fully explained, and many matters of the most important and interesting character are introduced to which no allusion even can be found in any other works in our language. All the NEW DISCOVERIES of the author, whose experience is such as probably never before fell to the lot of any man, are given in full. No person should be without these valuable books.

"VALUABLE BOOKS.—We have received the valuable medical works published by the Peabody Medical Institute. These books are of actual merit, and should find a place in every intelligent family. They are not the cheap order of abominable trash, published by irresponsible parties, and purchased to gratify coarse tastes, but are written by a responsible professional gentleman of eminence, as a source of in-truction on vital matters, concerning which lamentable ignorance exists. The important subjects presumed are treated with delicacy, ability and care, and, as an appendix, many useful prescriptions for prevailing complaints are added."—Cass Republican, Lancaster, N. H.

"The author of these books is one of the most learned and popular physicians of the day, and is entitled to the gratitude of the sexes for these invaluable productions. It seems to be his aim to induce men and women to avoid the cause of those diseases to which they are subject, and he tells them just how and when to do it."—Chronicle, Farmington, Maine, Sept. 7, 1869.

Either book sent by mail on receipt of price.

N. B. The Author of the above-named medical works is the Chief Consulting Physician of the Peabody Medical Institute, and is so constantly employed in consultation with invalids from all parts of the country, that he has no time to attend to mere business details. Therefore all letters should be addressed to the PEABODY MEDICAL INSTITUTE, or to Dr. W. H. PARKER, the Medical Assistant of the Author, and his Business Agent, who, as well as the Author himself, may be consulted on all diseases requiring skill, secrecy and experience. oct261yr

CONNECTICUT.

The editor of the Hartford Post says he has carefully examined all the facts in regard to the alleged mistake in the 4th ward of New Haven, and he thinks it occurred in counting two packages of tickets as containing 100 each while they had only 50 each. He says he has no doubt that it will be found upon investigation that the box, which was carefully sealed up, contains 100 less votes for Mr. English than were returned for him from that ward.

The Troubles of a Traveller. Ayer, the Lowell medicine man, has a traveller of a humorous and genial disposition whom we will call Clarke. He is a right down good fellow, of thorough business character. He is very popular in his trade, which lies largely in Georgia and the Carolinas. We take advantage of our acquaintance with him to tell the following good one:

Clarke had arrived in Columbia, South Carolina, from down the Congaree, after a hot and dusty drive from Fort Motte, and stopped at Gorman's House, where Bulds, the gentlemanly bookkeeper, gave him a choice of rooms, as he had lodged Clarke often before. After supper Budds and Clarke, both old smokers, emptied pipe after pipe, chatting of old times and absent friends, till the house was still. Then Clarke retired. Like a prudent man, as was his accustomed habit after disrobing, he made a close examination of his room, its fastening and five approaches. Armoire and closet were examined—the side door which might secrete some burglarious cuss or sneak thief.

Holding the light over his head, he cautiously peered in, and finally entered, his socks falling noiseless upon the soft carpet. He had hardly reached the centre of the room, when he espied the daintiest and nicest of feminine apparel; from which he was withdrawing, and as he hoped unperceived, when a lone figure rose up in the bed, and gave a most terrific scream. Poor Clarke! he dropped his light and, hurrying back to his room, plunged into bed. The screams continued, when a bright thought struck him. He rang his bell violently—the lady did hers. Up came the porter and chambermaid. "There is a woman in this room." "There is a man in my room," screamed both at once. The porter glancing at the side door ajar, saw through the difficulty and explained to Clarke, who very happily replied: "Very well; I see the lady is a somnambulist, and has been walking in her sleep. It is all right, you may close the door." "But may be," said the porter grinning, "but how de debel cum dat ar candle I left you, in her room?" Clarke saw he was caught, and flung a boot at the porter, with "clear out o'here. I want to go sleep." Roanoke News.

A Terrible Loss.—An Illinois woman committed suicide by hanging herself to an apple tree. At the funeral a neighbor noticing the sad appearance of the husband, consoled him by saying that he had met with a terrible loss. "Yes," says the husband, heaving a sigh, "she might have kicked like thunder to shake off six bushels of green apples that would have been worth a dollar a bushel when they got ripe!"

Tyranny in the Navy.—The N. Y. Observer under the above heading, publishes a letter from a chaplain in the navy, from which it appears that "the line" claim the right to and do run the religious department of the service, as well as the medical, pay construction and engineering branches. If they have the same success with the men's spiritual welfare that they can boast of in the other departments, we shudder to think where the old sailors will go to at some future day. The chaplain says:

I am glad that public attention has been called to the fact that a commander in the navy has punished a brother officer for distributing tracts among the sailors of his ship. As the law now stands, the captain of a ship is Pope; and even a chaplain cannot do the simplest duty of his sacred profession on board ship without the permission of this government Pope. I have known the case of a chaplain who was ordered by the commander to stop in the middle of his sermon and close the service, because, from the drift of the sermon, the commander thought the chaplain would say something disagreeable.

The writer of this article has received from his superior officer messages like these: "Let the service today be limited to a short prayer," "Your sermon must be very short to day." While conversing with a sailor, the officer of the deck has ordered that sailor off the deck, out of my presence—the thing being done to show the superior authority of the officer, and to annoy the chaplain. In such cases, a chaplain gets no redress; but, on the contrary, probably a reprimand for not being more obedient to the "powers that be." This interference with me in the discharge of my official duties I complained of to the Secretary of the Navy; but he took no notice of the complaint.

A chaplain was refused permission to preach, and did not preach on board his ship for the whole cruise, the Sunday service being limited to the reading a few verses of Scripture, with prayer.

Those of the ship's company who wish to hear a sermon, and those who are sick and wish for instruction and consolation, can be gratified only by the gracious permission of the ship's Pope. This is the sort of religious liberty that is enjoyed in the U. S. Navy.

You wish for an explanation of the conduct of Commander Weaver. I am acquainted with none of the parties, and know none of the circumstances; but, having been "through the mill," I can guess it out. For some reason Commander Weaver prohibits the distribution of such tracts as Mr. Rodney distributed; and so R. was suspended for disobeying an order of the captain. If you should say to a line officer "to punish Mr. Rodney for distributing tracts on board the Terror was a high-handed measure," he would enlighten you on "ways that are dark" by replying, "You do not understand the question; Rodney was not punished for distributing tracts, but for disobedience of orders." That is the way they do things in the navy. No matter what the order is, obey, or you will be punished.

Technically speaking, Capt. Weaver is right; and if he has the spirit of persecution in him, he can punish Rodney severely in the confined quarters of an iron-clad; and when the news of this exploit reaches the ears of that old gentleman who lives in the Leonine city on the banks of the Tiber, he will be glad that he has so faithful a son in the U. S. Navy.

—A clever repartee is attributed to the member from Mormondom in the new Congress. A brother member asked him how many wives he had: "Enough to keep me from running after other people's," he promptly replied.

—It has been suggested that the Democratic National Executive Committee should have issued that address, which was to be both congratulatory and prophetic, immediately after the election in New Hampshire, instead of waiting to hear the news from Connecticut.

—During the recent engagement of Mr. and Mrs. Barney Williams in Philadelphia, a woman with an infant, attended one of the performances. The baby kept up an incessant cry. At the end of the play, Mr. Williams was called before the curtain. The baby was bawling lustily. Mr. Williams looked around for a moment, and then said:

"Shure there's a nurse wanted."

A roar of laughter followed. When the mirth had subsided, the woman with the infant arose and replied:

"No Irish need apply."

There was a tremendous burst of applause, amid which the woman, with her musical baby, triumphantly retired.

—Five ruffians, one of them a negro, committed an assault upon a negro man named Washington, and his wife, near Hartford, Conn., Sunday. The man was badly beaten, and the woman badly outraged by the entire party. They were Ku-Kluxes.—Coppery Exchange.

Ku-Kluxes! No doubt they were; and they are carpet-baggers, too,—four of them at least, who are all Irish democrats. There can be no wonder that the colored scamp has turned out so badly, when the character of the company he kept is considered.

—The neighborhood of Norfolk, Va., is famous for its strawberry culture. One gentleman, a Mr. Anderson, has now over fifty acres under cultivation, and is setting out as much more, and besides this he has a patch further in the country. He will give employment this year to from 600 to 800 strawberry pickers, and is perhaps the largest operator about Norfolk, although there are said to be nearly a hundred others operating on almost as large a scale.

Thieves! Knaves!! SWINDLERS!!! These are mild terms with which to designate those mean contemptible adventurers, who have been indueed by the high reputation which Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy has won to put up and offer for sale a worthless imitation of this celebrated medicine. Remember that Dr. Pierce's private Stamp, which is the only positive guarantee of genuineness, should be upon every package. This private stamp, issued by the U. S. Exhaustion.

Invalids, broken down in health and spirits by Chronic Dyspepsia, or suffering from the terrible exhaustion which follows the attacks of acute disease, the testimony of thousands who have been raised as by a miracle from a similar state of prostration by HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS, is a sure guarantee that by the same means you too may be strengthened and restored. But to those who stand in peril of epidemics, to all who, by reason of exposure, privations and uncongenial climate or unhealthy pursuits, may at any moment be stricken down, this paragraph is most particularly and emphatically addressed. You, whp are thus situated, are proffered an absolute safeguard against the danger that menaces you. Tone and regulate the system with this harmless medicinal stimulant and alterative, and you will be forearmed against the maladies whose seeds float around you in the air unseen. HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS are not only a standard tonic and alterative throughout the United States, but they are accredited by the certificates of the most distinguished citizens of the Union, to the people of all other lands. In Canada, Australia and the West Indies, they are gradually taking the place of all other stomachics, whether native or foreign, and as merely as truth is progressive and demonstration overthrows doubt, they will eventually supersede every other invigorant and restorative now employed in medicinal practice.

SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,

For Inventions, Trade Marks or Designs,

No. 76 State St., opposite Kilby St., Boston,

After an extensive practice of upwards of thirty years, continues to secure patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all papers for Patents, executed on reasonable terms with dispatch. Research made to determine the validity and utility of Patents of inventions, and legal and other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any patent furnished, by remitting one dollar. Assignments recorded in Washington.

No Agency in the United States possesses superior facilities for obtaining Patents or ascertaining the patentability of inventions.

All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a Patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHARLES MASON, Commissioner of Patents."

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a man more competent and trustworthy and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office. EDMUND BURKE, Late Commissioner of Patents.

"Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me over THIRTY applications for Patents, having been successful in almost every case. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their Patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges. THE STAR ISLAND POTATO, samples of which have been left at this office for inspection, is a very creditable production from Gosport. They were raised by Mr. John Caswell, last year, who planted two potatoes about the size of an egg, each, and realized five pecks from the investment. The potatoes weigh from a half pound to a pound and a half, each. Mr. Caswell proposes to sow a bushel this season and expects a crop of 25 bushels from them. Samples weighing the same number of ounces are to be planted here and in Rye and Gosport, and the comparitive yield will be given to the public in due time. Laconia Lodge, No. 44, I. O. of O. F.

BIDDEFORD, ME., April 5th, 1871.

Whereas, It has pleased our Heavenly Father to remove, after a lingering illness, our worthy Brother James W. Locke, from this mortal sphere of action to a seat (as we trust) in that high and holy Lodge above, therefore be it Resolved, That in the death of Bro. Locke, Laconia Lodge has lost a respected and much esteemed member, who, during his long connection with the Order, ever held dear the advancement of its principles and interests.

Resolved, That as a mark of our profound sorrow at the death of Bro. Locke, the Charter and Lodge Room be draped in mourning for thirty days.

Resolved, That we extend to the widow and friends of our deceased brother our warmest sympathies and heartfelt condolence, and would console them in the belief that our loss is his gain; expressing the hope that at the summons of the Supreme Grand Sire of the Universe, they, as well as ourselves, may meet with our Brother to dwell in peace and joy forever.

Resolved, That we hereby tender our thanks to the members of Piscataqua Lodge and other Odd Fellows of Portsmouth, for their fraternal care and oversight of our late Bro. Locke, during his sickness. They know their reward.

Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be presented to the widow of the deceased, and that they be published in the N. H. Gazette.

CALL A SPADE, A SPADE!—Your criticism the other day of the word "donate" was well put and ought to be remembered. The Greek car was so well trained, even among common people, that a false accent from a speaker was likely to be hissed in a public assembly. But we tolerate the use of words which are intolerable, barbarous and having no authority in the principles or good usage of the English language. We admit the necessity of many additions to our vocabulary; they are required by the addition of new facts in science and art. For a new thing we may be allowed a new name. But do we need a new word for "give?" "Donate" is not English, it is not even Latin. It is affected and feeble as compared with "give." Newspapers have given it currency; but though we are indebted to them for many good words and many expressive, yet they have done something to deteriorate our language. Let us call things by their right names. In no other way can a certain falseness be kept from creeping into the mind itself, and, as Goethe said "ossifying the organs of intelligence."

We are sorry to see so good a scholar as Prof. E. A. Park quoted in support of the word "donate," but we have reason to believe he would not defend its use. The King does not make the "King's English," nor can Congress make reputable the use of this word. For our part we should rather not have anything given away, than see it "donated." It is pretty sure this kind of ostentatious charity lets its right hand and everybody else know all about it, and uses a silly word for a vain performance.

J. A.

WE UNDERSTAND that Mr. Hiram C. Locke has purchased the house and lot corner of Islington and Cabot Streets, of Mr. Henry M. Clark, for $3500.

IF THE "Daily Evening" would look about itself when in the vicinity of the stone crusher, on Russell's wharf, it would find that something is being done to forward annexation. Sampson has taken hold of the business and is moving Newcastle in this direction—a gondola load per diem.

A HEAVY THUNDER SHOWER, the first of the season, passed over this city, Tuesday night. A house in Rollinsford was struck by lightning and consumed.

The Goodale House at Fresh Creek, Dover, was completely shattered, set on fire, and totally consumed. Seven persons were in the house, but none of them seriously injured.

FAST DAY in Maine.

DETERMINED TO BE MARRIED.—An unusual scene occurred at the Mayor's office yesterday morning. A lady, apparently about thirty-five years of age, in a state of mental as well as physical excitement, entered the office and asked to be allowed to see a couple of persons who were arrested at the depot the evening before, shortly after they had left the cars. The prisoners were brought into the office, and were recognized as a young man named McCoy, hailing from Cream Ridge, New Jersey, and a young lady named Margaret E. Dye, of Brooklyn, New York. The latter had previously given her name as Whittaker, and was of prepossessing appearance.

The daughter asked her mother what she intended to do in the matter, to which the mother replied that it was her intention to take her daughter home and put the young man in prison.

"Indeed!" said the daughter, arching her eyebrows and displaying the piercing brilliancy of a pair of beautiful eyes, "I guess not; they don't do business in Camden that way."

The excited mother began to tell a thrilling story, etc., but not being in accordance with legal requirements, the Mayor said to her, in soothing accents, "Madam, is this young lady your daughter?"

"Yes, sir, she is."

"Do you know this young man?" [indicating the male prisoner.]

"No, sir; I saw him once, and I knew that he and my daughter were intimate before he ran away with her."

At this stage of the proceedings the daughter interposed in an animated manner, and said, "Mother, he did not run away with me. I ran away with him. If anybody is to blame, it is all my own fault, and he is entirely innocent." This last word was pronounced with considerable emphasis.

"Now, Mr. Mayor," she continued, if you put him in prison I'll do something to make you send me there also."

The young man betrayed some emotion of fear, or something else, and the girl said to him in an endearing manner: "Never mind, Charley: they shan't hurt a hair of your head while I'm here! If they send you to prison, I have money enough to get you out; don't be afraid!" The girl assumed a defiant attitude.

The mayor, having been a calm listener to the affair, now said to the girl that she was discharged, but that he would have to hold the young man for another hearing.

The girl persisted in objecting to any arrangement of this kind, and threatened that if she was separated from her lover she would do something rash. Turning to her half-distracted mother, she said: "Yes, mother; if you take me home, I'll—I'll—yes, I'll get more money, and marry the first loafer that comes along;" emphasizing the "loafer."

Finally, after threats, entreaties, advice and suggestions, the mother yielded to the expressed determination of her daughter, and the young couple were discharged on condition that the girl would go home. As soon as they were restored to liberty they started for the steamboat ferry, with the excited mother in pursuit, the young lady vociferating at the top of her lungs that she was bound to get married before night.—*Phila. How well we remember in days that are gone,
The feelings we felt as we saw the cork drawn—
The disgust—the recoil
From "Cod Liver Oil,"
Dealt out to poor souls in the days that are gone!

Of this to be ta'en?
It swallows as easy as sparkling Champagne—
Does "Marvins' Deodorized Oil."

Consumption,

ITS CURE AND ITS PREVENTIVE,

By J. H. SCHENCK, M. D.

Many a human being has passed away, for whose death there was no other reason than the neglect of known and indisputably proved means of cure. These near and dear to family and friends are sleeping the dreamless slumber into which, had they calmly adopted and availed themselves of his wonderfully efficacious medicines, they would not have fallen.

Dr. JOSEPH H. SCHENCK'S SIMPLE TREATMENT,

Dr Schenck has in his own case proven that wherever sufficient vitality remains, that vitality, by his medicines and his directions for their use, is quickened into healthful vigor.

It is the statement there is nothing presumptuous. To the faith of the invalid it made no representation that is not a thousand times substantiated by living and visible works. The theory of the cure by Dr. Schenck's medicines is as simple as it is unfailing. Its philosophy requires no argument. It is self assuring, self-convincing.

The Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills are the first two weapons with which the citadel of the malady is assailed. Two-thirds of the cases of consumption originate in dyspepsia and a functionally disordered liver. With this condition the bronchial tubes "sympathize" with the stomach. They respond to the morbific action of the liver. Here, then comes the culminating result, and the setting in, with all its distressing symptoms, of

CONSUMPTION.

The Mandrake Pills are composed of one of Nature's noblest gifts—the Podophillum Peltatum. They possess all the blood-searching, alterative properties of calomel, but unlike calomel, they

"LEAVE NO STING BEHIND."

The work of cure is now beginning. The vitiated and mucous deposits in the bowels and in the alimentary canal are ejected. The liver, like a clock, is wound up. It arouses from its torpidity. The stomach not responding, and the patient begins to feel that he is getting, at last,

A SUPPLY OF GOOD BLOOD.

The Seaweed Tonic, in conjunction with the Pills, permeates and assimilates with the food. Chylification is now progressing, without its previous tortures. Digestion becomes painless, and the cure is seen to be at hand. There is no more flatulence, no accelerations of the stomach. An appetite sets in.

Now comes the greatest Blood Purifier ever yet given by an indulgent father to suffering mankind. Schenck's Pulmonic Syrup comes in to perform its functions and to hasten and complete the cure. It enters at once into the lungs. The work of cure is accelerated. It collects and ripens the impaired and diseased portions of the lungs. In the form of gathermgs it prepares them for expectoration, and lo! in a very short time the malady is vanquished, the patient freed, the air occupied is renovated and made new, and the patient, in all the dignity of regained vigor, steps forth to enjoy the manhood or womanhood that was

GIVEN UP AS LOST.

The second thing is, the patients must stay in a warm room, until they get well; it is almost impossible to prevent taking cold when the lungs are diseased, but if they do, and proper care is taken not be affected. Fresh air and riding out, especially in this section of the country in the fall and winter seasons, are all wrong. Physicians who recommend that course lose their patients, if their lungs are badly diseased; they get a cough and cold, and blood. The patients must keep in good spirits—be determined to get well. This has a great deal to do with the appetite, and is the great point to gain.

To despair of cure after such evidence of its possibility in the worst cases, and in most certainty in all others, is sinful. Dr. Schenck's personal statement to the Faculty of his own cure was in these modest words:

"Many years ago I was in the last stages of consumption—coughed every time I ate, and when my physicians thought that I could not live a week; then like a drowning man catching at straws, I heard of, and obtained the preparations which I now offer to the public, and they made a perfect cure of me. It seemed to me that I could feel them penetrate my whole system. They soon ripened the matter in my lungs, and I would spit up more than a pint of offensive pulmonary matter every morning for a long time. As soon as that began to subside, my cough, night sweats and appetite began to increase, and my appetite became so great that it was with difficulty that I could keep from eating too much. I gained my strength, and have grown in flesh ever since."

"I was weighed shortly after my recovery," added the doctor, "and I was looking like a mere skeleton; my weight was only ninety-seven pounds; my present weight is two hundred and twenty-five (225) pounds, and for years I have enjoyed uninterrupted health."

Dr. Schenck has discontinued his professional visits to New York and Boston. He or his son, Dr. J. H. Schenck, devotes to professional visits exclusively at their office, No. 15 North Sixth street, Philadelphia, every Saturday from 9 A. M. to 3 P. M. Those who wish a thorough examination with the Respirometer will be charged $5. The Respirometer declares the exact condition of the lungs, and patients can readily learn from it whether they are hopeless or not.

The directions for taking the medicines are adapted to the intelligence even of a child. Follow these directions, and kind Nature will do the rest, excepting that in some cases the Mandrake Pills are to be taken in increased doses; the three medicines need no other accompaniments than the ample instructions which accompany them. First, create appetite. Of returning health hunger is the most welcome symptom. When it comes, as it will come, big the despairing at once be of good cheer. Good blood at once follows, the cough loosens, the night sweat is subdued. In a short time both of these morbid symptoms are gone forever.

Dr. Schenck's medicines are constantly kept in new of thousands of families. As a laxative or purgative, the Mandrake Pills are a standard preparation; while the Pulmonic Syrup, as a cure of coughs and colds, may be equaled, as a prophylactic against consumption in any of its forms.

Price of the Pulmonic Syrup, and Seaweed Tonic, $1.50, a bottle, or $7.50 a half dozen. Mandrake Pills, 25 cents a box. For sale by all druggists and dealers.

FIRST MORTGAGE

7 PER CENT. GOLD BONDS,

ON A COMPLETED ROAD,

FREE OF U. S. TAX,

At 90 and Accrued Interest in Currency.

Burlington, Cedar Rapids and Minnesota Railway.

The completion of this Road has given to these Bonds an established character equal to any mortgage issue dealt in at the Stock Exchange. We are prepared to buy and sell them at any time, at our Banking House, at market price—thus placing them on the same basis; for temporary or permanent investment, with Governments or any other security.

These bonds are a first and only mortgage on a railroad that has cost double the amount of the issue, and which commands, without competition, all the traffic of Northern Iowa and Southern Minnesota—shortening the distance from St. Paul to Chicago 45 miles, and to St. Louis more than 90 miles.

The net earnings are already largely in excess of interest on the bonds, and no doubt exists that they will more than double within the ensuing year.

A contract has been secured with the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy Railroad Company obligating the latter to invest 50 per cent. of gross earnings derived from traffic with the Burlington, Cedar Rapids and Minnesota Road in the bonds of this Company. This arrangement is a strong guarantee of the Bonds, and establishes a large sinking fund for their redemption.

The convertibility privilege in these bonds enables them to be exchanged for stock, at par, at any time. This secures to the holder, at his option, a share in any excess of earnings over the interest requirements.

An exchange of Government securities for these bonds returns 9½ per cent. interest, instead of 5 per cent., which is all that Governments pay, at present price, besides leaving an immediate gain of about 20 per cent. in price for re-investment.

All marketable Securities taken in exchange free of Commission and Exchange. 6 2d WaS

A GREAT MEDICAL DISCOVERY!

DR. WALKER'S CALIFORNIA

VINEGAR BITTERS.

Hundreds of Thousands Bear Testimony to their Wonderful Curative Effects.

WHAT ARE THEY!

THEY ARE NOT A VILE FANCY DRINK,

Made of Poor Rum, Whiskey, Proof Spirits and Refuse Liquors doctored, spiced and sweetened to please the taste, called "Tonics," "Appetizers," "Restorers," &c., that lead the tippler on to drunkenness and ruin, but are a true Medicine, made from the Native Root and Herbs of California, free from all Alcoholic Stimulants. They are the GREAT BLOOD PURIFIER and a LIFE-GIVING PRINCIPLE, a perfect Renovator and Invigorator of the system, carrying out all poisonous matter and restoring the blood to a healthy condition. No person can take these Bitters according to direction and remain long unwell, provided the bones are not destroyed by mineral poison or other means, and the vital organs wasted beyond the point of repair.

For Inflammatory and Chronic Rheumatism and Gout, Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Bilious, Remittent and Intermittent Fevers, Diseases of the Blood, Liver, Kidneys and Bladder, these Bitters have been most successful. Such Diseases are caused by Vitiated Blood, which is generally produced by derangement of the Digestive Organs.

DYSPEPSIA OR INDIGESTION, Headache, Pain in the Shoulders, Coughs, Tightness of the Chest, Dizziness, Sour Eructations of the Stomach, Bad taste in the Mouth, Bilious Attacks, Palpitation of the Heart, Inflammation of the Lungs, Pain in the regions of the Kidneys, and a hundred other painful symptoms, are the offspring of Dyspepsia.

They invigorate the stomach and stimulate the torpid liver and bowels, which render them of unequalled efficacy in cleansing the blood of all impurities and imparting new life and vigor to the whole system.

FOR SKIN DISEASES, Eruptions, Tetter, Salt Rheum, Blotches, Spots, Pimples, Pustules, Boils, Carbuncles, Ring-Worms, Scald Head, Sore Eyes, Erysipelas, Itch, Scurfs, Discolorations of the Skin, Humors and Diseases of the Skin, of whatever name or nature, are literally dug up and carried out of the system in a short time by the use of these Bitters. One bottle in such cases will convince the most incredulous of their curative effect.

Cleanse the Vitiated Blood whenever you find its impurities bursting through the skin in Pimples, Eruptions or Sores; cleanse it when you find it obstructed and sluggish in the veins, cleanse it when it is foul, and your feelings will tell you when. Keep the blood pure, and the health of the system will follow.

PIN, TAPE and other WORMS, lurking in the system of so many thousands, are effectually destroyed and removed. For full directions, read carefully the circular around each bottle, printed in four languages—English, German, French and Spanish.

FOR FEMALE COMPLAINTS, whether in young or old, married or single, at the dawn of womanhood or at the turn of life, these Bitters have no equal. ☞ Send for a circular.

They are a Gentle Purgative as well as a Tonic, possessing also, the peculiar merit of acting as a powerful agent in relieving Congestion or Inflammation of the Liver, and all the Visceral Organs. lyrdawfebtf

THE CENTRAL RAILROAD CO. OF IOWA,

have now built and equipped, in first-class manner, about

180 MILES OF RAILROAD,

which will complete their entire line, with the exception of laying the track on twenty-five miles, which is already graded. They will thus open

The First Through Line Across the State

from north to south, and, by making a slight detour at one point, they will give

DIRECT COMMUNICATION BETWEEN ST. LOUIS AND ST. PAUL.

This line of Railroad will have very special advantages for both local and through business, besides such superior railroad connections as will secure to it a large portion of the carrying trade of the Great Northwest. The

First Mortgage

7 PER CENT. GOLD BONDS,

which are issued upon this road, are limited in amount to $16,000 per mile (while many roads issue from $30,000 to $40 000,) and are offered at 90 and accrued interest, in currency. About two millions and a half of these bonds have already been disposed of, leaving but a small balance unsold, which are being rapidly taken.

The most experienced financiers agree that First Mortgage Bonds, on a limited amount, upon finished railroad, which is well located for business, are one of the very safest forms of investment.

Parties desiring to secure a first-class security, based upon a railroad practically done, and in the hands of leading capitalists who have a large pecuniary and business interest in its success, will do well to apply at the office of the Company, or any of its advertised agents, for a pamphlet and map, showing the characteristics of the enterprise.

Holders of Government Bonds may exchange them for Central Iowas at a large present profit, beside a handsome increase of interest for a long term of years. Parties making such exchange will receive for each $1,000 Bond a $1,000 Central Iowa Bond, and the following difference in cash (less the accrued interest in currency upon the latter bond,) and in annual interest, this calculation being based upon market prices of December 27th, 1870:—

7-30 GOLD LOAN.

—OF THE—

NORTHERN PACIFIC RAILROAD.

RAPID PROGRESS OF THE WORK.

The building of the Northern Pacific Railroad, (begun July last,) is being pushed forward with great energy from both extremities of the line. Several thousand men are employed in Minnesota and on the Pacific coast. The grade is nearly completed 266 miles westward from Lake Superior; trains are running over 130 miles of finished road, and track-laying is rapidly progressing toward the eastern border of Dakota. Including its purchase of the St. Paul & Pacific Road, the Northern Pacific Company now has 412 miles of road completed, and by September next this will be increased to at least 500.

A GOOD INVESTMENT.—Jay Cooke & Co. are now selling well-secured, and substantially ironclad, a Profitable and perfectly Safe investment, the First Mortgage Land Grant Gold Bonds of the Northern Pacific Railroad Company. They have 30 years to run, bear Seven and Three-Tenths per cent. gold interest (more than 8 per cent. currency) and are secured by a first mortgage on the ENTIRE ROAD AND ITS EQUIPMENTS and also, as fast as the Road is completed, on 23,000 ACRES OF LAND to every mile of track, or 500 Acres for each $1,00 Bond. They are exempt from U. S. Tax; Principal and Interest are payable in Gold; Denominations; Coupons, $100 to $1,000; Registered, $500 to $10,000.

LANDS FOR BONDS.—Northern Pacific 7-30's are at all times receivable at TEN PER CENT. ABOVE PAR in Payment or exchange for Company's Lands, at their lowest cash price. This renders them practically INTEREST BEARING LAND WARRANTS.

SINKING FUNDS.—The proceeds of all sales of Lands are required to be devoted to the re-purchase and cancellation of the Land Mortgage Bonds of the Company. The Land Grant of the Road exceeds Fifty Million Acres. This immense Sinking Fund will undoubtedly cancel the principal of the Company's bonds long before it falls due. With their ample security and high rate of interest, there is no investment, accessible to the people, which is more generally desirable.

EXCHANGING U. S. FIVE-TWENTIES.—The success of the New Government 5 per cent. Loan will compel the early surrender of United States 6 per cents. Many holders of Five-Twenties are now exchanging them for Northern Pacific Seven-Thirties, thus realizing a handsome profit and greatly increasing their yearly income.

OTHER SECURITIES.—All marketable Stocks and Bonds will be received at their highest current price in exchange for Northern Pacific Seven-Thirties. EXPRESS CHARGES on Money or Bonds received and on Seven-Thirties sent in return, will be paid by the Financial Agents. Full information, maps, pamphlets, etc., can be obtained on application at any agency, or from the undersigned. For sale by

CLAY AND WEBSTER.

A DISH OF WASHINGTON GOSSIP.

Gen. Fitz Henry Warren is a good talker, always ready to lead, and full of incident and anecdote concerning men and matters of age that was going out when he came in.

'Have you seen Curtis' Life of Webster?' he asked, dipping into his soup; 'it's enough to make old Daniel's bones rattle?'

'Why so?'

'Because he hated Curtis. It is said that on one occasion, when Curtis sent word to the great orator that he was about to visit him, Daniel swore he shouldn't enter the house; and nothing but the entreaties of the family kept the visitor from seeking accommodations at the tavern.'

'The book is well done, all the same,' said one; 'the last days and death are especially good."

'Don't it strike you, however, that there is something stilted and artificial about the scene, as if the great expounder were folding his cloak about him for the benefit of posterity?'

'Like Squibob, for example, who, after being laid out in death, was found sitting up, and being remonstrated with, said that he had forgotten his last words.'

'Webster's last words, after all, and those only we remember, were unpremeditated. When the doubt arose as to whether he had really departed without any more orations, like Squibob, he solved the doubt by saying, 'I yet live.'

'With all his brain power, the old fellow was a tremendous swell. He used to read up—cram, as it were, on cheap encyclopedias, then first published—for dinner parties, so as to astonish his simple admirers with his learning.'

'By Jove, think of a man nowadays boring a dinner-party with the contents of encyclopedias.'

'That sort of thing went out with songs and toasts. It was common in my younger days. I have known Henry Clay deliver a lecture of over an hour to a dinner party on some scientific subject on which he was as ignorant as a horse; and consternation used to seize the company when John C. Calhoun would open up on centralization of power and the constitutional compacts.'

'I wonder how those old pumps would work nowadays?'

'With awe at first, then disgust, and eventually ridicule. The feature of today is a lack of reference. We laugh down pretension. We would not stand old Harry's tyrannical dictation, nor Webster's solemn utterances two days.'

'What a tremendous old overbearing, dictatorial tyrant, old Harry was,' said Mr. Speaker Blaine. 'I knew him at his home in Kentucky. The first speech I ever reported was one he made on the close of the Mexican war. No feudal Baron in the dark ages lived among his retainers with a more haughty sense of superiority than he. It seems have been very fatiguing to go stalking about in the manner he did all the time. I believe he slept in a pose, with an eye out to the effect it would have on the Whig party, and his prospects for the Presidency.'

'I remember a story told me by Tom Corwin illustrative of Clay's domineering disposition and manner. It occurred during the discussion of the Omnibus bill. Corwin grew tired of the truckling to the South, and determined to haul off. After indicating this he was seated in his room one Sunday morning, in his shirt-sleeves, when Clay entered. He stalked up to the table in solemn silence, sat down in a chair and then, after a pause, he brought his fist down on the table with a bang that made all rattle, and exclaimed, 'By Jove, sir, what does this mean?' Corwin, perfectly furious, brought his fist down and roared; 'By Jove, sir, if you break my table, I'll fight.' The affair was too ludicrous for even Clay's dignity, and he incontinently softened and tried persuasion.'

—An exchange says, "Solidified beer is the latest thing. It is lager concentrated the way milk is, so that the amount you can hold on the point of a knife will make you drunk clean through. A man can carry enough of it in his vest pocket to ruin a temperance society."

—A play is enacted in a Chicago theatre in which a man is hung for fun. The other night the gearing got out of order and they came near hanging him for good. When they cut him down he said he guessed they had better get some one else to take his place, as "his neck was not talented enough to play that part."

BALTY.

Balty came with the rest to Hawkins' in '49. Hawkins' had proved Balty's local destiny. For sixteen years he has tried to reach Sonora, only twenty miles away. Chinese Camp lay seven miles away. Chinese proved for Balty an impassable barrier. There, Phœnix produced the black bottle; Pike, cut glass decanter—welcoming drinks for Balty! He always stayed at Chinese. Chinese proved Balty's Delilah. There was he regularly shorn of his dust, his sobriety and his resolutions. Time after time did he leave the river, resolved to be a man, to be strong, to procrastinate the spree he had promised himself until he reached Sonora. Time after time did he fail, retreating back to Hawkins', his buckskin purse depleted of its last grain, and bearing his receipt in full for dust deposited in various exchequers at Chinese, in the shape of two black bottles tied together by a string.

In 1865 there happened to Balty one of those events of a moment, which decide and turn a man's whole future career. Coming, as usual, to Chinese from Hawkins' on a hired horse, the animal ran away with him, carrying him past the Camp, against which he had so often dashed, and up the road toward Sonora. Balty kept on and accomplished the trip.

It is often thus. We spend an existence in endeavoring to accomplish an aim, to solve a problem; and when, at last, we give it up, accident takes hold, and in a flash carries us straight to the point. Balty tried it for sixteen years to reach Sonora. The man failed, won.

Sonora was benefitted. Balty always had dust when he visited Camp. Most of it went, sooner or later, into the saloon-keeper's till. True, he purchased some provision. His verbal order for a winter's supply once ran thus: "I guess, Jones, you may bring me a sack of flour, ten pounds of tobacco, and a bar'l of whiskey."

Phœnix and Pike saloon-keepers never in their hearts forgave the man who let to Balty the mustang which carried him beyond the charmed circle of Chinese. He never renewed his allegiance there. It was a clear loss of at least a thousand dollars yearly to the Camp.

There seemed a mysterious affinity between this man and gold. He was sure to strike somewhere in his range of the river and bank diggings a rich deposit once in two years. People at last grew to have faith in Balty's luck, and trusted him by reason of that faith. Balty was lucky; while honest, sober, but penniless Industry stood by and cursed.
